REPORT.

To the Queen's most Excellent Majesty.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
30th July 1869.

May it please Your Majesty,

We, the Poor Law Board, beg leave to present to Your Majesty the following Report.

We desire to submit, in the first instance, the subjoined statements showing the expenditure for all purposes connected with the relief of the poor during the year ended on the 25th March 1868, the expenditure for in-maintenance and out-relief only, up to Michaelmas 1868, and the numbers of all classes of paupers up to the 1st of January 1869.

The returns as to the expenditure for all purposes connected with the relief of the poor are always greatly in arrear, as they cannot be made up until the accounts of the parochial year ending on Lady-day are closed and audited. The audit is never quite completed until the expiration of some months afterwards. Thus we are prevented from including in our Annual Report, which is generally compiled in the month of May, the statistics as to the total expenditure for the parochial year immediately preceding. The returns as to the numbers of paupers are made up to a much later date. We hope to be able to issue our next Annual Report in February 1870.

The sum of 7,498,061*l.* was expended for the relief of the poor during the parochial year 1867–68.

The following Table* shows the comparison of the expenditure of that year, with that of the two years immediately preceding :—

| Parochial Years. | Expenditure for Relief of the Poor. | Increase on immediately preceding Year. | Increase per Cent. | Rate per Head on Population. | Increased Rate per Head. |
| 1865–66 | 6,439,515 | — | — | 6 1¼ | — |
| 1866–67 | 6,959,841 | 520,326 | 8·8 | 6 6¼ | 0 5 |
| 1867–68 | 7,498,061 | 538,220 | 7·7 | 6 11½ | 0 5¼ |

The rate per cent. of the increase in the expenditure for relief, as regards each union county respectively in England and Wales, is as follows :—

Increase per Cent.

* Note.—The Summary of the Poor Rate Return inserted in the Appendix (pp. 160–3 et seq.) sets forth the expenditure, the total of which is shown in the above Table, more in detail. This expenditure comprises, "in-maintenance," column (a); "out-relief," column (b); "maintenance of lunatics in asylums or licensed houses," column (c); "workhouse loan repaid, and interest thereon," column (d); "salaries and rations of officers," column (e); "other expenses of or immediately connected with relief," column (f). The "other expenses" comprehend the cost incurred for emigration, for extra medical relief and fees, and for the burial of paupers, &c.

The following Table exhibits the expenditure for the relief of the poor for each year from 1834 to 1868 :—

| Years ended at Lady-day. | Estimated Population. | The Total Amount expended in Relief to the Poor. | Rate per Head of Amount expended in Relief to the Poor on the estimated Population. | Rate in the Pound of the Amount expended for Relief to the Poor in the Years 1841, 1847, 1850, 1856, 1866, and 1868 on the Annual Value of Rateable Property in those Years respectively. |

Estimate of the Pauperism of England and Wales.

The persons in receipt of relief in certain parishes incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or in single parishes still governed by the statute 43d Elizabeth, (the population of such parishes being about 180,000,) are not included in the summaries given in the preceding page, no returns having been received from them.

We have, therefore, made an estimate of the number of paupers in the places not included in the above summaries; and for the purpose of showing the average number at one time during each year, we have taken the mean of the numbers in receipt of relief on the 1st of July and the 1st of January respectively.

The result of this estimate for each year from 1849 (being the first year for which it can be given) to 1869 appears in the following Table :—

| Years ended at Lady-day. | Population of England and Wales. * | The Mean Number of Paupers of all Classes (including Children) at one time in receipt of Relief in England and Wales. | | | Ratio per Cent. of Paupers relieved on the Population. | The Mean Number of Adult Able-bodied Paupers (exclusive of Vagrants) at one time in receipt of Relief in England and Wales. | | | Ratio per Cent. of Adult Able-bodied Paupers on the Total Number of Paupers of all Classes relieved. | Average Price of Wheat per Quarter. | |

* The Population for 1851 and 1861 is that given in the Census; for the other years it is estimated.

Pauperism and Expenditure.

The foregoing statements which as regards the expenditure for all purposes are carried up to Lady-day 1868, as regards expenditure for in-maintenance and out-relief up to Michaelmas 1868, and as regards the number of paupers relieved up to the 1st January 1869, show broadly the following results :—

The expenditure for all purposes in the year ending Lady-day 1868 was greater by 538,220*l.* than in the preceding year, an increase of 7·7 per cent.

The charge distributed over the estimated population amounted to 6*s.* 11½*d.* per head in 1867–1868, against 6*s.* 6¼*d.* in 1866–67, an increase of 6·7 per cent.

The charge distributed over the rateable value of England and Wales amounted to 1*s.* 6*d.* in the pound in 1867–68, against 1*s.* 5¼*d.* in 1866–67, an increase of 4·3 per cent.

The mean number of paupers of all classes in 1867–68 was 992,640, against 931,546 in 1866–67, showing an increase of 6·6 per cent.

It appears, therefore, that the cost of maintaining the poor has risen in a somewhat greater ratio than the number of persons relieved, but that, owing to the constantly augmenting proportion of "rateable value," the increase in the "rate in the £" is less than the increase either in numbers or expenditure.

It will further be observed, that though the latest dates still show an increase compared with the corresponding dates of the preceding year, the comparison becomes less unfavourable the later the date. The year ending at Lady-day 1868 showed an increase in the average number of paupers of 6·6 per cent. compared with the preceding year, whereas the increase in the average number of paupers for the year ending Lady-day 1869 was only 2·6 on the average number for the year ending Lady-day 1868.

The following table shows the items of which the aggregate expenditure for the relief of the poor during the years 1866–67 and 1867–68 was composed, and affords the means of ascertaining in what items the largest increase took place.

| Relief to the Poor. | 1866–7. | 1867–8. | Increase. |
| | £ | £ | £ |
| In-maintenance - - | 1,375,627 | 1,517,496 | 141,869 |
| Out-relief - - - | 3,358,351 | 3,620,284 | 261,933 |
| Maintenance of lunatics - | 607,292 | 656,792 | 49,500 |
| Workhouse loans - - | 186,317 | 207,998 | 21,681 |
| Salaries and rations of officers and superannuations - | 747,650 | 770,539 | 22,889 |
| Other expenses - - - | 684,604 | 724,952 | 40,348 |
| Total - - | 6,959,841 | 7,498,061 | 538,220 |

In reference to the items of expenditure incidentally connected with the administration of relief, we may observe that we had occasion in our Report for the year 1866 to point out the large increase which had then taken place in the item of salaries and rations of officers. The same item still shows a considerable increase in the subsequent years, the amount being in the years—

| | £ |
| 1866 - - - | 730,704 |
| 1867 - - | 747,650 |
| 1868 - - - | 770,539 |

The expenditure in these years includes, however, the payment of the superannuation allowances to retired officers, under the Act passed in the year 1864, which for some time may be expected to form an increasing item, but will doubtless become ultimately one of fixed average amount.

It is a significant circumstance which deserves attention that in the year ending Lady-day 1868 an increase of expenditure of greater or less amount has taken place in every county in England and Wales. The rate of increase was again the highest in the Metropolitan District of the county of Middlesex; but the counties which stand next in point of increase are those of Sussex, Surrey (Extra-Metropolitan), Stafford, Suffolk, Essex, York, East Riding, and Leicester, all of which are chiefly of an agricultural character.

We regret to state that though since the period of the cotton distress in Lancashire the amount of the expenditure for poor relief in that county is materially reduced, it is far from having returned to its previous level.

| It was in the year ending at Lady-day 1861 - | 429,617 |
| In the year ending at Lady-day 1863 (the height of the distress) - - - | 905,873 |
| And in the year ending at Lady-day 1868 - | 694,541 |

Relief in aid of wages is given to a greater extent in Lancashire than in any other county.

Pauperism in the Metropolis.

The following summaries show the number of paupers relieved in the Metropolis on the last day of the last week of each quarter of 1867 and 1868 respectively:—

Metropolitan Asylum District.

Since the date of our last Report the Managers of the Metropolitan Asylum District have proceeded with the erection of the Asylums for the Insane at Leavesden and Caterham according to the plans which we had approved. Considerable progress has been made in the erection of the buildings.

The Managers have also made arrangements for the erection of the Fever and Small-pox hospitals on two of the sites referred to in our previous Report, namely, at Homerton and Stockwell.

With regard to the proposed Fever hospital at Hampstead we have decided in concert with the Managers that the buildings should not be proceeded with, as we have reason to hope that the accommodation in the hospitals at Homerton and Stockwell will be found sufficient to meet the requirements of the metropolis.

Sick Asylum Districts.

We noticed in our last Report the formation, under the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867, of five sick asylum districts, viz. :—

1. The Rotherhithe Sick Asylum District.
2. The Newington Sick Asylum District.
3. The Kensington Sick Asylum District.
4. The Poplar and Stepney Sick Asylum District.
5. The Central London Sick Asylum District.

By an Order dated 5th November 1868 we subsquently formed a sixth district, viz., the Finsbury Sick Asylum District, consisting of the then Holborn Union and the Parishes of St. James Clerkenwell and St. Luke Middlesex.

We have, however, since decided upon important changes in the constitution of all these districts, with the exception of that of Poplar and Stepney.

When the proposals in connexion with the purchase of the sites and the erection of the buildings for some of the asylums were brought under our consideration we ascertained, after a careful examination of the details, that the cost of the asylums, inclusive of the sites and the fittings, would not be less than from 45,000*l.* to 50,000*l.* each.

Under these circumstances, and taking into account the large and increasing burdens on the ratepayers of the metropolis, we deemed it necessary to review the proposed arrangements, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the requisite separate accommodation for the sick poor might not be provided in some other manner equally efficient but not involving so serious an outlay.

After a full inquiry into the available space in the existing Workhouses it became evident to us that if each Workhouse in the Unions forming the sick asylum districts were appropriated to a separate class, not only would the requisite classification be secured, but great economy in space would be effected, and that the further accommodation thus obtained would, if certain additions of a comparatively inexpensive character were made to some of the Workhouses, so far meet the wants of most of the six districts as to obviate the necessity of erecting costly new buildings for the separate treatment of the sick.

The policy of providing Workhouses for separate classes of the Poor was fully recognized by the Commissioners of Inquiry into the operation of the Poor Law in 1834, who in their Report recommended "that the "Central Board should be empowered to cause any num- "ber of Parishes to be incorporated for the purpose of "Workhouse management, and for providing new Work- "houses where necessary, and to assign to those Work- "houses separate classes of Poor though composed of the "Poor of distinct Parishes." And in another part of the same Report they say, that it appears to them "that "both the requisite classification and the requisite "superintendence may be better obtained in separate "buildings than under a single roof. Each class then "might receive an appropriate treatment; the old "might enjoy their indulgences without torment from "the boisterous, the children be educated, and the able-"bodied subjected to such courses of labour and of "discipline as will repel the indolent and vicious."

In order to utilize the existing buildings in the manner pointed out it is obviously of great importance that all the Workhouses within the District should be placed under one management, and we found by reference to the area, population, and pauperism of most of the Districts that if they were formed into Unions they would still not exceed the proportions of some of the Unions and single Parishes under separate Boards of Guardians in the Metropolis.

There were other advantages in this arrangement which pressed themselves upon our attention.

The Board of Management for the Asylum District and its staff of officers would no longer be required, and in the place of a separate Board of Guardians for each Union or Parish forming the district one Board only for the whole district would be established. In like manner one Assessment Committee would be substituted for several, thereby securing uniformity of assessment throughout the extended area.

To the poor themselves a boon would be afforded by the enlargement of the area of chargeability, which would render them less liable to removal, whilst at the same time greater uniformity in the administration of out-door relief would be obtained.

Acting upon these considerations we determined to form three of the Sick Asylum Districts, viz., those of Rotherhithe, Newington, and Finsbury, into Unions for all purposes, and we have issued an order dealing with the Finsbury Sick Asylum District in this manner by adding the Parishes of St. Luke Middlesex and St. James Clerkenwell to the Holborn Union. The orders relating to the Rotherhithe and Newington Districts will be issued shortly.

The Kensington Sick Asylum District will be disposed of by uniting for all purposes the Parishes of St. Margaret and St. John Westminster with the Parish of St. George Hanover Square. The arrangements relating to the Central London Sick Asylum District are still under our consideration.

Amalgamation of the three Unions in the City of London.

We may here state that we have intimated to the Guardians of the City of London Union and of the East and West London Unions our intention of combining, as soon as circumstances will permit, those three Unions into one Union for all purposes. Under this plan the whole area of the City of London will be placed under one management, and an improved classification of the in-door poor provided for, by appropriating to different classes the several existing Workhouses, one of them being set apart exclusively for the sick.

Our proceedings in this and the other cases have, however, been delayed in consequence of legal difficulties connected with the dissolution of Unions and Asylum Districts already established. These difficulties will be removed by the passing of the Bill which has been introduced during the present Session for the purpose of amending the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867.

Provision for Sick in Unions not in Asylum Districts.

In several of the Metropolitan Unions and Parishes which have not been included in any Sick Asylum District, and where further accommodation for the sick is imperatively required, steps are in progress for providing improved infirmary accommodation, either by the erection of new buildings or by making additions to the existing wards. The completion, however, of the projected alterations in some of the workhouses is necessarily postponed until the imbecile inmates, who now occupy some of the wards required in order to complete the necessary provision for the sick, can be removed to the new asylums in course of erection at Caterham and Leavesden.

Dispensaries.

In our last Report we inserted a Circular Letter, which we had addressed to the Guardians in the Metropolis, drawing their attention to those sections of the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867, which related to Dispensaries, and pointing out the advantages which would arise from their establishment; but we regret that, owing to unforeseen obstacles in some cases, and legal impediments in others, but little progress has been made in giving full effect to these provisions of the Act.

In some Unions Dispensaries have been established, where all medicines required for the out-door poor are dispensed by duly qualified dispensers upon the prescriptions of the district medical officers, and although in these cases a Dispensary Committee has not been appointed pursuant to the Act, the Dispensary arrangements have been superintended by a Committee appointed by the Guardians. This system has been attended with very satisfactory results.

We are still strongly of opinion that the requisite medicines should be provided by the Guardians at their own cost instead of by the medical officers, and that the medical officers should see and prescribe for the sick poor not confined to their houses at the dispensaries rather than at their own surgeries; but we do not consider it essential that a Dispensary Committee should be appointed in those cases where the Guardians object to such an arrangement, and are willing to comply with the other requirements of the Act.

The measure now before Parliament for amending the Metropolitan Poor Act will relieve the Guardians from the obligation of appointing a Dispensary Committee in certain cases, and offer other inducements for the general establishment of dispensaries throughout the Metropolis.

The Metropolitan Common Poor Fund.

Under the provisions of the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867, certain expenses chargeable upon the Poor Rate were, from and after the 29th of September 1867, cast upon the Metropolitan Common Poor Fund, which is raised by contributions from the several Unions and Parishes in the Metropolis according to their rateable value.

The following statement shows the several items of expenditure so repayable in respect of each of the half years ended at Lady-day and Michaelmas 1868 :—

| | Lady-day 1868. | Michaelmas 1868. | Total. |
| 1. For the maintenance of Lunatics in Asylums, Registered Hospitals, and Licensed Houses | 39,051 16 8 | 77,515 13 6 | 116,567 10 2 |
| 2. For Medicine and Medical and Surgical Appliances supplied to the poor in receipt of relief by Guardians - - - | 2,750 17 1 | 3,675 6 6 | 6,426 3 7 |
| 3. | 4. For Fees for Registration of Births and Deaths - - - - - | 2,557 12 6 | 5,035 4 4 | 7,592 16 10 |
| 5. For fees for, and other expenses of, Vaccination - - - - - | 1,045 6 0 | 2,590 1 7 | 3,635 7 7 |
| 6. For Maintenance of Pauper Children in District, Separate, Certificated, and Licensed Schools - - - - | 34,474 8 1 | 44,704 5 0 | 79,178 13 1 |
| 7. For Relief of destitute Persons certified by the Auditor, and the provision of temporary Wards or other places of reception approved by the Poor Law Board under the Metropolitan Houseless Poor Acts of 1864 and 1865 - - - - - | 5,895 18 9 | 5,618 0 6 | 11,513 19 3 |
| Total - - £ | 130,056 17 11 | 184,794 14 2 | 314,851 12 1 |

It will be observed that there is a considerable difference in the expenditure under the same heads for the two half years, that for the half year ended at Michaelmas being considerably in excess of the amount for the preceding period. This difference arises from the fact that the Lady-day accounts of several of the Unions do not include the expenditure for the whole half year but for a quarter only, whereas the Michaelmas accounts contain the expenditure not only for that half year but for an additional quarter also.

The cases in which the expenditure repayable exceeds the amount of the contributions are the following :—

| Name of Union or Parish. | Net Amount payable by the Receiver in respect of the two half years. | | |

Copies of the assessments of the contributions and of the precepts showing the amount of the expenses repayable to each Union, Parish, and Place, together with summaries containing an account of the sums expended under each head separately, will be found in the Appendix, pp. 331–337.

Vagrancy.

We have obtained and laid before the House of Commons a return showing the comparative number of persons of each sex admitted into the casual wards of the 39 Metropolitan Workhouses during each night in the months of January 1868 and 1869.

The average number admitted on any one night is—

| | Males. | Females and Children. |
|---|---|---|
| In 1868 | 940 | 333 |
| 1869 | 1,106 | 347 |

The largest number admitted on one night in the Metropolis appears to be—males 1,269, females 429; while the accommodation provided is for 1,539 males and 1,006 females.

It is evident, therefore, that the accommodation provided in the Metropolitan District is amply sufficient for this class.

Though the number of vagrants relieved has not materially increased, the communications which are made to us on the subject of this class by various Boards of Guardians prove that in many respects the present arrangements are not satisfactory.

More uniformity of treatment and regulation, stricter supervision, and more ready means of communication between the authorities superintending the various vagrant wards appear to be urgently required.

Our earnest attention will be given to the consideration of the best means for improving the administration of relief to this class both in the Metropolis and in the country.

Well founded complaints of the growing evil of vagrancy have reached us from many quarters of the country. We issued a Circular Letter to the Guardians on the subject on the 28th November last, but, though the adoption of our recommendations may be found to mitigate the evil to a certain extent, it appears questionable whether the evil can be effectually grappled with except by a uniform system for the treatment of vagrants imposed by law on the country generally.

Dissolution of Gilbert's Incorporations.

We have taken proceedings during the past year in the exercise of the powers granted to us by the 31 & 32 Vict. c. 122. s. 4. By that Act we have been authorized, without the consent of the Guardians, which was previously necessary, to dissolve the Incorporations which had been constituted and had existed for many years under Gilbert's Act (22 Geo. 3. c. 83.), and to bring the administration of the poor laws in the Parishes and Townships forming those Incorporations, as well as in any single Parish which had adopted that Act, under the provisions of the general law relating to the relief of the poor.

The following is a list of the Incorporations with which we had to deal :—

Caton Incorporation, in the county of Lancaster.
Bainbridge Incorporation, in the North Riding of the county of York.
Carlton Incorporation, in the West Riding of the county of York.
Barwick-in-Elmet Incorporation, in the West Riding of the county of York.
Alstonefield Incorporation, in the county of Stafford.
Brinton Incorporation, in the county of Norfolk.
Farnborough Incorporation, in the county of Southampton.
Headley Incorporation, in the county of Southampton.
Ash Incorporation, in the county of Surrey.
East Preston Incorporation, in the county of Sussex.
Sutton Incorporation, in the county of Sussex.

All these we have dissolved with the exception of the two Incorporations situated in the county of Sussex, which we expect to dissolve in the course of the ensuing autumn. Five new Unions have been formed out of the Parishes and places comprised in the Incorporations, and we have added many of the disunited Parishes and places to the adjoining Unions.

The new Unions which we have formed are the Lunesdale Union in the county of Lancaster, the Aysgarth Union in the North Riding of Yorkshire, and the Holbeck, Hunslet, and Leeds Unions in the West Riding.

The details of these Unions will appear in the Appendix.

The only single Parishes in which the law had been administered under Gilbert's Act were the Parishes of Alverstoke and Arundel. The former of these Parishes containing the important town of Gosport appeared to us to be too large a district to be annexed to any of the adjoining Unions, and we therefore placed it under the management of a Board of Guardians elected for that Parish only, according to the provisions of the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1834. The Order for this purpose was issued on the 15th September 1868, in pursuance of which a Board of Guardians was elected, and has since proceeded to conduct the administration of the relief to the poor under the usual regulations.

Provisional Orders issued by the Board and confirmed by Parliament.

We have taken proceedings in several cases in pursuance of the powers granted to us by the 2d section of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1867.

We have dealt with the local Acts of the city of Salisbury and the city of Chester, and also with that of the incorporated hundreds of Tunstead and Happing, in the county of Norfolk.

We received on the 18th March 1868 a copy of a resolution unanimously agreed to at two successive meetings of the Board of Churchwardens and Overseers of the united Parishes of the city of Salisbury for the repeal of the local Acts in force in that city, in pursuance of which we issued on the 10th of July 1868 a Provisional Order for the repeal of such Acts.

The Order was subsequently confirmed by Act of Parliament, 31 & 32 Vict. c. 151., and the local Acts applicable to that city were by these proceedings repealed on the 25th of March 1869.

We have deemed it advisable to add the three Parishes which were disunited by the repeal of those local Acts, to the adjoining Alderbury Union.

We received on the 21st of December 1868 from the Guardians of the Chester Incorporation a copy of a resolution passed at meetings held on the 10th and 17th December for a repeal of the local Act in force in that Incorporation, and we accordingly issued on the 10th of February 1869 a Provisional Order for the repeal of such Act from and after the 29th of September next.

We have further issued, in accordance with a resolution passed at two successive meetings by the Directors and Guardians of the incorporated hundreds of Tunstead and Happing, a Provisional Order for the repeal of the local Acts under which that Incorporation was constituted from and after the 29th of September next.

These Orders have since been confirmed by an Act of the present session, and we intend to take the requisite measures for forming new Unions out of the Parishes previously governed by those local Acts.

We have also issued a Provisional Order under the 3d section of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1867, to make arrangements in respect of the Parish of Woolavington, in the county of Sussex, which consisted of several detached portions inconveniently situated with reference to each other, and that Order was also confirmed by the same Act.

Proceedings in regard to the New Forest.

We stated last year that we had taken proceedings in pursuance of the 29 & 30 Vict. c. 66. for dividing the extensive range of the New Forest in the county of Southampton into Townships for the relief of the poor.

We have completed those arrangements having formed three new townships out of the Forest. These we have added to the adjoining Unions, and other parts of the Forest we have annexed to the adjoining Parishes.

These proceedings received the approval of Her Majesty's Commissioner of Woods and Forests in charge of this Forest.

The other Orders have been submitted to and have been confirmed by the Court of Quarter Sessions for the county of Southampton as the statute under which the Board acted required.

Reports on the Workhouse Schools.

We insert in the Appendix, pp. 86–104, the annual reports made to us by Mr. Tufnell, Mr. Browne, and Mr. Wodehouse, Inspectors of Workhouse Schools, on the state and progress of education in their respective districts during the past year.

District Schools.

We regret to state that difficulties have occurred in the establishment of the District School for the Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire District, to which we adverted in our last Report. Four out of the six Unions forming the District are unwilling to proceed with the erection of the School, and desire to have the District dissolved. The negotiations with regard to this matter are still pending.

The measures for the establishment of another School District, formed of the Walsall and West Bromwich Unions in the county of Stafford, have proceeded more satisfactorily. A Board of Management has been constituted, a site has been selected for the school, and an order issued for the purchase of the site and for the erection of the School according to such plans as we shall approve.

Boarding out Pauper Children.

We have received applications from several Boards of Guardians for our assent to the trial of a scheme for the boarding out of certain classes of pauper children on the system which has been followed in Scotland for some time under the sanction of the Board of Supervision.

We have thought it right to give every facility for a fair trial of this system. The letter which we have addressed to the Guardians of the Evesham Union on the subject has been called for by the House of Commons, and has been printed by an order of that House.

Attendances at Workhouse and District School.

A statement will be found in the Appendix, pp. 290–312, showing the daily average number of children attending Workhouse Schools in England and Wales, as well as the number attending District Schools, during the half year ending at Lady-day 1868; and also the amount of money paid from the Parliamentary grant, in respect of the salaries of the schoolmasters and schoolmistresses, for the year ended at the same period. The following is a summary of this statement:—

Average daily number of children attending Workhouse Schools and separate Union or Parochial Schools during the half year ended at Lady-day 1868:—

| Boys,— | | |

| The amount paid to Boards of Guardians out of the Parliamentary grant in respect of the salaries of Workhouse and District School teachers for the year ended at Lady-day 1868 | 33,837 | 17 | 0 |

A statement is also given in the Appendix, p. 313, of additional Schools which the Board have certified as being fitted for the reception of such children as may be sent to them by the Guardians under the Act 25 & 26 Vict. c. 43.

Insane Paupers, 1st January 1868.

We have caused the lists of lunatics, idiots, and other persons of unsound mind, chargeable to the poor rates on the 1st January 1868, to be tabulated.

It appears from these returns that in 664* Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians, there were 43,158 insane paupers. The number of paupers, inclusive of the insane, was on the same day 1,040,103.†

In regard to the sexes of the insane paupers, it will be seen that 19,033 were males, and 24,125 females.

These paupers were maintained in the following establishments; viz.—

24,297 in County or Borough Lunatic Asylums.
1,348 in Registered Hospitals, or in Licensed Houses.
10,684 in Union or Parish Workhouses.
1,045 in Lodgings, or Boarded out.
5,784 resided with their Relatives.

The number of Insane Paupers in each Union-County is set forth, with other particulars, in the Appendix at pp. 280–287.

Vaccination.

A summary of the returns received from the several Unions and parishes in England and Wales of the number of persons vaccinated by public vaccinators during the year ended at Michaelmas last is given in the Appendix, pp. 327–329. This summary shows the number of persons vaccinated during the year to have been 518,794, being an increase upon the number vaccinated during the previous year of 22,079. The summary also shows that the number of cases in which the vaccination has been successful is 513,042, which is an increase of 22,444 upon the number successfully vaccinated last year. The births during the year in the several Unions and Parishes were 771,905, being an increase of 5,270 upon the preceding year.

Report on the proceedings under the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts.

In continuation of the documents contained in our previous Reports relating to the proceedings for the relief of the distress in the Manufacturing Districts in the years 1863–64 we insert in the Appendix, pp. 105–153, the final report of Robert Rawlinson, Esq., C.B., on the works commenced and executed under the provisions of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts)

* Inclusive of nine Gilbert's Incorporations.

† Exclusive of the paupers in eight of the Gilbert's Incorporations, from which the Poor Law Board do not receive this information.

Acts. The report contains full information of the nature and extent of the works executed, the cost in detail of their execution, the amount of the loans advanced to the different local authorities, and the amount of the instalments of such loans repaid. Mr. Rawlinson reports that up to the present time he is not aware of any failure in any of the works undertaken, and there appears no reason to doubt that the loans advanced by the Government for the execution of them will be duly repaid according to the terms on which they were granted.

New and enlarged Workhouses and Schools.

We insert in the Appendix, pp. 315–317, the usual list of the Orders issued by us during the year 1868 for the erection of new Workhouses or for the alteration and enlargement of existing Workhouses or District Schools, and for the purchase of land and for building of Metropolitan Asylums according to plans to which our approval has been given.

Emigration.

The expenditure from the poor rate on account of emigration is likewise given in the Appendix, p. 314. The total number of persons who have emigrated at the cost of the poor rate under our Orders during the year has only been 32, and the expenditure incurred in such emigration 227*l.*

General Orders.

We have issued since the date of our last Report the following General Orders :—

1. A General Order, dated the 26th November 1868, according to the requirement of the provisions of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868, prescribing the mode in which the register is to be kept by the master of every Workhouse and the superintendent of every District School of the religious creed of the pauper inmates of such Workhouse School.

2. A General Order, dated 1st January 1869, regulating out-door relief in the same manner as that prescribed in the General Order of the Board issued in December 1852. This was issued to certain Metropolitan Parishes and Unions where it was not previously in force.

3. A General Order, dated the 16th of February 1869, altering the form of certificate to be signed by the Visiting Committee as to the stores in the Workhouse.

Copies of these Orders and of the Circular Letters accompanying them are contained in the Appendix.

Circular Letters.

We have also issued during the past year the following Circular Letters to Boards of Guardians :—

1. A Circular Letter, dated the 2d April 1868, on the subject of the employment by medical officers of assistants in the discharge of their duties.

2. A Circular Letter, dated the 23d of April 1868, suggesting a dietary for the adult inmates of the Metropolitan Workhouses.

3. A further Circular Letter, dated 7th December 1868, containing suggestions in regard to Workhouse Dietaries generally.

4. A Circular Letter, dated 13th June 1868, on the subject of the fittings of sick wards and of medical appliances.

5. A Circular Letter, dated 15th of June 1868, containing instructions as to the points which should be attended to in the construction of Workhouses.

6. A Circular Letter, dated the 16th of July 1868, on the duties of the Visiting Committees of Workhouses.

7. Circular Letters, dated the 20th October and 20th November 1868, the former on the provisions relating to valuation and rating, the latter on the miscellaneous provisions contained in the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868.

8. A Circular Letter, dated the 4th of November 1868, on the religious clauses in 31 & 32 Vict. c. 122.

9. A Circular Letter, dated the 9th of December 1868, on the subject of out-door relief.

All which we humbly present to Your Majesty.

GEORGE J. GOSCHEN,

President.

MEDICAL ASSISTANTS.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS on the employment of unqualified MEDICAL ASSISTANTS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
2d April 1868.

SIR,

THE attention of the Poor Law Board has been directed to a practice which is alleged to prevail of the employment by Medical Officers of unqualified assistants to attend the sick poor.

Every Medical Officer, as the Guardians are aware, is required by the regulations already in force (see Article 199 of the General Consolidated Order) to visit and attend personally, as far as may be practicable, the poor persons entrusted to his care, and is responsible for his attendance on them.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

A subsequent Article (No. 200) of the same Order provides for the manner in which any disability on the part of a Medical Officer to perform his duties personally is to be supplied.

This Article requires the Medical Officer, as soon as may be after his appointment, to name to the Guardians some legally qualified medical practitioner, to whom application for medicines or attendance may be made in the case of his absence from home or other hindrance to his personal attendance, and the name and residence of every Medical Practitioner so named is to be forwarded by the Clerk to each Relieving Officer, and to the Overseers of every parish in the district of such Medical Officer.

In order to ensure efficient medical aid to the sick poor, the regulations in force require all Medical Officers to possess legal qualifications to practise medicine and surgery, and it is obvious that if such Medical Officers are permitted to delegate their duties to unqualified assistants, the object of the regulations is defeated.

The Board feel it necessary, therefore, to request the co-operation of Boards of Guardians in discouraging altogether the employment of unqualified assistants. The Board have no desire, however, to deprive the Medical Officers of the aid of legally qualified assistants, and they therefore desire to point out that the Medical Officer may nominate his assistant, when duly qualified, to act as his substitute under the circumstances mentioned in Article 200 of the General Consolidated Order to which the Board have already directed the attention of the Guardians.

No. 2.

The Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867.—The Metropolitan Common Poor Fund.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to the Board of Guardians in the Metropolitan District.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
11th April 1868.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to remind the Guardians that by section 69 of "The Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867," it is provided, that certain expenses, incurred after the 29th day of September 1867, by the several Unions and Parishes within the Metropolis, for purposes connected with the relief of the Poor, shall be repaid out of a fund, called "The Metropolitan Common Poor Fund," to be raised by contributions to be assessed by the Board upon those Unions and Parishes, according to the annual rateable value of the property therein comprised.

The expenses which are to be repaid are the following; viz.,

(1.) For the maintenance of lunatics in asylums, registered hospitals, and licensed houses, and of insane Poor in asylums under the Act, except such expenses as are chargeable on the county rate:

(2.) For the maintenance of patients in any asylum specially provided under the Act for patients suffering from fever or small-pox:

(3.) For all medicine and medical and surgical appliances supplied to the Poor in receipt of relief by Guardians under the Act or any of the Poor Law Acts:

(4.) For the salaries of all officers employed by the Guardians in and about the relief of the Poor, by the managers of districts schools under "the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1844," and by the managers of asylums under the Act, and also the salaries of the dispensers and other persons employed in dispensaries under the Act, provided the appointments of the officers have been sanctioned by the Poor Law Board:

(5.) For compensation to any medical officer of a workhouse affected by the determination or variation by the Poor Law Board of a contract respecting medical relief in the workhouse, or for compensation to any officer of a Union or Parish who may be deprived of his office by reason of the operation of the Act:

(6.) For fees for registration of births and deaths:

(7.) For fees for and other expenses of vaccination:

(8.) For maintenance of pauper children in district, separate, certificated, and licensed schools:

(9.) For relief of destitute persons certified by the auditor, and provision of temporary wards or other places of reception approved by the Poor Law Board, under the Metropolitan Houseless Poor Acts of 1864 and 1865.

The mode in which repayment of the expenses above enumerated is to be obtained is indicated by section 70 of the Act, which provides that "after each half-yearly audit the auditors shall, within such time "and in such manner as the Poor Law Board from time to time direct, "certify to the Poor Law Board the amount actually expended "by each Union or Parish in respect of expenses which are to be "repaid out of the Common Poor Fund; and the Poor Law Board "shall, by precept under the seal of the Board, direct the receiver to "repay out of that fund to the Guardians of the Unions and Parishes "the several sums so expended, and the amount repaid shall be ap-"plied by them in aid of the fund chargeable with the relief of the "Poor."

The first repayment which the Guardians will be enabled to receive under the Act will be in respect of expenses incurred by them during the half year ended at Lady-day last, and the Board have directed that the expenses which the Guardians may claim to have reimbursed shall be certified in a prescribed form of account, copies of which are enclosed herewith. The Board request that each form may be properly filled up in duplicate, and be ready to be submitted to the auditor on the day appointed for his audit.

The Board must, however, observe that the amounts entered must be subject to the supervision and control of the auditor, as no payments can be reimbursed except such as the auditor shall allow as legally made by the Guardians.

With regard to the expenses to be included in the account it will be observed that, until asylums have been established under the Act by the managers of the Metropolitan Asylum District, the only lunatics and insane persons for whose maintenance the Guardians can claim repayment are those in asylums, registered hospitals, and licensed houses. The cost of the maintenance of the insane Poor in Workhouses cannot be included in the account; and, inasmuch as no asylums have yet been specially provided under the Act for patients suffering from fever or small-pox, the Guardians will not be entitled to reimbursement for the maintenance of paupers suffering from these disorders, although they may have been sent to fever or small-pox hospitals for treatment.

The Guardians will be entitled to reimbursement for all medicines and medical and surgical appliances actually provided and paid for by them; but when these articles are supplied by the Medical Officer himself, and the remuneration for them forms part of his salary, the cost of any such medicines and medical and surgical appliances cannot be repaid out of this fund under the Act, in addition to the salary paid to him.

The salaries of all officers employed by the Guardians in and about the relief of the Poor will form an item for reimbursement; but it must be distinctly borne in mind that, if the appointments of any officers have not been sanctioned by the Poor Law Board, their salaries must be omitted from the claim. The rations of officers, and gratuities and superannuation allowances to officers, do not form part of their salaries, and cannot be included in the account.

The Guardians will, of course, be entitled to repayment of their proportion of the salaries of the officers of district schools and asylums; but, as before stated, the salaries of any officers whose appointments have not been sanctioned cannot be recognised as forming part of the claim, and the Board will address a communication to the clerks to the managers, requesting them to furnish the Guardians of the Unions and Parishes included in the districts with a statement of the amount contributed by each Union and Parish in respect of the salaries of those officers only, whose appointments and salaries have been sanctioned by the Board, separated from the general head of common charges in which they appear in the half-yearly "Union List and Statement of Account," from the district school.

The full salary of each officer whose appointment has been sanctioned is to be inserted in the account, without giving credit for any repayments made by the treasury in respect of the salaries of medical officers or schoolmasters and teachers. These repayments, however, will be taken into account by the Board in determining the amount which may appear to be repayable to each Union and Parish out of the Common Poor Fund.

The Guardians will find, on reference to the note appended to Form No. 7, a description of the charges which are to be included under the head of maintenance of pauper children in district and separate schools; but no claim for repayment from the Common Poor Fund can be allowed for the maintenance of children in Workhouses.

The Board request that as soon as the accounts have been certified by the auditor one of the duplicates may be forwarded to them.

I am, &c.

DIETARY for ADULT INMATES of METROPOLITAN WORKHOUSES. — CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to the BOARDS OF GUARDIANS in the METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
23d April 1868.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to transmit to you, for such remarks as the Guardians may think it desirable to make, the accompanying dietary for the several classes of adult inmates of the Metropolitan Workhouses, prepared by Dr. Markham, Poor Law Inspector, together with a copy of a communication which he has addressed to the Board on the subject.

The Board, fully concurring in the opinion of Dr. Markham that it is desirable that one uniform workhouse dietary should be employed throughout the Metropolis, request that the Guardians will take into their early consideration the dietary proposed by him with a view to its adoption.

I am, &c.
H. FLEMING,
Secretary.

(Enclosure).

DIETARY FOR ADULT INMATES OF METROPOLITAN WORKHOUSES.— The COMMUNICATION referred to in the above LETTER.

16, Whitehall Place, S.W.,
15th April 1868.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

PURSUANT to instructions which I received some time since from the Poor Law Board, I have prepared the accompanying diet table for use in the Metropolitan Workhouses.

In framing the dietary two objects have been kept in view: 1. That the food prescribed should be suitable in kind; 2. That the quantity should be such as to admit of neither extravagance nor waste.

At present there is in most of the metropolitan workhouses more or less waste continually going on in staple articles of food; and from this I conclude that the diet in such cases must be faulty, and in some one or other of the following particulars: That the food is either unsuitable in kind; or that it is bad in quality; or ill-cooked; or over abundantly supplied.

For economy's sake, therefore, it is desirable to recognize and provide against these possible sources of waste of food.

Bread and potatoes in large quantities at times find their way into the waste tub on account of their bad quality.

Other articles of food, and I might especially mention pea soup, porridge, and suet pudding, are not unfrequently wasted on account of their being badly cooked.

Again food is wasted because it is unsuited in quality, is not readily digested, and therefore not taken by those for whom it is prescribed.

And it is wasted also where the allowance is greater than can be consumed.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

The remedy for waste resulting from the bad quality of food and its bad cooking is evident enough, and lies wholly in the hands of the Guardians.

The question of economy is seriously involved in the matter of cookery. Bad cookery undoubtedly implies waste of food. In this respect it is certain that there is room for much improvement in workhouses generally.

The acceptance of the lowest tenders for supply of articles of food is also an indirect cause of waste of food, and in most cases a bad economy.

Against the two other sources of waste, viz., the unsuitable quality of the food as supplied to particular classes of inmates and its over abundant supply, I have endeavoured to provide in this dietary.

That the allowance of food is in some respects, and particularly in the article of bread, greater in most workhouses than is required seems to me proved by the ordinary appearance of the waste tub in workhouses. The difference indeed in the amount of bread prescribed by the present dietaries of London workhouses indicates waste of this article. It may be reasonably inferred that the lowest scale of this prime article of food supplied to workhouse inmates is equal to their average wants. If less were supplied discontent would be heard ; and yet I am not aware that any complaint on this score has been made even in those houses where the ration of bread supplied is the lowest. How greatly the quantity of bread supplied to each inmate under the present dietaries varies in different workhouses may be seen by a comparison of them. There are workhouses in which upwards of 100 ounces of bread are given per week, and there are houses in which not more than 70 ounces are given per week.

The quantities of the articles of food, as given in this dietary table, have been determined by a careful study of the actual average amount of them consumed by inmates in different workhouses, and from a comparison of the amount of waste noted in different workhouses where the scale of dietary is different.

It is not possible, as I think, by any scientific or other calculations to decide à priori what amount of food is actually required for the proper sustenance of workhouse inmates. This, as it seems to me, can only be learnt from the observation of the average quantity consumed by them. From experience thus gained I am inclined to think, so far at least as adult inmates are concerned, that the amount of food as heretofore generally prescribed is greater than is required, than is in fact actually consumed.

The principles which I have followed in deciding as to the quality of the food which should be supplied to different classes of inmates are given in the explanation appended to the diet table. As food may be wasted because unsuited to the age, the habits, and the tastes of inmates, it is clearly desirable, on the grounds of economy, to take into consideration in the framing of a dietary, as far as may be reasonably and properly done, the character of the food to which the individuals have been accustomed. In doing this, however, I have endeavoured to maintain a broad distinction between the different classes of inmates, between the condition of the aged and infirm poor, and of the able-bodied, the idle, and the dissolute.

Before submitting the dietary for general adoption in metropolitan workhouses I have thought it right, under permission of the Poor Law

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

Board, to test its value practically; and it may be satisfactory to Boards of Guardians to know that the dietary, with a few modifications, has been now for some months in use at the St. Pancras, St. George-the-Martyr, Greenwich, and Marylebone workhouses, and that the masters of those houses have reported in its favour. They pronounce the dietary to be good and economical. Their reports state that it supplies a diet suitable and agreeable to the infirm and old, that it acts as an effective test to the able-bodied, and produces economy in the general consumption of food.

I have to thank the masters, Mr. Douglas, Mr. Blake, Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Kilby, for the trouble they have taken and the energy they have displayed in introducing the dietary experimentally into their respective workhouses.

As regards the receipts given for making the different articles of diet, I may add that they have been carefully prepared, and under my own constant observation, by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, master and matron of the Marylebone workhouse. The receipts, for whose success I can myself answer, are the results of many experiments made by them. Mr. Douglas has kindly promised to explain any difficulty in the details of cookery, &c. which may occur to masters of workhouses in carrying out the dietary.

The general adoption of these receipts (it is worthy of note) will enable the auditors in several instances to check accurately in the shape of raw materials the actual amount of the different articles of food which have been consumed.

Relying on the practical experience which I have thus so largely had of the working of the dietary, I would ask the Poor Law Board to place it for adoption before the Metropolitan Boards of Guardians. I need not add how desirable it is that one uniform workhouse dietary should be employed throughout the Metropolis.

I am, &c.

Explanation of the Diet Table.

Diet No. 1. is a diet for the able-bodied, under the term able-bodied being included all those inmates whatever their age, whether above or below 60, who have health and strength sufficient to obtain their livelihood by labour.

A diet suited to this class of inmates, while fully sufficing for the nourishment of the body, should contain none of those things which can be regarded as comforts. It should in no way tend to encourage inmates to remain in the workhouse.

This diet is meant to meet the case:

1st. Of those persons, who, though able to gain their livelihood elsewhere by work, remain in the workhouse.

2d. Of those who seek a temporary refuge there when labour fails them:

3d. Of those who become inmates of the workhouse through their vicious habits.

Diet No. 2. is prescribed for those inmates of the workhouse, whatever their age, who through infirmity are unable to procure the means of living.

Under this head are classed:

1st. Those who are unable to do any work; and

2d. Those who are able to do a certain amount of work, but yet, through infirmity, are unable so to work as to gain the means of living.

To this class of inmates may be properly conceded in their diet something beyond what suffices for the mere nourishing of the body; something, in fact, in the way of comforts.

Diet No. 3. extra labour diet, is designed for the use of those inmates, whether able-bodied or infirm, who are engaged in work of the house which requires much physical exertion, or is irksome and disagreeable in its nature.

The extra labour diet should be given exceptionally, and only in those cases where there is extra labour performed, and where there are no special reasons why it should not be given.

In certain cases it is desirable that able-bodied inmates should be strictly kept on Diet No. 1., although they may be employed in the work of the house. Moreover, many of the old and infirm inmates may be properly called upon to do a certain amount of light work on their ordinary Diet No. 2.

The giving and withholding of this extra labour diet must be left to the discretion of the master, except in the case of those inmates who are engaged in the nursing work of the infirmary. The prescribing of extra labour diet to pauper nurses must be left to the medical officer.

Diets No. 1. and No. 2., it will be observed, are here prescribed, not in accordance with the age, but with the physical condition of the individual. There are inmates, above the age of 60, hale and hearty, and capable of obtaining their own livelihood, who may be properly placed on Diet No. 1. And, again, on the other hand, there are inmates below that age, and even young persons, who through permanent infirmity may be classed as infirm, and therefore properly placed on Diet No. 2. For these reasons it is desirable that the medical officer should determine the bodily condition of the inmate, whether he ought, as able-bodied and healthy, to be put on Diet No. 1., or as infirm, on Diet No. 2.

Diet No. 2. may be considered as a suitable diet for a large number of those inmates who are at present placed on the medical relief book, and can of course be given to such inmates with the consnat of the medical officer.

To ensure a real as well as nominal uniformity in the dietary it is necessary that the materials of which the different articles of the diet are composed should be alike in quantity as well as in quality. Receipts, therefore, giving the quantities, &c. of materials to be used in the composition of the articles of food prescribed are here appended.

Porridge.

To make one gallon.

| Round Scotch meal | 1 lb. |
| Treacle | 4 ounces. |

Tea.

|---|---|
| Tea | 1 ounce. |
| Sugar | 4 ounces. |
| Milk | 1 pint. |

Irish Stew.

|---|---|
| Meat (uncooked and free from bone) | 4 ounces. |
| Potatoes (peeled) | 10 „ |
| Carrots, onions, turnips, &c. | 2 ounces. |

To be seasoned with pepper and salt.

The stew, if possible, to be made with the liquor in which meat of the previous day has been boiled.

Pea Soup.

|---|---|
| Shins and legs of beef | 2 lbs. |
| Best split peas | 1¼ pint. |
| Carrots, turnips, onions, or leeks | 6 ounces. |

To be seasoned with pepper and salt.

Note.—One pint of pearl barley may be substituted for the peas in summer, or at any time for those on diet No. 2. who cannot take the pea soup.

Baked Suet Pudding.

|---|---|
| Suet | 2¼ „ |

To be served with treacle sauce or sugar.

Boiled Suet Pudding.

|---|---|
| Suet | 2¼ „ |

To be served with salt, treacle sauce, or sugar.

Rice Pudding.

|---|---|
| Rice (best Patna) | 3 ounces. |
| Raw sugar | ½ ounce. |
| Milk | ¼ pint. |
| Suet | ¼ ounce. |

Meat Pies or Puddings.

|---|---|
| Meat (uncooked and without bone) | 3 ounces. |
| Potatoes (peeled) | 8 „ |
| Flour and dripping for crust | 4 „ |

Broth for Supper (Diet No. 1.)

|---|---|
| Liquor of the boiled meat | One gallon. |
| ½ lb. of meat (uncooked). | |
| ½ pint oatmeal. | |

To be seasoned with pepper and salt, and flavoured with onions.

Porridge.—The porridge should be boiled for at least two hours. Those inmates who prefer it may have the porridge served with salt instead of treacle, the porridge in such case being drawn off before the treacle is added.

Tea.—The tea should not be boiled, nor made in a copper which is used for any other purpose of cookery. The aroma or flavour of it is driven off by boiling. The tea, again, should be put loose into boiling water in the copper, and left to infuse there for about half an hour, the infusion being kept gently warm and covered up. The tea ought not to be confined in tins or bags when put into the copper, as is usually the case in workhouses, but allowed to spread freely throughout the water. When shut up in bags or tin strainers much of the goodness of the tea is not obtained from it, the tea-leaf cannot open properly and is not fully exposed to the action of the water.

The tea is enclosed in bags or tin strainers for the purpose of enabling the infusion to be drawn off clear; but this object is much more simply obtained by adopting the plan employed in St. Pancras workhouse. A gun-metal-rose-shaped strainer, about 5 or 6 inches in diameter is fixed in the middle of the bottom of the copper, rising up 3 or 4 inches into the copper; and through this the infusion is drawn off perfectly clear, and as rapidly as needed.

The tea is to be served without milk to those inmates who so desire it, the tea being in such case drawn off before the milk is added.

Pea Soup.—Pearl barley and rice may be properly substituted for peas in the soup of those inmates on Diet No. 2. who prefer these articles, or with whom pea soup does not agree.

Suet Pudding.—This pudding should in all cases be served baked, and with sugar to inmates on Diet No. 2.; the baked is much preferred by them to the boiled pudding. Less suet, it will be observed, is required in the making of baked than of boiled pudding. To inmates on Diet No. 1. the pudding baked or boiled, as most convenient, may be served with salt or treacle-sauce.

Rice Pudding.—The baked rice pudding is to be served to all inmates on Diet No. 2. who prefer it to the suet pudding.

Meat Pudding.—The meat puddings must when boiled be boiled in flat tins. A certain number of portions may be served in each tin.

The mutton served on Sundays to inmates on Diet No. 2. should be baked. As the baker's oven is not in use on that day the baked meat can thus be served in houses where there is no suitable cooking oven.

Six ounces of bread for men and five ounces for women, or three ounces of bread with six ounces of boiled rice for men and women, may be substituted for the potatoes on Sundays and Fridays when through scarceness potatoes or other vegetables cannot be conveniently supplied.

It is very desirable that the dinners should be served warm. This may be always done in those instances where inmates on Diet No. 2. are served in their own wards. In such case the baked or boiled meat pies made in tins, each holding a given number of portions, may be carried directly into the wards and there divided, and so served up hot. The same may be done in the case of the Irish stew, pea soup, and suet pudding.

Dietary for Workhouse Inmates.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
7th December 1868.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to inform you that they have prepared a series of suggestions in regard to workhouse dietaries.

The dietary for the several classes of inmates in workhouses has long been a subject of consideration by the Poor Law Board, and communications have from time to time been addressed to Boards of Guardians respecting it.

Experience has not, however, shown that any fundamental change is required in the principles which the Board have hitherto recommended to the attention of Guardians in reference to the classification of the dietaries in workhouses, nor do they think that it would conduce to the interests of local Poor Law administration if the Board were to recommend one dietary for the whole of the workhouses under their jurisdiction. At the same time it appears to them that there are certain points connected with the subject upon which it is desirable that Guardians when framing the dietaries which are to be submitted for their sanction should be in possession of their views. These are accordingly embodied in the accompanying suggestions.

In February 1867 the Board forwarded to you a copy of a Report on Uniformity of Dietaries in Workhouses, which had been prepared by their Medical Officer, and which discussed the nutritive qualities of foods, and laid down rules as to the most economical and most fitting selection for the purpose of workhouse dietaries.

The present suggestions should be considered with that Report. They are intended to lead to a nearer approximation to uniformity in dietaries, without interfering with the discretion of the Guardians in selecting the particular kinds of food and modes of preparation which are commonly met with in the houses of the poor in their several localities. I am to add that the Board will have due regard to them in considering dietaries which may be sent up for their sanction.

In reference to the cooking and distribution of food the Board direct me to request that the Guardians will from time to time ascertain whether any improvements are required with a view to efficiency or economy. They are aware that at present there are some workhouses in which there is no convenient apparatus for roasting or baking meat, and that in many the less economical mode of heating the boilers by separate fires rather by steam is in operation. They suggest the desirability of remedying these defects where they exist, and also that proper means of conveying food to the different wards in a hot state should be provided, and the meat served in fairly cut slices. Care should be taken that the food is properly cooked, so that on the one hand no needless waste in cooking may occur, and on the other that the aged may be able to masticate it without difficulty. The visiting committee would do well by, from time to time, personally inspecting the existing arrangements.

The Board observe that in some workhouses the only meat supplied to the ordinary inmates is beef, and to the sick, mutton. They think that it would be an advantage to the inmates, (while it would not be attended with an increase of cost,) if mutton as well as beef were provided for the use of both classes of the inmates. A proper proportion of the joints should be such as are usually roasted.

H. Fleming,

Dietary for Workhouse Inmates.—The Suggestions referred to in the above Letter.

Suggestions for the Preparation of Dietaries.

1.—As to Classes of Inmates.

In addition to the other classes for whom separate dietaries are sanctioned by the Board, it is desirable that the following should be provided:—

1. A separate dietary for all aged and infirm inmates who are not placed upon the medical officer's book.
2. A separate dietary, to be prescribed by the medical officer, for such inmates as are at present placed upon the books of the medical officer for diet alone. The names of such persons should be entered in a special book, and not in the list of sick in the medical officer's book; and being once entered they should not be repeated until they cease to require that dietary.

This book to be laid before the Guardians at each meeting.

3. The names of those inmates to whom under Article 108, fourthly, of the General Consolidated Order, such an allowance of food as appeared to the Guardians necessary has been made on account of the nature of their employment, and of those to whom, on the like account, fermented or spirituous liquors have, in pursuance of a written recommendation of the medical officer, been allowed by the Guardians, should be read out at each meeting. The master is not permitted to allow extras without the authority of the Guardians previously obtained, or, in case of urgent necessity, without obtaining the sanction of the Guardians at their next meeting after such extras have been given. It is not necessary in order to such extra allowance that the medical officer should enter the names of such persons in his sick list.
4. Should the Guardians deem it desirable, they may submit to the Poor Law Board a dietary for children from æt. 9 to æt. 16, instead of allowing to that class the dietary of able-bodied women.
5. The sick dietaries will, as heretofore, be framed by the medical officer; but the Board deem it desirable that the meat to be allowed to the sick should be calculated as cooked meat without bone, and not as raw meat, except in the case of chops; and they request that the medical officer will so arrange the quantity of food in the sick diets that it may not be greater than the sick of the particular class can ordinarily eat, and also that he will give his attention to the cooking, conveying, and serving of the sick diets.
6. The dietary of imbeciles and of suckling women should be that of the aged and infirm inmates, with or without the substitution of milk porridge and bread at breakfast or supper, or at both meals.

2.—Details of Dietaries.

7. Tea or coffee is not to be ordinarily supplied to children, except for supper on Sunday.
8. It is desirable that milk should be supplied to all children under æt. 5, and, where practicable, to children above that age, at breakfast and supper, and that 2 ozs. or 3 ozs. of bread should be given to each child at 10 A.M.
9. It is suggested that tea, coffee, or cocoa, with milk and sugar, and accompanied by bread and butter or bread and cheese, should be allowed to all the aged and infirm women at breakfast and supper, and the same to the aged and infirm men, or milk porridge with bread may be given at one of those meals.
10. It is not desirable that more than two soup or broth dinners should be supplied weekly to any class of inmates.
11. Soup is to contain 3 ozs. of raw, or 2 ozs. of cooked, meat to the pint, and, when practicable, to be made with meat liquor. From 1 pint to 1½ pints to be the usual ration for an adult.
12. Broth without the meat left in it should not be given with bread alone for dinner; but when it contains the quantity of meat which is required in soup, it may be substituted for soup during the summer months.
13. Broth made without the meat being left in it may be given thrice a week with a sufficient quantity of bread for supper to the able-bodied, and, in the absence of a sufficient supply of milk, to children from æt. 9 to æt. 16.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

14. It is not desirable that more than two bread and cheese dinners should be supplied weekly, except to the able-bodied adults; and ½ pint of broth, without meat left in it, is to be added in the dietaries for the aged and infirm and children.
15. Bread and cheese should not be given alone for breakfast and supper to children under æt. 5.
16. Boiled rice is not to be given alone as a substitute for potato and green vegetables. When it is considered desirable to supply it, it should be given with a portion of fresh vegetables or bread.
17. Rice pudding is not to be given as a dinner, except to children under æt. 9, and to them not more frequently than twice a week; and a portion of bread is to be given with it.
18. Suet pudding is not to be given for dinner more frequently than twice a week, and is to be accompanied by a portion of potato or bread and broth (without meat being left in it), or bread and cheese, except to the able-bodied adults. Where given twice a week it should be baked once. It is to contain 1½ oz. of suet to 8 ozs. of flour.
19. Meat should be roasted or baked or made into a pudding or pie at least once a week.
20. 4 ozs. of cooked meat without bone when given separately should usually be the ration for men, and 3 ozs. for women.
21. A ration of meat pudding or meat pie to contain 4 ozs. of raw meat for men and 3 ozs. for women.
22. A portion of bread is to be given at every meal to all classes, except when potato is supplied with meat pudding or meat pie.
23. The usual quantity of bread to be given at breakfast and supper to children from æt. 2 to æt. 5 is 3 ozs.; to those from æt. 5 to æt. 9, 4 ozs.; to those from æt. 9 to æt. 16, 5 ozs.; to able-bodied men, 6 ozs.; to able-bodied women, 5 ozs.; and to the aged of both sexes, 5 ozs.
24. Fresh vegetables should, if possible, be given separately or in combination at dinner at least five times weekly.

FITTINGS of WARDS and MEDICAL APPLIANCES.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

The Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
13th June 1868.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to inform you that they have prepared instructions in reference to the fittings of ordinary and sick wards, and to medical appliances to be provided in Workhouses, copies of which may be obtained on application at this office.

It appears to the Board to be desirable that there should be a nearer approach to uniformity in the mode in which Workhouses are furnished, and they are of opinion that whilst for the ordinary wards only a few conveniences, and those of a simple character, are required, the sick wards should be more carefully furnished, and all the necessary medical appliances supplied.

They deem it necessary that ordinarily one or more of the articles which are referred to in the instructions should be kept in stock, and in good condition; and that the procuring of them should not be deferred until the moment when the necessity for their use may be urgent.

It is the duty of the medical officer, under the regulations of the Board, to suggest to the Guardians the number of articles that may be required from time to time, and they do not doubt that the Guardians will duly consider such suggestions; or that they will be made by the medical officer with all reasonable discretion, and with due regard to economy.

I am, &c.
H. Fleming,
Secretary.

To
The Clerk to the Guardians.

(Enclosure.)

Fittings of Wards and Medical Appliances.—The Instructions referred to in the above Letter.

Points to be attended to as regards Fittings and Medical Appliances.

1. The bedsteads are to be 2 feet 6 inches wide, and made of iron with flexible laths.
2. A piece of cocoa fibre matting or other material, or a mattress, is to be placed between the bedsteads and the bed to protect the tick from rust.
3. Beds of cocoa fibre, cut straw, chaff, or flock are to be kept full, and in good condition, such beds to be of the full length of the bedstead.
4. Two sheets, a sufficient number of blankets, according to the time of year, a counterpane, and pillow, are to be supplied to each bed.
5. A pottery urinal to each bed.
6. Night-stools, unless where (as is the better course) a watercloset is easily accessible.
7. Chairs to be placed between the beds upon which to place the inmates' clothes.
8. Bells.
9. Gas, where practicable.

B. Lavatories and Baths.

10. Lavatories with fixed metal or pottery basins with plug, tap, and waste pipe ending in a properly trapped drain.
11. Roller towels on rollers should be supplied at least twice a week, and in the proportion of not less than one to six inmates. The towels should be dried after the morning's use, and the lavatory kept dry and clean.
12. The baths should be 5 feet 6 inches long, and not less than 2 feet wide at the top.

C. Day Rooms.

13. An open fireplace.
14. Benches; those for the aged and infirm should have backs, and be of sufficient width for reasonable comfort.
15. A proportion of chairs for the aged and infirm.
16. Cupboards or open shelves (which are better) for the utensils.
17. Tables.
18. Gas, where practicable.
19. Combs and hair-brushes for all classes.

20. Benches.
21. Tables.
22. Knife, fork, and spoon for each inmate.
23. Salt cellars in sufficient numbers.
24. Plates, mugs, and basins: those made of pottery are to be preferred.
25. Correct balances.
26. Gas, where practicable.
27. An open fireplace, if possible.

The fittings should be such as are usually provided in the wards of General Hospitals, and amongst them the following :—

28. The bedsteads should be of iron, with iron laths, of modern make and in good order. The length should be 6 feet 2 inches, and the width 2 feet 8 inches, except for the bedridden, the lying-in cases, and women with children, for whom the width should be 3 to 4 feet.
29. A palliasse of straw or other material, or a layer of cocoa fibre matting, to lie upon the laths.
30. The beds, whether of feathers, carded flock, cut straw or chaff, to be properly made, kept in good order, and sufficiently full. In some Unions, however, hair or wool mattresses are found to be better.
31. Two sheets, two or three blankets, and a cheerful-looking rug.
32. One half the number of bedsteads to have a raising rack.
33. Separate bed rests.
34. Spittoons.
35. A pottery urinal to each bed and special pottery urinary bottles for the use of bed-ridden men.
36. Medicine glasses and feeding bottles.
37. Stone or metallic feet and chest warmers.
38. Air or water beds.
39. Mackintosh sheeting to be used to all lying-in beds.
40. The same with funnels for dirty cases.
41. Square and round mackintosh cushions with depression in the centre to prevent bed sores.
42. Mackintosh urinals to be worn by men who pass their urine involuntarily.
43. A locker with shelves for the use of two inmates, or a bed-table similar to that recommended by Dr. Acland of Oxford, an example of which may be seen at the office of the Poor Law Board.
44. Arm and other chairs for two thirds of the number of sick.
45. Short benches with backs and (for special cases) cushions.
46. Rocking chairs for the lying-in wards.
47. Little arm-chairs and rocking chairs for children's sick wards.
48. Tables.
49. Pottery wash-hand basins for those who are washed in bed.
50. Fixed lavatory basins for others, or washstands with fittings.
51. A sufficient number of roller towels, and one small towel to each person who is usually washed in bed.
52. A proper supply of both combs and hair-brushes, to be kept clean and in good order, in each ward.
53. Sealed night-stools.

54. Gas, where practicable, to remain lit during the night.
55. Bells to the nurses room.
56. Jackets with long sleeves, for lunatics.
57. It may be desirable that an inventory of the furniture, fittings, and medical appliances supplied should be fixed in some conspicuous place in each ward.

Poor Law Board,

CONSTRUCTION OF WORKHOUSES.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

The Poor Law Board, S.W.,
SIR, 15*th June* 1868.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to inform you that they have prepared instructions for the guidance of architects in the construction of Workhouses and Workhouse Infirmaries, copies of which may be obtained at this office on application.

These instructions are intended as a general guide to the architect employed by the Guardians, and are not designed unduly to fetter his discretion in the preparation of plans for the consideration of the Guardains, or to apply to every detail connected with the construction of the Workhouse.

I am directed to add that the Board themselves will generally be guided by these instructions, when considering plans which may be submitted for their approval.

The Board also request that in future a duplicate copy of every plan to which their seal has been affixed may be deposited at this office; and that such duplicate copy may be prepared upon tracing cloth, and upon the scale specified in the instructions.

I am, &c.
To H. FLEMING,
The Clerk to the Guardians. Secretary.

(Enclosure.)

CONSTRUCTION OF WORKHOUSES.—The INSTRUCTIONS referred to in the above Letter.

POINTS TO BE ATTENDED TO IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF WORKHOUSES.

1. Accommodation, including separate dormitories, day-rooms, and yards, should be provided for the following classes:—

The aged of each sex.
The able-bodied do.
The children do.
The sick do.

2. Provision should also be made, so far as practicable, for the subdivision of the able-bodied women into two or three classes, with reference to moral character or behaviour, the previous habits of the inmates, or such other grounds as may seem expedient.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

3. The sick should occupy a separate building, and in the larger workhouses be divided into the following classes :—

Ordinary sick of both sexes.
Lying-in women, with a separate labour room adjoining the lying-in ward.
Itch cases of both sexes.
Dirty and offensive cases of both sexes.
Venereal cases of both sexes.
Fever and small-pox cases of both sexes.
Children.

4. The accommodation for imbeciles, if they are retained in the workhouse, should be in general accordance wtth the regulations of the Commissioners in Lunacy.

5. A detached building should be provided, with separate rooms, for fever and small-pox cases of both sexes.

6. The infectious wards should not be inconveniently distant from the paid nurse's apartments, and there should be bells communicating from one to the other.

7. A detached washhouse should, under ordinary circumstances, be provided for washing infected linen, &c.

8. The length of wards should be calculated according to the following minimum wall space for each bed :—

For dormitories only, 4 feet.
For ordinary sick wards, 6 feet.
For lying-in, fever, and small-pox wards, 7 to 8 feet.

9. Day rooms for the sick should afford accommodation for at least one half of those who occupy the day and night rooms, and those for the inmates in health should be large enough to receive nearly the whole number of their respective classes. 15 to 20 feet as a minimum floor space should be allowed to each person in the day rooms.

Day rooms, both for children and adults, should be upon the ground floor, unless in the case of aged inmates another arrangement be deemed desirable. On the other hand it may sometimes be desirable to provide sleeping accommodation on the ground floor for inmates who are too infirm to go up and down stairs.

10. Ordinary wards should be not less than 18 feet in width, and 10 feet in height.

11. When there is a corridor at the side of ordinary wards, or between two sets of them, there should be windows in the corridor walls.

12. No wards should be placed side by side, without a corrider between them.

13. No corridor in any new building should be less than 6 feet in width.

14. Sick wards to hold two rows of beds should be at least 20 feet in width, and 10 to 12 feet in height, and have windows on opposite sides.

15. The gangway through all wards of the above dimensions should be down the centre, so that two complete rows of beds may be placed in each ward.

16. In the infirmary, one room, or a suite of rooms communicating by a gangway, should rarely exceed 90 feet in length.

17. Such a room, or suite of rooms, may be connected with a similar suite in the same line by the central part of the building in which would be placed the apartments of the nurses and other offices, or they may be placed in blocks parallel, or otherwise, connected by a corridor.

18. When there are two or more of such blocks of building they should be placed so far apart as to allow free access to air and light; and also have, where possible, such an aspect that the direct rays of the sun may pass between them during several hours of each day.

19. Blocks of buildings directly connected at a right angle or at an acute angle should as far as possible be avoided.

20. No buildings occupied by inmates as sleeping rooms should be erected upon the boundary line of the workhouse site.

21. Sick wards to hold one row of beds only are not recommended, but, if adopted, they should be at least 12 feet in width, and have the gangway and fireplace on the side opposite to the beds.

22. When two rows of beds are placed in a day and night ward of 16 feet or less in width they shonld be placed with their sides to the walls.

23. Arrangements should be made for the distribution of hot and cold water to bath rooms and sick wards.

24. It will often be desirable to provide a lift for raising heavy articles from floor to floor.

25. In the cases in which hot water is not laid on, or very near, to sick wards, the stoves should be provided with a small self feeding boiler.

26. Suitable kitchen and sculleries should be provided in connexion with infirmary wards.

27. One general dining hall should be provided for all the inmates who may be able to leave their wards.

28. Suitable work-rooms should be provided in the respective yards of the adult inmates.

29. Suitable store-rooms for the linen and clothing of the several classes of inmates and for dry and other goods should be provided in convenient situations.

30. In workhouses having a large number of children there should be, in addition to the schoolrooms, day rooms, covered play sheds in their yards, and industrial work-rooms.

31. The general washhouse and laundry should be a detached one-story building, as should also be the washhouse and laundry for the training of female children, and those for the sick and infectious wards, where such are required. In no case should they be ceiled, and in all cases they should have Louvre ventilators in the ridge of the roof.

32. Where practicable, the water for the boilers and wash tubs in the general washhouse should be heated by steam.

33. The ventilation should be effected by special means, apart from the usual means of doors, windows, and fireplaces, and so arranged that each ward may be brought into constant communication with the outer air. No plan is recommended for universal adoption. One of the simplest methods is the use of air bricks, 9 by 3, or 9 by 6 inches, covered on the inside with finely perforated metal (the perforations being about $\frac{1}{20}$th of an inch in diameter), inserted in the upper and lower parts of the external walls (that is, near the floor level, and immediately under the wall plate) by which only a small body of air would be admitted in one place, and it would be so diffused as to prevent much draught. No permanent means of closing these ventilators should be provided. The internal and external openings may be on the same plane, or the one may be one or two feet above the other, and both be connected by a short shaft. Ventilating fireplaces, whether placed in the middle of the ward, or elsewhere, are found to be very useful. It is very desirable that where hot water pipes are used they should run round the wards, and be so arranged that a portion of the fresh air admitted into the room should pass over them, and thus be warmed.

34. No external aperture, other than a window, above the bed should be less than from 6 to 7 feet above the pillow.

35. External windows should be filled in with double-hung wooden sashes, and should extend to within 1 foot of the ceiling, and to 3 or 3½ feet from the floor of the ward.

36. When windows or fanlights look into internal spaces they should not be fixed, but hung and stopped so that they may be used as ventilators, and always remain open not less than one inch.

37. The windows are not to be glazed with opaque glass except for special reasons to be approved by the Poor Law Board.

38. Privies are not recommended, but if provided, they should be so constructed as that they can be readily cleared at short intervals, and left as clean as possible. Waterclosets, with pans, traps, and a constant supply of water, or suitable earth or other closets, may be advantageously used instead in many cases.

39. Waterclosets should be placed in projections from the building to which they are attached, and have in them, and in the passage leading to them, external windows on opposite sides to ensure a cross draught.

40. Glazed stone, pottery ware, or enamelled iron slop and waste water shoots should be supplied on the bedroom floors in all the larger workhouses.

41. Soil drains should be constructed of glazed stoneware pipes, not less than 6 inches in diameter.

42. No soil drains should pass under an inhabited building, and if any other drains pass under such building they should be so placed as to be conveniently accessible for repairs.

43. All drains, and connections therewith, should be properly trapped, and means provided for flushing them. A plan of the drains should be made and hung up in a convenient place in each workhouse.

44. In cases in which the sewage from the workhouse premises cannot be conveyed into public sewers, it should be collected in closed tanks, placed at such a distance from the inhabited parts of the workhouse as to preclude any nuisance to the inmates, and the tanks should be so constructed that the contents may be available, by means of a pump or otherwise, for agricultural purposes.

45. In addition to the ordinary means of water supply to the workhouse, the rain water from the buildings should be collected in covered tanks, conveniently placed for the purposes of the washhouses, and be cleansed from time to time.

46. Airing yards for the inmates should be of sufficient size; if partially or wholly paved with stone or brick, or asphalted or gas-tarred, they are often better than if covered with gravel.

47. All yards to be so formed as that the water may readily pass off into drains.

48. Yards for the sick, aged, and children to be enclosed with dwarf walls and palisades where practicable.

49. The porter's lodge, receiving and vagrant wards should, when practicable, occupy a separate position at the front of the workhouse.

50. The receiving and vagrant wards should be provided with waterclosets, baths, and lavatories, and with means of supplying warmth, and of drying the wet clothes of the vagrants.

51. A bell should be connected with the porter's room from each of these wards.

52. Small yards, and a work-room, and a covered shed for working in in bad weather, should be attached to the vagrant wards.

53. A disinfecting stove should be provided in the entrance building, and a room for storing the paupers' own clothes.

54. The external walls of all buildings of two or more stories high, and of schoolrooms, should, if of brick, be not less than 14 inches thick; and if of stone, not less than 18 incnes thick.

55. The staircases should be constructed of stone, and be "return staircases," not less than 7 feet in width. The steps supported on iron strings, or properly tailed into the walls, and the landings supported on iron girders. All the steps should be "flyers," none exceeding 7 inches rise, and those to the sick wards not exceeding $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches rise. Steps of the former rise should be 10 inches tread, and of the latter rise 11 inches tread.

56. The floors of dormitories, day rooms, schoolrooms, and also of the waterclosets, bath rooms, and lavatories for the sick, should be boarded; and the boards grooved and tongued.

57. No roof of any sleeping room should be open, or ceiled higher than two feet above the wall plate.

58. The walls of all sick wards should be plastered internally.

59. The timber used in the construction of workhouses should be Baltic fir and English oak.

60. There should be a fire escape in each workhouse.

61. The plans, sections (longitudinal and transverse), and elevations for new workhouses, or for alterations and additions to existiug workhouses, are to be drawn to a scale of not less than $\frac{1}{8}$ of an inch to a foot, and should show, in addition to the usual details, the proposed number and position of the beds in the several wards. These plans should be accompanied with a general plan, drawn to a scale of $\frac{1}{16}$ of an inch to a foot, of the workhouse premises (exclusive of the intended agricultural land), showing the position of the proposed drains, soil and water tanks. Further, the specification of works, and also a description of the general system of heating and ventilation proposed, should accompany the plans.

62. A dead-house should be provided.

63. Refractory wards should be provided.

VISITING COMMITTEES.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
6th July 1868.

SIR,

The attention of the Poor Law Board has been called by reports recently received from their inspectors, with regard to certain Unions, to the imperfect way in which Articles 148 and 149 of the General Consolidated Order are not unfrequently observed by Guardians throughout the country. Although at the commencement of each parochial year, a Visiting Committee is almost always appointed in accordance with Article 148, the Board are led to believe that this Committee does not invariably, in the performance of its duty, "carefully "examine the Workhouse once in every week at the least, examine the "stores, and afford, so far as is practicable, to the inmates an oppor-

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

" tunity of making any complaints ;" in still fewer Unions does the Committee reply every week to the queries that are printed in " The Visitors' Book." The Board attach the greatest importance to the careful and punctual discharge of the prescribed duties by the Visiting Committee, as it is upon their supervision that the efficient management of the Workhouse must mainly depend. If the Workhouse be carefully examined once at least in every week ; the books of the Medical Officer and Chaplain inspected ; the stores examined ; and if an opportunity of stating any complaint they may have to make be afforded to the inmates, no irregularity can long remain unnoticed ; while if the queries in the Visitors' Book are answered, not as a matter of form, but after careful inquiry, the Guardians would have before them, from time to time, full information upon all material facts connected with the state of the Workhouse and its management. In order to render this information of practical value to the Guardians the attention of the Committee should be specially directed to the following matters :—

" Query 1.—Is the Workhouse, with its wards, offices, yards, and " appurtenances, clean and well ventilated in every part ?—and is the " bedding in proper order ?—if not, state the defect or omission."

In replying to this Query, the Committee should satisfy themselves whether there is any structural defect in any part of the House ; whether painting or limewashing is required ; whether the wards are clean and provided with such conveniences as lockers or shelves, so that they may be kept in proper order ; whether there is any defect in the construction or drainage of privies, or in the general sewerage of the House ; whether the yards are defective as airing courts for adults or places of recreation for children. The attention of the Visiting Committee should be carefully directed to the subject of ventilation, which should be effected by special means, apart from the usual means of doors, windows, and fire-places, and should be so arranged that each ward may be brought into uninterrupted communication with the open air. Although it is the duty of the Medical Officer to report to the Guardians any defect that may exist in the means of ventilation, yet it is most desirable that the Visiting Committee should satisfy themselves by inspection that there is no defect under this head. The beds and bedding should always be inspected, so that the Committee may be satisfied that they are in proper order. The Board avail themselves of this opportunity of suggesting that, for ordinary dormitories, bedsteads should be not less than 2 feet 6 inches wide, made of iron, with flexible (galvanized) laths ; that the beds, whether of feathers, cocoa fibre, carded flock, cut straw, or chaff, should be properly made, kept full, and in good condition. A piece of cocoa-fibre matting or other material, or a mattress should be placed between the bedstead and the bed. A sufficient supply of blankets, sheets, bedroom furniture, and conveniences should be provided.*

" Query 2.—Do the inmates of the Workhouse, of all classes, appear " clean in their persons, and decent and orderly in their behaviour ; " and is their clothing regularly changed ?"

* To facilitate inquiry, and to ensure an accurate record being kept of the furniture, bedding, linen, crockery, books, &c., assigned to each ward, an inventory of these articles should be printed for each, and placed in a conspicuous position in the ward. This will be found especially desirable in the sick wards. The number of beds for which each ward is limited may be also conveniently recorded in the same manner. (See No. 14.)

Before replying to this Query, the Committee should satisfy themselves that sufficient means for ensuring personal cleanliness are provided; that a convenient lavatory, as well as a bath, with water laid on, and supplied with towels, soap, and combs, is accessible to each class; also that there is a sufficient supply of clothing to enable all the inmates to have the requisite change.

"Query 3.—Are the inmates of each sex employed and kept at "work as directed by the Guardians, and is such work unobjectionable "in its nature? If any improvement can be suggested in their employ-"ment, state the same."

Suitable occupation should be provided for all inmates who are capable of doing any work, and the Visiting Committee should satisfy themselves, by inquiry from the officers and the inmates, that the work is so provided, and that it is unobjectionable in its character.

"Query 4.—Are the infirm of each sex properly attended to accord-"ing to their several conditions?"

The Visiting Committee cannot satisfactorily answer this question without personally communicating with the aged and infirm inmates in their several wards. As a general rule it will be desirable that the officers of the workhouse should not be present at interviews between the Visiting Committee and the inmates.

"Query 5.—Are the boys and girls in the school properly instructed "as required by the regulations of the Commissioners, and is their "industrial training properly attended to?"

In visiting the schools the committee should examine the school attendance book and the chaplain's report, and should ascertain not only whether the whole of the children who are of school age attend school either for at least three hours every day or for an aggregate of 18 hours in the week, but also whether provision is made for imparting to them some systematic industrial training. There are very few workhouses in which arrangements might not be made for employing boys in some suitable out-door work, and girls in sewing, knitting, and washing. The Guardians will, the Board feel convinced, see the advantage of making such arrangements, and the Visiting Committee should ascertain at each inspection that such arrangements are carried out.

"Query 6.—Are the young children properly nursed and taken care "of, and do they appear in a clean and healthy state?"

In every workhouse in which there are several children too young to attend school, a separate nursery, dry, spacious, light, and well ventilated, should be provided, and should be suitably furnished. In no case should the care of young children be intrusted to infirm or weak-minded inmates. Unless young children are placed under responsible supervision they cannot be said to be "properly taken care of," and the Committee should never fail to make careful inquiry under this head.

"Query 7.—Is regular attendance given by the medical officer? Are "the inmates of the sick wards properly tended? Are the nurses "efficient? Is there any infectious disease in the workhouse?"

The workhouse medical relief book should always be inspected by the committee, and every attendance which is given otherwise than by the medical officer in person should be noticed in order that the Guardians may ask for an explanation. The Committee will generally be able to ascertain, by freely communicating with the inmates in the sick wards, and by inquiry from the medical officer and the master and matron, whether the sick are properly attended to, and the nursing is sufficient. In the sick wards of larger workhouses provision should be made for night nursing, and in all workhouses means of communication should be established between the sick wards and the sleeping apartment of some one of the officers. In answering the question is there any infectious disease in the workhouse? the Committee should satisfy themselves as to whether efficient means exist for separating infectious from other cases, and every defect should be brought under the notice of the Guardians.

" Query 8.—Is there any dangerous lunatic or idiot in the work-
" house?"

The Committee should never fail to bring under the notice of the Guardians any case of the detention of a dangerous lunatic in the workhouse for a longer period than is absolutely necessary to effect removal to an asylum.

" Query 9.—Is Divine Service regularly performed? Are prayers
" regularly read?"

The Committee should ascertain from the chaplain's book whether divine service is regularly performed. In those workhouses in which no chaplain is appointed, the Guardians would, of course, be desirous of affording to the inmates an opportunity of attending the place of worship of the religious persuasion to which they belong. The duty of reading prayers, according to Article 124, should be discharged either by the master or the schoolmaster.

" Query 10.—Is the established dietary duly observed, and are the " prescribed hours of meals regularly adhered to?"

As there is no subject upon which complaints are more frequently made by inmates of workhouses than their dietary, careful inquiry should always be made from the inmates of the several classes before the Committee reply to this question, and the Committee should ascertain not only whether there is any complaint as to the quantity and quality of the food, but as to the hours and mode of serving it. As the Committee would doubtless frequently visit the workhouse either during the hours of meals or while meals were being prepared, they would have an opportunity of ascertaining whether there was any ground of complaint, either as to the preparation of the food, or its mode of distribution. This should be especially noticed with reference to the sick.

" Query 11.—Are the provisions and other supplies of the qualities
" contracted for?"

The Committee should never fail to visit the store-rooms and inspect the stores, and ascertain whether the delivery of articles of consumption by contractors takes place at sufficiently short intervals.

" Query 12.—Is the classification properly observed according to " Articles 98 and 99?"

In answering this question the Committee should not be satisfied with a formal reply, which is too frequently given, that the classification is observed " as far as possible," or " as far as the arrangements
" of the house allow," but should specify every deviation from Articles 98 and 99.

" Query 13.—Is any complaint made by any pauper against any " officer, or in respect of the provisions or accommodations? If so, state
" the name of the complainant, and the subject of the complaint."

The Board desire to repeat here the suggestion already made, that the fullest opportunity should be given to the inmates of all classes to state any complaint they may have to make, and for this purpose the Committee should communicate with them, not in the presence of the officers.

"Query 14.—Does the present number of inmates in the workhouse "exceed that fixed by the Poor Law Commissioners?"

In replying to this question the Committee should ascertain not merely whether the total number for which the workhouse is certified has been exceeded, but whether the number of any one class exceeds the accommodation available for it.

Compulsory Church Rate Abolition Act, 1868.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to District Auditory.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,

Sir, 24th October 1868.

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to call your attention to the following provision in the 3d section of the Compulsory Church Rate Abolition Act, 1868 (31 & 32 Vict. c. 109.)

"In any parish where a sum of money is, at the time of the passing of this Act, due on the security of church rates, or of rates in the nature of church rates, to be made or levied in such parish under the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or where any money in the name of church rate is ordered to be raised under any such provisions, such rates may still be made and levied, and the payment thereof enforced by process of law, pursuant to such provisions, for the purpose of paying off the money so due, or paying the money so ordered to be raised, and the costs incidental thereto, but not otherwise, until the same shall have been liquidated:

"Provided, that the accounts of the churchwardens of such parish, in reference to the receipt and expenditure of the monies levied under such Acts, shall be audited annually by the auditor of the Poor Law Union within whose district such parish shall be situate, unless another mode of audit is provided by Act of Parliament."

This section does not specify when the audit is to take place, nor provide, in the usual manner, for the mode, incidents, or consequences of the audit, neither is there any specific provision for compensation, but the duty of the audit is cast upon the auditor, and it is incumbent upon him to discharge it.

The Board recommend that at the ensuing Michaelmas audit you should make inquiry, of the several parish officers who attend the audit, as to the existence of the outstanding charges referred to in the statute, so that you may be prepared to make the necessary arrangements for the discharge of this new duty, in the course of the ensuing year.

In the annual local taxation returns an account is contained of the collection and expenditure on account of the church rates, and the amounts paid on account of loans charged on those rates are shown in detail.

POOR LAW AMENDMENT ACT, 1868. — VALUATION and RATING. — CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
20th October 1868.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to communicate to the Guardians certain provisions contained in the Act of the last session for the amendment of the Poor Law, termed "The Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868," being the 31st and 32d Vict. c. 122.

The Act contains numerous provisions, but, as some are of very limited application, the Board deem it advisable to communicate in full those only which have a general application; and as, again, these are of a miscellaneous character, they propose to address separate letters to the Guardians with regard to the different subjects.

In this letter they will confine themselves to the clauses which affect the rating and valuation of property, and the collection of the Poor Rate, viz., sections 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 38, 39, and 40.

Section 27th, though not of general application, will affect many Unions, and, it is believed, remove many subjects of dissatisfaction.

It deals with certain extra-parochial lands, the seashore, accretions from the sea and the banks of rivers, and provides for the incorporation of every such place with the next adjoining parish.

The enactment is as follows:—

"From the 25th day of December next, every place which was or is reputed to be extra-parochial, whether entered by name in the Report upon the Census for the year 1851 or not, for which an Overseer has not been then appointed, or for which no Overseer shall be then acting, or which has not been then annexed to and incorporated with an adjoining parish, shall for all civil parochial purposes be annexed to and incorporated with the next adjoining parish with which it has the longest common boundary, and in case there shall be two or more parishes with which it shall have boundaries of equal extent, then with that parish which now contains the lowest amount of rateable value.

"And every accretion from the sea, whether natural or artificial, and the part of the seashore to the low-water mark, and the bank of every river to the middle of the stream, which on the said 25th of December next shall not be included within the boundaries of or annexed to and incorporated with any parish, shall for the same purposes be annexed to and incorporated with the parish to which such accretion, part, or bank adjoins, in proportion to the extent of the common boundary."

The object of the Legislature in this enactment is principally to remove the exemption from rates, which property situated in the places thus described have hitherto enjoyed, by reason of their extra-parochial character. The Board recommend the Guardians to examine the state of their Union, as regards the existence of any of the places thus described, and if they find that any such place exist therein, to refer the matter to the consideration of the Assessment Committee, that the requisite steps may be taken to have the property referred to brought into the valuation lists, and thus rendered contributory to the common fund of the Union and to the Poor Rate of the parish to which it is to be annexed.

The 28th section enables the Boards of Guardians of parishes to provide valuations of rateable properties on the application of the overseers or any ratepayer, in like manner as the Guardians of Unions could have done under the authority of the 11th and 12th Vict. c. 110, s. 7.

The provision has been superseded in Unions by the general measure of the Assessment Committee Act, but as this Act does not apply to parishes not in union, it has been extended to the Guardians of such parishes.

Section 29 provides for Unions a measure analogous to that provided for parishes by the 11th and 12th Vict, c. 91, s. 11, in regard to the defence of appeals against rates. At present the Guardians of a Union may with the parish officers defend a Poor Rate against an appeal. If the appeal involve a principle of a general character, the neighbouring parishes interested in it may combine to defend the rate and the principle involved in it. Adjoining Unions, hitherto, have had no such power.

This new clause, however, provides that where an appeal is brought against the Poor Rate of a parish in a Union, and appears to involve a principle which similarly affects some neighbouring parish in another Union, the Guardians of the Unions comprising such parishes may enter into an agreement mutually to bear the costs of the appeal, which agreement shall be binding on their successors.

The provision, so far as it applied to parishes only, took effect in those parishes in which notice of appeal had been given, and therefore there could be no combination or co-operation where separate notices of appeal had not been given. In the present clause the agreement may be made though there be an appeal against the rate in one of the Unions only.

The three next sections, 30, 31, and 33, relate to the valuation lists.

Section 30 requires the Assessment Committee to cast up the columns of the valuation list, and to retain the list for the use of the Guardians, supplying a fair copy of it to the overseers, signed by three members of the Committee, and duly authenticated.

Under the Union Assessment Committee Act no direction was given as to the casting up of these columns, and disputes have occasionally arisen on this point. Again, the original list was required to be transmitted to the overseers, and as this list was subject to all the corrections made by the Committee, it was sometimes, when finally approved of, very indistinct, and in a state calculated to mislead or give great trouble to the overseers and ratepayers. In future the overseers will be free from the inconvenience which resulted from lists in such condition.

As the valuation lists transmitted to the overseers have frequently been lost, injured, or destroyed, provision is now made, in sec. 31, whereby authentic copies of the original lists may be obtained by the overseers from the Clerk to the Guardians, upon payment of a reasonable compensation, not exceeding three shillings for every 100 separate rateable hereditaments.

Section 32 contains an authority which will prove of much advantage in many Unions, where the rateable hereditaments are of a complicated character, or where there is difficulty in finding Guardians competent to discharge the duty of ascertaining the correct values of rateable property. The Board of Guardians may, upon the application of the Assessment Committee, appoint a competent person to assist the Committee in the valuation of the rateable hereditaments, at a salary, or other settled remuneration, to be paid out of the common fund. Such a person, if a surveyor of skill and experience in his profession, will act as an assessor to the Committee, and being unbiassed by a retainer for either party, will lead them to correct decisions in matters of doubt or dispute. Some Boards of Guardians appear to have made such appointments, but as there is reason to believe that they had no legal sanction for such appointments, this clause has been passed.

The 38th section supplies a deficiency in the previous law in reference to the assessment of house property and buildings. All houses and buildings which were occupied at the time when the rate was made were, according to the statute 43 Elizabeth, c. 2, to be assessed in it; but a house or building then unoccupied was not capable of being assessed. The statute 17 George II., c. 38, sec. 12, provided for the case of a house unoccupied at the time of the making of the rate becoming occupied before the making of the next rate. The Union Assessment Committee Act, 1862, in sec. 25, provided for the case of property not included in the valuation list in force in any parish becoming rateable, or becoming rateable in parts not mentioned therein, and for other alterations in the rateable value of the property, by the preparation of supplemental valuation lists. But there was one case which it is considered had not been provided for, and this section applies to it.

It is enacted that when any person shall occupy any new house or other building in any parish (where the Poor Rate is not made under the provisions of a Local Act), which house or building was incomplete, or not fit for occupation, or was not entered as such in the valuation list in force in the parish at the time when the current rate for the time being was made, the overseers may enter such house or building with the name of the occupier thereof, and the date of the entry, in the rate book, and require the occupier to pay a fair proportioned amount of the rate, and the person so charged shall be considered as actually rated from such date, and shall be compelled to pay the sum so assessed, with like power of appeal, as if he had been assessed for the same when the rate was made.

The overseers are required to forward a supplemental list, with reference to such house or building, to the Assessment Committee.

This provision will have much operation in populous parishes and townships where houses and buildings are continually being brought into occupation during the intervals between the periods at which the rates are made. It will, moreover, assist in determining the time when occupiers of property situated in the manner described become rated.

The last two clauses to be referred to in this letter, namely, the 39th and 40th, relate to the collection of the Poor Rates; and the Board request the Guardians to bring them under the notice of the overseers of the parishes in their Union, and of the collectors of the Poor Rate who may have been appointed by them.

Section 39 provides that when a Poor Rate shall be assessed upon any land or premises, and the occupier is not living thereon, nor in the parish for which the rate shall be made, or the owner, if assessed, is not living in such parish, a demand in writing may be made upon the person having the custody of such land or premises, and if no such person can be found, it may be affixed upon some conspicuous part thereof, and where the residence or place of abode of the person assessed is not known to the overseers, and cannot be ascertained, upon inquiry at the said land or premises, the summons for non-payment of the rate may be served in like manner.

This provision will remove much of the trouble and expense which are often experienced in the collection of the Poor Rate, where the person assessed resides at a distance from the parish, or absents himself in order to prevent service of the demand or summons.

Section 40 facilitates the demand and recovery of the rate from corporate bodies, companies, or public trustees, by rendering a demand by letter, or personally, upon their clerk, secretary, or other principal officer, at their office, and the service of the summons in like manner, sufficient.

The Board will communicate with the Guardians again, upon other subjects dealt with by the Act.

No. 10.

Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868.—Religious Creed of Workhouse Inmates. — Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
Sir, 4th November 1868.

The Poor Law Board, in continuance of their communication of the 20th ultimo, in reference to the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868, desire to address the Guardians again on certain other clauses of that Act, which relate particularly to the religious creed of the pauper inmates of workhouses and pauper schools.

The Guardians will remember that the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1834, in sec. 19, contains a provision to prevent any inmate of a workhouse from being obliged to attend any religious service celebrated in a mode contrary to his religious principles, or the education of any child in the workhouse in any religious creed other than that professed by its parents or surviving parent, and to which such parents or parent, or, in the case of an orphan, to which the godfather or godmother of such orphan shall so object.

The section also provides that any licensed minister of the religious persuasion of any inmate of such workhouse may, at all times of the day, on the request of such inmate, visit such workhouse, for the purpose of affording religious assistance to such inmate, and also for the purpose of instructing his child in the principles of his religion.

The object of the new provisions, which are contained in sections 16 to 23, inclusive, is to render this enactment more effectual.

The Guardians will also remember that the indoor relief list, which has been required to be kept in the workhouse from the earliest periods of the commission, contains a column for the entry of the religious persuasion of every pauper inmate, a provision which was enforced by the General Order issued by this Board on the 23d day of August 1859, which contained specific directions as to the mode of dealing with pauper children in regard to their religious principles.

The Board desire to recall these matters to the recollection of the Guardians, in laying before them the new provisions.

The 16th section requires the officer for the time being acting as the master of a workhouse, or the master or superintendent of a district or other pauper school, to keep a register of the religious creed of the pauper inmates of such workhouse or school separate from all other registers, in such form and with such particulars, as shall be prescribed by the Poor Law Board by their order; and he is required, as regards every inmate of such workhouse or school, at the date to be fixed by such order, and subsequently upon the admission of every inmate therein, to make due inquiry into the religious creed of such inmate, and enter such religious creed in such register.

Henceforth, as soon as the Board shall have issued their order, which they propose to do at an early period, a separate register for the creed of the inmates must be kept in every workhouse and pauper school. It would seem to follow that the entry in the column of the indoor relief list might be dispensed with. The Board, however, think that this entry, being made upon admission when all the other particulars are taken down, may prove convenient as a check upon the register, and therefore they do not propose to withdraw it from use hereafter.

The next section of the Act (sec. 17) lays down a rule as to the religious creed of children. It provides that in regard to any child in the workhouse or school under the age of 12 years, whether either of its parents be in the workhouse or not, or whether it be an orphan or deserted child, the master or superintendent shall enter in such register, as the religious creed of such child, the religious creed of the father, if he know or can ascertain the same by reasonable inquiry, or, if the same cannot be so ascertained, the creed of the mother, if the same be known or can be in like manner ascertainod.

The creed of an illegitimate child under the said age shall be deemed to be that of its mother, when that can be ascertained.

The Poor Law Board may decide any question which may arise as to the correctness of any entry in this register (sect. 18), and direct such entry to remain or to be amended, according to their judgment.

This register, thus made, is to be open to the inspection of every minister of any denomination officiating in the church, chapel, or other registered place of religious worship of such denomination which shall be nearest to the workhouse or school, or any ratepayer of any parish in the Union, at any time of any day, except Sunday, between the hours of 10 before noon and 4 after noon.

As it will be inconvenient to allow entrance into the body of the workhouse of so many strangers as may avail themselves of the right thus granted, the Board recommend the Guardians to appropriate some particular room or ward in which this register may be kept during the specified hours, and to direct some officer or assistant in the workhouse to take charge of it. Where there is a convenient porter's lodge, the Board think that it may be well deposited there, under charge of the porter or his assistant.

The statute then proceeds to direct, in sec. 20, that such minister may, in accordance with such regulations as the Poor Law Board shall approve of, or by their order prescribe, visit and instruct any inmate of such workhouse or school entered in such register who belongs to the same religious creed as that to which such minister belongs, unless such inmate, being above the age of 14, and after having been visited once at least by such minister, shall object to be instructed by him.

The sections thus set forth apply to the creed register, and to religious instruction. The next two sections relate to the attendance upon religious services.

Section 21 requires that every inmate for whom a religious service according to his own creed shall not be provided in the workhouse, shall be permitted, subject to regulations to be approved of or ordered by the Poor Law Board, to attend, at such times as the said Board shall allow, some place of worship of his own denomination within a convenient distance of the workhouse, if there be such in the opinion of the Board.

But it is provided that the Guardians may, for abuse of such permission previously granted, or on some other special ground, refuse permission to any particular inmate, and shall in such case cause an entry of such refusal, and the grounds thereof, to be made in their minutes.

It will be seen that this enactment makes a peremptory provision upon this subject, in place of the permissive regulation contained in art. 126 of the General Consolidated Order of the Board. The last-mentioned regulation, however, having been generally acted upon by Boards of Guardians, where there have been many dissenters in the workhouse, the experience of those Guardians must have enabled them to form suitable regulations for the exercise of this privilege, and the Board will be glad to receive communications from them as to the regulations which they have hitherto laid down. At the same time, it is requisite that the Board should be informed of the places of worship of different denominations within a convenient distance of the workhouse, in order that they may decide what are to be within the operation of the section.

The 22d section is confined to children, and provides that no child, being an inmate of a workhouse or such school as aforesaid (i. e., as described in the 16th section), who shall be regularly visited by a minister of his own religious creed, for the purpose of religious instruction, shall, if the parents or surviving parent of such child, or, in the case of orphans or deserted children, if such minister make request in writing to that effect, be instructed in any other religious creed than that entered in such register as aforesaid.

An exception is added in respect of any child above the age of 12 years, who shall desire to receive instruction in some other creed, or to attend the service of any other religious creed, and who shall be considered by the Poor Law Board to be competent to exercise a judgment upon the subject.

This Board do not think that the Guardians will find any difficulty in giving due effect to this section, which renders the enactment of the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1834, quoted above, more definite and practical.

The last section to be here noticed is the 23d, which consists of two parts. The first is one of interpretation, making the statutes 25 & 26 Vict. c. 43, and the 29 & 30 Vict. c. 113, sect. 14, applicable to illegitimate children, and rendering the consent of the mother of any such child, if she has the care, custody, or possession of it, sufficient for the purposes of those Acts.

The second part extends the provisions of the latter Act, which required an application in respect of any child not of the Established Church, for its removal to a school, to be made to the Poor Law Board by a relative next of kin, step-parent or god-parent. It has happened that in the cases of deserted children, or orphans, there has been no such relative or person to make the application, and it is now provided that the Poor Law Board may exercise their power in the cases of such children, upon being satisfied that there is reasonable ground for their doing so. The Board can, therefore, act upon the application of any person who can satisfy them that they ought to interfere.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

These are the new provisions which have been passed to secure with greater effect the application of the principles of religious freedom; and the Board do not doubt that the Guardians will receive and act upon them in the spirit with which the Legislature has been animated in passing them.

No. 11.

Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868.—Miscellaneous Provisions.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
20th November 1868.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to address this third and last communication to the Guardians upon the subject of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868.

In the first letter the Board communicated the clauses which related to the assessment and collection of the Poor Rate; and in the second letter those which related to the religious creed and instruction of pauper inmates of workhouses and schools. It remains now to set forth the rest of the Act.

Sections 1. and 2. refer to the general and other orders of the Board, providing that copies of the former shall be laid before Parliament, and dispensing with the transmission of copies of all such orders to the clerks to the justices, in cases where they do not relate to the relief of the poor, the government and management of workhouses and their inmates, or the guidance and regulation of Guardians and their officers.

Section 3. applies only to the metropolis.

By section 4. facilities are provided for the dissolution of the few Gilbert Unions which exist in England, and for altering the constitution of Boards of Guardians acting under Local Acts of Parliament.

Section 5. relates to superintendent registrars and registrars in the Unions proposed to be dissolved.

Section 6. will be found to apply to many Unions, and will give power to effect an alteration which has been considered as very desirable by the Poor Law Commissioners (as shewn by various passages in their reports), and by this Board. It provides for the reduction of the number of Guardians in Unions where their number is too large for the proper discharge of business, or where the representatives of the parishes are, in point of number, disproportioned in regard to their respective interests.

The Board are now enabled by their order to add any parish in a Union, the population of which according to the census shall not exceed 300, and the annual rateable value whereof shall not exceed the average rateable value of all the parishes in the same Union according to the valuation lists, to any adjoining parish in the same Union for the pur- pose of the election of Guardians, and it is provided that the persons qualified to elect such Guardians in either parish shall be qualified to vote at such election for the parishes so united.

The section is confined to the union of parishes for the purpose of election only, and does not cause their consolidation in any other respect.

It will be seen that two subjects are to be considered, namely, the number of the population and the amount of the annual value. The provision will require to be soon acted upon, so that it may come into operation at the next general election of Guardians, and the Board request to be furnished with suggestions on the subject from those Boards of Guardians who are affected by the provision.

The 7th section confers a power upon the Board, which circumstances occasionally render it expedient that they should possess, but which they hope they may seldom have occasion to exercise.

It is provided that if the Board of Guardians fail for 28 days after receipt of a requisition of the Poor Law Board in that behalf, to appoint, either originally or on a vacancy, any officer whom they shall be lawfully required to appoint, the Poor Law Board may, by order, appoint a fit person to be such officer, and determine the salary or remuneration to be paid to him by such Guardians, and the person so appointed shall recover the same by action in a county or other court of law against such Guardians, and shall have all the same powers, rights, and privileges, and shall discharge all the same duties, and incur the same responsibilities, as if the appointment had been duly made by the said Guardians.

Hitherto in case of failure on the part of the Guardians to appoint the officer whose appointment the Board deemed it right to require, such appointment could only be enforced by the process of mandamus. Henceforth, there will be a more ready course open, inasmuch as the Board can themselves appoint the officer, if the Guardians fail to do so within the time prescribed.

Section 8. extends the power of the Poor Law Board in reference to their authority to order requisite alterations and improvements in workhouses. Hitherto confined to the structure of the workhouse, it is now extended so as to enable them to require proper drainage, sewers, ventilation, fixtures, furniture, surgical and medical appliances, and other conveniences at the workhouse to be provided by the Guardians.

The Board, however, in this case also believe that the power will rarely require to be put in force, as the deficiencies referred to are for the most part such as the Guardians themselves will seldom decline to supply, when duly informed of the necessity.

The 9th section applies exclusively to Metropolitan Boards of Management and Boards of Guardians.

The 10th section facilitates the formation of school districts, by providing a more easy mode of obtaining the consent of the Unions to be combined.

Section 11. alters the basis of contributions in school districts.

Section 12. provides for the adjustment of the interests of parishes separated from Unions in school districts.

Section 13. provides for cases of certain idiotic, imbecile, and insane paupers. It enables the Guardians, with the consent of the Poor Law Board, to send an idiotic pauper to an asylum or establishment for the reception and relief of idiots maintained at the charge of the county rate or by public subscription,— and, with the like consent, to send any idiotic, imbecile, or insane pauper, who may lawfully be detained in a workhouse, to the workhouse of any other Union or Parish, with the consent of the Guardians of such last-mentioned Union or Parish,— and to pay the cost of the maintenance, clothing, and lodging of such pauper in the asylum, establishment, or workhouse, as well as the cost of his conveyance thereto or his removal therefrom, and the expenses of his burial, when necessary.

The section applies, as will be seen, only to the class of harmless idiots and such insane paupers as may be lawfully kept in workhouses, and will only take effect where there is a county asylum or public establishment provided for this particular class, or where there is a workhouse adequately supplied with proper accommodation for them, and possessing a superabundance of space beyond what is required by the Guardians for their own paupers.

Section 43. also deals with pauper lunatics. It enables the Guardians of any Union or Parish, with the consent of this Board and the Commissioners in Lunacy, and subject to such regulations as they shall respectively prescribe, to receive into the workhouse any chronic lunatic, not dangerous, who may have been removed to a lunatic asylum and selected by the superintendent of the asylum, and certified by him to be fit to be so removed, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the Guardians and the committee of visitors of any such asylum,— and thereupon every such lunatic, so long as he shall remain in such workhouse, shall continue a patient on the books of the asylum, for and in respect of all the provisions in the Lunacy Acts so far as they relate to lunatics removed to asylums.

This enables the Guardians of any Union or Parish to receive not only their own harmless lunatics from the asylum but those of other Unions or Parishes, and, all the provisions applicable to such lunatics being preserved, the workhouse will be rendered in effect an asylum for those who may be thus removed. The Guardians must however observe, that nothing can be done in pursuance of this provision without the previous consent of this Board and the Lunacy Commissioners, and therefore, whenever it is proposed to act upon this section, a communication should be forthwith made to this Board, and to those Commissioners.

Section 14. removes a doubt which had arisen, as to the construction of the 23d section of the 30 & 31 Vict. c. 106, relating to pauper lunatics sent from boroughs to asylums, and gives the section a retrospective operation.

By section 15. extension is given to the compensation clause contained in the 20th section of the same Act, and it is rendered applicable to the case where a Parish is added to a Union or separated therefrom, and an officer is thereby deprived of his office or employment.

Sections 16. to 23. form the subject of the Board's letter of the 4th instant.

Section 24. transfers the power of appointing auditors from those in whose hands it was previously placed to the Poor Law Board, and charges their salaries upon the same fund as those of the officers of that Board. It is also provided that, before any such auditor shall be empowered to act, a notice of his appointment shall be inserted in the London Gazette, and no further or other notice or proof of such appointment shall be required.

Section 25. enables existing auditors to be superannuated as civil servants of the Crown, under 22 Vict. c. 26.

By section 26. the power of appointing registrars in temporary registration districts is taken from the Poor Law Board and conferred upon the Guardians acting therein.

Section 27. to section 32. (inclusive) form the subjects of the Board's letter of the 20th ultimo.

Section 33. applies a new remedy for a grievance, which is of frequent occurrence, and produces loss to the Guardians and distress to poor women, namely, the desertion of a wife by her husband, or his refusal to maintain her. The Guardians are also doubtless aware of many cases in which the husband, by his ill usage or other misconduct, compels his wife to leave her proper home, and, being destitute, to seek relief at their hands.

The remedy hitherto afforded to the Guardians was a prosecution under the Vagrant Act, whereby the husband is subjected to punishment. This was only available in certain cases, and tended rather to aggravate the evil, by preventing the man from earning while in prison the wages from which he could maintain his wife and family.

The new section places the husband upon the same footing as any other person who is by law compellable to maintain a relative, and enables an order of maintenance to be made upon him in respect of his wife.

It is provided that when a married woman requires relief without her husband, the Guardians of the Union or Parish, or the overseers of the parish, as the case may be, to which she becomes chargeable, may apply to the justices having jurisdiction in such Union or Parish, in Petty Sessions assembled, and thereupon such justices may summon such husband to appear before them, to show cause why an order should not be made upon him to maintain his wife, and upon his appearance, or, in the event of his not appearing, upon proof of due service of such summons upon him, such justice may, after hearing such wife upon oath, or receiving such other evidence as they may deem sufficient, make an order upon him to pay such sum, weekly or otherwise, towards the cost of the relief of the wife, as, after consideration of all the circumstances of the case, shall appear to them to be proper, and shall determine in such order how and to whom the payments shall from time to time be made.

This order shall, if the payments required by it to be made be in arrear, be enforced in the manner prescribed by the 11 & 12 Vict. c. 43. for enforcing orders of justices requiring the payment of a sum of money.

It is, however, provided that such order may be at any future time revoked by justices in Petty Sessions assembled, if they see sufficient cause for so doing.

It will be seen that the incompetency of the wife to give evidence against her husband, which has proved a serious impediment in prosecutions under the Vagrant Act, will not arise in proceedings under this section. The Guardians will also observe that the provision is made for their indemnification, and is not a substitution for proceedings that may be taken in other courts by married women.

The Board will further remark, that the order, which in the first instance will only be granted at the discretion of the justices, may at any future time be revoked by them, if the conduct of the wife, or other circumstances require it.

The 36th, 37th, and 41st sections, though not next in order, may properly be here introduced. The former transfers the power to make orders of maintenance, from the justices who have jurisdiction in the place where the defendant is dwelling, to those who have jurisdiction in the Union or Parish to which the pauper is chargeable. The penalty prescribed by the statute of Elizabeth is repealed, and the order is to be enforced under the provisions of the 11 & 12 Vict. c. 43.

By section 37. a parent who shall wilfully neglect to provide adequate food, clothing, medical aid, or lodging for his child, being in his custody, under the age of 14 years, whereby its health shall have been or shall be likely to be seriously injured, is subject to a prosecution, and may be summarily convicted, and punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months, with hard labour. The Guardians of the Union or Parish in which such child shall be living shall institute the prosecution, and pay the costs thereof out of their funds.

The masculine gender only is used in this clause ; but, by the interpretation clause, it includes the feminine, so that the mother may be prosecuted as well as the father.

It appears to the Board that this prosecution is only open to the Guardians, and that such gross and serious cases of neglect on the part of the parent, as are by the present law deemed to be misdemeanours, will still be open to prosecution, as any other common law misdemeanour.

The 41st section refers to the maintenance of bastard children. It provides that when and so often as any bastard child, for whose maintenance an order has been made under the 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101. s. 5, shall become chargeable to any Parish or Union, any two justices, in Petty Sessions, may, if they see fit, by order from time to time, appoint some relieving or other officer of the Parish or Union, to receive, on account thereof, such proportion of the payments then due, or becoming due, under the order, as may accrue during the period for which such child is chargeable, and such appointment shall remain in force for the period of one whole year, whenever the bastard child shall be or have become chargeable as aforesaid, and may afterwards, from time to time, be renewed by endorsement under the hand of any one justice, for the like period.

As a necessary consequence, the penalty imposed, by the 7th section of the said Act, upon any officer of the Parish or Union receiving money under such order, is repealed, and it is provided that any payment so ordered to be made shall be recoverable in manner provided by section 3. of the said Act.

The Guardians will notice that this provision is general, being applicable both to out-door and to in-door paupers, but it will have most effect in its application to the cases of in-door paupers who quit the workhouse to receive the periodical payments under the orders, and, when the money received by them is spent, return as paupers to the workhouse.

Section 34. refers to questions as to the removal of paupers, and provides that the addition of a Parish to a Union, or the separation of a Parish from a Union, shall not affect the exemption from removal previously acquired by any pauper.

Section 35. will prove of benefit to many Unions where the workhouses are insufficient, as it extends the time for repayment of loans borrowed under the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834, and subsequent Acts extending or amending the same, from 20 to 30 years.

Sections 38, 39, and 49, have been explained in the letter of the 20th ultimo.

Section 42. provides for the education of deaf, dumb, and blind children. The statute 25 & 26 Vict. c. 43. enables the Guardians to send children so afflicted to schools certified under it, without special application to the Poor Law Board. This section empowers them to send children to schools fitted up for the reception of such children, though not certified under the statute. But the approval of this Board must be obtained in respect of every child whom the Guardians propose to deal with in this manner.

If there be any such child now chargeable, whom the Guardians consider it desirable to send to a school of this description, they should at once communicate all the particulars to this Board, before they make any conclusive arrangement.

Section 44. repeals so much of the 55 Geo. 3. c. 137., and the 4 & 5 Will. 4. c. 76., as imposes penalties on the churchwardens and overseers of any Parish in a Union who may, after the passing of the Act now under consideration, supply goods, materials, or provisions for the use of the workhouse or the maintenance of the poor.

Section 45. supplies the interpretation of the words used in the Act, and consolidates it with the previous Poor Law Acts.

Section 46. gives a short title for citation, viz., "The Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868."

The Board have now laid before the Guardians all the provisions of the Act, and have only further to request their careful attention to them.

Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868.—Creed Register.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
26th November 1868.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to transmit a copy of a general order which they have issued prescribing a form of creed register to be kept in the workhouse, in conformity with the provision of the recent statute, and in accordance with the intimation in their letter of the 4th instant.

They also enclose another copy, to be supplied to the master of the workhouse, with the accompanying letter of instructions, and have to request the Guardians to procure the requisite book for his use as soon as possible.

POOR LAW AMENDMENT ACT, 1868.—CREED REGISTER.—GENERAL ORDER.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule (A.) hereunto annexed ;—
To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Parishes and Places named in the Schedule (B.) hereunto annexed ;—
To the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of the Petty Sessions held for the Division or Divisions in which the said Unions and Parishes are respectively situate ;—
And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by "The Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868," it is, among other things, enacted "that the officer for the time being acting as the "master of a workhouse, or as the master or superintendent of a district "or other pauper school, shall keep a register of the religious creed of "the pauper inmates of such workhouse or school, separate from all "other registers, in such form and with such particulars as shall be "prescribed by the Poor Law Board by an order under their seal, and "shall, as regards every inmate of such workhouse or school at the "date to be fixed by such order, and subsequently upon the admission "of every inmate therein, make due inquiry into the religious creed "of such inmate, and enter such religious creed in such register."

Now, therefore, We, the Poor Law Board, hereby order and prescribe as follows ;—

Article 1.—On and after the first day of January next, the master, and where there is no master the matron, of every workhouse in the Unions and Parishes in the Schedules (A.) and (B.) hereunto annexed, shall keep a register of the religious creed of the pauper inmates of such workhouse in the following form, that is to say ;—

RELIGIOUS CREED REGISTER.

_____ Union [or Parish]. _____ Master [or Matron] of the Workhouse at _____.

| Date of the Entry. | Date of Admission. | NAME. Christian and Sur-name. | From whence admitted. | Religious Creed. | Name of Informant. | Discharged or Dead. |

Article 2.—The master or matron, as the case may be, shall, on the said first day of January, or as soon after as practicable, enter the particulars of the several columns in respect of the paupers who shall be inmates of the workhouse on that day, except the day of admission, which may be omitted.

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

Article 3.—Such master or matron shall in respect of every pauper admitted into the said workhouse after the said first day of January, enter the particulars in all the columns, provided that the last column shall be filled in as and when the pauper shall be discharged from the workhouse or shall die.

Article 4.—The word "Unions" in this order shall be taken to include not only Unions of parishes formed under the provisions of "The Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834," but also Unions of parishes incorporated or united for the relief or maintenance of the poor under any Local Act of Parliament.

The word "Workhouse" in this order shall include every school, infirmary, or hospital provided by the Guardians for the reception of paupers.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
26th November 1868.

SIR,

FROM the General Order recently issued by the Poor Law Board, in conformity with the provision in the recent statute, of which you will receive a copy, you will perceive that a new duty is cast upon you, and that for the future you will have to keep a book in the workhouse exclusively confined to the religious creed of the inmates.

You are required to make an entry in this book with regard to all the paupers in the workhouse who shall be inmates thereof on the 1st day of January next, and afterwards to make the requisite entries in respect of all who are subsequently admitted.

Although you will probably refer, in regard to the first class of cases, to the present entries in the in-door relief list for the religious creed of the inmates, the Board do not consider that you should be bound thereby, but where you have reason to entertain any doubt, you should take means to satisfy yourself as to the accuracy of such entries by making due inquiry into the religious creed of every such inmate before you copy them into the new register.

The Board have to point out to you that the statute has laid down the following rules for your guidance in regard to children :—

Where any child under the age of 12 years is in the workhouse (whether either of its parents be in the workhouse or not, or whether it be an orphan or deserted child) the master shall enter in such register as the religious creed of such child the religious creed of the father, if he know or can ascertain the same by reasonable inquiry,—

Or if the same cannot be ascertained, the creed of the mother, if the same be known to him, or can be ascertained in like manner.

The creed of an illegitimate child under the said age shall be deemed to be that of its mother, when that can be ascertained.

The statute enables the Poor Law Board to entertain and decide any question which may arise as to the correctness of these entries.

The Board think that you will seldom find much difficulty in carrying out these rules for keeping the register.

They will farther add that the statute has provided that the register thus made is to be open to the inspection of every minister of any denomination officiating in the church, chapel, or other registered place of religious worship of such denomination which shall be nearest to the workhouse, or any ratepayer of any Parish in the Union, at any time of the day, except Sunday, between the hours of 10 before noon and 4 after noon.

You will doubtless receive some directions from the Board of Guardians as to the part of the workhouse in which this register is to be kept, so that it may be rendered easily accessible to persons entitled to inspect it, but at the same time be not liable to injury.

I am, &c.
W. G. LUMLEY,
Assistant Secretary.

VAGRANCY.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
28th November 1868.

SIR,

THE Poor Law Board having received from various Unions representations on the subject of the increase of vagrancy, and a request for such information and advice as they may be able to supply, think it desirable to issue the following circular.

So long ago as the year 1848 the difficulties attending the administration of relief to the casual poor were brought prominently under the notice of the Poor Law Board, and a minute on the subject, prepared and signed by the late Mr. Charles Buller, was in consequence circulated among the different Unions in England and Wales. The Board have reason to believe that in the Unions in which the suggestions of that minute have been steadily acted upon, those difficulties have been to some extent diminished.

It appears to the Board, however, that the time has arrived when it is necessary to bring again under the consideration of Guardians the main principles embodied in that circular, with a view to their more general and systematic adoption.

A sound and vigilant discrimination as regards those who apply for relief as casual poor, with a view to distinguish between those whose destitution gives them a claim to such relief, and those who, not being destitute, throw themselves habitually on the public rates or on private charity, is of primary importance; and the Guardians will best secure the proper exercise of this discrimination by placing the relief of the casual poor in the hands of officers who, while they relieve the destitute, will at the same time have sufficient firmness to repel the impostor. The employment, where practicable, of some member of the police force, or of some person clothed with the authority of a constable, as an assistant relieving officer for this purpose, is shown by general experience to be the most expedient course.

The professional tramp will be comparatively unwilling to confront such an officer, while to the honest but destitute wayfarer his inquiries will occasion no alarm.

By whatever agency, however, relief is administered, the following measures should, as the Board think, be uniformly adopted:—

1. The name and occupation of the applicant, with the place from which he comes and that to which he is going, should be recorded in a book, so as to admit of reference.
2. The applicant for relief should be searched, and, if adequate means of support are found upon him, refused relief.
3. If relieved in the workhouse, he should in every case (except when ill) be put in a bath; and,
4. A certain task should be required and enforced (unless where exceptional circumstances appear to justify exemption) from all who have received a night's relief in the workhouse, or in the vagrant ward.

It appears to the Board of great importance that, as far as possible, the diet of the casual paupers in different workhouses should (except in the case of sickness or infirmity) be uniform, and that a task of work similar in kind and quantity should be required wherever relief is given, and enforced under vigilant superintendence.

In all cases of persons refusing to perform the task of work required from them, the person refusing should be taken before a magistrate, to be dealt with according to law.

With a view to the attainment of such uniformity, the Board append to this circular suggestions as to food and work, to which they request the early consideration of the Guardians, and which, after receiving and considering any observations that may be offered, they propose, so far as may be necessary and expedient, to embody in an order.

With regard to the mode of lodging applicants at night, if ascertained to be destitute, the Board are of opinion that, where practicable, the most advisable course is to provide separate accommodation for each individual who is relieved in the workhouse or vagrant ward.

Such a plan seems, though on different grounds, properly applicable to both the classes of casual applicants with which Guardians have to deal. The deserving but destitute wayfarer, such for instance as, in the words of Mr. Buller's circular, "the widow or orphan deprived at "a distance from home of their natural supporter, or the honest "artizan or labourer who is seeking the employment of which accidental "circumstances have suddenly deprived him," should, for obvious reasons, be exempted from the necessity of association with the idle and the profligate who are to be found in the vagrant ward.

On the other hand, it is very important to deprive the professional tramp of the opportunity of that free and unrestrained companionship which unavoidably takes place in a vagrant ward, and which is especially agreeable to him. With this double object in view, Guardians in some Unions have, with the sanction of the Board, adopted the system of placing all casual poor who apply for relief, and who are ascertained to be destitute, in small rooms or cells, each holding (except in the case of a mother and a young child or children) only one person. If accompanied with due precautions, as regards inspection and the power of obtaining assistance in case of illness, this system appears to the Board well worthy of adoption.

The Board think it right to advert to a system which has been adopted more or less generally in several counties in England, with the view to effect a discrimination between the deserving wayfarer and the professional tramp.

Under this plan a ticket is given at the union workhouse at which the applicant has first been relieved, setting forth the name, occupation, and cause of seeking relief, and place from which he comes, and marked so as to be available at certain workhouses along the particular route which the holder has previously notified his wish to take. When the ticket is presented at any of such workhouses, provided that the condition of walking a certain defined number of miles from the last place of receiving relief has been fulfilled, the holder is allowed the relief suited to his condition, without the necessity of performing the task of work which would be required in the case of persons not possessing such ticket, or who, if possessed of it, had failed to fulfil the prescribed condition.

The Board are not in possession as yet of sufficient experience to justify them in pronouncing any opinion as to the results of this system, but they think it desirable that it should be brought under the notice of the Guardians, as its success must depend to a great extent on its more or less general adoption by neighbouring Unions.

In conclusion the Board, in the words of the former circular, desire again to "impress upon Boards of Guardians the absolute necessity of "discriminating by careful investigation between real and simulated "destitution. It is to be always borne in mind that, while the law

(A.) Circulars and Orders.

" requires that relief should be given to those who really need it, it " equally prohibits the misapplication of the public funds to those who " are not destitute." Such a misapplication is unjust to the ratepayers, and leads to public evils of a serious character; and while it is incumbent on the Guardians to exercise the greatest care in the expenditure of all the funds intrusted to them, in no part of the administration of the Poor Law is such care at the present moment so urgently required as in that which relates to the relief of the vagrant population of the country.

| SUPPER | For males above 15 years of age | 8 oz. of bread, or (at the discretion of the Guardians) 6 oz. of bread and 1 pint of gruel. |
| | For females above 15 years of age, and for children of both sexes from 7 to 15 years of age | 6 oz. of bread and 1 pint of gruel. |
| | For children under 7 years of age | 4 oz. of bread and half-pint of gruel. |

BREAKFAST—Same as supper.

Half the quantity of the bread for breakfast to be given to the men and women before commencing the task of work, and the other half of the bread (with the gruel for the women) at its completion.

Proposed task of work for vagrants.

The master of the workhouse shall set every adult person not suffering under any temporary or permanent infirmity of body, being an occasional poor person, who shall be relieved in the said workhouse, in return for the food and lodging afforded to such person, to perform the following task of work, that is to say :—

Males—
The breaking of 1½ to 3 cwt. of stones, according to the hardness of the stone, or
The picking of 1½ pound of oakum ;

Females—
The picking of a half a pound of oakum ;

[or such other task of work as the guardians may deem more suitable and as may be sanctioned by the Poor Law Board].*

Provided that no such person shall be detained against his or her will for the performance of such task of work, for any time exceeding four hours from the hour of breakfast of the ordinary inmates of the workhouse.

And provided also that such amount of work shall not be required from any person to whose age, strength, and capacity it shall appear not to be suited.

OUT-DOOR RELIEF.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
9th December 1868.

SIR,

THE Poor Law Board think it right to communicate with the Guardians upon certain points connected with the administration of out-relief, to which their attention has been recently directed. In doing so, it appears to them desirable that their observations and suggestions should be of a general character, and be embodied in a Circular Letter: the Guardians of each Union or Parish will thus be at once able to see how far they are applicable to the case of their own district.

From the information which they have received, the Board believe that in many Unions a lax practice exists, in one or more of the particulars herein referred to, which cannot but be prejudicial alike to the ratepayers and the poor.

1. In many cases it appears that no definite time or place is fixed by the Guardians for the distribution of out-relief in each parish, but that the relieving officers are left to make their own arrangements, not necessarily even reporting them to the Guardians. In certain instances there are not more than one or two relief stations for the whole of the parishes of a Union; in certain others, relief in kind is regularly given by means of tickets upon shopkeepers, a course which, though in certain cases (as where orders for relief recommended by the medical officer are given), perhaps occasionally unavoidable, is, when adopted as a general rule, obviously injurious to the real interests of the poor man, as exposing him to the danger of being supplied with inferior articles at extortionate prices, or to the temptation of changing away his order for money, to the possible injury of his family.

2. The Board find that, in comparatively few instances, the relieving officers are supplied with weights and scales, and that the Guardians and the poor are thus deprived of proper security that the applicant really receives the full amount of relief which the Guardians intended for him. The Board think it the more important to call attention to this point, from the circumstance that in one county several bakers have lately been prosecuted by the police, and convicted, of giving short weight, thus defrauding both the ratepayers and the poor.

3. With a view to remedy the above-mentioned evils and deficiencies, the Board recommend that Guardians should, as a general rule, appoint some one or more places in each parish (not being, for obvious reasons, either a public-house or a shop) at which, at a time fixed by them and duly made public, it shall be the duty of the relieving officer to attend, for the purpose of administering out-relief. Such an arrangement will at once enable the Guardians to exercise due control over the relief arrangements, will render attendance for the receipt of relief as little burdensome as possible to the poor, and will afford due facilities for new applications.

4. The appointment, however, of a station, at which the paupers who are able to do so may attend to receive their relief, should not render the relieving officer unmindful of the important duty, imposed upon him by the regulations of the Board, of visiting the house of any applicant for relief; and also of visiting from time to time all paupers receiving relief, and making due inquiries into the existing circumstances of each case. Nor will the relieving officer be exonerated from the duty of administering the requisite relief at the houses of paupers who may be wholly incapable from infirmity of body of attending at the station, and may have no means of sending for their relief.

5. The Board do not doubt that, in the great majority of instances, the duty of administering out-relief is discharged by relieving officers with care and fidelity, but they think that the system already in operation in many cases, of which they now recommend the universal adoption, will afford a more effectual and permanent security against neglect. To this end, they further strongly advise Guardians to require their relieving officers to keep a diary, as is already done in some Unions, to be laid before the Guardians at each meeting, stating shortly their times of arrival at and departure from each relief station, the name and residence of each pauper visited at his or her own home on each day, and such other particulars as, without imposing unnecessary labour on relieving officers, they may deem requisite. The Board append, for the information of Guardians, a form already in use in some Unions.

6. The Board further recommend that, in all cases where practicable, proper weights and scales should be kept at each out-relief station, and the use of them, so far as is necessary to check imposition, be made obligatory upon the relieving officer.

7. The Board have reason to believe that, in several parts of the country, the giving relief in kind is materially if not wholly discontinued. They do not refer merely to cases of able-bodied persons receiving relief under the out-door labour test order, in which the giving more than half of the relief in money is illegal, but to those cases also (and they are not few in number) in which, it being competent for Guardians to give relief in either form, the whole is (perhaps from considerations of convenience to the relieving officers or on other grounds) given wholly in money.

8. The Board are not unaware that, in some special instances coming under the last-mentioned class, local circumstances, or a due regard to the position and requirements of the applicant, may render such a course advisable and proper; but still, as a general rule, they are of opinion that the administration of relief in kind is calculated both to diminish the chance of imposition and to obviate the danger of misapplication, and they therefore desire to urge the consideration of the subject upon the careful attention of the Guardians of every district in which the practice of so giving relief has been neglected.

In conclusion, the Board desire to impress upon Guardians generally, the importance of a strict compliance with the provisions of the out-door relief prohibitory order, in all Unions and Parishes to which it has been issued. They believe that, while the exceptions provide adequately for those cases to which the prohibitory regulations are, in the judgment of the Guardians, not properly applicable, a steady adherence to the principle of in-door relief in all proper cases is essential to the due administration of the law.

The Board invite the careful consideration of the Guardians to the above remarks and suggestions.

REGULATION of OUT-DOOR RELIEF.—THE METROPOLIS.—GENERAL ORDER.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions and Parishes named in the Schedules (A.) and (B.) hereunto annexed;—

To the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Parishes comprised in the said Unions, and of the said several other Parishes named in the said Schedules;—

To the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of the Petty Sessions held for the Division or Divisions in which the said Unions and Parishes are situate;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

WE, the Poor Law Board, under the authority of the Statutes in that behalf made and provided, hereby Order and Direct, as respects the several Unions and Parishes named in the Schedules hereunto annexed, from and after the first day of February next, as follows:—

Article 1. Whenever the Guardians allow relief to any able-bodied male person, out of the workhouse, one half at least of the relief so allowed shall be given in articles of food or fuel, or in other articles of absolute necessity.

Article 2. In any case in which the Guardians allow relief for a longer period than one week to an indigent poor person, resident within their Union or Parish respectively, without requiring that such person shall be received into the workhouse, such relief shall be given or administered weekly, or at such more frequent periods as they may deem expedient.

* This order was accompanied by a circular, dated 14th December 1852. See copy of the Circular in the Fifth Annual Report, page 28.

Article 3. It shall not be lawful for the Guardians or their officers—

To establish any applicant for relief in trade or business;

Nor to redeem from pawn for any such applicant any tools, implements or other articles;

Nor to purchase and give to such applicant any tools, implements, or other articles, except articles of clothing or bedding where urgently needed, and such articles as are herein-before referred to in Art. 1.;

Nor to pay, directly or indirectly, the expense of the conveyance of any poor person, unless conveyed under the provisions of some Statute, or under an Order of Justices or other lawful authority, or in conformity with some order or regulation of the Poor Law Commissioners or the Poor Law Board, except in the following cases; viz.

1st. The case of a person conveyed to or from a district school, or an hospital or infirmary, or a lunatic asylum, or a house licensed or hospital registered for the reception of lunatics;

2nd. The case of a person conveyed to the workhouse of the Union or Parish in which such person is at the time chargeable;

3rd. The case of a person conveyed to or from any other workhouse or other house or establishment for the reception of poor persons, in which for the time being it shall be lawful for the Guardians to place such person;

Nor to give money to or on account of any such applicant for the purpose of effecting any of the objects in this Article mentioned;

Nor to pay, wholly or in part, the rent of the house or lodging of any pauper, nor to apply any portion of the relief ordered to be given to any pauper in payment of any such rent, nor to retain any portion of such relief for the purpose of directly or indirectly discharging such rent, in full or in part, for any such pauper;

Provided always, that nothing in this Article contained shall apply to any shelter or temporary lodging procured for a poor person in any case of sudden or urgent necessity or mental imbecility.

Article 4. No relief shall be given from the poor rates of any of the said parishes, or of any parish comprised in either of the said Unions, to any person who does not reside in some place within such Parish or Union respectively, save and except in the following cases:—

1st. The case of a person casually within such parish, and destitute;

2nd. The case of a person requiring relief on account of any sickness, accident, or bodily or mental infirmity, affecting him or her or any of his or her family;

3rd. The case of a widow, having a legitimate child dependent on her for support, and no illegitimate child born after the commencement of her widowhood, and who at the time of her husband's death was resident with him in some place other than the parish of her legal settlement, and not situated in the Union in which such parish is comprised;

4th. The case of a child under the age of sixteen, maintained in a workhouse or establishment for the education of poor children not situate within the Union or Parish;

5th. The case of the wife or child residing within such Parish or Union of some person not residing therein;

6th. The case of a person who has been in the receipt of relief from such parish, or from some parish in the Union from which he or she seeks relief, at some time within the twelve calendar months next preceding the date of this Order.

Article 5. No relief shall be given to any able-bodied male person while he is employed for wages or other hire or remuneration by any person.

Article 6. Every able-bodied male person, if relieved out of the workhouse, shall be set to work by the Guardians, and be kept employed under their direction and superintendence so long as he continues to receive relief.

Article 7. Provided that the regulations in Articles 5 and 6, shall not be imperative in the following cases :—

1st. The case of a person receiving relief on account of sudden and urgent necessity ;

2nd. The case of a person receiving relief on account of any sickness, accident, or bodily or mental infirmity, affecting such person or any of his family ;

3rd. The case of a person receiving relief for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the burial of any of his family ;

4th. The case of the wife, child, or children of a person confined in any gaol or place of safe custody ;

5th. The case of the wife, child, or children, resident within the Parish or Union, of a person not residing therein.

Article 8. The Guardians shall, within thirty days after they shall have proceeded to act in execution of Article 6, report to the Poor Law Board the place or places at which able-bodied male paupers shall be set to work, the sort or sorts of work in which they or any of them shall be employed, the times and mode of work, and the provision made for superintending them while working, and shall forthwith discontinue or alter the same, if the Poor Law Board shall so require.

Article 9. No relief which shall be contrary to any regulation in this Order shall be given by way of loan ; but any relief which may be given in conformity with the provisions of this Order to or on account of any person to whom relief may be lawfully given above the age of twenty-one, or to his wife, or any part of his or her family under the age of sixteen, may, if the Guardians shall think fit, be given by way of loan.

Article 10. If the Guardians shall, upon consideration of the special circumstances of any particular case, deem it expedient to depart from any of the regulations herein-before contained (except those contained in Article 3.) and within twenty-one days after such departure shall report the same, and the grounds thereof, to the Poor Law Board, the relief which may have been so given in such case by such Guardians before an answer to such report shall have been returned by the said Board shall not be deemed to be contrary to the provisions of this Order ; and if the Poor Law Board shall approve of such departure, and shall notify such approval to the Guardians, all relief given in such case after such notification, so far as the same shall be in accordance with the terms and conditions of such approval, shall be lawful, anything in this Order to the contrary notwithstanding.

Article 11. Whenever in describing any person or party, matter or thing, the word importing the singular number only is used in this Order, the same shall be taken to include, and shall be applied to GENERAL ACCOUNTS ORDER.—ALTERATION OF FORMS AS TO STORE-TAKING.—CIRCULAR LETTER from the POOR LAW BOARD to BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
SIR, 16th February 1869.

THE Poor Law Board have received reports from several district auditors upon the books of account kept by the master of the workhouse, from which it appeared that no entry has been made by the visiting committee in the books which are required to be balanced by him at the times specified in the General Order of Accounts, dated 14th January 1867. Upon inquiry the Board have ascertained that in many Unions the Visiting Committee have read the certificates set forth at the foot of those accounts as implying their acquiescence in the correctness of all the entries therein, whereas it was intended that they should only testify to the correctness of the stock-taking, having regard to the statement of the Master as to the stock of the various matters remaining in the stores of the workhouse at the time when the accounts are made up.

It appears to the Board to be advisable that this misunderstanding should be removed, and they have therefore issued a General Order to make the certificate more explicit, and confine it to the stock in store.

The Board have also provided for any exception which may be taken by the Visiting Committee to the correctness of those entries, requiring the Master to bring immediately under the notice of the Board of Guardians any entry of that character on the part of the Visiting Committee, so that they may be informed of the default, and receive the Master's explanation.

A copy of the Order is forwarded for the use of the Board of Guardians, and another to be handed over to the Master for his future guidance.

GENERAL ACCOUNTS ORDER.—ALTERATION OF FORMS AS TO STORE-KEEPING.—GENERAL ORDER.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions and Parishes named in the Schedules (A.) and (B.) hereunto annexed;—
And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by a General Order bearing date the fourteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, addressed to the Unions named in the Scheule (A.) hereunto annexed, and by sundry other Orders dated subsequent thereto, respectively addressed to the Union and Parishes named in the Schedule (B.) hereunto annexed, the Poor Law Board made certain regulations in regard to the keeping of the accounts of the officers of such unions and parishes, and, among others, of the Master of the Workhouse.

And whereas the said Board required the Master of the Workhouse to keep a certain account, which is termed therein "a Quarterly Balance of the Provisions Account," which should be submitted to the Visiting Committee or some Member thereof when made up and balanced, who should enter a memorandum at the foot of the account, certifying to the same having been submitted to them or one of them.

And whereas a similar provision is made in respect of the "Clothing Materials Receipt and Conversion Account," the "Clothing Receipt and Expenditure Account," and the "Quarterly Balance of the Necessaries and Miscellaneous Account," all being accounts required by the said Orders to be kept by the Master.

And whereas in the forms of such accounts, set forth in the Schedules annexed to the said Orders, the Certificate referred to is set forth in the following words:—

"Submitted to _____ Member of the Visiting Committee,
"this _____ day of _____, and found to be "correct."

(Signed) _____

And such certificate is deemed to apply to all the entries in the said accounts, which is contrary to the intention of the Board in prescribing the regulations aforesaid.

Now therefore, We, the Poor Law Board, under the authority of the Statutes in that behalf made and provided, hereby alter the said several Orders in this respect, and hereby order that henceforth the said certificate shall be framed as follows; that is to say,—

"Submitted to _____ Member of the Visiting Committee,
"this _____ day of _____ 186 , and found
"to be correct as regards the stock remaining in store."

(Signed) _____

Provided, that if it be found necessary to make any addition to this certificate in respect of any article, matter, or materials in which the entry made by the Master is not, in the opinion of the member or members signing the same, correct, the master shall in such case lay the book containing such addition and certificate before the Board of Guardians at their next meeting.

General Accounts Order.—Statement and Certificate as to Overseers' Books.—Circular Letter from the Poor Law Board to Boards of Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
3d March 1869.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to state that they have deemed it advisable to allow of a departure for the present from the General Order of Accounts, lately issued by them, in reference to the copy of the statement and certificate made by the District Auditors as to the books of the Overseers, which such Auditors are required by that Order to transmit to the Board of Guardians and to the Poor Law Board, so far as it relates to the audit of accounts for the half year ending on the 25th day of March in each year. A copy of the Board's dispensation is herewith enclosed.

General Accounts Order.—Statement and Certificate as to Overseers' Books.—Dispensation.

To the Auditors of the several Audit Districts named in the Schedule hereunto annexed ;—
To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions comprised in such Districts ;—
To all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by a General Order of the Poor Law Board bearing date the fourteenth day of January 1867, addressed to the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule (H.) thereunto annexed, and by similar Orders lately made and issued by the Poor Law Board to the Woolwich and Westminster Unions respectively, the Poor Law Board made certain regulations as to the keeping of accounts, and the accounting of the persons therein mentioned to the auditor, and the Poor Law Board required that such regulations should apply to every case in which the Poor Law Board should not assent to a departure from any of the regulations contained in the said Order.

And whereas, among other things, it is required in the said Orders that the auditor shall, at the close of each audit of the accounts of the Unions respectively, transmit to the Poor Law Board a certain statement and certificate as to the books directed by those orders to be kept by the overseers.

And whereas it appears to the Poor Law Board to be expedient to allow a departure from this regulation, as herein-after set forth.

I am therefore directed to state that the Poor Law Board authorize the auditors of the districts comprising such Unions, and named in the Schedule hereunto annexed, to withhold the transmission of the copies of such statements and the certificate therein referred to at the close of the audit of the accounts for the half year ending on the twenty-fifth day of March in each year, so far as they relate to the overseers.

No. 19.

EDUCATION OF PAUPER CHILDREN.—REPORT for the year 1868 of E. C. TUFNELL, Esq., on the HOME DISTRICT.

SIR, 9th April 1869.

Necessity of industrial training of boys.

THE industrial training of boys brought up in the district or other schools belonging to parochial unions has always been a matter of much difficulty. As boys in this class of life must almost invariably gain their livelihood by the labour of their hands, if their muscles are not accustomed to physical exertion while at school, there is great danger of their becoming applicants for relief in after life or living by dishonest means.

In an investigation conducted by Mr. Chadwick into the antecedents of juvenile criminals, it was ascertained that the cause of their forsaking honest labour generally was, that their muscles being unaccustomed to hard physical exertion, continuous labour was painful to them.

Causes of juvenile delinquency.

A frequent complaint by runaway apprentices and vagrant children was, that the labour to which they were first put was really extremely painful to them, and they were thus induced to resort to criminal courses, which are well known to consist chiefly of idleness, in order to escape the pain of labour. This is stated by Mr. Chadwick in a letter to Mr. Senior, printed by order of the House of Lords in 1861.

Hence the question of labour in these schools is of paramount importance, and to what labour the boys shall be put is a difficulty of continual recurrence, in the solution of which nearly every trade that it was possible to introduce into a school has been tried.

Success of one species of industry.

It has been discovered that there is a considerable demand for boys who have been taught to play some musical instrument in the bands of regiments and the royal navy. Accordingly all the large schools now reckon music among the chief industrial employments of the boys, and I append to this report a list giving the names of the boys, the instruments they had been taught, the regimental or naval bands in which they enlisted, and the schools whence enlisted during the year 1868. The result is, that 183 boys have been disposed of in this way during the past year, of whom 25 have enlisted as musicians in the Royal Navy, and 158 boys in regimental bands.

Results to the boys of musical training.

Inquiries have been continually made into the conduct of the boys thus provided for, and the invariable answer is that they have given the utmost satisfaction ; and some of them, owing to the musical talent they have displayed, have been selected to be trained as bandmasters. From one school alone, that belonging to St. George's-in-the-East, 90 musicians have been enlisted into army bands during the past five years, and by an inquiry lately made, I find that every one has turned out well. This is a pleasing contrast with the old system of workhouse schools, whence of all the children launched into the world after their so-called education, two thirds turned out badly.

Utility of training boys for sea service.

I could wish that the appliances for forming sailors were more generally introduced into these schools, but Stepney continues to be the only school where boys are specially trained for sea service. However, many boys are sent from all the schools both to the royal and merchant service, but owing to their not being specially trained for this business, as at Stepney, they get very inferior situations to what they otherwise would. It should never be forgotten that the main secret for destroying hereditary pauperism, which has been the bane and disgrace of former Poor Law administration, is to well educate the children apart from adult paupers, and then to send them into the world, as far removed as possible from their own miserable relations and parishes, where they have known nothing but vice and misery. This is the reason why the army, navy, and merchant service is so peculiarly adopted to this class of children. When thus disposed of, they almost invariably become elevated far beyond the pauper ranks, and to this end no means have been so effectual as the establishment of large schools on the district system.

There is one conclusion which my inspection of pauper schools has strongly impressed on my mind, and which, as it refers to a question now much before the public, I think it right to mention.

Fallacy of the idea of surplus population.

I have an entire disbelief in the common idea that there is in England any surplus population ; on the contrary it is my conviction that the demand for labour is beyond the supply, that this demand is yearly becoming greater, and the proportionate supply less, in short, that the country is suffering rather from a deficiency of the labouring population than a surplus.

I draw this conclusion from what I have everywhere observed in the condition of pauper schools, which seems to me quite irreconcileable with the idea of a redundancy of population. It was different 25 years ago, when there may have been a surplus of labourers, but I am enabled to make a comparison between the state of things in this respect as it was then and the present time.

In a volume published by the Poor Law Commissioners in 1841 there is a Report from myself in which I quote some complaints made by Boards of Guardians respecting the difficulty of disposing of their pauper children. The Tenterden Board write thus to the Commissioners, "The attention of the Board has been painfully directed for "some time past to their total inability to dispose satisfactorily of their "great boys, orphans. They have become unfit for the school, and "when removed to the able men's ward, evince no particular desire to "leave the workhouse. The Board of Guardians have sent to their "parishes from time to time lists of the boys fit for service, and re-"quested the parish officers to endeavour to find service for them, but "they have not succeeded. What is to be done with great boys is a "common question, not only at the Board but out of doors, and it is "a question which the Board most respectfully ask of the Poor Law "Commissioners." At that time there were 79 boys in the workhouse. I have visited the Tenterden school in the last month, when I found 23 boys in it, only one of whom was at all fit for service, and he has since found a situation. The girls too had diminished from 88 to 30, and here as elsewhere the demand for them was beyond the supply. Yet between these two periods the population of the Union had increased from 10,478 to 10,947.

Decrease of children in Tenterden workhouse.

The Rye Board made a similar complaint to the Commissioners about the difficulty of disposing of their pauper boys. There were then 58 boys in the workhouse. Last month I found 13 in it, of whom one boy only was as old as 12, and he was not strong enough for service; at the same time the girls had decreased from 101 (infants included) to 23, while the population of the Union had increased from 11,456 to 11,927 by the census of 1861.

Decrease of children in Rye workhouse.

The same Report contains a third similar petition from the Eastry Board, who say, "The attention of the Board of Guardians having "been requested by the Governor, at the weekly meeting held yesterday, "to the number of boys now in the workhouse who are fit for service, "and willing to be engaged in any employment which can be offered "for them, with the probability of maintaining themselves without "further charge to the Union, submitting at the same time a list of "names of boys whose ages are from 13 to 16 years, the Guardians "being also satisfied that the subject is one of very grave importance, "and seeing that no present opportunity offers for obtaining that em-"ployment, which is so desirable to prevent an habitual taste for the "workhouse, and to subdue a disposition for pauperism, it was unani-"mously determined that the Commissioners be requested to advise "the Guardians as to the best means to be adopted for obtaining "services for about 12 or 14 very promising boys."

Decrease of children in Eastry workhouse.

At that time there were 62 boys in the school, while last month, which it should be remembered is nearly the worst month in the year for pauperism, there were only 43 boys in the schools, and not more than one of these was fit for service. Yet here the population had increased from 23,870 to 25,900; consequently, as in the two former instances, the decrease of children cannot be ascribed to decrease of population.

I have made special inquiry with reference to the disposal of the children in every pauper school in my district, which comprises Middlesex, Kent, Sussex, Surrey, Hampshire, Berkshire, Hertfordshire, and part of Essex and Bucks, and the universal answer is, that there is no difficulty whatever in finding situations for the children, and that for the girls especially, the demand is often for four times as many as can be supplied. Such facts as the above seem to me wholly irreconcileable with the idea of a surplus population.

Decrease of children fit for service in the metropolitan pauper school.

But the condition of the metropolitan schools is more remarkable still, though it varies from that of the country schools. The number of children, amounting now to upwards of 8,000, has not diminished from what it used to be, but instead of the schools being crowded with large boys and girls, fit for service but unable to obtain it, there are really none whatever of this description in the schools. I have continually asked the question from the superintendents of these schools, whether there is any difficulty in obtaining situations for the children, and the uniform answer is, that they cannot supply the demand. For domestic servants especially the demand is so pressing, that in one of the large district schools I was informed that there were six applicants for every girl that could be recommended for service. The applications come from all parts of England, and even from Scotland.

We hear much of the destitution and poverty in the East of London, yet here there seems to be as little difficulty as elsewhere in providing situations for the pauper children from the schools. There are undoubtedly many labouring people out of work, the streets are crowded with children who have obviously nothing to do, and in many of the country workhouses I found that last March there were many able-bodied men driven to the workhouse from inability to get work, and who sometimes even exceeded in number the children, who were daily sought for by employers.

Explanation of an anomalous state of things.

This is an anomalous state of things. It may appear incredible that a great demand for labourers can exist simultaneously with a multitude of people seeking employment and unable to find it, but I think I can give an adequate explanation. The real demand is not simply for labour, but trained labour, efficient labour, intelligent labour; a shopman who wants an errand boy will not take a boy from the streets who is dirty in his habits, unable to read the direction of a parcel, has never heard of the eighth commandment, and is unconscious of any moral or religious feeling; but he will readily engage a boy trained in one of these district schools, as he is tolerably sure of getting thence an intelligent well behaved lad. Nothing can be better than the training of the children in these large establishments. I am aware it is costly, but it is cheaper than allowing them to become thieves or paupers, or prostitutes, as was the case formerly. When I see these shoeless half-starved Arabs turning somersaults in the streets, I long to send them to a district school, whence I would warrant to turn them out in two years worth at least 6*s*. or 7*s*. a week. The girls in these schools are all taught to wash, to sew, to cook, to clean, in short to do all that is usually required of a maid servant; the boys are accustomed to labour, and their intellectual instruction alone is sufficient to enable them to write good hands, to keep accounts with accuracy, and thus they often become clerks, telegraph assistants, and many are turned out as musicians into the army and navy as previously observed.

Character of able-bodied inmate of workhouse.

I have continually made inquiry from the masters of workhouses respecting the character of the able-bodied inmates, and the almost invariable answer is, that they are the idlest and most disreputable characters in their parishes. In other words, they cannot get employment, not because there is no employment to be had, but because they cannot furnish intelligent efficient labour. Some years ago I inquired into the educational condition of all the adult paupers in the 12 East Kent Union Workhouses. Their number was 1,050, of whom only 4 could read and write well; 297 could both read and write either decently or imperfectly, and 474 could neither read nor write.

Intellectual condition of able-bodied pauper.

Sir J. Kay Shuttleworth made a similar inquiry into the intellectual condition of the 1,675 adults, who were then in the 27 Unions of Norfolk and Suffolk, when it came out that only 10 could read and write well, 281 could both read and write either decently or imperfectly, and 928 could neither read nor write.

With such facts before us, I think it impossible to doubt that the real cause of the destitution and forced idleness which we see around us is not the absence of work, but the absence of the training, the intelligence, the ability, and will to work, which all employers require in those they engage; and this conclusion is confirmed by incidental facts, that often come under my notice.

Difficulty of training uneducated children of advanced age.

When boys or girls 12 or 13 years of age, who have been running wild in the streets, come into the pauper schools, there is always great difficulty in disposing of them. It is well established, that it is one of the hardest of labours to train and educate a child of that age, who has never been previously subjected to any sort of discipline, and when I have made inquiries respecting children who, having been a year or less in a good pauper school, have subsequently fallen into vice or crime, I have generally found that they have entered the school at 12 or 13 thoroughly demoralized, and the ordinary routine of such a school has not been sufficient to train and moralize them.

Such children ought to be sent to a reformatory, when the discipline of what is termed the "family system" can be applied to them. The management of pauper schools is not adapted for criminal children of an advanced age; though when they are received under 10 years of age there is a tolerable certainty that they will be converted into honest hard-working members of society.

In saying that the country is suffering rather from a deficiency of workpeople than a surplus, and that that deficiency is yearly becoming greater, I quite recognize the truth of the statement by the Registrar General in his last report that "the English race is multiplying with unabated velocity." But the demand on the race increases with a still greater velocity. In 1840 the export and import trade of the country fell short of 100 millions in value; last year it exceeded 450 millions, and the internal trade has doubtless increased in at least an equal ratio. It may be doubted whether the surplus population, which was so much complained of some years ago, was not in great measure fictitious, but at any rate now, when every well-trained pauper child so readily obtains employment, I cannot doubt that what is really wanted is not employment or emigration, but a more general system of education.

I have, &c.

No. 20.

EDUCATION OF PAUPER CHILDREN.—REPORT, for the year 1868, of T. B. BROWNE, Esq., on the WESTERN DISTRICT.

SIR, January 1869.

Improvement in education in many instances.

I CAN speak very favourably, in many instances, of the state of the schools in the Western district. In fact it rarely happens that schools are bad when the teachers are really competent. The difference, however, between one workhouse school and another is extraordinary; some schools are as good as can reasonably be expected or desired, and a few so bad that the instruction given can hardly have any practical result. The reason is, that the teachers in such schools are unequal to their work. The supply of good teachers is probably not equal to the demand; and when there is a vacancy, the most eligible candidate is not always appointed. I think indeed that there is a tendency to improvement in the qualifications of teachers, and also a strong desire, in many instances, to appoint only well-qualified persons. But it is evident that the present system of education for pauper children is too limited, and requires extension, inasmuch as there are many of the class who are not reached, although their claims are fully equal to those of others. Children belonging to the same class, and under the same circumstances, are well educated in one Union and entirely neglected in another.

Want of uniformity in the administration of the Poor Laws.

A general measure for the education of pauper children throughout the country can hardly, I think, be universally applicable without an uniform administration of the Poor Laws by Boards of Guardians. There are still several Unions without workhouses, and in many others the number of inmates bears so small a proportion to the population, that it is evident the workhouse test of destitution cannot be properly carried out.

A great outlay not justifiable unless necessary.

A great outlay for educational purposes cannot, I conceive, be justified unless it is clearly necessary, and from the nature of the case, this supposed necessity may admit of doubt. If a test be demanded as to what the cost of the education of pauper children should be, I think it may be answered that, after subtracting the cost of maintenance and clothing for each child, and a sum equal to the amount of a grant to a national school under similar circumstances, the educational expense should not be more than what an independent labourer can afford to pay for his child's schooling.

What can be done with existing means.

It has always appeared to me very important, in the education of pauper children, to ascertain what can be done with existing means, before asking for any great outlay or change of system; as I believe that what is practicable is often more than is commonly anticipated, and also that an alleged want of money is sometimes made an excuse for shortcomings which might be attributed to other causes.

District schools considered.

The establishment of district schools throughout the country for the education of pauper children has been often urged, but it is probable that the measure would disappoint expectations unless it can be shown:—

I. That it would be sufficiently extensive to meet the educational destitution of the country.

II. That it could be accomplished at a reasonable expense, and without showing undue favour to the pauper class, or to one Union rather than another; and

III. That the desired results cannot be attained by more economical, or already existing means.

Reports, &c.

I. District schools, formed for the benefit of the pauper children who might happen at the time to be in the workhouses, would be applicable to few, comparatively, of the pauper class, and those few, in many cases, arbitrarily selected. It appears from the Appendix, No. 45, to the twentieth annual report of the Poor Law Board, London, 1868, that on the 1st July 1867, in 655 Unions in England and Wales, 332,043 children were relieved, of whom 48,431 were in-door, and 283,612 out-door, or relieved out of the workhouse. If the administration of the Poor Laws were uniform, it might be inferred that the children within the workhouse, and absolutely under control, had the first claim to be considered, but it will immediately be evident that children who would be admitted into the workhouse in one Union are constantly excluded from it in another. The anomalies resulting from different modes of management are extraordinary, and far greater than most persons would anticipate. I take the cases of two Unions in the same county, and with a population very nearly equal at the census of 1861. Cardiff Union at that time contained a population of 58,285. Neath, in the same county of Glamorgan, a population of 58,533. The Cardiff Guardians have built a separate school for their pauper children at Ely, near Cardiff. On the 22d July last I counted at the Ely schools 248 children present. Some of these came from Merthyr Tydfil Union, but I believe that about 220 belonged to Cardiff alone. At the Neath workhouse, on the 9th October last, 35 children only were present in school. The Cardiff Guardians therefore educate rather more than six children for each child educated by the Neath Guardians. The education given in the Cardiff schools at Ely is also incomparably better than that in the Neath workhouse. Again at Atcham, with a population of 19,314 at the last census, 64 children were present in school on the 1st of May last, while at the neighbouring town of Shrewsbury, with a population of 25,784, only 30 children were present in the workhouse school on the 17th of June. In Wales the variations in the administration of the Poor Laws are equally striking. Thus at Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire, with a population of 21,699, the number of children present in school on the 22d September was 48 ; at Machynlleth, in the same county, with a population of 12,395, there were only eight children present on the 3d June who went out to school, but not one of them could read, or work an easy sum in simple addition. Mr. Doyle, Poor Law Inspector, sometime since went carefully through the Machynlleth out-door relief list, and found that there were many children who might have been admitted into the workhouse with advantage, if the Guardians could have been induced to alter their system, and organize a school within the workhouse for a considerable number of children, as in the other Montgomeryshire Unions ; this, however, was not done. At Cardigan again, with a population of 18,585, there were only six children in school on the 1st October. In this instance, as the teacher has not obtained a certificate, no salary is paid from the Parliamentary grant.

If district schools were formed for the children now in the workhouses only, some unions would be unduly favoured, and others neglected.

Many other examples might be given of the variation in the per-centage of children educated in different Unions on the population of each Union ; I conceive, however, that the contrast can hardly be greater than that between Atcham and Cardigan, as the Atcham Guardians give a really good education to 10 in 3,000 of their population, the Cardigan Guardians an education little more than nominal to one only in the same number. These variations, however, cannot be taken as stereotyped and permanent, for at Whitchurch, Salop, on the 7th March 1867, there was no school in the workhouse, and I saw only six children, out of a population of 11,272; whereas, on the 15th October 1868, I found a school organized, and 25 children present. As a proof of the ignorance of the new comers, and of the educational destitution of the out-door pauper class, it may be mentioned that one only of these 25 children could read fairly. The ignorance of the Birkenhead children when a school was first formed in that workhouse for pauper children was similar; and it may be safely said that the state of the children, is seldom or never found to be satisfactory at the first visit after the opening of a school in any workhouse. The same remark applies to schools of long standing, when owing to temporary distress in any given district, there is a considerable influx of new comers. These are generally extremely ignorant, children 12 or 13 years of age, or even more, being often unable to read, and unacquainted with the simplest truths of christianity.

Variations in the per-centage of children educated in different unions.

Estimate of the numbers of pauper children requiring education.

An estimate of the number of pauper children who should be educated by Boards of Guardians, if the administration of the Poor Laws were uniform throughout the country, may be obtained by observing the proportion to the population of the children already educated in a well-managed Union, such as that of Atcham, not distinguished by exceptional features. The Atcham Guardians, as I have said, educate in the workhouse about 10 in 3,000 of their population. Taking the present population of England and Wales at twenty millions, the number of pauper children who ought to be educated in the workhouses must considerably exceed 60,000 at the same rate, whereas the daily average number of children attending workhouse, separate, and district schools in England and Wales during the half year ending at Lady-day 1867 was only 36,282, or not much more than half what it ought to be.

There are, however, Unions where the percentage on the population of children who attend school is higher than it is at Atcham, and when the very large number of pauper children receiving out-door relief is considered, it is probable that there are at least 100,000 children in England and Wales who must be educated at the public expense or not at all.

II. If district schools were organized for the numbers of children now in the workhouses only, and no more, the children in the well-managed Unions would be favoured, while those in Unions where there are no workhouses, or where the Guardians admit as few as possible into the workhouse, would be neglected without any fault of their own. The real educational destitution of the country can only be ascertained by proceeding on recognized general principles, and no measure for its relief could be permanently satisfactory, if based on an exceptional and capricious administration of the Poor Laws in certain places. I conceive that those Unions in which the Poor Laws are best administered can alone be relied upon to furnish a true test of the pauperism of the country, and of the number of children requiring education at the public expense. The total number of out-door pauper children relieved is evidently too large to be taken into consideration, and might probably be materially reduced, without any inhumanity, by the uniform application of the workhouse test, as it is already applied in many Unions. But it would certainly seem that the percentage of children at school in the workhouse on the population of a well-managed Union, is the lowest estimate which can safely be taken, especially as it would include no out-door pauper children in the Union in question, and others equally well managed. If, as I believe, there would be at least 60,000 children in the workhouses of England and Well administered unions only furnish a true test of the pauperism of the country.

Wales under a good and uniform system of management, it follows that education must necessarily be provided for that number at the public expense. There are already six district schools, attended in 1867 by 3,343 children. In addition to these, there are several separate schools wholly apart from the workhouses, and possessing all the supposed advantages of district schools, which have been formed for the pauper children of Liverpool, Manchester, Leeds, Cardiff, Newport, and other Unions. 10,000 children may possibly be educated at district or separate schools in England and Wales. I am obliged to give numbers which are only an approximation, as it cannot be safely assumed that all schools called separate are really such. Some are so near the workhouse that communication with adult paupers may be practicable, while the children are continually reminded by the objects before their eyes that they are still paupers. District schools, if established, would probably be required for about 50,000 children, and the cost can hardly be estimated at less than 25*l.* per head. I believe that the building of the separate schools for the pauper children of Liverpool, Manchester, and Leeds cost a much larger sum per head. The total expense, therefore, for such a number would amount at the least to 1,250,000*l.*, exclusive of the cost of the land.

Probable cost of district schools.

III. The question will naturally be asked, cannot pauper children be satisfactorily educated without so large an outlay? I think that the experience of more than 20 years justifies an answer in the affirmative. They have been, and they are, in many instances, satisfactorily educated without a district school. In my report for the year 1867 I mentioned many workhouses in which the children are well-taught and managed, and in many instances the children are known to turn out well and to earn their own living after they leave the workhouse. I believe that children educated in a workhouse will often bear a fair comparison with those educated in a district school, both as to their general education and their subsequent good conduct. Thus the South-east Salop district school and the Atcham workhouse may very fairly be compared, as both are situated in an agricultural district and in the same county, and both well managed.

Pauper children are, and have long been, well educated without district schools.

It is, doubtless, injurious to children that they should be in the same building with adult paupers, however complete the classification may be, but when very large numbers of pauper children are collected together, some of them must be of depraved habits and familiar with vice, and association with such is necessarily injurious to the others. Very large assemblages of girls especially, are unfeminine. It is not possible to bring up children in ignorance of vice, and if it were possible it would be an uncertain benefit in such a world as ours. The influence of a good teacher is strong enough, with the divine blessing, to overcome the corruptions of a workhouse or of a district school, though not in all cases, nor is there any ground for expecting that universal success is practicable anywhere. But it may be said, that the services of good teachers are more easily secured in a district or separate school than in a workhouse. This is, perhaps, true, though by no means always, as I have reason to know. There were many changes of teachers in the Liverpool, Manchester, and Leeds separate schools during the years when I inspected the Northern district; some were dissatisfied with their position, and some were ill qualified for their work. All schools in a fairly arranged workhouse would be good if the appointment of good teachers could be everywhere secured. But good teachers are not always to be found, and sometimes those in whom the appointment is vested do not appear to know whether a teacher is good or bad, and occasionally, perhaps, do not care.

Defective classification mischievous, also large assemblages of girls in one building.

(B.) Reports, &c.

Many children require education;

It would seem that the cost of the children per head in a district school is likely to be greater than in an average workhouse, but it is not clear that such excess is inevitable, and the cases in which it has occurred may be exceptional only. A much smaller sum than would be required to build district schools throughout England and Wales would educate, if all workhouse schools were fully attended, a far greater number of pauper children than could be accommodated in those district schools.

District schools would do much for the few, nothing for the many.

The obvious tendency of the district school, even when best managed, is to accomplish much for the few, whereas the pauper children destitute of education are many. Children will only be sent at stated times to a district school at a distance, and some, for various reasons, may not be sent at all. There is great fluctuation among the inmates of a workhouse, but this is no reason why the short timers should be wholly neglected. If they stay at school but a few weeks they may still be taught something useful to them, which they are likely to retain, and which, subsequently, may be used as a stepping-stone to further knowledge.

No saving in salaries can be expected by forming district schools.

If district schools were generally established, it does not appear that any material saving could be effected in the salaries of teachers as a set-off against the cost of the buildings. It is probable indeed that the salaries of the teachers, in such event, might be rather higher than they now are in workhouses for every child taught. Thus there were in 1867 in six district schools 3,343 children, and the salaries paid to teachers amounted to 3,455*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.*, or somewhat more than 1*l.* per head. The salaries paid for teaching 32,939 children in the same year in workhouses amounted to 30,661*l.* 13*s.*, or rather less than 1*l.* per head. It should be observed that the cost of teaching per head in several workhouses is higher than it ought to be, because the attendance of children is very small. The reason of this in most cases must be, that the Guardians prefer to maintain a large out-door relief list, and do not carry out the workhouse test of destitution. Such a state of things cannot be accepted as permanent. It is reasonable to anticipate that the true principles of Poor Laws will, in time, be better understood, and that Guardians generally will follow the example of the well-managed Unions. But there were in 1867 in England and Wales 51 workhouses, in which the average attendance of children was less than 20. The payments to teachers in these 51 instances were naturally above the average, and appear to have amounted to 1,128*l.* 17*s.* 5*d.*, for teaching only 740 children, at a cost of rather more than 30*s.* per head. There are other Unions in which the school attendance is less than it should be, and there are also several without schools altogether. Whenever the Poor Laws are uniformly well administered, it may be anticipated that a larger number of children will be educated in workhouses at a smaller cost per head, as one competent teacher is capable of instructing 50 children.

District schools desirable for large towns.

I conceive that it is always desirable to remove children out of large towns, and that, wherever there is a dense population on a small area, a district school can be formed with advantage. Thus at Plymouth there are four workhouses only three or four miles apart, those for the Plymouth, Stoke Damerel, and East Stonehouse Unions, and the workhouse for the St. German's Union at Torpoint. There are also unusual facilities for training boys from the four Unions disposed to go to sea, on board one of the hulks in the harbour. All the remaining children from the four Unions might, I believe, be easily instructed in the Stoke Damerel workhouse, if it were appropriated to the children alone, and the present adult inmates transferred to the three other workhouses. Again, the Bristol and Clifton workhouses are both in the country, and only about two miles apart; it would seem to be an easy arrangement to transfer all the children belonging to both Unions, and attending the schools, to one of the two workhouses, and all the adult inmates to the other.

Instance of the mischievous influence of a mother.

The greatest evil attendant upon the education of pauper children has not yet, I think, been made sufficiently prominent, although it is an evil incident to district schools, unless they are reserved exclusively for orphans, as much as to schools in workhouses. It is apparent, from the admission and discharge books kept by the teachers of pauper children, that a very large proportion of them, probably a majority throughout the country, are taken from the workhouse by their parents, and oftener by the mother than by the father. As a great many of these children are illegitimate, association with the mother in such cases can seldom be otherwise than injurious to them. The mischievous influence of the mother may even ruin those who have obtained good situations, and appeared likely to do well. Thus at Exeter, where the schools are very good, and where the Guardians take a remarkable degree of interest in the education and training of the children, I was told, not long since, that a girl, thought well of, was sent by the Guardians, provided with good clothes, to a respectable situation in the city. She conducted herself satisfactorily for about a month, when she told her mistress that her mother wanted her, and she must leave. She was urged to stay, but in vain. Her mother took her on a tramp to Plymouth, pawned her good clothes, and in a short time the girl presented herself again at the workhouse, destitute. There is no reason for thinking that if this girl had been educated at a district school the result would have been different. I remember meeting a young man, whom I had known as a pupil teacher at Kirkdale, in a ragged and miserable condition in the streets of Liverpool, and other failures, not merely of ordinary children but of pupil teachers, might be mentioned.

A good teacher likely to succeed anywhere, and a bad one to fail.

No buildings, no system, can always ensure success, but a man whose heart is in his work, and who thoroughly understands it, is likely to succeed, in many cases, almost anywhere. Religious education, especially, is often very good in workhouse schools. In some instances it is not what it might be from a want of method in the teacher. The questions are not sufficiently close and searching; important passages are hastily passed over without being understood, or the children are harangued instead of being questioned. Haranguing seems always to weary children, and they grow listless and inattentive. Sometimes a scriptural lesson degenerates into a lesson on geography or antiquities. Sometimes the questions are so shaped that they can be answered precisely in the words of the book, without an effort at thought on the part of the child. But I believe that the religious lesson, when well-conducted, is the best test of the teacher, and more beneficial to the children, in all respects, than any other. When they are led, in answer to judicious questions, so shaped as to require thought, to utter great moral and religious truths out of their own mouths, an impression is made, at least in many cases, which can hardly be produced by the words of another. I conceive that a boy is not so likely to lie or steal, who has plainly and often condemned lying and stealing himself. The religious difficulty is not felt in Union schools. It is certain that many children have never received, and were not likely to receive religious instruction of any value elsewhere. Though much remains to be done, something has been done, and the regulation of the Poor Law Board, now acted upon for many years, that pauper children shall be instructed in "reading, writing, arithmetic, and the principles of the Christian religion, and such other "instruction shall be imparted to them as may fit them for service, "and train them to habits of usefulness, industry, and virtue," has borne fruit.

Education of Pauper Children.—Report, for the year 1868, of E. H. Wodehouse, Esq., on the Northern District.

Sir, 10th February 1869.

Statistics relating to Poor Law schools in the Northern District.

I stated in my last annual Report that out of the 167 Unions comprised in my district 111 had schools in receipt of aid from the parliamentary grant during the year ended on the 25th of March 1867. For the following year, ended on the 25th of March 1868, the number continued the same, the only alterations in this respect being, that the school formerly carried on in the Glossop Union Workhouse was discontinued, and the children were sent out to school, while on the other hand a school was organised in the Marland workhouse belonging to the Rochdale Union, and the children who were formerly sent out to school received instruction in the workhouse.

The schools in these 111 Unions were divided into the following departments, viz. :—

|---|---|
| Boys' schools | 58 |
| Girls' schools | 59 |
| Infant schools | 10 |
| Mixed schools under a schoolmistress | 46 |
| „ under a schoolmaster | 7 |
| „ under a master and mistress | 1 |
| Total | 181 |

The total number of departments, therefore, was 181, or one less than in the year ended on the 25th March 1867. The principal changes that occurred during the ensuing year were as follows : In the Glanford Brigg Union a mixed school under a schoolmistress was substituted for separate boys' and girls' schools, the numbers not being sufficient to justify the employment of two teachers. In the Prescot Union a schoolmistress was appointed, and the boys and girls were taught separately instead of, as was formerly the case, in a mixed school under a schoolmaster. In the Stockton Union the boys and girls were formerly taught together under a master and mistress, but upon a change of teachers taking place the children were divided into two separate schools.

There has been an increase of three in the staff of teachers employed, the numbers being 201 against 198 in the preceding year. Of these 201 teachers, 75 were schoolmasters and 126 schoolmistresses. This increase is owing to the appointment of assistant teachers in schools, in which the numbers were too large to be adequately controlled and instructed by one person. The following table shows the different classes of certificates which were awarded to the teachers in my district, together with the number of those who declined examination or failed to obtain a certificate.

Number of children in attendance, and amount paid for their education out of the parliamentary grant.

The aggregate of the average number of children in attendance during the four quarters preceding my visit to each school was 8,720 as against 8,248 in the preceding year, showing an increase of 472. The amount paid from the parliamentary grant in the form of teachers' salaries was at the rate of 6,272*l.* 16*s.* 0*d.* per annum, while a further sum at the rate of 1,231*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.* was paid in aid of the salaries of industrial instructors. The sums paid under these two heads in the preceding year were at the rate of 6,165*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* and 1,186*l.* 4*s.* 0*d.* respectively. The total amount paid during the year ended at Lady-day 1868 was at the rate of 7,504*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.* against 7,351*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* in the preceding year, showing an increase of 152*l.* 16*s.* 8*d.* If, however, the sum be compared with the average number of children in attendance, it will appear that the cost per head to the parliamentary grant, exclusive of the sum paid on account of industrial instructors, was 14·38 shillings as against 14·95 shillings in the preceding year, while, if that sum be included, the cost per head will be 17·21 shillings as against 17·82 shillings in the year ended at Lady-day 1867, showing a decrease of ·62 shillings, or more than 7*d.* per head.

In addition to the increase referred to above in the ordinary staff of teachers, a further increase occurred by the appointment of 16 young persons selected from the schools at Kirkdale as assistant teachers in lieu of the pupil teachers formerly employed there. These appointments were sanctioned by the Poor Law Board in 1867, and in July in that year 7 out of the 16 received certificates of permission or probation. The system has hitherto worked very satisfactorily. The teachers were given the benefit of their certificates from 1st January 1867, and their certificates being raised in the following year to the 2d class of probation, they were all enabled to lay by during the two years a sum sufficient to defray their expenses during the ordinary term of residence in a training college. They accordingly presented themselves as candidates at the examinations held at Christmas 1868, when six out of the seven obtained Queen's scholarships and have since entered a training college. The unsuccessful candidate will remain at Kirkdale for another year. If these appointments had not been sanctioned by the Poor Law Board it would have been necessary to make a considerable addition to the permanent staff of teachers, which would have entailed a considerable increase of expense without a corresponding increase of efficiency.

Cost of education of pauper children in separate schools at Liverpool, Manchester, and Leeds.

Public attention having recently been attracted to the cost of educating pauper children in district or separate schools, it may be useful to state what is the actual cost at the present time of the children who are being educated in three of the large separate schools in my district.

In the Kirkdale Industrial Schools the average attendance during the year ended the 25th of March 1868 was 1,290. The total cost per head for the maintenance and education of the children was 13*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.*, of which 7*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* was due to food and clothing (neither bedding nor medicine being included under this head), and 5*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* to other charges. The schools and land are the property of the vestry, who therefore pay nothing in the shape of rent. The original cost of the land and buildings was about 30,000*l.

In the Swinton Industrial Schools belonging to the township of Manchester the weekly cost per head for the half year ended 25th March 1868 was 5*s.* 7¾*d.* The cost per head for food was 2*s.* 1⅝*d.*, for clothing 3½*d.*, and for necessaries 3⅛*d.* The cost per head for establishment charges, including the annual rent of 250*l.* paid for the land on which the schools stand, and for the farm attached to them, was 2*s.* 11⅛*d.* The original cost incurred in the erection of the buildings was about 58,000*l.*

Proposed district school in South Lincolnshire.

In the Leeds Industrial Schools the weekly cost per head for the half year ended at Michaelmas 1868 was 7*s.* 7¼*d.*, of which 3*s.* 7*d.* was due to food and clothing, and 4*s.* 0¼*d.* to establishment charges. The guardians have no land or buildings for which they pay rent, and the original cost of the land and school buildings was 16,134*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.*

I adverted in my last report to a proposal which had then been recently made for the formation of a district school in South Lincolnshire. I have learned with much regret, that serious difficulties have arisen which have hitherto prevented that scheme from being carried out. The consent in writing of two thirds of the Guardians in each of the six unions comprised in the district having after considerable delay and difficulty been obtained, the Poor Law Board in February 1868 issued an order, combining these Unions into a district to be termed the "Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire School District," and a board of managers was duly constituted. Very shortly, however, after the managers had met and a site had been selected, the representatives of several of the Unions comprised in the district expressed a desire to abandon the scheme on the ground that the expense entailed by the erection of the schools would be larger than they had at first anticipated. On 3d December 1868 a resolution was passed by the board of managers to the effect that communications should be entered into with the Poor Law Board in order to ascertain what modifications they might be willing to make in their requirements with a view to reducing the cost of the schools. A modified and reduced estimate was subsequently framed, but up to the present time little or nothing beyond the selection of a site has been done towards the erection of the schools, and I am informed that three out of the six Unions are still desirous of abandoning the scheme.

* No payments on account of the new infant schools at Kirkdale are included in this statement as they were not occupied during any part of the year.

Slow growth of district school system.

I fear that the difficulties which have arisen in this case afford a very fair criterion of the difficulties which are likely to stand in the way of the formation of district schools in other parts of the country. Before the close of the present year a quarter of a century will have elapsed since the legislature by the passing of the 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101. enabled the Poor Law Board to sanction the combination of several neighbouring Unions for the purposes of a district school. With the exception, however, of the schools in the neighbourhood of London, in which the children of the metropolitan Unions are educated, only three district schools have been built since the passing of that Act, while the number of Unions comprised in those three districts amounts only to nine. Nor can it be said that any serious doubts have in the meantime been cast upon the expediency of this mode of educating pauper children. On the contrary, evidence has accumulated in its favour. Not only in the reports of my colleagues has this system been advocated, but a Royal Commission presided over by the late Duke of Newcastle, a Select Committee of the House of Commons, and the Poor Law Board in their last annual Report, have alike concurred in recommending its extension. Nor has the opposition of the Guardians of the Poor been based upon any doubts as to the advantages of the system, but has arisen, if not in all instances at least in the large majority, from a reluctance to burden the rates with the immediate outlay which the erection of the schools necessarily entails.

Proposed method of encouraging its extension.

It becomes, therefore, matter of serious moment to consider whether steps may not be taken with a view to overcoming this reluctance. What I would myself venture to advocate is that a portion of the cost of building these schools should be transferred from the local rate to the Consolidated Fund. I believe that sound arguments may be advanced in support of this proposition on the ground of principle as well as on that of expediency.

Proposal justified on the ground of principle;

As a matter of principle it surely is an anomaly that, while large sums of public money are annually expended in the shape of building grants for the erection of schools for the children of the independent poor, no similar aid should be afforded by the state for the building of schools for children who are not merely poor but paupers. It may, perhaps, be objected that the building grants of the Committee of Council on Education are devoted to buildings appropriated solely to educational purposes, whereas district schools are establishments in which not education merely but in-door relief in the shape of food, clothing, and shelter are provided for pauper children; but inasmuch as these establishments necessarily entail the erection of schoolrooms and residences for school teachers, (buildings identical in their nature with those towards the erection of which state aid is afforded by the Committee of Council on Education), it appears to me that the ratepayers, who contribute towards their erection by means of compulsory rates, have at least an equal claim to state assistance with those who subscribe voluntarily towards the erection of schools for the children of the independent poor.

and also on that of expediency.

As a matter of expediency the system which I am advocating may be supported on the ground that the sum annually granted by the state in the shape of salaries to workhouse school teachers might be largely reduced by means of the extension of the district school system. The high cost of the education of pauper children in the smaller workhouses has been frequently pointed out, and was made the subject of special comment by the Poor Law Board in their last annual Report. It may, however, be useful to illustrate the subject further by comparing the annual cost to the parliamentary grant of the children in the six Unions comprised in the proposed "Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire School District" with that of the children in one of the large separate schools in my district, viz., the Swinton Industrial Schools.

In making this comparison it is fair to exclude the sums paid in aid of the salaries of industrial instructors, because while in the Swinton schools there is a large and efficient staff of such instructors, in the Lincolnshire schools there is only one candidate for this grant, namely, a gardener in the Boston Union, on whose account the Guardians receive an annual payment of 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* The amount paid from the parliamentary grant for the year ended at Lady-day 1868, on account of the salaries of teachers employed in the six Unions comprised in the proposed school district, was at the rate of 350*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* per annum, while the average attendance at the schools was 338. The cost per head, therefore, to the parliamentary grant was more than 1*l.* 0*s.* 8¾*d.* The sum paid on account of the Swinton school teachers during the same period was at the rate of 234*l.* per annum, while the average number of children in attendance was 451. The cost per head, therefore, in this case was less than 10*s.* 0½*d.*, or less than one half of that of the children educated in the six schools comprised in the proposed school district.

Making, therefore, ample allowance for an increased grant on account of industrial teachers, which it must be remembered would be accompanied by a far more than proportionate increase in the efficiency of the industrial instruction imparted, it appears probable that the sum annually voted by Parliament for the purposes of pauper education might, by the general adoption of the district school system, be reduced by at least one third, which would amount to an annual saving of more than 10,000*l.* I submit, therefore, that under these circumstances an immediate outlay of public money, in the shape of building grants to district schools, may be justified on the ground of expediency as well as on that of principle. At any rate the experience of the last twenty years has shown that the spread of district schools is not likely under the existing system to be rapid; and I can only express a hope that means may be devised, which will render the intentions of the legislature in this respect more fruitful in the future than they have proved to be in the past.

SIR, 16th January 1869.

I HAVE the honour to present my final Report on the works commenced and executed under the provisions of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts, 1863–64.

I now beg to add an abstract of the accounts and of the works as executed, with full tabulated statements setting forth in detail all the particulars of the loans, works, and repayments made up to the 31st March 1868. Additional information of a general character is also given.

ABSTRACT OF ACCOUNTS AND WORKS.

The amounts devoted to these Acts by Parliament are as under :—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Act 1863 : Amount | - | £1,500,000 at 3½ per cent. |
| „ 1864 „ | - - | 350,000 „ |
| TOTAL | - - | £1,850,000 |

The loan to extend to 30 years.

On the 1st January 1865 there had been 155 separate loans ; the total amounting to 1,846,082*l.*

In 20 towns and parishes parts of the loans sanctioned have been abandoned, amounting to the sum of 79,567*l.*

The total sum taken up amounts to 1,768,515*l.*

The six Tables annexed to this Report exhibit what has been done under these Acts with regard to the execution of the works.

Table I. sets forth details of the 155 loans which had received the sanction of the Poor Law Board, with the names of the boroughs, parishes, townships, and districts to which loans have been advanced ; the local authority from which the application has issued ; the date of the Poor Law Board's order, together with a statement of the character of the works proposed to be executed, and the estimated cost of the same, amounting together to 1,846,082*l.*

Table II. shows the total amount granted to each place ; the amount of separate loans ; the amount of instalments advanced ; the date of advance, and the amount of loans and residue of loans which will not be taken up.

Of the total amount 1,846,082*l.* for which borrowing powers had been given by the Poor Law Board to the local authorities, advances to the amount of 1,766,515*l.* have been sanctioned under the authority of 426 sealed orders, up to the 31st March 1868.

In November 1867 letters were sent to the local authorities in all those places that had not wholly taken up their loans, asking if it was their intention to do so ; and, from the replies I have received, it appears that the following sums, amounting to 79,567*l.*, will not be required by the (twenty) 20 local authorities herein named.

Table III. shows the quantities of sewerage, street, and highway works, together with the cubical contents (in millions of gallons) of the impounding reservoirs, all of which works have been executed, or nearly so, in respect of the sums placed in the first three columns of Table I. With reference to the character of the works undertaken, the larger portion of the expenditure has been upon sewerage and street improvement works, including the formation, paving, flagging, channelling, and kerbing of streets, and also the widening, reforming, and improvement of highways in the rural districts.

Of the 1,768,515*l.* advanced to the local authorities, 358,514*l.* has been expended on sewerage works, and 813,007*l.* on road and street improvement, making 1,171,521*l.* as a total.

The cubical contents of the reservoirs forming the storage of the waterworks which have been undertaken for the several towns in the district in respect of the sum of 414,629*l.*, represents an aggregate of 1,480,675,000. This is equivalent to 20 gallons per head, during 100 days, to 740,337 persons.

Table IV. shows the total quantities of the sewerage, street, and highway works together, with references to all the works executed under the provisions of these Acts, to the 28th March 1868.

The total length of main sewerage and street drainage executed to that date is } Lineal yards, 703,088, or 399½ miles.

The number of houses that have been drained in connection with the above sewerage works is (March 1868) 30,233. But this work is in progress, and will be largely added to.

The total area of paving and other surface-works of streets and highways completed to the same date (March 1868) is } Superficial yards, 3,852,625, or nearly 796 acres.

The Loans were closed, and the works completed in the following 55 places, on 30th March 1868.

At Burnley, Glossop, Manchester, Oswaldtwistle, Tintwistle, and Wigan, the waterworks are completed.

At Bolton, Ashton-under-Lyne, and Stalybridge, the waterworks are rapidly progressing towards completion.

The public parks at Bolton, Blackburn, Oldham, and Preston, have been opened to the public.

The public cemeteries at Bury, Dukinfield, Manchester, and Macclesfield are all, either entirely or in part, now open for burials.

The total amount expended (as will be seen on referring to Table IV.) under the provisions of these Acts to the 28th March 1868 was 1,628,747*l.* 9*s.* 1½*d.*

Works of river improvement, devised and executed under the powers of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts 1863–64, have already proved of great local utility in preventing nuisance at all times, by presenting a regulated, cleaned, and paved waterway, where before all was irregularity and obstructed filth; and in affording more ready escape for storm-waters, as shown in the following instances:—

A great flood occurred on the 16th of November 1866, causing much local damage at Lower Broughton, Salford, Manchester, and in some other places; such flood would have caused injury both in the borough of Bolton and in the town of Bacup, but for the works of river improvements effected under the Public Works Act.

All streams and rivers in England are subject to wide variations from dry-weather flow up to the full volume of an extreme flood. The dry-weather flow from some districts (to use an illogical form of expression) may be described as "a minus quantity." From other areas it will vary from a quarter to a half cube foot of water per second from each 1,000 acres; and from some of these areas there may be a flood-water flow up to 400 cube feet per second from each 1,000 acres, the streams and rivers during such floods rising vertically up to 25 feet, and flooding large areas of low flat land in the country, and in towns flooding roads, streets, mills, and houses; one such flood causing great local damage to property, and necessarily heavy pecuniary losses. Watercourses flowing through towns should have obstructions removed, and the entire channel regularly formed by side-walls, and the bed paved so as to present a surface which may be scavenged during dry weather, and which floods shall be enabled to cleanse during local rain storms. Arching streams over within a manufacturing town area is not always advisable, for several reasons. A long river tunnel would confine and concentrate vapours which are constantly being dissipated if the stream is open, and however disagreeable the evaporating waterway may be, unceasing dilution over the entire area exposed prevents such injury as would take place by enforced concentration within a covered channel. The rivers flowing through Blackburn and Bolton have new side walls and paved beds. In Bolton there is a dry-weather channel, towards which the sides slope, and this is probably the best form for such class of river improvement. A prohibition against casting in of solids, an intercepting of sewage, and, as far as may be consistent with trade requirements, removing river obstructions, straightening, deepening, walling the sides, and pitching, that is, paving the beds, through towns, will improve the streams and rivers throughout Lancashire for all purposes; but so long as the present population and trade exist and work continues, absolute purity in streams used for manufacturing purposes cannot be obtained, but there may be great improvement, resulting in benefit to most parties. Some riparian owners must suffer; but, as a rule, there will be benefit in some other form, even to riparian landowners.

Evidence of the stimulus which has been given to the execution of works of sanitary improvement is afforded by observing the progress of such works under the new powers of the Public Works Acts, the rapid progress being indicated by the large number of streets improved, as, for instance:—In the borough of Oldham, during the year 1865, not less than 38 private streets, most of which up to this time had been impassable to wheeled vehicles in wet weather, were sewered, paved, flagged, adopted and declared highways; in Ashton-under-Lyne 13,004 lineal yards of such street works have been satisfactorily executed; in Blackburn 21,526 lineal yards; in Bolton 46,123 lineal yards; in Burnley 5,887 lineal yards; in Oldham 25,320 lineal yards; in Preston 29,119 lineal yards (paving only), the sewering having been previously executed in Preston.

Table V. contains a statement completed up to the 31st of March 1868, showing the sums repaid on each separate loan in reduction of principal moneys advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners. The amount repaid to that date is 134,280*l.* 13*s.* 10*d.* These repayments are of course being continued.

Table VI. contains a list of the prices of materials and labour at all the places in which works have been executed under the provisions of these Acts.

It may be necessary in this final report to recapitulate some of the views entertained by Mr. Villiers as to how this experiment of affording Government aid to the distressed cotton district could be carried out so as to improve the sanitary condition of the district; and, for the time, tend directly and indirectly to relieve local distress.

The idea of exacting labour in return for relief, in some form or other, is as old as our Poor Laws; enforced labour is probably as old as civilization. It certainly is as old as the Jewish nation, and we find that captivity (slavery) was practised by the nations of antiquity.

National Public Works have been established in modern times for several purposes, as to find employment for workmen in times of great stagnation of trade and local distress; or to carry out public works, such as new roads, and various forms of earth works.

The improvement of the sanitary condition of towns (suffering for the time under stagnation of trade) by the voluntary labour of the distressed men, at "work for wages," is in some degree new, though not altogether so, as local improvements have been carried out in different towns in England by labourers temporarily distressed, during some stagnation of local trade, but the work in such cases was not paid for by "measure and value," but at so much per day, being a modified sort of task work.

In these instances local subscriptions furnished the funds, and the work has usually been such as any ordinary day labourer could perform by spade and barrow. On these Lancashire Public Works, however, the tables show that varieties of works, some of which required, at their commencement, a combination of skilled and unskilled labour, were successfully commenced, and were carried out to completion, without depreciating any interest involved in the transaction.

It is in the fact that many of the cotton operatives in Lancashire so soon became skilled labourers that these works differ from those which were undertaken by distressed men at former times and in other places.

The idea of finding employment for the distressed cotton operatives in Lancashire had, during the winter of 1862 and the spring of 1863, been thrown out both in the locality, and by letters in the "Times." A Royal Commission to inquire into the question had also been partially formed, when Government considered it necessary to take more immediate action.

On the 29th April 1863, at the instance of the Right Honourable Charles Pelham Villiers, M.P., President of the Poor Law Board, I received special instructions from the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, to proceed forthwith to the distressed cotton manufacturing district, and there to communicate with the several local authorities, and then at once to proceed to inspect the towns and their suburbs so as to ascertain facts as to the state of main sewerage and as to the existing condition of the street surfaces ; to inspect the parish and township roads and also the condition of the lands adjoining ; to ascertain if public parks were required ; and generally to learn to what extent works of a sanitary character might be undertaken, upon which a per-centage of unskilled labour could at once be employed with advantage to the owners of property and the ratepayers in the distressed district.

The works were to be of public utility, as—

1. Town sewering and house draining.
2. Storage reservoirs for water supply.
3. Improving streets and roads.
4. Forming public parks, recreation grounds, or public cemeteries, &c.
5. Forming public markets.
6. Land drainage and improving waste lands.
7. River improvements, &c.

On the 1st May 1863 I left London for Manchester, and on the following day, in company with H. B. Farnall, Esq., C.B., special Commissioner from the Poor Law Board, visited Stockport, and on the 3d, Blackburn. Mr. Farnall and myself subsequently visited all the local authorities in company, until the passing of the "Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act," and the commencement of the works at the several places.

I reported as to the result of my preliminary inquiries and inspections to the President of the Poor Law Board on the 4th, 6th, and on the 8th of May 1863, and on the 30th ; again on the 12th June, and subsequently, at intervals, as the works proceeded. In September 1863 the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act had received the Royal Assent and upwards of 80 places had voluntarily adopted its provisions, and sanctions to loans under it had been given to the extent of 577,609*l.

Objections were taken in Lancashire to the proposed scheme of employing the distressed men on works, "because a time of local "distress was not favourable to commencing works by unskilled men to "be paid for out of local rates ; because it was considered by many of "the large manufacturers, that their unoccupied men could not with " any advantage execute such works, and that those who did work with " pick, spade, and barrow, would have their hands and fingers ruined " and their constitutions broken down under exposure; that necessarily " a large proportion of the money required would have to be paid to " skilled labourers other than distressed cotton operatives, and also that " other large sums of money would have to be expended on 'plant' and " materials."

The reply was, the able-bodied men out of work must either be maintained out of the poor's rates or by charity, or by rates and charity combined, and that a continuance of such relief would utterly demoralize the men.

I asserted that I knew by former experience that the best of the distressed cotton operatives both could and would soon learn to do a fair day's work for a reasonable day's wages, if paid in money and at short intervals.

Dividing the distressed men into small gangs, and assorting them as much as possible to assist skilled men, I stated, would alone answer.

An estimate, made out in detail, showed me that a sum of 1,500,000*l.* might be apportioned and expended as under:—For materials and land 798,645*l.*, for plant, tools, and superintendence 94,109*l.*, for skilled labour 175,490*l.*, for unskilled labour 431,756*l.*; or little more than one-fourth the whole sum appropriated by Parliament could be directly paid to the distressed men.

It was explained that these figures must be accepted if works of necessity and true utility were alone to be undertaken; but that in the cost of materials, skilled labour, plant, and superintendence, at the least two-thirds of the entire sum estimated for these contingencies would add relief by its expenditure in the distressed district, and would also employ much local labour in stone quarries, brick-yards, and in other ways. The sum of 431,756*l.*, it was explained, would pay 12,984 men 2*s.* 4*d.* per day for one year, each man working 285 days, and consequently earning at a rate of 33*l.* 15*s.* during such year.

The distressed men employed had been overlookers, weavers, spinners, card-room hands, warpers, piecers, twisters, sizers, dyers and bleachers, fustian cutters, roller coverers, hatters, and various other trades; the weekly wages earned, either by day's wages or by measure and value, varying from 12*s.* up to 20*s.* per man. As a rule, each man so employed represented a wife and three children, or five in family.

The tables show that about 400 miles of streets in Lancashire towns, and some other distressed towns in adjoining counties, have been sewered, and that nearly 800 acres of street area have been formed, flagged, channelled, and paved. The main sewers have been constructed on the most approved modern principles. Brick sewers are egg-shaped on cross section, having numerous side entrances and manholes, with moveable covers at the surface, and means for permanent ventilation (through charcoal) where considered necessary. The footwalks are kerbed and flagged; the side channels have small cast-iron gullies at short intervals, and the streets are, for the most part, paved with square sets.

The improved streets of Lancashire, if connected end to end, would form a roadway 400 miles in length, with paved surface, flagged sidewalks, side-channels, and sub-soil drainage such as no highway ever had; and the sewers in these streets have been formed as part of a general system in each district, and specially adapted for house drainage.

The increase of population in England and Wales during the century has been very great, as is shown in the tables extracted from the Census returns. The tendency of modern civilization is to mass manufacturing populations in towns which are situate upon, or in proximity to, water and coals; and the cotton trade in Lancashire, and the worsted and woollen trades in the West Riding of Yorkshire, are instances of it.

The rapid increase in the county, and especially in manufacturing town populations, caused a spread of new streets and houses over their suburbs, and frequently into adjoining districts. The older towns, as Manchester, Wigan, Bolton, Preston, and in some other towns, there were improvement commissioners, but many new large towns had grown up from mere parish or township villages since the commencement of the century, having no adequate form of local government. The Public Health Act, 1848, and Local Government Act, 1858, enabled these new places to establish local government, but most of the older towns, as well as many of the new towns, had declined to adopt these Acts under a mistaken dread of centralization; and as municipal governing powers or town commissioners' Acts of Parliament seldom extended local jurisdiction beyond the ancient boundaries, and the surrounding townships or parishes did not possess either municipal governing powers, or commissioners' special Acts of Parliament, the new roads and streets laid out by private persons could not legally be dealt with for purposes of main-sewering, street-forming, and paving; hence the wretched condition of so many miles of streets at the commencement of the cotton famine, and before these improvement works were executed. This state of neglect was not, however, peculiar to Lancashire. It was, and even now is, common to other manufacturing districts and trading towns in England and Wales, as Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Sheffield, Leeds, Bradford, Birmingham, Cardiff, and the metropolis. In the suburbs of London there are at this time many miles of new streets unformed, and upon the improvement of which hundreds of unskilled labourers might (as in Lancashire) have profitable employment found at "work for wages."

The Public Health Act, 1848, provided for local consolidation, wherever this Act was adopted; as also for compulsory sewering, forming and paving of new streets, under certain defined notices and regulations; but this Act required to be adopted; and, as previously stated, most of the town authorities in Lancashire steadily declined to take this course, because, as they asserted, the Act would bring them under centralization. My first duty on visiting Lancashire was, therefore, to wait upon the several local authorities and explain the mode of working under the Local Government Act, 1858 (which had incorporated and superseded the Public Health Act, 1848), and to advise Mr. Villiers as to the progress made.

Lancaster, Preston, and Wigan having adopted the Public Health Act, 1848, and having worked under its powers, these local authorities were appealed to as to their experience, and the replies being satisfactory, there was in most places an assent to adopt the Act if Government would aid the execution of works by a loan of money at a low rate of interest.

On carefully examining the several clauses of the Local Government Act, 1858, it became evident that even this Act required serious alterations and additions to adapt it to the exceptional circumstances which had arisen.

The Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863, embodies these alterations and amendments. In this Act new powers are granted, enabling public bodies, municipal corporations, town commissioners, and parish guardians, as also private individuals, to devise works of a beneficial character, and to borrow money from Government, at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., for their execution.

Each local authority arranged as to the work proposed to be executed, and their local surveyors prepared plans, sections, estimates, and details, as also superintended the execution of the works to their completion.

So soon as it was generally known that I had been sent to the distressed cotton district to report as to works, I received many suggestions as to public works. The writers thought Government might undertake such works as embanking out the sea at Morecombe Bay; draining and cultivating Chat Moss; forming a ship canal from Manchester to Liverpool, &c. My reply was that Government would not, in any case, devise public works; and as this power and responsibility would be left in the hands of the local authorities, all such schemes for employing the distressed labourers should be laid before the local authorities. There were also numerous applications for appointments, to which I gave a similar answer, namely, that the local authorities would alone devise works and employ labour, and therefore to these bodies all applications for situations should be made.

Government did not, in a single instance, attempt to do more than render pecuniary assistance, and this was only upon full security. In estimates which I prepared, it was shown that a large proportion of any money advanced would have to be expended on materials and on skilled labour; but as this was inevitable, if works of practical utility alone were undertaken, such works were sanctioned. It is of the utmost importance that this feature of the Lancashire public works should be rightly understood, as many advantages arose from these special conditions. The works were in or near the towns, and consequently, near the houses of the distressed men; and, as more or less of skilled labour was required, the unskilled men were divided and subdivided in the most effective manner. Street-forming required an amount of spade-work to remove the surplus material, and this work unskilled men could at once perform. Trenching for sewers required the combined action of skilled men to open and timber the trenches, but unskilled men could bring materials to the site and remove surplus earth; and so with other forms of work undertaken, At first the pick, the shovel, and the barrow galled the hands of men only accustomed to handling cotton thread; but the encouragement of the local authorities and local relief committees in continuing a subsidy to each man going to work for a space of six weeks, and the discriminating assistance of the central relief committee (with the Earl of Derby at its head) in granting suitable clothing to several thousand men, and waterproof boots to those who were required to work in wet ground, encouraged the men to persevere; and in a short time their hands hardened, whilst fresh air and exercise brought them into condition, enabling them to feel at ease instead of suffering stiffness and pain. Many of the men, in three months' time, increased in strength, and became comparatively skilled workmen, capable of executing sewer-trenching and other forms of earthwork requiring both skill and care.

The aim of Mr. Villiers in recommending advances of public money for the employment of able-bodied men out of work, was so to arrange the central administration that the local authorities should not be divested of their responsibility. The work offered to the men was not, however, to be "test" or "taskwork"; but work for wages, at prices fixed beforehand with the men, so that the payment made to each man, or to each gang of men, depended upon the actual measured amount of work done each day, week, or month, as the case might be.

Some of the local relief committees established co-operative shops, which were managed gratuitously, where the men could obtain food, such as bread, bacon, potatoes, &c., at wholesale prices.

The chief features to be considered in this experiment may again be reiterated.

Government provided legal machinery as simple and as effective as experience up to that time had indicated to be practicable.

Parliament set apart a sum of money (1,850,000*l.*, at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., repayable in 30 years) to be advanced, upon compliance with stipulated conditions, by instalments as the works proceeded.

Reports, &c.

Each local authority was authorized to devise works upon which to employ the able-bodied distressed labour of the district, and to superintend the same.

Plans and estimates required to be first approved by the Poor Law Board, before the proposed loan could be sanctioned, and then the money was advanced, upon the Poor Law Board's order, after inspection. This regulation was for the purpose of seeing that the works authorized were being proceeded with properly.

Reports were made, by myself, in each case to the Poor Law Board, on fresh applications from the local authorities for additional instalments of money; and "Orders" were issued by the Poor Law Board for such additional instalments, unless further information was required.

A public works office was temporarily established in Manchester, and one assistant inspector (Mr. R. A. Arnold) and one office clerk (Mr. Henry Mills) appointed.

The local inspections involved an examination of works executed, or in course of execution, and of the accounts of monies expended.

Plans of proposed works were in some cases rejected (such as, for instance, in the case of a new town hall in Bolton), and in many cases plans of main sewers and of waterworks were modified; but in no instance so as to remove the responsibility of their proper execution from the local authorities.

Up to this time, I am not aware of any failure in any of the works undertaken.

Sewering, forming, and paving the 400 miles of streets have facilitated local traffic to an extent it is not possible to detail in this report. There were many miles of streets and roads in such bad condition, that carriers and railway authorities had given notice to the manufacturers that they could not continue to fetch or deliver goods over them, as carts and waggons broke down and stuck fast in the mud so frequently.

The outlay of money has not only improved the streets and roads, but has added at least its full value to house and mill property. In many of the towns, works commenced under the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act have been continued and extended under the powers of the Local Government Act.

Some towns which declined to proceed under the Public Works Acts, seeing the advantages springing from these works as executed, have recently adopted the Local Government Act, and are now proceeding with works under this Act, as at Todmorden.

Lancashire, from being backward in sanitary improvements, is at this time probably the most advanced county in England, in town-sewering, street-paving, public parks, waterworks, and road-improvements. Partial river improvements have been effected, as previously stated, at Blackburn, Bolton, and at Bacup; but to deal effectively with river pollutions and river improvement there must be legal power to deal with streams and rivers and entire river areas both by combination and in detail.

A Conservancy Board, having jurisdiction over entire river areas, will alone be enabled to deal with the numerous forms of abuse of rivers and streams which now exist in manufacturing districts, but so long as there is dense population and great trade, there will be river pollution in some form; it need not, however, exist in the gross form which it now presents; much of the abuse of rivers and evils of pollution may be prevented, to the pecuniary advantage of manufacturers, and to the sanitary advantage of the inhabitants.

In concluding this report I beg to be allowed to suggest that this great and successful experiment in Lancashire by Mr. Villiers, to relieve the vast and at the time appalling distress, should be considered in all its specialities and details, if it is to be taken as a precedent. Similar works to those undertaken and executed in Lancashire by the aid of a Government loan, at a low rate of interest, may no doubt be devised for other places. The metropolis and many large towns may find work in street and road improvement, which, if properly carried out, shall be advantageous to the district and directly and indirectly relieve the poor's rate.

In all such cases, however, local distress must be relieved upon or through local works, and solely upon the responsibility of the local authorities, Government simply offering the necessary legal powers and pecuniary aid, on good security, as in Lancashire. There are many miles of new streets and roads unsewered and unformed in the suburbs of the great towns of England and Wales; which, if improved, as in Lancashire, would afford work to able-bodied men, and benefit the several localities. The work must, however, in all cases, be for wages; and those who labour must do so voluntarily, under the encouragement of the proper local authority where distressed labourers have temporarily become paupers through stagnation in trade. Many parishes and towns in Great Britain may be enabled to find useful work for able-bodied men out of employment within or near such parish or town; and, if such men can be offered work for wages, the result must be a saving to the parish, directly and indirectly, in the poor's rates; but I do not see how Government is to provide special work exclusively for paupers and criminals, either separately as paupers and as criminals, or combined, on any principles analogous to those devised and acted upon in Lancashire, as many paupers are constitutionally unable to take their place and maintain it in the regular ranks of labour, because they suffer under some bodily ailment aggravated by a previous wretched mode of life.

If Government, in this cotton famine case, had superseded local authority or had insisted in making it entirely subservient to official control, and had dictated indiscriminate employment of all classes of men for the time on the rates, either no works would have been undertaken on local responsibilities, or there would, as in all previous cases of Government establishment of public works, have been inevitable loss of much of the money advanced. Mr. Villiers appreciated these difficulties from the commencement, and avoided them.

I beg to repeat again, that men whose previous occupation had been in-door, and of many separate trades or occupations, did learn forms of out-of-door labour very rapidly, but this was principally because there was sub-division, and the distressed men received proper encouragement, and above all, technical example. If gangs of distressed cotton operatives had merely been offered warm clothing, implements, and labour, to work in large gangs, the experiment would, in my opinion, have failed, as blunderers and grumblers would have leavened such gangs, both by example and by precept; the incompetent and the idle would have constituted themselves the leaders. Large gangs of men of any occupation, if exceptionally massed together for any purpose, are liable to become riotous; as, for instance, large gangs of labourers on railway or on dock works, or indeed on any other heavy earth-work. And if either paupers or criminals are massed on any occasion for purposes of enforced labour, there will be great temptation to insubordination, and, if opportunity is allowed, actual rioting.

Government has, from time to time, advanced money at a low rate of interest (from 3¼ per cent. up to 5 per cent.) for various purposes:—to encourage fisheries; to establish harbours; to form roads; to drain lands; to make the Caledonian Canal; to improve rivers; to carry out arterial drainage; to relieve the distress in the terrible Irish famine, 1846–7–8, &c. In many of these cases there was direct Government action and responsibility, resulting in money loss.

If no Government aid had been given to Lancashire during the recent cotton famine, the towns would most probably for a long time have remained unimproved, and the poor's rates would have been largely increased. One form of relief to the local rates these works afforded on a large scale, which had not been anticipated, namely, the removal of numbers of idle men from the local relief lists by the offer of work for wages, upon which many willing men were actually earning good wages. These malingering men, who would have received the dole of 3*s.* or 4*s.* per week to live in idleness to the end of the distress, would not face work in any form, however liberal the rate of pay. They were consequently at once removed from the relief lists by the simple offer of real work, and must have found some other means of living in idleness, either in Lancashire or by tramping through the country.

Defective sanitary arrangements, such as unsewered and unpaved streets in towns, are known to produce disease and premature deaths in excess.

An increasing of permanent pauperism is also the usual result of any epidemic disease, such as fever or cholera, aggravated by defective sanitary arrangements.

The public works in the Lancashire towns have benefited trade, by giving 400 miles of good roads for tracts of mud; they have further added to local means of health and pleasure, by providing public parks and recreation grounds, which otherwise might not have been formed; and they have also increased the rental-value of house-property by sewering, draining, and so removing nuisances from the vicinity of dwelling houses, which nuisances, if allowed to remain, would have been liable to have injured human health.

I have, &c.

POOR RATE RETURN.—REMARKS on the Poor Rate Return, Year ended Lady-day 1868.

Series of Returns.

The present Return is the sixty-first annual publication of the Poor Rate Return.

Extent of the Return.

This Return is, in respect of the number of places which it represents, the most complete of the Statistics of pauperism; for in it the sums levied and expended as Poor Rates throughout the whole of England and Wales are exhibited; excepting only some small Parishes, which are stated by the overseers either to have "No poor," or to make no levy "yet."

Valuations to the Poor Rates.

The net annual value of property assessed to the Poor's Rate has been returned in respect of five parochial years. "The Gross Estimated Rental" is also returned for the last three of these years.

* The details of these Valuations will be found in the following papers, printed by order of the House of Commons, viz., No. 235 "Real Property," 1842; No. 735 "Poor Rates, &c.," 1848; No. 539 "Poor Rate Assessment," 1852; No. 63 "Population, &c. of Parishes," 1858; and No. 251 "Population, Inhabited Houses, &c.," 1859. The "Gross Estimated Rental," and the "Rateable Value" for each Parish is given with respect to the Parochial year 1856 in No. 491 "Poor Rates, &c." Session 1861; in the "Electoral Returns" of 1865–66, presented by command of Her Majesty; and No. 497 "Local Taxation," 1868.

Receipts and Expenditure in 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, and 1868.

The Returns, in a contracted shape, are exhibited in the next Table, for the last six years, with the rate per head, on the estimated population, of the amount levied as Poor's Rate, and of the amount expended in relief :—

Large proportion of expenditure for purposes unconnected with relief.

Table of Expenses unconnected with Relief.

The greater part of the expenditure, described in the last Table as for "All other Purposes," consists of payments which have no connexion whatever with relief to the poor. This part of the Poor Rate Expenditure, which is foreign to the object originally contemplated in the enactment of the rate, has greatly increased since the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act in 1834, in consequence of the imposition of new and the augmentation of old charges. The next Table exhibits, separately, all the charges referred to, so far as the returns permit. The heaviest item is the disbursement in respect of the "County, Hundred, Borough, or Police Rate."

About one third of the whole Poor Rates now levied are expended for purposes unconnected with relief to the poor. Besides the charges here shown, there are some others paid out of the Rate, but which are not discriminated, such as the expenses incurred for sanitary purposes, and the cost of providing new burial grounds.

The principal heads of expenditure, which constitute "Relief to the Poor," are shown in the next Table, together with the average price of wheat for the six years.

Medical Relief.

The column in the Return, which succeeds that of "Total Expenditure," contains the expense of Medical Relief only; this consists of salaries to the Medical Officers; extra Medical Fees paid to them under the General Consolidated Order; also, the cost (if any) of medical and surgical appliances, and drugs. The sums in this column are not additional to those given in Column 4. § A. of the Return; because, the various items of Medical Relief are included in sub-columns (e) or (f), as forming a portion of the "Relief to the Poor:" the "Medical Relief" is printed separately, as indicating an important and special subject of Poor Law administration.

The sums expended under this head during the last six years were as follows:

|---|---|
| For 1862–63 - - - - | £248,286 |
| 1863–64 - - - - | 253,204 |
| 1864–65 - - - - | 259,833 |
| 1865–66 - - - - | 264,052 |
| 1866–67 - - - - | 272,225 |
| 1867–68 - - - - | 272,341 |

With respect to the Medical Relief for 1867–8, it appears from the returns that 208,057*l.* was paid to the Union Medical Officers as salaries, or as per case attended, and 45,563*l.* for extra medical fees; 18,721*l.* was the "cost of medical and surgical appliances, drugs, &c.," supplied by the guardians.

School Districts.

Twenty-six Unions and single Parishes, chiefly Metropolitan, are combined into School Districts; the contributions which each Union makes to the treasurer of its district are included in the other items of relief, and, as such, entered in the proper columns of the Poor Rate Return; this, then, like the Medical Relief, does not represent any additional expenditure, having been heretofore properly included in the amounts printed opposite to the respective Unions concerned.

The sums contributed to the School Districts; and, the sums expended by each district during the parochial year 1867–68, are contained in the subjoined Table:—

IN-MAINTENANCE AND OUT-DOOR RELIEF.—REMARKS on the Returns of In and Out door Relief, Half Year ended Lady-day 1868.

Number of Unions returned.

THE Returns of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief have been received from 655 Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; but two of that number, namely, Shrewsbury, and Montgomery and Pool, give the cost of In-maintenance only.

The amount expended in the 655 Unions and Parishes during the half year was, for—

| In-maintenance. | Out-door Relief. | Total. |

The population of the places referred to was 19,886,104, according to the Census of 1861; the entire population of England and Wales being 20,066,224.

Expenditure, Lady-day half years 1867 and 1868.

The following Table is a comparative statement of the expenditure for the half years ended at Lady-day 1867 and 1868, in 655 Unions and single Parishes.

Remarks on the Industrial Statistics of 1861.

The Industrial Statistics of 1861.

Industrial Statistics.

The publication of the Occupations Census of 1861 has rendered it necessary to effect a change both in the form and the matter of the "Industrial Statistics," which, since 1857, has formed part of the series of papers periodically laid before Parliament by the Poor Law Board under the title of "Poor Rates and Pauperism."

New classification of the Occupations of the People.

An explanation of the classes under which the occupations of the people in 1851 were arranged has prefaced the previous numbers of this series, and therefore need not be repeated. The classification of 1861 differs in several important particulars from that previously employed by the Commissioners of the Census. The new system can be best explained in the words of its author,* premising that, in Dr. Farr's Report on the "Classification of Producers," the lowest groups, termed "Sub-Orders," are marked with a small Arabic numeral (2); that these Sub-Orders are gathered up into "Orders," marked by a larger numeral (2); and that the Orders are collected into "Classes," marked by a Roman figure (II.)

CLASSIFICATION OF PRODUCERS.

I.—Professional Class.

(Orders 1, 2, 3.) Andrici.

"This great class includes those persons who are rendering direct service to mankind, and satisfying their intellectual, moral, and devotional wants.

"The three first Orders consist of civil servants, national or local; the army and navy; the learned professions, with their immediate subordinates; literary and scientific men, as well as artists in the widest sense.

"The first Order (1; 1) includes the members of the Government, and the civil service; (2) the police and other local officers; and (3) the East India and Colonial Service.

"The army (2; 1) and navy (2; 2) are in the service of the Government, and are intimately connected with it in all states. And the clergy in the Established Church, as well as the lawyers in the courts of justice, are in official subordination to the Sovereign; but the great majority of the members of these professions are neither nominated nor paid by the Crown. Like the medical, the literary, and the scientific professions, which were at one time included in the Church, and were supported by its livings, the clergy and lawyers assert their independence, and are, therefore, made separate sub-orders. So are authors, artists, musicians, actors, teachers, and scientific men. Nearly all the members of the class are paid directly for their services; and these services have no intermediary, being rarely fixed in any commodity. The pay varies in each Order, and it is either proportional to the time (salary, wages, pay), the job (fees), or the quality and quantity of work done (piecework)."

Order 1. Persons engaged in the General or Local Government of the Country.

" 2. Persons engaged in the Defence of the Country.

" 3. Persons engaged in the Learned Professions or engaged in Literature, Art, and Science (with their immediate Subordinates).

II.—Domestic Class.

(Orders 4. and 5.) Oikici.

"The persons in this Class are all employed, if they are employed at all, in houses. Some supply simply service, others with it supply board and lodging (Order 5.) They are paid wages (servants), or they are paid for the board and lodging and attendance which they supply, The publicans and beersellers are so much associated and so often confounded with hotel and innkeepers that they are retained in the same Order; although the Order dealing in 'drinks' may claim them. The wife and grown-up children (Order 4.) perform at home for the bulk of the population the same duties as the persons in Order 5.; but they are not paid directly in money for their services, as they form a part of the natural family; consequently they are distinguished in a separate Order. The very young children properly belong to the non-productive class, and they may there constitute a section; scholars and other children are learning the elements of their future occupations; but until that occupation is determined they remain in the same Order as their mothers."

* See Dr. Farr's account of the "New Classification of the People according to their Employment."—Census of England and Wales, 1861, Vol. III., pp. 225 et seq.

Order 4. Persons engaged in the Domestic Offices or Duties of Wives, Mothers, Mistresses of Families, Children, Relatives (not otherwise returned).

„ 5. Persons engaged in entertaining and performing Personal Offices for Man.

III.—Commercial Class.

(Orders 6. and 7.) Agorici.

"The merchant buys any article, like tea, abroad, transports it to England, and there sells it. He performs the like operation at home. But as a merchant he effects no change in any of the commodities in which he deals. He buys and sells, and is paid for his services by a varying but rated profit on the goods.

"The carrying order convey commodities, passengers, and messages by land or water, from one place to another. They also warehouse goods. They are paid for their services in fares, freight, and charges, which bear some proportion to the weight, bulk, and other properties of the goods. They are all in Order 7, and are closely related to the Order preceding; hence the two Orders (6–7.) together may be called the Commercial Class."

Order 6. Persons who buy or sell, keep or lend, Money, Houses, or Goods of various Kinds.

IV.—Agricultural Class.

(Orders 8. and 9.) Georgici.

"We now come to a great class which is employed in producing grain, fruit, grass, animals, and other products from the soil. They may be called growers; for their products grow and are obtained from the living kingdoms of nature. The heads of the Class are paid, not directly for their services, but indirectly in the price of the products which they sell in the market or elsewhere. Thus the price of a quarter of wheat includes the pay of the services of all the persons employed in its production as well as the cost of the tools and machines, including the land, by means of which it is produced and brought to market. Agricultural servants and labourers are paid in wages which the farmers advance. The persons engaged in gardens or woods are in separate Sub-orders.

"The men in Order 9. are employed in catching, training, or dealing in living animals of various kinds. They are the representatives of the hunters of the early stages of civilization, and may be considered an appendage to the previous pastoral and agricultural class, so forming Class IV., which thus includes hunting tribes, the pastoral clans, and the agricultural people of the world."

Order 8. Persons possessing or working the Land, and engaged in growing Grain, Fruits, Grasses, Animals, and other Products.

„ 9. Persons engaged about Animals.

V.—Industrial Class.

(Orders 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15.) Technici.

"This is the Class of makers or artisans. They deal in matter that is either no longer living, or that never lived. They alter the form, texture, or composition of the materials in which they work, so as to produce a great variety of goods, instruments, and machines. Their pay and profits are charged in the price of commodities; the wages of the workmen being advanced by their masters.

"This Class is grouped according to the materials, distinguishing those derived from the three kingdoms of nature.

"The first Order (10.) of the Class includes artisans, making products of various materials, derived from the three kingdoms, such as coaches, ships, workshops, factories, houses, and their furniture or other contents.

"Then follow the persons engaged in the textile fabrics (Order 11.) Wool, silk, cotton, flax, and hemp are durable and divisible; their manufacture admits of the sub-division of labour and the application of machinery. The workers in these materials are the essentially manufacturing class. In a Sub-order (4.) are the artisans who convert the manufactured fabrics, and some other matters, into dress.

"Human food, drinks, and stimulants, derived from the animal and vegetable kingdoms, occupy a distinct Order (12.), sub-divided into three Sub-orders.

"Then follow (13.) the persons chiefly or exclusively working and dealing in other animal substances than food, (14.) those working and dealing in vegetable substances, and (15.) those working and dealing chiefly in minerals and metals. The first Sub-order of the latter Order (15.) includes the mining population of every kind; the other thirteen Sub-orders include the chief workers in the metals and minerals, beginning with coal, and ending with steel."

ORDER 10. Persons engaged in Art and Mechanic Productions, in which Matters of various Kinds are employed in combination.

" 11. Persons working and dealing in the Textile Fabrics, and in Dress.

" 12. Persons working and dealing in Food and Drinks.

" 13. Persons working and dealing in Animal Substances.

" 14. Persons working and dealing in Vegetable Substances.

" 15. Persons working and dealing in Minerals.

VI.—INDEFINITE AND NON-PRODUCTIVE CLASS.

(Orders 16, 17, and 18.)

"The last Class includes the numbers returned in a vague way, so as to scarcely admit of classification among either the professional, the domestic, the commercial, the agricultural, or the industrial classes.

"It embraces the totally distinct Orders of general labourers (16.), persons of property returned as of no occupation (17.), and persons supported by the community (18.) Many of the persons in Orders 16. and 17. properly belong to the other classes.

ORDER 16. Labourers and others—Branch of Labour undefined.

" 17. Persons of Rank or Property not returned under any Office or Occupation.

" 18. Persons supported by the Community, and of no specified Occupation. Other Persons of no stated Occupation or Condition.

The relation of the new to the old classification is briefly exhibited by the following Synoptical Table:—

Selected Occupations.

In considering the occupations of the people in connexion with pauperism, the first class has been rejected, because, although it participates in the general welfare of the country, it experiences the vicissitudes of trade less directly than the others; and the last class, because it is indefinite, and therefore but little adapted to form any useful term of comparison within the field of pauper statistics. The ratio per cent. of persons aged 20 years and upwards ascribable to each of the six classes of occupations for all the Unions has, in the present instance, been computed for every Union by the Commissioners of the Census. The ratios of the four selected classes are printed opposite to the respective Unions in the following pages.

Ratio of Occupations.

The absolute as well as the proportional numbers of the adult population under the six industrial classes are shown in the subjoined Table for each Division and for each Union-County, as published in the third volume of the Census of England and Wales.

No. 33.

REMARKS on the Returns of In and Out-door Relief, Half Year ended Michaelmas 1868.

Number of Unions returned.

THE Returns of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief have been received from 655 Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; but two of that number, namely, Shrewsbury, and Montgomery and Pool, give the cost of In-maintenance only.

The amount expended in the 655 Unions and Parishes during the half year was, for—

| In-maintenance. | Out-door Relief. | Total. |

The population of the places referred to was 19,886,104, according to the Census of 1861; the entire population of England and Wales being 20,066,224.

Expenditure, Michaelmas half years 1867 and 1868.

The following Table is a comparative statement of the Expenditure for the half years ended at Michaelmas 1867 and 1868 in 655 Unions and Single Parishes.

No. 35.

REMARKS ON THE RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.—SUMMARY of Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the 1st July 1868. [No. 344 (B.) Session 1868.]

THE present publication contains the Tabulated Returns of 655 Unions and Single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; but in respect of two places, namely, the Incorporation of Shrewsbury and that of Montgomery and Pool, the Returns are limited to the number of In-door paupers relieved.

Pauperism, 1st July.

The aggregate population of the 655 places by the Census of 1861 is 19,886,104; and the total number of paupers on the 1st July 1868 is,

| In-door. | Out-door.* | Total.* |
| 144,233 | 828,095 | 972,328 |

* With the "out-door" paupers are included 1,249 who received medical relief only, and these cases were not otherwise classified. In the "total" 941 paupers who were relieved both in-door and out-door on the 1st January are entered, making the net total of persons 971,387.

This gives the proportion of paupers as 1 in 20, or 4·9 per cent. on the actual population, according to the Census of 1861.

Comparing the numbers returned on the 1st July 1868 with those at the same date in 1867, the figures stand thus:—

Comparison of 1st July 1868 and 1867.

| DATE. | | Number of Unions, &c. | In-door Paupers. | Out-door Paupers.† | TOTAL.* |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1st July - - | 1867 | 655 | 134,051 | 791,493 | 925,544 |
| | 1868 | 655 | 144,233 | 827,154 | 971,387 |

* Exclusive of those relieved both in-door and out-door on 1st July.

First Table.

The first table exhibits the number of males, females, and children, and the number of vagrants, the latter being returned without distinction of sex, relieved in-door and out-door.

No. 44.

Remarks on the Return of Insane Paupers, chargeable on the 1st January 1868.

Source of Information.

1. The Statistics of Pauper Insanity contained in this paper have been compiled from the lists of the Insane chargeable to the Poor Rates on the 1st January 1868. These lists are made out annually by the Clerks to the Guardians, and transmitted to the Poor Law Board, in compliance with the 16 & 17 Vict. c. 97. s. 64., and in the form prescribed by Schedule D. of that Statute.

Places returned.

2. Returns have been received from 664* Unions and Single Parishes under Boards of Guardians. The number of Insane Paupers chargeable to the Poor Rates in those places on that day is shown below :—

| Population, 1861. | Number of Paupers on 1st January 1868. | Whereof were Insane Paupers. |
| 20,028,236 | 1,040,103 † | 43,158 |

Thus 4·3 per cent. of the pauperism on the 1st January last is ascribable to Insanity. In regard to the sexes, 19,033 were Males, and 24,125 Females.

Insane Paupers, 1st January 1868.

3. In the next Statement the number of Insane Paupers is shown for each Division of England and Wales, with the total number of Paupers of all classes relieved on the same day.

Note.—This Table represents the facts for the parochial year 1868; but changes have been made in some of the places named above since that time. The parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields has been added to the Strand Union, from which the parish of St. Anne Soho has been removed, to form, with St. James, Westminster, the Westminster Union. From the Greenwich Union, Woolwich parish has been taken, and, with the parishes of Charlton, Kidbrooke, and Plumstead, now constitutes the Woolwich Union. The three parishes last named have been detached from the Lewisham Union.

The area of St. George Hanover-square includes 350 acres, "the acreage of Kensington Gardens, Hyde Park, and Buckingham Palace and Gardens;" that of St. Margaret and St. John from 400 to 500 acres, "the acreage of the Royal Parks in these parishes."

TO HIS EXCELLENCY JOHN POYNTZ EARL SPENCER, K.G.,

Lord Lieutenant-General and General Governor of Ireland.

Poor Law Commission Office,
Dublin, 31st March, 1869.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

WE, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, submit to your Excellency this the Twenty-second Annual Report of our proceedings under the Acts in force for the Relief of the Destitute Poor in Ireland.

1. We submit, in the first place, in continuation of similar returns in previous Annual Reports, a summary of weekly returns of persons relieved in the workhouse and out of the workhouse for fifty-two weeks, from the week ended 29th February, 1868, to the week ended 20th February, 1869, both inclusive; and we give, in illustration of these and previous returns, the two indoor and outdoor relief diagrams,* so as to afford a comparison of the fluctuations which have occurred in each year for the last seven years.

* See Diagrams facing page 42.

Notwithstanding that the average daily number of inmates of workhouses exceeds by 740 the average number in the preceding year, it will be found by reference to the large table in paragraph 1, that the recent portion of the series of the Weekly In-door Relief Returns shows a considerable decrease of pauperism as compared with the preceding series, a decrease which, on the 20th February, amounted to 2,747. At the latest date, previous to the date of this Report, the decrease amounted to 3,263, or more than 5 per cent. Referring to the indoor diagram, it will be seen that the fluctuating line of 1868-69 has fallen below the line of 1867-68.

There has been a steady increase, on the other hand, in the number on the Out-door Relief Returns, taking the aggregate total of all the unions, but attended by a good deal of fluctuation in individual unions.

3. In paragraphs 13 and 14 of the Annual Report of 1862, we pointed out that the degree of distress existing at any time in Ireland is not to be inferred from the total number in the receipt of out-door relief, but that it is accurately indicated by the number receiving relief in the workhouses, the total number on out-door relief at any time being dependent more on the views of the Boards of Guardians as to the safety and expediency of affording it, than on the number of the applicants or the pressure of distress.

Our knowledge of what occurs in individual unions enables us to say with confidence that an increase of out-door relief, and a simultaneous decrease of workhouse inmates, must not be taken in combination as indicating the condition of the lower classes, but that the indoor relief is to be regarded alone and without reference to any increase of out relief.

Referring to the fluctuations which out-door relief in Ireland has undergone during the last twenty years, we must first observe that the law restricting it to certain classes is still the same as that enacted in 1847, except that the quarter-acre section has been modified. Under that law, in 1849, the daily number of recipients of out relief reached at one time 784,367. From that date, under the influence of a change of circumstances, as well as of a strong and universal prejudice against out-door relief, dictated by experience of its danger to property, the out relief lists rapidly declined, and in September, 1855, extended to no more than 655 persons daily. From this time forward the number has increased; and, in 1859, the minimum year of pauperism since the famine, the daily number on out-door relief had risen to 1,663. Subsequently, union after union has been yielding up more or less the prejudice against out-door relief, and the daily number of out-door poor has increased slowly but steadily to 19,624. Not more than half, however, of the 163 unions can be said to have yet adopted it as a regular branch of their system of relief, and from time to time some union which has adopted it, is led to abandon it, the majority of the guardians reverting to their previous opinion.

Under such circumstances when the number of workhouse inmates shows a decrease, as in the present season, indicating a decided improvement in the general condition of the lower classes, the sustained increase in the numbers receiving out-door relief must not be permitted to interfere with that conclusion, as it really indicates nothing more than a change of views on the part of guardians of the poor in favour of the extension of out-door relief.

4. A few instances may explain the true state of things in this respect more clearly. The Drogheda Union, in the county of Louth, with a population of 39,821, had, on Saturday, the 2nd January last, 1,072 persons on out-door relief. The Galway Union, with a population of 50,821, on the same day had only 20 persons on out-door relief. It would be impossible, however, to infer from this comparison that the union of Galway is in a more prosperous state than that of Drogheda, especially as we find the number relieved in the workhouse in the year nearly in proportion to the population in each union.

A more striking comparison, perhaps, is that between the two Dublin unions, out-door relief prevailing on one side of the river Liffey, which is the boundary, and not on the other, while the numbers relieved in the two workhouses are nearly in proportion to the population of the unions respectively, and there is no reason to surmise that the condition of the population on one side of the river is better or worse than that on the other.

To pass from unions to counties, Wexford, with a population of 155,611, had, on the 1st January last, 1,080 out-door paupers; while Kerry, with a population of 197,086, had only 125.

Passing from counties to provinces, Leinster, with a population of 1,493,009, had, on the same date, 9,321 out-door poor, while Connaught, with a population of 869,414, had only 972.

Therefore, as between union and union; as between county and county; as between province and province; and finally, as between all Ireland in one year, and all Ireland in another, the extent of out-door relief for the time being is no safe measure of the degree of distress or of the condition of the people, and the only criterion, so far as the Poor Laws are concerned, is to be found in the relative numbers of the inmates of workhouses.

5. There are two branches of out-door relief exhibited in the statistical tables which we are disposed to regard with satisfaction unalloyed by any fear as to a serious increase of taxation likely to arise in respect thereof. We allude to the orphans and deserted children put out to nurse under the 9th section of Sir Robert Peel's Poor Law Amendment Act of 1862, who have now, after six years' operation of the Act, increased to 689; and secondly, to the relief afforded out of the workhouse to "persons being disabled from labour by reason of severe sickness or serious accident," and their families; the latter often receiving out relief while the head of the family is a patient in the workhouse hospital.

With regard to the orphans and deserted children, we beg here to refer to our recommendation in the 7th paragraph of our Twentieth Annual Report that the age should be extended beyond five years to eight years, as the period during which relief in that form may lawfully be given by the Guardians without obtaining our previous consent. Such consent can only be given by us upon an assurance from the Guardians that the health of the child requires a further extension of the period; and this permission must be applied for each succeeding year. We now recommend that the Guardians shall have an absolute discretion in each case up to the age of ten years, that being the age at which we think the annual allowance may fairly be allowed to terminate, and without a likelihood of the child's returning to the workhouse. It may also be a question whether the provisions of this Act should not be extended to the children of parents under sentence of penal servitude, and to the children of parents permanently disabled by mental infirmity.

The following table exhibits the progress of the relief of "persons disabled from labour," &c., since 1857, in comparison with the other two classes for which out-relief is legalised by 1st section of 10 Vic., cap. 31.

It will be observed that while the other two classes show a continuous progress, the number of cases of persons receiving out-door relief as "disabled from labour by severe sickness or serious accident" is more steady and less fluctuating, being limited by the nature of the casualties.

6. In the Appendix* will be found a circular letter issued in November last to each Board of Guardians in Ireland, on the subject of professional tramps and vagrants seeking workhouse relief, usually for one night only, and thus passing from the workhouse of one union to that of another union, availing themselves of each as a lodging-house on their line of travel through the country. We use the word "professional" as distinguishing this class of applicants from bona fide applicants for temporary relief in cases of destitution not incurred by any immediate voluntary act or proceeding.

This circular has had the effect of promoting a more general enforcement of the Irish Vagrancy Act against those who violate in various ways its enactments. The law itself is somewhat different from the vagrant law in England, but from the time of its enactment in 1847, it has not been put in force very generally or very effectually against the above-mentioned class of offenders. An increased pressure from this class on the union workhouses, especially on certain lines of road, has been recently observed, and has led us to call the attention of the Boards of Guardians throughout Ireland to the means which the law had placed at their disposal for the repression of vagrancy.

The Casual Ward, it may here be observed, is an institution not yet known in Ireland, and whenever a Board of Guardians has proposed resorting to such an expedient, we have always opposed ourselves to its adoption. However repressive of vagrancy such a system, carried out universally, may be considered to be in England, we believe that its adoption in Ireland would tend to systematize the practice of vagrancy and afford facilities for its pursuit as a means of living. Reliance therefore has hitherto been placed upon the application of the same rules to this class of applicants as those which regulate the treatment of other persons when admitted into the workhouses; that is to say, the removal of the clothes on admission, the bath, the workhouse dress, and the task of work, when practicable, before discharge.

7. Although the number of professional tramps and vagrants are represented in the English and Irish Statistical Reports of Crime to be in Ireland at present much in excess of the same class in England and Wales, it is certain that the pressure on the workhouses from this class has not been so great relatively, in Ireland as in England. The number of vagrants relieved in workhouses in England on the 1st January, 1868, appears from the last Report of the Poor Law Board to have been 4,357 in addition to 1,772 receiving out-door relief on the same day. In Ireland our latest weekly return (6th March, 1869) shows a daily number of 211 night-lodgers only, relieved in all the workhouses, and none by way of out-door relief.

In Ireland the indigent have always borne a large proportion to the non-indigent classes, and this fact alone might appear sufficient to explain any excess in the number of Irish vagrants as compared with the number in England and Wales; especially when taken in connexion with the wandering and mendicant habits so long prevalent in this country before the introduction of the Poor Law, and still prevailing, though in a much less degree than formerly.

An opinion, however, has been advanced in the compilation entitled "Judicial Statistics, Ireland," which it appears necessary to notice, as calculated to influence legislation, to the effect that the restricted system of out-door relief in Ireland as compared with that in England is among the causes of an excess of vagrancy in Ireland. This observation is repeated in each of the Reports for 1865, '66, and '67. The comparison, according to the Report for 1867, is as follows:—

The number of vagrants and tramps "known to the police" in Ireland was 12,626; in England and Wales the absolute number of the same was 33,191; and this latter number gives in a population equal to that of Ireland, only 8,734 instead of 12,626, producing an excess in Ireland of no less than 3,892.

Now the police arrangements in the two countries are very different. In the one there is a methodically organized system of police everywhere established; in the other a general system, but not organized on any uniform plan, and very defective in many towns. Many rural districts also in England are without doubt inadequately provided with police. In taking an account, therefore, of the vagrants "sleeping in each district on a certain night" in the year, it is probable enough that very many would escape the knowledge of the police in England, and that, on the other hand, very few would escape the knowledge of the police in Ireland—the relative numerical police force being in Ireland as two to one in England.

But assuming the relative proportion of vagrants in the two countries to be as stated, it does not appear to us to be a matter of course that the comparatively small extent of out-door relief in Ireland has any such connexion as is supposed with the excess in question; nor does it seem safe to assume that the more a country has of pauperism in one form the less it has in another.

On the contrary, experience in Ireland shows that the number of vagrants known to the police has increased simultaneously with the increase of out-door paupers. Thus in 1863 the number of vagrants in Ireland was 9,900, and in 1867 it was 12,626; in the same period the average daily number of out-door paupers rose from 7,859 to 14,940. That is to say that vagrants increased 28 per cent. at the same time that the out-door pauperism nearly doubled itself.

In England, as well as in Ireland, it would appear from the Poor Law Returns that at periods when there is most out-door relief there is also most vagrancy. For example, in 1853 when the out-door poor on the 1st January numbered 671,548, the number of vagrants relieved in the workhouse on the same day was 548; and on the 1st January, 1868, when the number of out-door poor was 877,872 the number of vagrants relieved on the same day in the workhouse was 4,357.

8. The system of workhouse relief, the ordinary form of relief in Ireland, tends to diminish mendicancy and vagrancy, inasmuch as persons so relieved have all their wants supplied, and cannot be abroad begging. Out-door relief, on the other hand (whether English, Scotch, or Irish), fails to supply all the wants of the recipients, and a large number of them, therefore, being at liberty to go where they please, naturally supplement their means of livelihood by wandering abroad and begging.

In quitting this subject we may observe that the connexion between vagrancy and mendicancy is universal, and that the great means of suppression of both is the withholding of alms, and rests, therefore, in the hands of the public itself and in the exercise of individual discretion on the part of every member of society.

At the same time it is proper for those who administer the laws in Ireland to see, as far as in them lies, that the enactments which recognise and punish mendicancy and vagrancy as criminal are enforced against wilful offenders.

In the corresponding table, in our last annual report the total number of deaths in the workhouses in 52 weeks was 12,259, which compared with the present table shows a decrease of 810 deaths, notwithstanding the increase above mentioned in the average daily number of inmates. This decrease occurs almost wholly under the two heads of "age" and "disease of the lungs," and is due probably to the milder character of the weather throughout the period in question.

The number of deaths by fever is 884, in comparison with 887 in the preceding year.

Last year we remarked upon the sudden decrease, and almost total disappearance of small-pox; the number of deaths by that cause in the workhouse hospitals having been only 5. In the present table it will be seen that the number is further reduced to 3. The Registrar-General's returns likewise present a reduction of the deaths by small-pox in Ireland from 20 in 1867, to 19 in 1868. Our recent circulars show that were it not for the criminal process of inoculation, the small-pox would be nowhere existent in Ireland at the present time. The subject will be resumed in the Medical Charities branch of this report. See also the correspondence hereon in the Appendix.*

10. The number of persons assisted by Boards of Guardians to emigrate during the last year shows a very small decrease upon the number so assisted in the course of the previous year, as will appear from the following table, exhibiting the numbers and expenditure for nineteen years past:—

11. We now proceed to the statistics arising on the audited accounts of unions for the year ended 29th September, 1868.

We deal, in the first place with that part of the union expenditure which relates exclusively to the relief of the poor, of which the following table affords an abstract for all Ireland for the year ended 29th September, 1868, in comparison with that ended on the same date, 1867:—

| Year ended 29th September, | Net Annual Value. | Poor Rate lodged. | Poor Law Expenditure during the Year. | | | | | | Number relieved. | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | In-Maintenance and Clothing. | Out-Relief. | Cost of Relief in Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums and Extern Hospitals. | Salaries and Rations of Officers. | All other Expenses. | Total. | In Workhouse. | Out-door. | In Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums. | Total. |
| | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | £ | | | | |
| 1868, | 13,117,769 | 848,070 | 436,842 | 44,785 | 6,280 | 108,758 | 110,891 | 707,556 | 288,953 | 50,257 | 518 | 339,728 |
| 1867, | 13,045,725 | 762,644 | 418,269 | 40,075 | 6,144 | 106,663 | 105,625 | 676,776 | 258,154 | 58,696 | 496 | 317,346 |
| Increase, | 72,044 | 85,426 | 18,573 | 4,710 | 136 | 2,095 | 5,266 | 30,780 | 30,799 | - | 22 | 22,382 |
| Decrease, | - | - | - | - | - | - | - | - | - | 8,439 | - | - |

The total increase of expenditure under the head of relief is £30,780, and is accounted for chiefly by the increased number of persons relieved in the workhouse, an increase amounting to 30,799 persons in the year.

It is remarkable that while the cost of out-door relief exceeds that of the previous year by £4,710, the total number of persons so relieved in the year is less by 8,439. This is due without doubt to a greater degree of liberality in two points—the amount of the allowance and the time of its continuance. The latter point is further confirmed by the fact that the average daily number given in paragraph 2 exceeds that of the preceding year; but it must be borne in mind that the two periods of 52 weeks are not identical, as the one ends 20th February, 1869, and the other 29th September, 1868.

12. The following is a tabularized account of admissions to the Workhouse during the last year, in comparison with those of the ten preceding years.

* All sums due from Unions in Ireland under the Consolidated Annuities Act had been levied and paid over before the close of the year 1863; there will be no further sums therefore to enter under this head in future years.

From the above table it will be seen that the poundage of the expenditure on the valuation, which in 1859 was 10*d.* has risen in nine years to 1*s.* 3½*d.*, or more than 50 per cent.; the total expenditure in 1859 being £513,614, and in 1868 £847,995, showing an excess of £334,381. A serious question arises whether the progress of poor-rate taxation is likely to be continuous, or whether a decrease may not now be expected.

The increased expenditure during the nine years has been due to a combination of causes, some of which continue in operation while others have disappeared, or are likely to do so, or at all events diminish.

The cost of "maintenance and clothing" in the workhouse is higher by 10½*d.* per head per week, or £2 5*s.* 6*d.* per head per annum than in 1859; and this excess added to the excess produced by an increase in the average daily number of inmates, amounting to 13,310, accounts for an excess of £202,640 under the head of in-maintenance alone.

The principal element of increase of cost is the higher price of food and other necessaries. There is also greater liberality in the supplies, and a greater proportion of persons are admitted in sickness, especially since Sir Robert Peel's Amendment Act of 1862. It is not to be desired that the healthy or sick dietaries should become less liberal than they are at present, or that the workhouses of Ireland should lose their character for usefulness as hospitals and infirmaries. But there are three ways in which reduction of the cost of maintenance may take place satisfactorily—one by the improved sanitary condition of the people, and consequent decrease of sickness; another by a decrease in the number of applicants for workhouse relief; and lastly, by a reduction in the price of food.

The statistics of the present report contain satisfactory indications in these respects, for we find a reduction in the number admitted in sickness in 1868, and in the early part of 1869 a decrease in the daily number of inmates of 3,263, as already stated in paragraph 2. Possibly, therefore, we have before us a succession of favourable years, such as preceded the year 1860, when an unfavourable period began; but, without a great decrease in the cost of the first necessaries of life, it is not likely that the relief expenditure can ever revert to the same limits as in 1859.*

Another item of increase is one of £41,546, under the head of "Out-door Relief." The probabilities regarding the future increase or decrease of this item may be inferred from what is stated in paragraphs 3, 4, and 5 of this report.

The item "Salaries and Rations of Officers" shows an increase of £14,853, and that of "Other Expenses" of £34,805. These items, which bring up the total excess under head of "Relief" to £293,844, are capable, under more favourable conditions, of reduction. It is not likely, however, that the increase of £22,629 under the head of "Medical Charities Expenses," or the new items of £2,060 under "Burial Grounds Acts," £12,452 under "Registration Acts," and £3,962 under "Sanitary Acts," will be less in succeeding years.

15. The disposition to do justice to Ireland has not yet extended itself to the repeal of the law of removal of Irish-born persons becoming destitute and needing relief in England or in Scotland. The deportation of these poor persons across channel is carried on as formerly, and is still attended in many cases by circumstances of great hardship, and in all cases by patent injustice as between Great Britain and Ireland.

The primary element of national wrong in this removal law is the fact that Irish persons relieved in Great Britain are removable to their place of birth or last place of residence in Ireland, whereas Englishmen and Scotchmen becoming chargeable in Ireland are not removable from thence to England or Scotland. Parliament, unwilling to abandon the system of deporting Irishmen to Ireland, was appealed to in the Session of 1863 to enact a perfect reciprocity in this respect as between the two islands, and a bill to effect that object was introduced into the House of Commons by the late Right Honorable Henry Herbert, M.P. for Kerry, which had the support of the Government. A majority of the House refused, however, to grant the complete reciprocity demanded, and the measure was thereupon withdrawn. We trust that the time is near at hand for a still more effectual measure of justice, by abolishing altogether the laws of removal from one side of the channel to the other.

16. We beg on this subject to refer to our Annual Reports of 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, and 1867, and the Appendices respectively, for details connected with the operation of the removal laws. The cases which were then, and are now, of most ordinary occurrence are those of women alleged to have been deserted by their husbands, and thereupon compulsorily removed from their homes with their young children to the places of their own birth in Ireland. In many of these cases the husband had left his family to look for work, and on returning to his home has found to his surprise and dismay that his wife and children have in his absence been removed against their will (sometimes by actual force) across seas to some union workhouse in Ireland. See paragraphs 11, 12, and 13 of the Annual Report of 1866, and especially the cases of Elizabeth Finn and Mary Barry at pages 56 and 69 of the Appendix respectively.

In such cases the law provides no available redress to the husband and father; but his claim to have his wife and children back receives attention in Ireland, and they are often restored to him by the aid of private subscriptions, the poor-rates in Ireland not being applicable to such a purpose.

17. In 1866 we addressed a letter to the Under Secretary for Ireland, from which the following passage is an extract. The entire letter will be found at page 58 of the Annual Report for 1867.

"The Commissioners further submit that the present case and the other similar case referred to in the twelfth paragraph of their last annual report combine to show that as regards women deserted, or supposed to be deserted, the law of removal from England to Ireland is at present in a most unsatisfactory state; inasmuch as the question of desertion is a question of intention on the part of the husband, which must generally be incapable of strict proof in his absence; and it does appear to the Commissioners to be a most serious defect in the law, or in its administration, that the removing authorities should be liable to make mistakes of the nature described, the effect of which is to deprive a woman and her children of their personal liberty, and send them beyond seas away from the country in which the husband and father is still living, and endeavouring to obtain by work the means of supporting them in that country on the fruits of his industry.

The Commissioners beg, at the same time, to suggest it as a matter for consideration, whether the law is itself a humane one which, in the case of married persons in a humble sphere of life who have separated themselves from each other, whether wilfully or through necessity, takes advantage of the distress of the wife to create a permanent impediment to the re-union of the family by sending the latter beyond seas; and in this point of view they would recommend the alteration of the law of removal from England to Ireland by enacting that the desertion of the wife by her husband in England shall no longer be a ground for removing the wife to her place of birth or last residence in Ireland."

We have the satisfaction of knowing that your Excellency's predecessor, the Earl of Kimberley, signified to the Secretary of State for the Home Department his concurrence in the views above stated. Soon afterwards the Poor Law Board in England expressed a doubt whether an Irish-born woman deserted by her husband in England could be legally removed, while he was living, to her place of birth in Ireland; and we have now this question waiting for argument, on a case of appeal against an order of removal, in the Court of Queen's Bench in England.

Removals meanwhile like those above described continue to be made, and are of frequent occurrence.

No more characteristic description of this class of cases could be given than a letter written by a bereaved husband in Wales to his wife in Ireland in a recent case of removal from Bridgend Union in Glamorganshire to Enniscorthy Union in the county of Wexford.

This letter, which is worthy of perusal, will be found with the rest of the correspondence in the Appendix.*

In this case the Board of Guardians is unwilling to incur the expense and risk of an appeal, and the woman and her four children remain in Enniscorthy workhouse.

18. The most remarkable, perhaps, of these cases of divorce by summary jurisdiction occurred very recently in the North Dublin Union, where a young married woman in a class of life far removed above indigence, and about the age of seventeen years, is now awaiting her first confinement in the workhouse. We are in possession of her certificate of marriage, which took place by banns in London, and which beyond doubt was a valid marriage. The husband, who had employment in a London telegraph office, appears to have withdrawn himself in a few months from his wife's society, both continuing to reside with their respective families as they had done since the marriage. The wife, on the advice of a police magistrate and with the consent of her friends, threw herself under these circumstances on the Westminster Union, in the expectation that the guardians would prosecute her husband for desertion, and thus enforce an arrangement for her maintenance.

The guardians, however, of Westminster Union were unwilling to undertake this business for her ; and discovering that she was an Irish-born subject, a native of Dublin, deported her by an order of removal signed by the same magistrate to North Dublin Union, thus transferring to the Board of the latter union the onus of prosecuting the husband.

Thus a person in a respectable position of life became a pauper in England in order to establish at the expense of the poor-rate the liability of her husband to support her, and was then removed to Ireland in order to transfer the charge of that proceeding from an English to an Irish union.

The correspondence, which is likely to result in an appeal against the order of removal, will be found in the Appendix.*

Meantime these two young persons, married only a few months, have, under pretext of law, had the Irish Channel placed between them—a serious bar to any prospect of reconciliation, inasmuch as the wife's return to her former residence in England would be an offence against the law.

19. The cases of removal from Scotland which appear to us most objectionable, are those of lunatics taken out of lunatic Asylums in Scotland and brought to union workhouses in Ireland.

In the case of John Cassidy, a lunatic removed with his wife and children in November last from the parish of Barony, Glasgow, to the Dungannon Union in Ireland, the Board of Guardians made a complaint to us which we submitted to the Board of Supervision in Scotland.

In reply we received from the Board of Supervision a copy of a letter from the Inspector of the parish of Barony, in which he states as follows :—

"The proceedings are conform to law and order, and I cannot see any ground for the complaint of hardship of the Irish authorities, unless it be the using of manacles. This treatment is explained by the removing officer's letter and previous experiences. The man was a lunatic, and a very violent and dangerous one too, but no mention of this is made in the Irish papers : at all events he was so when removed."

The removing officer's previous experiences are thus described in a letter addressed by him to the Inspector :—

"On the first day of September, 1868, I proceeded to the Calton Police Office with a medical certificate of emergency to remove him (John Cassidy) to Gartnavel Asylum. When on my way he violently attacked me in a lonesome part of the road, and nearly strangled me. He would have succeeded in doing so but for the timely assistance of two strong men, masons, who secured him, and after he was secured he said all he wanted was just two minutes more to finish me. With their assistance I took him to Gartnavel Asylum.

"On the fifth day of October, 1868, accompanied by the head keeper from Barnhill Poorhouse Asylum, I proceeded to Gartnavel with sheriff's warrant to remove him to Dungannon, Ireland. I had him handcuffed before I removed him, knowing him to be dangerous. I did this in order that he would not injure himself or others. I was also cautioned by one of the Gartnavel medical officers before leaving to watch him very close, and also by the head keeper there.

"On our passage from Glasgow to Belfast his wife several times requested me not to take the handcuffs off him—she said she was afraid if he got loose he would do harm to her or some of the children."

The Board of Supervision in forwarding this explanation intimate that they do not see any irregularity in the proceeding; and we were made aware in a former similar case that the advice of the highest legal authorities of Scotland had been obtained in support of the legality of the removal of a lunatic on the evidence of other persons as to his place of birth, &c.

Although we have been encouraged by the highest legal authorities in Ireland to contend that the removal of a lunatic from a Scotch asylum to an Irish workhouse is not justified in law, it is impossible for us to try that question before any legal tribunal as there is no redress by way of appeal against a Scotch warrant of removal. The whole description given by the removing authorities themselves of the particulars of this shocking case will be found in the Appendix,* and we submit that the interference of the Legislature is urgently called for to suppress such outrages on humanity and on public decency in future.

20. In the year 1866, when Ireland was threatened by the cattle plague, the protective measure adopted by Parliament, on our recommendation, was not to leave each Poor Law union to contend with the disaster separately and singly, as had been proposed, but to create a fund by equal assessment upon all the unions, and place it under the absolute control of the Executive Government, for the necessary process of stamping out the disease and for compensation to the owners of cattle slaughtered for that purpose by authority.

This course, taken in anticipation of the attack, was received with universal acquiescence and satisfaction, every part of the country being at that point of time equally interested in the matter, as none could foresee in what locality the plague might first appear.

The existence of this fund, applicable at a moment's notice, to the quarter in which it might be wanted, inspired universal confidence and removed all the previous tendency to panic; and immediately on the first appearance in Ireland of what was pronounced to be the cattle plague it was promptly stamped out by the agents of the Government, and never permitted to re-appear. The limit of the poundage allowed by Parliament for this service was 4*d.*, equivalent to a sum of £215,584 on the then valuation of Ireland. Our first and only order under the Act was an assessment of one farthing in the pound, producing a sum of £13,474. We have now to state that, after satisfying all expenditure under the Cattle Disease Act, £5,608 has been restored to the unions, as the unexpended balance of the total sum remitted by them to the Bank of Ireland.†

21. The progress of out-door relief and the passing of the "Sanitary Act, 1866," have together created a necessity for an increase in the number of relieving officers in some of the unions. The Poor Relief Extension Act has provided that every union shall have at least one relieving officer, and since the Sanitary Act of 1866 our desire has been that no part of the country should be altogether without the service of a sanitary inspector; and in rural districts no difficulty is found in combining the duties of the Inspector of Nuisances and the duties of the Relieving Officer in one and the same person. These views have occasionally met with opposition from the Boards of Guardians, when called upon by us to appoint one or more additional relieving officers, but such opposition has generally, on further explanation, been abandoned. In a few cases we have found it necessary to issue sealed orders, fixing the number and salaries of these officers and defining their districts. In the Macroom Union the guardians declined to obey such an order, and we were obliged to apply to the Court of Queen's Bench for an order to compel them to do so. This order the Court granted, after argument, and the requisite number of officers has now been appointed in the Macroom Union.

We place in the Appendix* the shorthand writer's report of the judgment in this case, and beg attention particularly to the sentiments expressed by the Court, as follows:—

"Chief Justice Whiteside.—Looking at the facts of this case, I do not think that in a district of the size of this union two relieving officers is an extravagant thing, nor am I shocked at the salary of £25 a year to be given to each. If the effect of those officers being appointed was to save one life during the ensuing winter, I think the £25 a year would be well spent. Therefore if we had a right to enter into a discussion as to the merits of the sealed order, I do not at all say we would be inclined to differ from it. And when it is said by the guardians that the poor have not complained of the way in which relief was administered, while there was but one relieving officer, I should like to know in what way the poor man could complain.

"Mr. Justice Fitzgerald.—The Legislature, in passing this Poor Law system—and give me leave to say it is upon its liberal and humane administration that the real welfare of the country depends—thought it necessary to constitute a central authority, and without that central authority (you may call it despotism if you please) the law could not be administered. . . . . If we were sitting on appeal from that decision of the Commissioners, and even giving the fullest force to the arguments which have been pressed upon us on behalf of the guardians, I would adopt the opinion of the Commissioners, and come to the conclusion that in this large district, which contains 31,000 people, one person to administer relief is not adequate. Any one who knows the district cannot fail to see that people seeking relief, if there is but one relieving officer, might have to travel ten or twelve miles through a country, some parts of which are very hilly. But, as I said before, we cannot enter into this question. Here we have an order properly made by the Commissioners within the limits of their jurisdiction. The Act says that that order shall be obeyed."

This table embraces the extra expenditure during the last epidemic of cholera.

23. Notwithstanding the increased expenditure which is adverted to in a previous part of this Report, the financial state of the several unions may be regarded as satisfactory, the net amount of the balances to the credit of the several electoral divisions at the close of the year being no less than £60,020, while at the commencement of the year there was on the whole a debit balance of £12,820.*

This improved balance is of course due to some extent to the relief afforded by the annual grant made by Parliament in aid of the medical and educational expenses incurred in each union.

* See Appendix B, No. 4, page 101.

The estimate for that grant in each year is necessarily derived from a preceding year's expenditure; and as the natural tendency of such expenditure is to increase, the estimate does not square with the claims afterwards made upon the fund provided. Thus for the year ended 25th March, 1868, the statement of account is as follows:—

| —— | Amount of Grant. | Amount of Claim. | Amount allowed. |
| Medical purposes, . . . | 59,228 13 10 | 60,421 3 2½ | 57,708 15 1 |
| Educational, . . . . | 5,731 10 0 | 6,057 17 2 | 5,623 8 5 |
| Total, . . . . | 64,960 3 10 | 66,479 0 4½ | 63,332 3 6 |

The claims exceeding the grant by £1,518 16*s.* 6½*d.*

In some unions, however, the amount of the claim on account of medical and educational expenses of the year was less than the grant, and in such cases the amount unappropriated was retained as a balance in the account, to be returned to the Treasury. The amounts thus returned were—

| | £ | s. | d. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Of the Medical Grant, . . . . | 1,519 | 18 | 9 |
| ,, Educational, . . . . | 108 | 1 | 7 |
| | £1,628 | 0 | 4 |

Deducting these sums from the respective grants, there was left for remission to the unions—

| | £ | s. | d. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Of the Medical Grant, . . . | 57,708 | 15 | 1 |
| ,, Educational, . . . . | 5,623 | 8 | 5 |
| | £63,332 | 3 | 6 |

which, deducted from the claims, amounting, as above stated, to £66,479 0*s.* 4½*d.*, leaves a total deficit of £3,146 13*s.* 6*d.*

The above sum is required to make up to the unions the full amount of their claims of half the cost of medical salaries and medicine, and the entire of the teachers' salaries.

The correspondence with the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury on the subject is given in the Appendix.*

PROCEEDINGS under the MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT, IRELAND (14th and 15th Vic., cap. 68), the Act of 1858, "To make further provision for the practice of Vaccination in Ireland," and the Act of 1863, "To further extend and make compulsory the practice of Vaccination in Ireland."

24. We now submit to your Excellency the report of our proceedings under the above-mentioned Acts for the past year.

In the following table is given a summary of the relief afforded under the Medical Charities Act for each of the last ten years, ending respectively on the 30th September, in each province and in the whole of Ireland. In each case separate columns are appropriated to patients attending at the dispensaries and those labouring under more serious ailments attended at their own homes.

On comparison of the numbers in this summary for the two last years in the table, it appears that in Ulster there has been an increase in each class of cases for the latter year, giving a total increase of 4,997 cases, of which however the small number of 318 cases were of the domiciliary class. In Munster, while the total cases attended give an excess for the last over the previous year of 6,336 cases, the number of the more serious cases has been less by 1,474 cases. In Leinster only has there been a considerable diminution of each class of cases, giving a total of 13,768 cases, nearly equally divided between them. In Connaught we find an increase of cases for the last year, arising entirely on patients attending at the dispensaries, while there has been a diminution in the number of cases attended at the patients' homes of 325; comparing the total number of cases for all Ireland during the two last years we observe for the latter year a considerable increase in the number of cases attending at the dispensaries (11,882), and a considerable decrease in the number of domiciliary cases (8,525), resulting in an inconsiderable total increase of 3,357 cases.

The detail of the medical relief afforded during the last year in each dispensary district in Ireland will be found in the Appendix.*

25. The expenditure on dispensary relief for each of the ten years ended September 29th, is exhibited in the next table for each province, and for all Ireland.

This table shows for the year ended September 29, 1868, compared with the year before, an increased expenditure under the above-mentioned Acts, amounting to £3,865. Each province contributes to the increase; but far the greater part of it belongs to Ulster and Leinster, viz., £1,997 for the former, and £1,516 for the latter. The increase in the other two provinces has been slight—£263 for Connaught, and £89 for Munster.

* Appendix D, No. 2, page 214.

† This amount, £121,983, is the total expenditure for the year. The smaller amount shown in page 21 of the Report, and Table 1, Appendix B, arises from a credit of £19 having been given in the case of Glenties Union for an overcharge in a previous year.

26. The following table affords a comparative statement of the items of this expenditure for the last two years, ended September 29th, arranged under the usual six heads :—

|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | Medicines and medical appliances, | | £21,777 | £21,904 |
| 2. | Rent of Dispensary buildings, | | 7,308 | 7,498 |
| 3. | Books, forms, stationery, printing, and advertising, | | 1,215 | 1,266 |
| 4. | Salaries of Medical Officers, | | 72,354 | 74,232 |
| | Salaries of Apothecaries, | | 2,212 | 2,232 |
| 5. | Fuel, porters, and incidental expenses, | | 6,716 | 8,385 |
| Expenses under Vaccination Act:— | | | | |
| 6. | Vaccination fees and other expenses:— | | | |
| | Fees to Medical Officers, | £5,852 | 6,536 | 5,812 6,466 |
| | Other expenses, | 684 | | 654 |
| | | | £118,118 | £121,983 |

There has been, as appears from this statement, an increased expenditure for the last of these years under each head except the sixth, the vaccination expenses having decreased slightly, viz., by £70. The increase of expenditure under the heads of medicines, &c., rent of dispensary buildings, and books, forms, &c., has been inconsiderable. Nearly the whole increase belongs to salaries of medical officers, and fuel, porters, and incidental expenses, viz., £1,878 under the former head, and £1,669 under the latter.

The average poundage on the Poor Law valuation of Ireland, now amounting to £13,117,769, to provide for this expenditure was 2·23*d.*, and is slightly above that of the year before, viz., 2·17*d.*

27. The alterations made in the dispensary arrangements during the last year have not been considerable. In 19 dispensary districts the number of the members of the managing committees has been increased, with the object, as usual, of affording greater facilities to the sick poor for procuring tickets for medical relief. In addition to the number of skilled midwives mentioned in our last report, new appointments of these very valuable officers have been made during the year, and the number of such officers now authorized to be appointed is 125. We view with much satisfaction the steady increase of these appointments, being well persuaded of the important benefits they confer on poor women in labour and their children, in the saving of life, and diminution of suffering.

In one district, Roundstone, in the Clifden Union, a second medical officer has been appointed; and in the Dundalk and Navan districts of the unions of the same name an apothecary for each has been appointed. In four dispensary districts, Ballandine, Killygordon, Castledermott, and Ballinamore, in the Claremorris, Stranorlar, Athy, and Bawnboy Unions, the medical officers were removed for neglect of duty or other sufficient grounds. We have also made orders altering the Dispensary Districts in the Belfast and Castlebar Unions, and requiring the appointment of an additional medical officer.

28. The subjoined table exhibits the progress of vaccination by the dispensary medical officers for the 16 years, ended September

30th, 1868, the first of these, 1853, being the first in which a report under the Medical Charities Act was presented:—

It may be observed on inspection of the figures for the last four years in this table, that since the great increase of vaccination in 1864, the year in which compulsory vaccination was first established by Act of Parliament, an increase which was in a considerable degree owing to a misapprehension on the part of the poor that the compulsory enactment applied to the whole population, there has been each year, except the last, a decline in the total number of vaccinations. It is, however, very satisfactory to find that in every instance the decline is accounted for by the diminishing number of vaccinations amongst persons born before January, 1864, and therefore not liable to compulsory vaccination, while, on the other hand, there has been a steadily increasing number of vaccinations of children born since that date. For the first time since then the increase in the number of infant vaccinations for the last year in the table (viz., 11,140) more than counterbalances the decline among those not subject to compulsory vaccination (viz., 5,455).

The next table presents a summary of the progress of vaccination in each province and in all Ireland for the four years ended September 30th, 1868, during the whole of which the Compulsory Act was in full operation, distinguishing the infant vaccinations from those of persons exempt from the compulsory provisions of the Act.

29. In the twelfth section of our report for the year 1856, we calculated on the assumptions that the population of Ireland at that time was 6,552,055 (the population of 1851), and that about the thirtieth part of this number would represent the births within the year, that nearly two-thirds of the children born in 1855, and proper subjects for gratuitous vaccination, must have been unvaccinated. The contrast afforded to this condition of things by the state of infant vaccination exhibited in the above table is in the highest degree gratifying. Assuming the Irish Registrar-General's estimate of the population of the country in the middle of 1868 (viz., 5,543,285), and of the annual births as then averaging about the fortieth part of this number (viz., 138,582), and making a deduction from this number on account of deaths of infants before six months of age, and of vaccinations performed by private practitioners, it may be safely concluded that a very great advance has been made since 1856 by the infant vaccinations of last year (viz., 118,613), towards providing for the whole infant population entitled to gratuitous vaccination.

We have had occasion in a former report, to complain that while in the other three provinces a steady increase of infant vaccinations was taking place, in Leinster, the returns showed a decrease for the years 1866 and 1867. This cause of complaint no longer exists. For the last year the infant vaccinations have increased in each province, being in Leinster 3,072 above the number of the year before.

30. The very satisfactory state of the vaccination of the poor at which we have arrived, has not been attained either at a single step, or without discouraging fluctuations. An inspection of the two last tables will show the gain procured by each enactment respecting vaccination since the passing of the Medical Charities Act in 1851. By this Act gratuitous vaccination was for the first time provided for the whole population in every district of the country—the 13th section of the Act, imposing on the medical officer of each dispensary district the duty of vaccinating all persons brought or applying to him for that purpose. Owing to apathy and want of faith in vaccination, and the distance of the dispensaries and residences of the medical officers from a very large part of the population, the average number of yearly vaccinations, if we except the year ended September 30, 1856, under the Medical Charities Act alone, was somewhat below 50,000. The exceptionally high number of vaccinations in 1856 was occasioned by an epidemic of small-pox, which prevailed over all Ireland, and induced parents to present their children for vaccination in greatly increased numbers. An important advance was made under Lord Naas's Act of 1858, by which a fee of £1 was awarded to the dispensary medical officers for every twenty cases of successful vaccination, and the Dispensary Committees of Management were required to divide their districts into two or more sub-districts, with a vaccination station in each; thus bringing the benefit of vaccination within easy reach of the poor everywhere. The effect of this enactment was to produce an average number of vaccinations from 1859 to 1863 more than double the previous average. Still, we observed with concern that, with the exception of 1863, the total number of vaccinations was year by year declining. The last, and by far the most important step towards the very satisfactory condition of vaccination now existing, was made by the enactment of Sir Robert Peel's Compulsory Vaccination Act of 1863. This Act took effect on January 1, 1864, and in the first nine months of its operation, together with the last quarter of 1863, 191,810 persons had been vaccinated, that is, 85,300 above the number of the year before. Of these, no less than 166,456 were persons not coming under the compulsory provisions of the Act, owing, as we have already remarked, to a misapprehension on their part that the compulsion applied to all persons, whether born before or after January 1, 1864. The number of vaccinations of those belonging to this class has, as we anticipated, regularly diminished in succeeding years, so as to have fallen to 12,813 in 1868; while, on the other hand, the infant vaccinations have uniformly increased from 97,160 in 1865 to 118,613 in 1868.

31. Notwithstanding, however, the conspicuous success that has hitherto attended the Compulsory Vaccination Act, we are well aware that a considerable number of infants still remain, year by year, unprotected by vaccination against small-pox; and that for the purpose of maintaining that success, still more of attaining the nearest practicable approach to the perfect success of that excellent enactment, persevering vigilance is absolutely necessary on the part of all who are responsible for carrying out its salutary provisions; especially that for the enforcement of vaccination within the first six months of life, inasmuch as it is known that about three-fourths of the entire mortality caused by small-pox, occurs among children under five years of age.

32. We had the pleasing task of calling attention in the report of last year to the surprising diminution that had taken place in the registered number of deaths from small-pox in Ireland, concurrently with the increase of infant vaccinations since January, 1864; and it is in the highest degree gratifying to be able to assert, by the experience of another year, that a very near approach has been made to the extinction of small-pox as a cause of death in this country.

In our report for 1868 three tables are given—one, exhibiting the extraordinary decline in the number of deaths from small-pox in the workhouse hospitals in the four years ended in February, 1868, viz., 145 in 1865, 59 in 1866, 9 in 1867, and 5 in 1868; a second, showing the diminution in the number of cases of small-pox treated by the dispensary medical officers for the four years ended September 30, 1867, viz., 1,965 in 1864, 2,000 in 1865, 579 in 1866, and 105 in 1867; and a third, which the Registrar-General was so good as to procure for us, giving the annual number of deaths from small-pox registered since the Compulsory Vaccination Act had been in force, viz., 854 in 1864, 347 in 1865, 187 in 1866, and 20 in 1867. The concurrent evidence these figures afford in proof of the great progress made towards the stamping out of small-pox in Ireland is well sustained by the similar testimony we have received for the last year, as shown in the following tables by the numbers returned for 1868.

The above return of deaths in the workhouses by small-pox shows a diminution from 5 in 1867–8 to 3 in 1868–9; and the Registrar-General's return gives 21 deaths from the same cause for 1868, which is one above the number for 1867. But we have ascertained that two of these deaths were not caused by small-pox. In the cases of Sarah Ruth and John Tait the 16th and 17th in the subjoined table, giving particulars of the cases of death from small-pox in 1868, and obligingly furnished to us by the Registrar-General, the deaths were caused, as we have been informed by the medical officers of the districts in which the patients resided, one by scrofula, and the other by erysipelas. The corrected number of deaths is therefore one less for 1868 than that for 1867.

These tables furnish the most satisfactory proof that an approach has been made to stamping out small-pox as a cause of death in Ireland, in five years, to a degree that the most sanguine could not have supposed possible in 1864. During the ten years preceding the enactment of the Medical Charities Act, the deaths caused by small-pox, according to the Census returns, amounted to 38,535, giving an annual average of 3,853 deaths. This high average is connected with the great mortality from this cause in some of the years following the famine; but the deaths, in that year of the ten in which they were fewest, were 1,865. There is good reason to believe that the legislative measures for the promotion of vaccination, adopted between 1851 and 1864, together with the active prosecution of inoculators of small-pox, contributed largely to the diminished mortality of 1864 from this disease (viz. 854); and the rapid and uniform decline of the mortality to twenty and nineteen deaths, respectively, for 1867 and 1868, leaves no doubt that this most surprising and happy result is due to the operation of the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

33. There are certain well-ascertained facts with regard to small-pox, and the influence of vaccination upon it, a knowledge of which could not fail to render all parties earnestly desirous of promoting in every possible way the complete vaccination of the infant population of the country. The facts alluded to are:— 1. Pure small-pox (that is small-pox attacking persons in no way protected against the natural virulence of the disease) is the most contagious and fatal of all the infectious diseases which occur in Ireland. 2. It is fatal in every third, fourth, or fifth case. 3. Vaccination does not necessarily or certainly render the persons vaccinated proof against the contagion of small-pox; but it does so in a considerable proportion of the vaccinated. 4. Among those who are not rendered proof against small-pox by vaccination, the disease occurs in a modified form, which does not possess the high mortality mentioned above, but is a milder and less fatal disease in exact proportion as the vaccination has been more efficiently performed. When small-pox occurs in this modified form after vaccination it is common to hear it said amongst the poor, and not unfrequently among those who should be better informed, that vaccination is useless. A few weeks ago a Coroner's jury in the Union of Castlebar, in a case of this nature, brought in a verdict to that effect. That this is a gross and pernicious mistake is clearly shown by the following statistics:—

| Cases of Small-pox classified according as the patients were altogether unprotected against the disease, or presented evidence of more or less efficient vaccination. | Number of Deaths per cent. in each class respectively. |
|---|---|
| Class 1. Unprotected, | 35½ |
| „ 2. Stated to have been vaccinated, but having no scar, | 21⅜ |
| „ 3. Having one vaccine scar, | 7½ |
| „ 4. Having two vaccine scars, | 4⅛ |
| „ 5. Having three vaccine scars, | 1⅜ |
| „ 6. Having four or more vaccine scars,* | ¾ |

The statistics of this table, which was drawn up by Mr. Simon, the Medical Officer of the Privy Council, a very high authority on everything relating to vaccination, are deduced from observations carefully made during twenty-five years on nearly 6,000 cases of small-pox contracted after vaccination. The per-centages furnish striking evidence in support of the following conclusions:— 1. Pure small-pox is fatal in 35½ per cent. of the cases, or in rather more than one case in three of the disease. 2. The most imperfect vaccination lowers the per-centage of mortality to 21¾. 3. The mortality of small-pox modified by vaccination rapidly diminishes as the number of vaccination scars increases. 4. The protective influence afforded by four or more scars lowers the mortality to one death in 133 cases. These conclusions are amply confirmed by the general testimony of medical men on this subject everywhere.

34. In contrast with the extraordinary success in the promotion of vaccination and suppression of small-pox described above, we regret extremely to have to report that, quite recently, an outbreak of small-pox has occurred in the Castlebar Union; resulting in sixty-seven cases of the disease, and four deaths, in a few weeks and in a limited portion of the union. In several of the sixty-seven cases said to have been vaccinated, it has been ascertained that there was no vaccination scar, and that, therefore, the vaccination had not really been successful, owing probably to the use of ineffective lymph in vaccinating. The mortality is above a fifth of the mortality from the same cause in all Ireland in 1868; and the number of cases above a third of that reported by the Dispensary Medical Officers for the whole of that year. There is good reason to believe that the disease in this case originated in the operations of a notorious inoculator for small-pox, who conducts his pernicious trade with such precautions to secure secrecy, and receives such aid to that end from the peasantry, prejudiced in favour of inoculation, that the constabulary have hitherto found it impossible to procure evidence sufficient for his conviction. A grave responsibility for this loss of life and this amount of preventable disease rests with the Castlebar Board of Guardians, and the Magistrates; with the former, by reason of their neglecting to prosecute the great majority of the defaulters under the Act reported to them by the Dispensary Medical Officers; and with the Magistrates, who, with ill-judged leniency, inflict merely nominal fines on the few brought before them by the Guardians. We have taken steps with a view to prevent the recurrence of this calamity, by remonstrating with the Guardians, bringing the conduct of the Magistrates under the notice of the Government, and requiring the appointment of an additional Medical Officer for the union; and trust that the circular to the Magistrates, issued by your Excellency's directions, together with the measures we have taken, will be effectual to attain the desired object.

The circulars and correspondence relating to this subject will be found in the Appendix.*

35. In paragraph thirty-one of our last Report we pointed out how much, in our opinion, the success of the Compulsory Vaccination Act was due to the combination of the two offices of Registrar of Births and Public Vaccinator in the person of the Medical Officer of each Dispensary District. If that officer performs these duties properly, and with our present means of inspection we believe we shall be enabled to ensure his doing so, the defaulting parents of infant children unvaccinated must inevitably be reported to the authorities, whose duty it is to prosecute such offenders. In the few cases in which the Public Vaccinator is not the Registrar of Births, it is found that difficulty and uncertainty ensues in this respect, the two parties not co-operating, acting as they are under the control of two different central authorities. We are anxious that every Dispensary Officer, hereafter to be appointed, should undertake to assume and retain the Registrarship of Births and Deaths, and we shall take steps accordingly, under our general power of approval of these appointments when made by the Dispensary Committees.

36. Towards the close of last year we consulted our Inspectors, both lay and medical, as to the best practicable way of lessening the trouble experienced by the Dispensary Medical Officers in keeping the Dispensary Books; and with the aid of their practical knowledge we have been enabled to reduce the number of the books, required to be kept for recording the dispensary cases, from two to one. The form of the new Medical Register will be found in the Appendix.* This change, we believe, has given much satisfaction to the Medical Officers of the Dispensary Districts, and we believe that a record of each case, the attendances, and the treatment, has been established, which is quite sufficient for all practical purposes.

Departmental Arrangements.

37. By the Act of last session, 31 & 32 Vict., c. 74, entitled, "An Act to extend the powers of Poor Law Inspectors and Medical Inspectors in Ireland," Inspectors appointed under the Poor Law Acts were enabled to act also under the Medical Charities Act; and Inspectors appointed under the Medical Charities Act to act also under the Poor Law Acts; and both classes of Inspectors were empowered to assist in carrying out the provisions of the "Sanitary Act, 1866."

38. Immediately on the passing of this Act the Inspectors' districts, which had been previously arranged under a scheme of division suitable to the then existing state of the law, were rearranged so as to consist of eleven districts, as nearly equal as possible; each Inspector supervising not only the workhouses but the dispensaries in each union situate in his district.† We have by this arrangement obtained for the first time an effectual visitation and superintendence of the dispensaries without incurring any expense disproportioned to the value of the service; there being now eleven districts under the Medical Charities Act, which were previously four, and eleven districts for Poor Law purposes, which used formerly to be seven. We are enabled, at the same time, when special circumstances require the service of a Medical Inspector, to employ him either singly or in conjunction with a lay Inspector.

* Appendix C, I., No. 9, page 174.
† See Circular, Appendix A, II., No. 5, p. 48.

This change, whereby each class of Inspectors has been rendered doubly useful to the public, has imposed not only additional labour on those officers, but has increased considerably their personal expenses, for which they receive a fixed allowance annually; and a representation on this head has been made by us, through your Excellency, to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, recommending to favourable consideration a proposal to have the salaries of our Inspectors placed upon a better footing, and one approaching more nearly to that which now obtains with regard to the Poor Law Inspectorships in England.

A copy of this communication, dated 25th January last, is given in the Appendix,* and we trust that the claim may be recognised by the proper authorities; but at present we are not aware whether any decision has been arrived at on this subject.

39. By another Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, entitled, "An Act to make provision for the Audit of Accounts of District Lunatic Asylums in Ireland," the duty of auditing the accounts of twenty-one asylums, involving an annual expenditure of more than £200,000, has been transferred to the Auditors of Poor Law Unions, the number of which, as stated in our last Report, had been increased from four to five.

In this case the additional labour imposed upon the Auditors has been compensated by an express provision in the Act of Parliament.

We have the honour to be

Your Excellency's obedient, faithful servants,

ORDERS, CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTION, AND CORRESPONDENCE UNDER THE POOR LAW ACTS.

I.—ORDERS.

General Order assigning the proportion of the Balance of the Cattle Plague Fund to be returned to each Union.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule hereunto annexed; to the Treasurer of each of such Unions, and to all persons whom it may concern.

Whereas, in pursuance of the provisions of "The Cattle Disease Act (Ireland), 1866," we, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, on receipt of a certificate of the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, did, by an Order under our Seal bearing date the 27th day of April, 1866, assess the sum of £13,474 upon the several Unions in Ireland, in the sums set opposite the name of each Union in the Schedule to the said Order, for the purpose of providing a fund for defraying the expenses of carrying the said Act into execution, and for compensating the owners of cattle, the slaughter of which might be compelled by authority.

And whereas the sum so assessed was paid into the Bank of Ireland.

And whereas it is enacted by the said Act that if, after the assessment and payment of the sums so assessed into the Bank of Ireland, occasion shall not arise for the application of the whole or any part thereof to the purpose aforesaid, the fact shall be certified by the Chief Secretary or Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant to the said Commissioners, who shall thereupon ascertain the amount of the remaining balance, and make and issue an Order under their Seal assigning the proportions returnable to each Union, according to its net annual value, and that the Bank of Ireland shall, on receiving direction to that effect from the Chief Secretary or Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, remit the sums so assigned to the Treasurers of the said Unions respectively, and that the Guardians of each Union shall, on the Treasurer's receipt of the sums so assigned, credit each electoral division with its proportion according to the net annual value of the rateable property situate in each.

And whereas a certificate, under the hand of the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, bearing date the 22nd day of April, 1868, has been received by us, the said Commissioners, in which it is certified that occasion has not arisen for the application of the whole sum assessed by the said Order and paid into the Bank of Ireland.

And whereas the remaining balance of the sum so assessed is the sum of £5,608 2*s.* 6*d.*

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the hereinbefore recited provision of the said Act, we do, by this our Order, assign the proportions of the said remaining balance returnable to each Union, according to the net annual value of the rateable property therein, as follows—that is to say, we declare the sum returnable to each Union to be the sum set opposite to its name in the Schedule hereunto annexed.

II.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—CATTLE PLAGUE FUND.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
14th May, 1868.

SIR,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, having received from the Under Secretary of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant a certificate of the balance in the Bank of Ireland to the credit of the Cattle Plague Fund, with a statement that no occasion arises for the application of this balance for the purposes of the "Cattle Disease Act (Ireland), 1866," the Commissioners have issued an Order (copy of which is herewith enclosed), in pursuance of the 14th section of the Act, assigning the proportions of this balance returnable to each Union; and the Commissioners are informed that His Excellency will in due course direct the Bank of Ireland to remit the sums so assigned to the Treasurers of the respective Unions.

A detailed account of the expenditure under the Act will, the Commissioners are informed, be submitted to Parliament with the Annual Report.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. BANKS, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 2.—Industrial Schools Act.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
11th June, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint the Board of Guardians that the Act to extend the Industrial Schools Act to Ireland, which received the Royal Assent on the 29th May, contains a provision enabling the Justices, while inquiry is being made respecting a child, or respecting a school to which he may be sent, to order the child to be taken to the Workhouse, and to be detained therein at the cost of the Union for a time not exceeding seven days, and empowering and requiring the Guardians to detain him accordingly.

A copy of the section of the Act which contains this provision is annexed.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Copy of Sec. 12 of the Act 31 Vic., c. 25.

"Two justices or a magistrate, while inquiry is being made respecting a child, or respecting a school to which he may be sent, may, by order signed by them or him, order the child to be taken to the workhouse or poorhouse of the union, parish, or combination in which he is found or resident, and to be detained therein at the cost of the union, parish, or combination for any time not exceeding seven days, or until an order is sooner made for his discharge, or for his being sent to a certified industrial school; and the Guardians of the poor for the union or parish, or the keeper of the poorhouse, or other person to whom the order is addressed, are and is hereby empowered and required to detain him accordingly."

No. 3.—Provisions of Vagrancy Act.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
28th November, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had their attention drawn to the increase of professional vagrancy, and to the inconvenience caused by it, in many unions, where persons of the vagrant class are in the habit of seeking an asylum in the workhouse at night, taking their discharge on the following morning.

The Commissioners, in their circular letter of the 6th August, 1857, which is published in their Eleventh Annual Report, recommended a strict enforcement of the workhouse rules in regard to persons applying for admission to the workhouse avowedly for a night's lodging only, with the view of deterring vagrants who are not really destitute from making such applications; and the Commissioners have reason to believe that the adoption of this course, where constantly and uniformly carried out, has been effective to some extent in checking the abuse complained of.

They think however, that the evil may be still further and more effectually dealt with by giving effect, in all cases where the circumstances appear to justify it, to the Vagrant Act (10 and 11 Vic., c. 84), and they think it desirable therefore to bring specially under the consideration of Boards of Guardians the following provisions of that Act.

The 3rd section renders a person liable to a month's imprisonment, with hard labour, for any of the following offences:—

1. Wandering abroad and begging.
2. Placing himself in any public place to beg and gather alms.
3. Causing, or procuring, or encouraging any child or children to do so.
4. Going from the Union in which he had been resident to some other Union for the purpose of obtaining relief.

The 4th section empowers "any person whatsoever" to apprehend any person whom he shall find offending against the Act, and to convey the offender before "any Justice of the Peace," to be dealt with as provided by the Act, or to deliver him to any constable or other peace officer of the county or place wherein he shall be apprehended, to be so taken as aforesaid. And the section further provides that "it shall be the duty of every constable or peace officer to take into his custody every offender so delivered to him, and to take and convey such offender before a justice of the peace as soon as may be reasonably practicable, to be dealt with as is directed by this Act."

The 5th section empowers any justice of the peace to issue his warrant for the apprehension of any offender against the provisions of the Act.

The Commissioners recommend the provisions of the Act to be enforced in all cases in which the facts seem sufficient to obtain a conviction.

In reference to the fourth of the offences above mentioned, the Commissioners are informed that in some localities convictions have taken place of persons going without means of subsistence from one union to another, on the presumption that in doing so they go from the one union into the other union for the purpose of obtaining relief in the latter.

It is well to observe that the enforcement of the provisions of the Vagrant Act does not necessarily involve a refusal of relief. On the contrary, the application for, and obtaining of, relief will be material elements in the case of a prosecution for the fourth offence above specified.

If, therefore, a night-lodger be known to have offended against the Act, and the offence can be proved, the Master of the Workhouse or the Relieving Officer can, on his taking his discharge from the workhouse, apprehend and take him before a justice, or deliver him over to the police, as provided in section 4, if the Guardians shall see fit to give directions to that effect.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 4.—Returns of Workhouse Inmates—Night Lodgers.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
19th February, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had their attention drawn to the fact that in many unions the relative proportions of the number of able-bodied males and females relieved in the workhouse, as shown in the Half-yearly Abstract, Form 4 a, differs very largely from the relative proportions of the same classes as shown by the Weekly Relief Returns; the number of males being greatly in excess of the number of females in the Half-yearly Abstracts, while the reverse is the case in the weekly returns.

The Commissioners have sought for an explanation of this circumstance from the clerks of several of the unions in which the discrepancy is the greatest, and they find that in every case it is attributed to the fact that much greater numbers of males than females are admitted as night lodgers, and that six-sevenths of that class who are admitted during the week do not remain in the workhouse until Saturday, the day for which the return is made up, and consequently do not appear in that return, although they are necessarily included in the Half-yearly Abstract, which shows the number of persons relieved during the half year.

The Commissioners think it desirable, under these circumstances, that the number of persons who are admitted as night lodgers during the week should be shown; and they request therefore that in the column for observations, in the form for the number of persons in the workhouse, which is placed at the head of the minutes, the number of night lodgers relieved during the week, and the number who remain in the workhouse at the time the return is made up, may be stated, giving the number of each sex, and distinguishing children under fifteen years of age.

A similar statement should also be included in the Weekly Relief Return, for which provision will be made in future prints of the form.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 5.—Powers and Duties of Poor Law and Medical Inspectors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
6th August, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint the Board of Guardians of Union that, having regard to the provisions of the Act (31 & 32 Vic., c. 74) to extend the powers of Poor Law Inspectors and Medical Inspectors in Ireland, they have thought it right to reconsider and revise the existing arrangements regarding the Inspectors' Districts.

The Act enables Inspectors appointed under the Poor Law Acts to act also under the Medical Charities Act, and Inspectors appointed under the Medical Charities Act to act also under the Poor Law Acts. Both classes of Inspectors are empowered to assist in carrying out the provisions of the Sanitary Act, 1866, and provision is made enabling the Commissioners to associate together, if they see fit, for the purpose of any inquiry which they may direct to be made, a Poor Law Inspector and a Medical Inspector.

In conformity with these provisions the Commissioners have arranged that instead of continuing each Union under the charge of two different Inspectors for different purposes, as has hitherto been the case, with few exceptions, each Union, and the Dispensaries comprised in it, shall be under the superintendence of one Inspector for all the ordinary purposes of the several Acts which are administered in connexion with the Poor Law, and the Union has accordingly been placed under this new arrangement in charge of

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, Union.

III.—Correspondence on the subject of the Removal of Poor Persons from England and Scotland to Ireland.

Case of Catherine Neill and three children, removed from Bridgend and Cowbridge Union to Enniscorthy.

No 1.—Extract from Minutes of the Enniscorthy Board of Guardians.

18th February, 1869.

The clerk read to the Board an order of removal from the Union of Bridgend and Cowbridge, county of Glamorgan, of a woman, Catherine Neill and her three children who had been relieved in the workhouse there having been deserted by her husband.

The Relieving Officer of that Union then appeared before the Board with Catherine Neill and children. On her examination she stated she was a native of Grange, in the electoral division of Killon, and was married there.

Ordered—Admitted to the workhouse, the clerk to transmit the order of removal to the Commissioners.

No. 2.—Warrant of Removal.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Bridgend and Cowbridge Union, in the county of Glamorgan.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Enniscorthy Union, in the counties of Wexford and Carlow, in Ireland.

County of Glamorgan, to wit. } At a Petty Sessions of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the county of Glamorgan, holden in and for the division of Newcastle, in the said county, at the Town Hall at Bridgend, in the said county, on the thirteenth day of February, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, before us, the undersigned, Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the said county.

Whereas complaint is now made by the Guardians of the Poor of the Bridgend and Cowbridge Union, in the county of Glamorgan, that Catherine Neill hath become and is now chargeable to the common fund of the said Union. And whereas the said Catherine Neill having been brought before us, and application having been made to us in Petty Sessions assembled by William Powell, the Relieving Officer of the said Guardians on their behalf, we have made due examination on oath, and find that the said Catherine Neill is of the reputed age of thirty-two years, and was born in Ireland, and was married in Ireland to one Michael Neill who hath deserted her, and that she last resided for the space of three years in the parish of Enniscorthy, in the county of Wexford, now contained in the said Union of Enniscorthy, and hath not a settlement in England, and is not otherwise exempt from removal from the said Bridgend and Cowbridge Union; and that she hath four children by her said husband, named Joanna, of the reputed age of nine years, Lawrence of the reputed age of six years, James of the reputed age of five years, and Edward of the reputed age of three years, which children are not exempt from removal from the said union; and we have seen the said Catherine Neill and her said children, and are satisfied that the said Catherine Neill and her said children are in such a state of health as not to be liable to suffer bodily or mental injury by the removal.

These are therefore to require you the Guardians of the Poor of the Bridgend and Cowbridge Union to cause the said Catherine Neill (with her family) to be safely conveyed to the said Union of Enniscorthy, and to be delivered at the workhouse of such union.

Given under our hands and seals, at the sessions aforesaid, this thirteenth day of February, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.

Richard Franklen, (J.P.)
Charles R. Knight, (J.P.)

No. 4.—Observations of Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector.

I was at Enniscorthy yesterday, and took Catherine Neill's depositions, which I forward to the Commissioners, together with the removal warrant, and a copy of a letter she received from her husband since she arrived in Ireland.

Enniscorthy Union was not her place of birth, nor had she at any time resided in it for three years, but it appears that her husband was born in that union.

If the woman's statements are true, her case is one of great hardship, as she was separated from her husband, who had not deserted her, but had only gone away to look for work, promising to send for her; and she states that the day before she was removed she applied for her discharge from the Bridgend workhouse, by her husband's directions, but that she was not allowed to leave it, and was removed against her will on the following day, the very day on which her husband had informed her he would come or send for her.

It seems that the man did return to Bridgend at that time, as on the day after Catherine Neill's arrival at Enniscorthy, the workhouse matron wrote for her to her husband, and the letter addressed to him to Bridgend reached him; the letter enclosed is the reply. It appears evident from this letter that the man had no intention to desert his wife.

No. 5.—Deposition of Catherine Neill, taken by Mr. Robinson.

Catherine Neill having been duly sworn, states:—I was born near Tintern (in New Ross Union), and married Michael Neill, who was born in Grange (in Enniscorthy Union). I only lived at Grange for about a year, and afterwards lived near New Ross for about three and a half years, before we went to Wales. In the year 1867 my husband went to Wales to get work, and in December, 1867, he sent me money to enable me to follow him, and I went to him to Dowlass. My husband is a labouring man. About seven months ago my husband left Dowlass, and went to Mastague, and when he had been there about a month he sent me money to enable me to follow him. We lived together at Mastague for about two months, and then we both went to Bridgend. Mastague is in Bridgend Union, but I do not think that Dowlass is in the same union. It takes about three hours to get to Bridgend from Dowlass, by rail.

Between three and four months ago we went to Bridgend, and when we had been there about three days, my husband went to look for work, and I had to go into the workhouse with the children. He did not desert me, but said, when he went away, that he would send for me as soon as he would be able. About two months after he went away he sent me a message to say he was ill, and that as soon as he could do so he would send for me. On one Saturday* in last month, I was taken before the magistrates, and the next day I had a letter from my husband saying he would send or come for me on the following Tuesday, and he directed me to leave the workhouse on Monday. On Monday I asked the master of the workhouse for my discharge, and I told him I had received a message from my husband saying that he would come or send for me. The master refused to give me my discharge, and the following Monday I was ordered to get ready to go to Ireland. I said I would not go, and he said he would send for the constable, and I was compelled to leave, and was brought over here against my will. We left Bridgend that evening, at about two o'clock, and embarked next day at Milford, and arrived here on Tuesday.

I never lived in or near Enniscorthy except during the year I lived in Grange, after my marriage.

After I came here I wrote to my husband, and got an answer, which I sent to the Board.

Catherine + Neill,

Sworn before me this 1st of March, 1869.
HENRY ROBINSON, Poor Law Inspector.

(COPY OF LETTER RECEIVED BY CATHERINE NEILL FROM HER HUSBAND.)

February 22nd, 1869.

MY DEAR WIFE—It is with a sad heart that I read your letter this evening, to find where you and my children are. Ah! I did not know anything about it until this evening. If I did you should not go to where you are. Dear wife, you know as I have had a long, heavy fit of sickness, and it was not in my power to help you or myself; but now, thanks be to God, I have got constant work, and I would be able for to support you and my children if you were here; but as I am only just started at work, it is not in my power to bring you over for a while. Dear wife, I would not be able to support you and the children in Ireland and myself in this country; but as they sent you away from here against your own will, I hope as it please the Guardians where you are to send you back to me, and I will promise to support you and my children to the best of my power. Dear wife, I have got your box, clothes, and bedding all safe until you come to them. I am in good health, thank God, and I hope as you and the children are in the same. Write by the return of post, and let me know what you mean. So no more at present from

Your affectionate husband,
MICHAEL O'NEILL.

Direct as usual.

No. 6.—LETTER FROM THE COMMISSIONERS TO THE BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
SIR, 3rd March, 1869.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of the replies to queries in the case of Catherine Neill, who, with her four children, was removed from the Bridgend and Cowbridge Union to Enniscorthy workhouse, and admitted thereto on the 18th ult.

In reference to this removal the Commissioners desire to inform the Board of Guardians that Mr. Robinson, P.L.I., visited Enniscorthy on Monday last, and took Catherine Neill's sworn depositions, from which it appears that Enniscorthy Union was not her place of birth, nor had she at any time resided in it for three years; but it appears that her husband was born in that union.

It is stated by this woman that she and her husband, who is a labouring man, lived at a place called Dowlass, in Wales, and that about seven months ago the husband left Dowlass and went to a place called Mastague; and when he had been there about a month sent for his wife, and they lived together at Mastague for two months, and then both went to Bridgend.

She further states that between three or four months ago they went to Bridgend, and when there about three days the husband went to look for work, and she was obliged to go into the workhouse with the children; and she states that her husband did not desert her, but said when he went away that he would send for her as soon as he would be able.

It appears that some time after he sent her a message to the effect that he was ill, and that as soon as he could do so he would send for her.

It further appears that on the 13th of February last she was taken before the magistrates, and the next day she had a letter from her husband telling her he would send or come for her on the following Tuesday, and directed her to leave the workhouse on Monday. On Monday she applied for her discharge from the master of the workhouse, and told him of the message she had received from her husband, but that he refused her discharge; and she swears that on the following morning she was removed against her will.

If this woman's statements are true, her case is one of great hardship, as she was separated from her husband, who had not deserted her, but who had only gone away to look for work, promising to send for her; and she states that the day before she was removed she applied for her discharge from Bridgend workhouse, but was refused it, and removed against her will on the following day, the very day on which her husband had informed her he would come or send for her.

It appears that the man did return to Bridgend at that time, as on the day of Catherine Neill's arrival at Enniscorthy, the workhouse matron wrote for her to her husband, and the letter addressed to Bridgend reached him, as appears by a letter which she received from him in reply; and it is quite evident from that letter that the man had no intention to desert his wife.

The 7th section of the Act 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89, provides for a preliminary inquiry, and also for a subsequent appeal against the warrant of removal, if the facts ascertained in the preliminary inquiry should appear to justify such an appeal; and in the event of the appeal being successful, the Guardians will be entitled to the costs in the case, as well as the cost of the paupers' maintenance, and of conveying them back to the place from which they were removed.

Should the Guardians wish a preliminary inquiry to be made, they should pass a resolution in accordance with the terms of the statute, stating the grounds on which they consider the paupers were not removable, and agreeing to pay the costs incurred.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, Enniscorthy Union.

No. 7.—Extract from Minutes of the Enniscorthy Board of Guardians.

11th March, 1869.

The letter of the Commissioners, dated 3rd March, '69, No. 5,280, with reference to the removal of Catherine Neill and children from the Union of Bridgend and Cowbridge to Enniscorthy workhouse, and which was postponed for consideration to this day, was read.

The Board made no order, expecting the husband to send for his wife.

No. 8.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
19th March, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland have had before them minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Enniscorthy Union on the 11th inst., containing a minute in reference to their letter of the 3rd inst., respecting the removal of Catherine Neill and her four children from the Union of Bridgend and Cowbridge to Enniscorthy workhouse, stating that the Board made no order, expecting the husband to send for his wife,—and in reference thereto the Commissioners desire to state that in their opinion this woman was not removable to Ireland without her husband, and that an appeal would be successful if the facts be as represented. In that case the cost of proceeding and of removal back, and of maintenance in the interval would be payable by the Union at Bridgend. A preliminary inquiry must first take place to ascertain the facts. Her return to the place from which she was removed without the reversal of the order would subject her to punishment under the English Vagrant Act.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of Enniscorthy Union.

No. 10.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
31st March, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of Minutes of Proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Enniscorthy Union on the 24th inst., containing a minute, in regard to the case of Catherine Neill and her four children, who were removed from the Bridgend Union to the Enniscorthy workhouse, stating that the Guardians would be glad of a preliminary inquiry in the case; and the Commissioners desire to state that the Guardians should pass a resolution in accordance with the provisions of sect. 7 of 26 & 27 Vic., cap. 89, and state therein that they agree to pay the costs of the preliminary inquiry in question.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Enniscorthy Union.

No. 11.—Extract from Minutes of Enniscorthy Board of Guardians, dated 1st April, 1869.

Letter read, dated 31st March, 1869. No. 7,830. In reference to the removal of Catherine Neill and children from Bridgend Union to Enniscorthy workhouse stating that as the Guardians wish for a preliminary inquiry they should pass a resolution in accordance with the provisions of sec. 7 of 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89, stating they agree to pay the costs of the preliminary inquiry in question.

Ordered—the Guardians will not go to the expense.

ii.—Warrant of Removal.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Westminster Union in the County of Middlesex, and within the Metropolitan Police district, and to the Guardians of the Poor of the North Dublin Union, in the county of Dublin, in Ireland.

Middlesex and Metropolitan Police District, to wit. } Whereas complaint is now made by the Guardians of the poor of the said Westminster Union in the said county and district unto me, Robert Philip Tyrwhitt, esquire, one of the magistrates of the police courts of the metropolis, sitting at the police court, Great Marlborough-street, within the Metropolitan Police district, and county of Middlesex, that Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh hath become and is now chargeable to the said Westminster Union. And whereas the said Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh having been brought before me, and application having been made to me by Samuel George Tett, constable to the said Guardians, on their behalf, I have made due examination on oath, and find that the said Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh is of the reputed age of seventeen years, and was born in Ireland, namely, in Lower Liffey-street, Dublin, in the city of Dublin, in the county of Dublin, now contained in the said Union of North Dublin, and hath not a settlement in England, and is not otherwise exempt from removal from the said Westminster Union; and I have seen the said Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh, and am satisfied that the said Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh is in such a state of health as not to be liable to suffer bodily or mental injury by the removal.

These are therefore to require you the Guardians of the poor of the said Westminster Union to cause the said Catherine Stewart or De Warburgh to be safely conveyed to the said Union of North Dublin, and to be delivered at the workhouse of such union.

v.—Copy Letter from Mr. Michael Waterston (brother of Catherine Stewart), to the Board of Guardians of North Dublin Union.

32, Wardour-street, Oxford-street, London, W.
30th January, 1869.

Gentlemen,

I beg leave most respectfully to call your attention to the following, and to acquaint you that my sister, Catherine Stewart, is now an inmate in the North Dublin Union, through the advice of the magistrate here, in order to ascertain why her husband refuses to maintain her. I herewith ask your kind consideration of this unfortunate and lamentable condition in which my sister is placed.

The magistrate at Marlborough-street Police Court after hearing the case directed my sister to throw herself upon the parish, when, if applied to by the Guardians, he would immediately grant a warrant for his arrest, and make him come to an arrangement, but unless the Board of Guardians took it up he could do nothing in the matter.

My sister followed the magistrate's directions, but the Guardians of the Westminster Union, in consequence of some technical objection, were obliged to forward her to the parish in which she was born.

As her husband has nothing whatever to allege against her, and is acting under the advice of those who are interested in keeping him from his wife, I do hope, gentlemen, you will kindly interest yourselves in her behalf, as justice to her now rests in your hands. Her husband is now employed by Reuters' Telegram Company, No. 5, Lothbury, London.

Should you, gentlemen, as I earnestly hope, kindly take the matter in hand at once, it can be brought to a speedy termination, and you will merit, and I am sure receive the grateful thanks of this deeply injured wife, and of,

Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
Michael Waterston.

To the Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board of Guardians.

P.S.—I shall be most happy to identify my sister's husband should it be necessary, and otherwise render the Board all the assistance in my power.

No. 2.—Letter from the Commissioners to Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
8th February, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward to you the accompanying papers relating to the case of Catherine Stewart, or De Warburgh, who was recently removed, under warrant, from the Westminster Union to the workhouse of North Dublin Union; and the Commissioners desire to state that they think it desirable that you should take the woman's statement on oath in reference to any facts which may bear upon the question of the legality of her removal.

It would appear from one of the documents that the validity of her marriage is questioned, and it is important, in reference to the legality of the removal, to ascertain whether she was married or not, assuming, if she were married, that her husband was an Englishman, as is probable from the correspondence.

In that case his settlement would be her settlement, and she would be irremovable to Ireland.

It will be material to ascertain the identity of Mr. De Warburgh with Helenus Stewart, or at least her account regarding it.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Henry Robinson, esq., Poor Law Inspector, Pilotview Dalkey.

No 3.—Report from Mr. Robinson, Poor Law Inspector, to the Commissioners.

Gentlemen, Dublin, 9th February, 1869.

I beg to forward to you the evidence of Catherine Stewart, which I have taken in accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 8th instant.

You will see that there is every reason to believe that her husband is a foreigner, and that he was born in Prussia; it is possible that the name of De Warburg, used in Mr. Brandon's letter of the 23rd December last, may have been the name of the family in their own country, and that they may have taken the name of Stewart in England.

You will also observe that Catherine Stewart had lived for only three weeks in Westminster Union before she obtained relief there.

I have, &c.,

Henry Robinson.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

Deposition of Catherine Stewart inclosed in foregoing Report.

Catherine Stewart, having been duly sworn, states:—I was born in 22, Lower Liffey-street, Dublin. My father died when I was a few months old. When I was about twelve or thirteen years old my mother went to London and I followed her about six months afterwards.

This was about three and a half years ago. My mother is now in a private lunatic asylum, and I have lived with my brother, Thomas Waterson, for more than three years, and remained with him till the 19th of December last, when I went to live with my brother, Michael Waterson, in No. 32, Wardour-street.

In November, 1867, my brother Thomas and I went to live in No. 5, Bedford-street, and I lived there till I went to my brother Michael's, in Wardour-street, on December 19th, 1868.

After I lived three weeks with my brother in Wardour-street I went into the Workhouse of Westminster Union, and remained there until I was sent over here.

Bedford-street is not in Westminster Union.

In last March I was introduced to my husband by the name of Mr. Stewart, and in October last we were married. I was married with the consent of my brothers, and they were both present, and we had never known my husband by any name but that of Stewart.

I saw him sign his name Helenus Stewart, in the registers, at our marriage.

He was and is now employed in Reuter's Telegram Company, and after my marriage I went to the office to see him, and found that when I asked for Mr. Stewart he was sent to me. I never knew he called himself De Warburg till I got Mr. Brandon's letter. My husband told me that he was a Prussian, and was brought to England six months after he was born. I have been to the house where he lived, and saw his mother, who is called Madame Stewart. I have no doubt that my husband is a foreigner. I did not leave my brother's house after I married, as he gave us a room in his house, where I and my husband lived together. It had been arranged that we should live in my brother's house for a month till we could set up for ourselves. After we were married six weeks my husband began to remain away from me, and after two months remained away altogether.

I moved into Westminster Union as my husband lived in it, and I wanted to get relief in the union he lived in, that the Guardians might take proceedings against him.

My husband told me he was under twenty years of age. I am nearly seventeen years of age.

Catherine Stewart.

Sworn before me this 9th of February, 1869.

Henry Robinson, Poor Law Inspector.

No 4.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
9th February, 1869.

Sir,

With reference to the resolution of the Board of Guardians of North Dublin Union on the 3rd inst., on the subject of the removal of Catherine Stewart from the Westminster Union to North Dublin Union, in which the Guardians request a sworn investigation with a view to the prosecution of her alleged husband, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith the deposition of Catherine Stewart, which has been taken on oath by Mr. Robinson.

The inquiry has been made, not with a view to the prosecution of her alleged husband, but with a view to the question of an appeal against the removal being sustainable, as it would be if her husband had a settlement in any parish in England.

It appears, however, from her account that he was born in Prussia, and possibly, therefore, may not have any English settlement.

Catherine Stewart's chargeability to North Dublin Union having been caused by her removal by warrant, and not by her husband's desertion, the Guardians of North Dublin Union would not, in the opinion of the Commissioners, have any ground for proceeding against him.

You will be good enough to preserve the enclosed minutes of evidence, and return them to this office when done with, no copy of them having been retained.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, North Dublin Union,
North Brunswick-street.

No. 5.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
9th March, 1869.

Sir,

Adverting to previous correspondence in the case of Catherine Stewart, recently removed from the Westminster Union to the Workhouse of North Dublin Union, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to add to what is stated in their letter of the 9th February, that, in their opinion, Mrs. Stewart, assuming her marriage to have been legal, was not removable to Ireland, whether her husband possessed a settlement in England or not.

If the Guardians, on further consideration, should wish a preliminary inquiry to take place, it will be necessary to pass a resolution to that effect in the usual form, in accordance with the terms of the statute (26 and 27 Vic., cap. 89, sec. 7), stating the grounds on which they consider she was not legally removable, and agreeing to pay the costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry, and in the appeal against the warrant of removal, should an appeal be determined on after inquiry.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk, North Dublin Union,
North Brunswick-street.

No. 6.—Extracts from Minutes of the Board of Guardians of North Dublin Union, dated 10th March, 1869.

Read letter from Poor Law Commissioners, dated 9th March, 1869, No. 3,845, adverting to previous correspondence in the case of Catherine Stewart, recently removed from the Westminster Union to the Workhouse of this Union. The Commissioners add to what is stated in their letter of the 9th ultimo that, in their opinion, Mrs. Stewart, assuming her marriage to have been legal, was not removable to Ireland, whether her husband possessed a settlement in England or not. If the Guardians, on further consideration, should wish a preliminary inquiry to take place, it will be necessary for them to pass a resolution to that effect, in accordance with the terms of the statute 26 and 27 Vic., cap. 89, sec. 7, stating the grounds on which they consider she was not legally removable, and agreeing to pay the costs which may be incurred in the necessary preliminary inquiry, and in the appeal against the warrant of removal, should an appeal be determined on after inquiry.

No. 7.—Letter from the Commissioners to Messrs. Needham, Power, and Needham, Solicitors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
16th March, 1869.

Gentlemen,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith a file of papers relating to the removal of Catherine Stewart, or Warburgh, from the Westminster Union to the North Dublin Union; and the Commissioners request that you will be so good as to make a preliminary inquiry under the provisions of the 26 and 27 Vic., c. 89, sec. 7, and report the result to the Commissioners.

You will observe that the husband of the woman is stated to be a foreigner, and she appears to have become chargeable on his desertion of her; and on these points the Commissioners wish to remark that it is possible the husband, although a foreigner, may have gained a settlement in England, in which case, assuming the marriage to be valid, his wife, if removable at all, was removable to his place of settlement. It is also a question whether a married woman is removable in the absence of her husband; and a case in which this point is involved is now waiting for argument in a Court of Queen's Bench, in a cause entitled "The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland v. the Select Vestry of the parish of Liverpool." The Commissioners would also refer you to the report of the case of the Queen v. All Saints, Derby, in the 3 N. S. C., 653, referred to in a letter from the Poor Law Board of the 15th November, 1867, of which a copy is enclosed.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Messrs. Needham, Power, and Needham, Solicitors,
1, New Inn, Strand, London.

Copy Letter from the Poor Law Board in England to the Clerk of West Derby Union (referred to in the foregoing letter).

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
15th November, 1867.

Sir,

I am directed by the Poor Law Board to advert to your letter of the 23rd of September last, and to forward herewith, for the information of the Guardians of the West Derby Union, a copy of a communication which has since been forwarded from Mr. Secretary Hardy, having been transmitted to the Home Office from the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland, with reference to the removal to that country from the West Derby Union of the poor woman, named Mary Brennan, and her two children.

The Board, at the same time, desire me to express to the Guardians their opinion that the proceedings in connexion with the removal of Mary Brennan and her children were irregular, harsh, and of doubtful legality.

The Board must express their opinion that great doubt exists whether the statutes justify the removal of a woman and her children to Ireland when the husband cannot be removed with her. In the report of the case Queen v. All Saints, Derby, in the 3 N. S. C., 653, Mr. J. Coleridge is reported to have said:—

"The jurisdiction of the Justices appears to attach where a person is born in Scotland or Ireland, and has become chargeable to a parish in England by relief given to himself or his family, who can then be removed with him; but it is said that the latter words of the section are to be taken distributively, and that either the father or family may be removed to Ireland in the absence of the other; but the latter part of the section goes on to point out in what manner the Justices are to act. The person intended to be removed must be in attendance before the Justices, or, at all events, he must have been summoned; and they are then to proceed to hear and determine the matter of such complaint, and, if satisfied, they are to remove such person, which must mean such person born in Scotland or Ireland. The fact of the father being absent prevents the Justices complying with the provisions of the statute, and seems to me to dispose of the case."

In the present case the husband was, so far as anything appears to the contrary, living, though not living with his wife, so that the case is within the condition specified by the learned Judge.

Again, the warrant states that the children had gained no settlement in England, whereas they had been all born in England, and, consequently, were settled in the parishes of their birth in England.

Moreover, it appears that in the present case one of the children, an infant, was not in a state of health to justify the removal; and it was, therefore, a violation of the spirit of the statute 24 and 25 Vic., c. 76, to remove the mother of the infant to Ireland and to leave the infant behind.

The Board desire me to direct the especial attention of the Guardians to the alteration of the form of the warrant for the removal of Mary Brennan and her children from the form prescribed by the statute, and also to the fact that the state of the family appears to have been kept back from the knowledge of the Justices who signed the warrant.

I am, &c.,

(Signed), G. Sclater-Booth, Secretary.

W. Cleaver, Esq., Clerk to the Guardians of the West Derby Union, 14, Clayton-square, Liverpool.

No 8.—Letter from Messrs. Needham and Co., to the Commissioners.

Catherine Stewart's removal.—No. 6,654/69, North Dublin Union.

1, New Inn, London,
30th March, 1869.

Gentlemen,

We beg to acknowledge and thank you for your communication of the 27th instant, giving names of the Solicitors in the Liverpool appeal.

We now beg to forward the result of our inquiry into this case, under section 7 of 26 & 27 Vic., c. 89, as instructed by the Commissioners' letter of the 16th instant, and to report as follows:—

1st. With respect to the question of legality of the pauper's marriage, we are of opinion that as the marriage was by banns, and the woman does not appear to have known that the man was married by a false name, which appears to have been the fact, both of them being under age, the marriage is valid, 4 Geo. IV., cap. 76, Rex. v. Inhabitants of Wroxton;

4 Barn. and Adol. Reports, 641 ; Holmes v. Simmons ; 34 Law Journal, P. and Mag. cases, 59. As to the alleged non-publication of banns in the husband's parish (assuming that to be usual and proper) it has been decided on the 4 Geo. IV., c. 76, sec. 22, that the words "without due publication of banns" include a non-publication, Wright v. Ellwood, 1 Curtiss, 673, and if the wife (as no doubt she will state) did not know that the banns had not been duly published then Rex. v. Inhabitants of Wroxton applies and decides that the marriage was not void on this account. As to the absence of consent of the husband's mother as guardian, &c., on his behalf, it has been decided on sec. 16 of 4 Geo. IV., cap. 76, that the provision in that section for consent is directory only, and that the marriage is valid without it. See Rex. v. Inhabitants of Birmingham, 8 Barn. and Creswell, 29. See also section 23 of the last-mentioned statute.

2nd. With respect to the question of settlement, we may observe that it appears probable so far as we have been able to make out, that the husband of the pauper has not gained a settlement either in his own right or otherwise, in this country. It seems, however, not impossible that a further investigation at some additional expense might lead to more definite and satisfactory information on this head.

3rd. With respect to the question of irremovability of a married woman in the absence of her husband, we have referred to the cases to which our attention has been called by the Commissioners and have considered the law bearing upon the point. It appears that here the husband was living at the date of the order of removal, and was not so far as we can ascertain present, or even summoned when the warrant was applied for or obtained. Nevertheless it appears to us that the wife was (assuming the husband to have no settlement) removable to her maiden settlement in Ireland. It is so expressly as we read the case, decided by Lord Campbell and J. J. Patteson, and Coleridge, in the Queen v. Inhabitants of St. Marylebone (1851), 16, Queen's Bench Reports, N. S. 352, and this case cites the case of the Queen v. All Saints, Derby (1849), to which the Commissioners have referred us.

We may add that as the law of removal of a wife in the absence of her husband, is certainly not left free from doubt, it is our intention so soon as counsel return to town after Easter, to arrange a conference on this point between Mr. R. E. Turner, in whom we have every confidence, and the counsel before whom we understand the papers in "Commissioners v. Select Vestry of Liverpool" are now laid, subject of course to any interim instructions from the Commissioners to the contrary.

The warrant of removal in this case appears to us to be unassailable on other grounds.

The Guardians of the North Dublin Union will no doubt find some provision in the Irish Poor Laws, enabling them to make the husband contribute to the support of his wife.

We are, Gentlemen, your obedient humble servants,

NEEDHAM, POWER, and NEEDHAM.

To the Poor Law Commissioners for Ireland.

STATEMENT enclosed in foregoing LETTER.

CATHERINE STEWART'S REMOVAL.

THOMAS WILLIAM WATERSTON, of 78, Wardour-street, Oxford street, London, aged, clerk to Mr. James Mason, of 19, Maddox-street, Regent-street, solicitor, states as follows :—

Catherine Stewart, late Catherine Waterston, spinster, is my sister, she was born in Dublin. My father Michael Waterston, was a carver and gilder, he died in Dublin many years ago. My mother and I left Dublin for London in December, 1865. My sister, Catherine, was then at school in Dublin, but followed us soon afterwards under the care of the steward of the vessel. My sister, Mrs. Mary Jane Jennette met her on her arrival at Millar's Wharf, Wapping. My brother Michael, and my sister Mary Jane, came over to England some years previously. My mother is now and has been for several years in a private lunatic asylum at Peckham House. Upon her arrival in London in December, 1865, my sister Catherine came to live with me, and continued to reside with me at 3, Spur-street, Leicester-square, and subsequently at 5, Bedford-street, Strand, both in St. Martin's parish and union, down to 19th December, 1868, when she went to reside with my brother Michael, at 32, Wardour-street—one side of Wardour-street is in St. James' the other in St. Ann's parish, both being in the Westminster Union. About six months before her marriage presently mentioned, she got employment under a Mr. Hill, a tailor, of 10, Rupert-street, Leicester-square, and it was whilst in his employ that she became acquainted with Helenus Stewart (her husband). She was introduced to him by a friend (but I believe no relation) of his, named Frederick Stewart, who was also in the tailoring business, and whom she knew from seeing him frequently at Mr. Hill's. Helenus Stewart was living in lodgings at 12, Rupert-street in the parish of St. James, only two doors from Mr. Hill's, with his mother and sister, whom he introduced to my sister as such. The first I heard of my sister being acquainted with Helenus Stewart was my meeting them walking together one evening in the summer of 1868 in Picadilly. I did not then stop to speak to them, but my sister told me when she came home in the evening who her companion was, and of her recent introduction to him, and she told me at the same time, or very shortly afterwards that he had offered her marriage. I consulted my relations, and eventually told him that as I understood he could give satisfactory references there would be no objection to the engagement. He called shortly afterwards at my rooms, and brought me some of Reuter's telegram prospectuses, and other papers which satisfied me that he was, and had been for some years, a clerk in Mr. Reuter's office, and he referred me to his employers, as to his respectability, but I did not think it necessary, and did not inquire further about him. He was constantly afterwards at my lodgings, visiting my sister, and on the 20th October, 1868 he and my sister were married at St. Martin's Church, by the Rev. Mr. Cooper, the curate, who, as I am informed, has since gone to Bombay. Banns were regularly published in St. Martin's Church in the names of Helenus Stewart and Catherine Waterston. One Sunday I myself heard them so published. He wrote letters to my sister both before and after the marriage, signed Helenus Stewart, and I believe some of them can be produced, and I have seen letters in his possession since the marriage addressed to Mr. Stewart.

The members of the family present at the wedding were my brother Michael and his wife, and myself, Mrs. Strut, and Miss Helen Hatt (two sisters of my brother Michael's wife), Mr. John Jennette, of 42, Whitcombe-street, whose brother Richard married my sister Mary Jane. Mr. and Mrs. Hatt spent the evening with us afterwards at my lodgings, but were not present at the marriage. I gave my sister away, and am one of the witnesses on the Register, where from force of habit I erroneously signed my name "Waterson." No guardians, or relative, or other person was present at the marriage on behalf of Mr .Stewart. We all understood, however, that he was under age, but I do not know his exact age. I believe that he was born in Prussia. His mother and sister were not present at the marriage. When Stewart began to desert his wife a few weeks after their marriage, I called to see him about it, at 12, Rupert-street, and asked for "Mr. Stewart," the bell was answered by a female, who said that she believed he was at home, upon which she wrung a bell in the passage, and my sister's husband came down. He then introduced me to his mother and sister, and the latter I observed called him by the name of "Leonard," by which name it appears he had after the marriage wished my sister to call him, as it was a pet name for him at home. I never knew that Mr. Stewart called himself, or bore the name of De Warburgh, nor did I, nor to the best of my belief did my sister, or any member of our family ever hear of such a thing, until the receipt of Messrs. Brandons' (his solicitors) letter of the 23rd December last, addressed to my sister at her lodgings, 5, Bedford-street.

That letter was not answered. After the marriage my sister still continued to reside with me at 5, Bedford-street. She is not strictly correct in having represented that she and her husband actually lived together at my house for a month (I had only apartments), for although he frequently had his meals there, he did not consider it even his temporary home, or have his regular meals there, and only came to remain the night, occasionally; he always, I think, stayed the night on Sundays, and frequently on other days, for about a month or thereabouts. He stated that his mother was in expectation of succeeding to some property at Christmas (1868), and that he should then be in a position to leave her, and take a house for himself and wife, and my sister remained with me on that unsatisfactory footing. At length finding herself deserted, my sister applied to Mr. Tyrwhitt, the police magistrate, for assistance, and by his advice, and with my sanction she applied for relief, and was received into the St. Martin's Union Workhouse, in which Bedford-street is comprised, in order that an application for a summons against her husband might come through the Guardians. She came out again next morning, and again went to the magistrate and by his further advice, she again entered the St. Martin's workhouse. She then stayed in the workhouse about a week, after which she went to live with my brother Michael, in Wardour-street, in order, as I understood, to be in St. James parish in the Westminster Union, in which union her husband resided. She remained a week or two with my brother, and then went into the Westminster Union Workhouse; that would be about December last. There she remained until she was removed as a pauper to Ireland.

My sister was removed to Ireland of her own will, in this sense, that she was advised by the magistrate that that step was necessary, in order that her husband might be proceeded against, though in fact she did not want to go to Ireland. My sister on one occasion, after the desertion, went to 12, Rupert-street to learn the cause of her husband's continued absence, she inquired for Mr. Stewart, was admitted, went up stairs and saw the person whom he had introduced to her as his mother, but whom she had not seen many times before, as they did not seem to take to each other. The mother said the gentleman my sister wanted was not within, and that she had better leave the house. A policeman was then sent for to turn her out. One came, but upon explanation declined to interfere. On leaving the house my sister met her husband in the street, and caught him by the arm, he said if she would not molest him further he would promise her anything, but then immediately snatched himself away and left her. This calling at his mother's, no doubt, led to the threatening letter received from Messrs. Brandon.

I have heard that Mr. Stewart came to England when quite a child, but I am not aware whether his father came with him, or whether his father or mother ever gained a settlement in England. I cannot say whether or no Mr. Stewart has any property of his own. I do not suppose that either he or his mother would be rated in respect of 12, Rupert-street, as I understood they only had apartments. I do not think it likely that Mr. Stewart has ever himself rented a tenement, or been apprenticed to any trade, or at Reuter's office, or elsewhere, or done any act whereby to gain a settlement in England in his own right.

The Stewarts have lately left Rupert-street, and I do not know where they have gone to live. Knows nothing about Stewart's father or mother's previous residence in England.

Michael Waterston, of 32, Wardour-street, confirms the above so far as relates to him.

Ellen Hatt, of 3, Clarke's Buildings, Broad-street, Bloomsbury, single woman, states that she is one of the witnesses to the marriage of Helenus Stewart with Catherine Waterston.

Mr. Brandon, of 15, Essex-street, Strand, Solicitor, states that his firm wrote the letter of the 23rd December, upon instructions that the boy's marriage with Catherine Waterston was illegal, and void, that his name is De Warburgh, and not Stewart. That he is only eighteen years of age, and that he was secretly married without the knowledge of any of his relations. That the girl was introduced to him by a friend of his. That she told him she had been seduced by another man, and that she asked him to marry her and make her respectable, which he agreed to do, to save her from ruin. That his firm had taken the opinion of counsel, who advised that the marriage was valid in law, notwithstanding the minority, and that the banns were not published in the parish of St. James in which he resided. That his mother knew nothing at all about the girl, until after the marriage, and was not party or privy thereto in any way. That the boy's father died seven or eight years ago, upon which Messrs. Brandon were consulted by the widow about some liability on the part of Government upon an alleged contract for a patent medicine, which the Government declined to carry out. That upon his being consulted recently to take steps to try the validity of the marriage, some expenses were incurred amounting to £10 which was paid by a client of his, a gentleman who knew the family, and who were too poor to pay it themselves. The name of the gentleman Mr. Brandon declined to give, knows nothing more of the family, or whether the father ever lived or died in England, or what his christian name was. Believes he was a foreigner. Does not know where Mrs. or Madame De Warburgh is now living, or where they have lived, except Rupert-street.

Mrs. ——— the landlady of 12, Rupert-street, Haymarket, states:—

Madame De Warburgh with her only child, a son, and a young woman who passed as her step-daughter, lived here together as my lodgers for four years. They all three left us five weeks since, so that the son would be living on 26th January last, (date of order of removal). Madame De Warburgh owes me above £70 for rent. Stewart was her maiden name, and I believe she adopted that name in London, because she did not wish to be known as De Warburgh, in her poverty. They were very badly off, and had seen better days. The daughter earned a little by teaching. Her husband, I have reason to believe, was a very bad man, and he left her. I almost think he was outlawed some years ago, and my impression is that she expects him back in England before long. I don't think he is dead. I believe he did live in England, but I do not know where. Mr. Drake at the Horse Guards knows more about the family than anybody else. I think he used to give the boy 5*s*. now and then, and appeared to take an interest in him. The boy was I believe born somewhere in Germany. My late husband was employed under Mr. Drake, who always behaved like a perfect gentleman to us, and on his account we kept Madame De Warburgh so long. She was very high and mighty always, would shut herself up, and not see anybody. She used to say she was a lady bred and born. She scarcely ever received letters and didn't seem to have a friend in the world hardly. When she found out that her son was married, she was like a frantic woman. He never let her know a word about it until it was all over, and I'm sure she was no party to it. There was a great disturbance here with a policeman one day, when the young wife called. Leonard was the boy's real name and not Helenus. He was usually called "Minimy" at home. She had lived in different parts of London, and at Kensington, before she came here, but I don't know where, and she spoke of having been in affluent circumstances. Her husband was a German doctor, or something of that sort, and Madame De Warburgh has told me he was a duke, and that her boy ought to be a duke, but we never knew how much to believe about it. The step-daughter was a great story-teller. The old lady was often talking about the property she ought to have, and which lay in tea and sugar plantations, and how she had lost £6,000, and there is no doubt the girl Waterston and her family were deceived by what the boy said. I heard the wedding breakfast cost the girl's brother £10. They had champagne and all sorts of things. He got himself up as fine as a fiddler on the wedding morning, and said he was going to spend the day at, I forget where. Madame De Warburgh said that Mr. Drake had paid £10 to Messrs. Brandon for expense in trying to get a divorce, and it was to be £40 to carry it through.

The Manager at Reuter's Telegraphic Company's Office, 5, Lothbury, London, states:—

That young Stewart was recommended to this Company by a Mr. Drake, of the Horse Guards. He was with us as a messenger for about four years, and left our employ on 20th December last, 1868. He was known here by the name of Jacob (not Leonard) Stewart. We never heard the name De Warburgh. He was never apprenticed here or anything of that sort. He was a mere errand boy. He spoke to his fellows of having got married, of which we did not approve. He was only about seventeen years of age, and that was the cause of our getting rid of him. It was a bad example for our other boys. We kept him on for a few weeks after we heard of it. He was receiving 9*s.* a week when he left us. We have heard nothing of him since, and do not know where he now is. His mother and sister used to call here occasionally to see him. He told us his father was an army surgeon somewhere in the West Indies, and died there, I believe, he said. He talked about some wonderful medicine his father had for the eyes and for cholera, which he tried to get the French Government to take up, but they would not have anything to do with it. His mother is a Portuguese, I believe. I expect the boy is now in idleness, and not put to any trade. He has never called for a character.

—— Drake, Esq., of the Secretary's Office, Horse Guards, states:—

All he knows of Madame De Warburgh is as follows:—There was some question many years ago about a contract with the Government for the supply of a patent medicine by herself or husband. I never saw the husband, and am not aware whether he ever was in England; but I always felt very sorry for this poor woman. She used to be here constantly in my predecessor's time. They usually lived in the West Indies, but I do not know what island. A large order for these medicines was given in 1854, in respect of which the poor woman still fancies she is going to make a fortune. As a matter of charity, I have done what I could for them, and got the boy into Reuter's Office. The mother, I believe, was deserted by her husband, but whether he is living or dead I cannot say. There is no doubt she has seen better times. When they lived in the West Indies I believe they dined at the table of the present Inspector-General of the Army and Navy, Sir James Gibson. He was not so great a man then as he is now. This was some twenty-five years ago, and he will probably know nothing of them now. I cannot imagine how they manage to live. She came to inform me of this marriage much distressed, and I gave Brandons £10 to see if they could set the marriage aside, but it was found of no use. This boy has never done anything except being at Reuter's Telegraph Office, and is now, no doubt, in idleness. They told me they were leaving Rupert-street, but I don't know where they are gone to, nor where they lived before they went to Rupert-street.

Case of John Cassidy and Family, Removed from Glasgow to Dungannon.

No. 1.—Extract from Minutes of the Dungannon Board of Guardians, dated 8th October, 1868.

A copy of warrant, dated 3rd October, 1868, for the removal of John Cassidy, his wife, and four children from Glasgow (Barony parish) to Dungannon Workhouse, was laid before the Board. The man having been admitted to the workhouse, was brought before the Board, and stated that he was resident in Glasgow for the last twenty-five years, with the exception of two years which he resided in England; that his wife was a native of Glasgow, and all his children born there, and that neither of them had ever sought or obtained relief until about five weeks ago, when the wife had obtained relief on account of her husband being confined in Partrick Lunatic Asylum ; that he was quite willing and able to work for the support of his family, and could earn at the rate of £1 per week ; that the authorities, against both their wills, insisted on removing them, and had kept him handcuffed until his arrival at Dungannon Workhouse.

Moved by Mr. Newton, J.P., and unanimously resolved—That the Guardians consider this a case of great hardship, and that it be reported to the Poor Law Commissioners for their opinion, as the Guardians have no deposition as to the place of the man's birth, except his own statement that he was born about the town of Moy, but about which he knows nothing, having been taken away, as he heard, when about two years of age, and never resided in any part of the union since.

Ordered—That the warrant be forwarded to the Poor Law Commissioners, and that the Clerk write for the depositions, if any, taken in the case.

No. 2.—Warrant of Removal referred to in foregoing Minute.

To Charles Anderson Forsyth, Assistant-Inspector of the Poor for the Parish of Barony, Glasgow; and to the Guardians of the Union or Parish of Dungannon, or of the Union or Parish in which Dungannon is situated.

Order for Removal to Dungannon, County Tyrone, Ireland.

Glasgow, 3rd October, 1868.

I, Francis William Clark, Sheriff substitute of the county of Lanark, having considered the foregoing petition and certificate, and the deposition of the said Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy, and having examined into the state of the health of the said John Cassidy, Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Sarah Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy, find that the said John Cassidy is of the reputed age of forty-one years, that the said Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy, is of the reputed age of thirty-seven years, that the said Sarah Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy are of the reputed ages of nine years, six years, three years, and ten months respectively ; find that the said John Cassidy was born in Dungannon, county Tyrone, Ireland; find that the said John Cassidy has become, and is now, actually chargeable to the Parochial Board of the parish of Barony, Glasgow, and that the said John Cassidy has not acquired and retained a settlement in Scotland; find that none of the said persons would suffer bodily or mental injury by being removed as herein ordered. Therefore I do hereby order that John Cassidy be removed with Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy, his said wife, and Sarah Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy, his said children, and conveyed to, and delivered safely at, the workhouse at Dungannon, or at the workhouse of the union or parish in which Dungannon is situated; and I do order you, the said Charles Anderson Forsyth, Assistant-Inspector of Poor, to cause the said persons to be so safely conveyed and delivered.

(Signed), Francis William Clark.

No. 3.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
October 19, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, have had before them the resolution contained in minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Dungannon Union on the 8th instant, relating to the case of John Cassidy, who has, with his wife and children, been recently removed from the parish of Barony to Dungannon.

The Commissioners perceive that you have been directed to apply for the depositions taken in this case ; and they request that a copy of the depositions, when obtained, may be forwarded for their inspection.

By order of the Commissioners,
W. D. Wodsworth, for Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Dungannon Union.

No. 4.—Extract from Minutes of the Dungannon Board of Guardians, dated 22nd October, 1868.

Read letter from the Poor Law Commissioners, dated 19th October, 1868, requesting a copy of deposition in the case of the removal of John Cassidy from parish of Glasgow to this workhouse.

Glasgow, 30th September, 1868.

Deposition of the said Mrs. Margaret M'Culloch or Cassidy, wife, who being duly sworn deposes—That I am wife of the said John Cassidy, who is forty-one years of age. I and the children receive relief from the parish of Barony. Children are all lawful. Relief got in November, 1867. Husband got relief then also. He again got relief four weeks ago, when he was removed into Gortnavel Asylum. We are all still in receipt of relief. My husband was born in Dungannon, county Tyrone, Ireland. I have been married nine years February, 1867. After marriage we went to reside in Main-street, Calton, four years. Then to England for fourteen months. Then to Main-street, Calton, where we have resided since. Before our marriage my husband was in Neilson-street, City parish, for six months, and previously in Graham's-square, City parish, for a number of years. He got no relief till November, 1867. All which is truth.

Margaret Cassidy.

I am thirty-seven years of age. I and my husband aforesaid have four children, viz., Sarah, nine years; Catherine, six years; Mary, three years; and John, ten months, respectively. Margaret Cassidy.

No. 5.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
November 10, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward for the information of the Board of Supervision, the accompanying extracts from minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Dungannon Union, relating to the case of a poor man, named John Cassidy, who has, with his wife and children, been recently removed from the parish of Barony, Glasgow, to Dungannon Workhouse, in which the parties are now receiving relief.

The Commissioners request the attention of the Board of Supervision to this case, which is regarded by the Guardians of Dungannon Union as one of great hardship.

By order of the Commissioners,
W. D. Wodsworth, for Chief Clerk.

To William Stuart Walker, esq., Secretary, Board of Supervision, 125, George-street, Edinburgh.

No. 6.—Letter from the Board of Supervision to the Commissioners.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh,
December 7, 1868.

Sir,

With reference to your letter of the 10th ultimo, respecting the removal of a pauper named John Cassidy, with his wife and children from the parish of Barony to Dungannon Union, I am directed by the Board of Supervision for Relief of the Poor in Scotland to transmit, for the information of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, the accompanying copies of a letter and relative documents received from the Inspector of Barony, and to intimate that the Board do not see any irregularity in the proceedings.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
John Skelton, Secretary.

B. Banks, esq., Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

Parochial Board, Barony Parish, Glasgow,
16th November, 1868.

Sir,

In acknowledging receipt of your letter of 13th instant, I return your papers, and also enclose (1) schedule of application, (2) petition for removal, and consequent procedure thereon, and (3) letter from removal officer.

The proceedings are conformable to law and order, and I cannot see any ground for the complaint of hardship of the Irish authorities, unless it be the using of manacles. This treatment is explained by the removing officer's letter, and previous experiences.

The man was a lunatic, and a very violent and dangerous one too, but no mention of this is made in the Irish papers; at all events that he was so when removed.

I am, &c.,
(Signed), P. Beattie.

Case of Pauper having Wife and Children.

Unto the Honourable the Sheriff of the County of Lanark, or his Substitute.

The Petition and Complaint of Charles Anderson Forsyth, Assistant Inspector of the Poor for the Parish of Barony, Glasgow, being an Officer duly authorized to make this application.

Humbly Sheweth,

That by statute Eight and Ninth Victoria, chapter eighty-third, intituled, "An Act for the Amendment and better Administration of the Laws relating to the Relief of the Poor in Scotland," it is enacted, section seventy-seventh, "That if any poor person born in England, Ireland, or the Isle of Man, and not having acquired a settlement in any parish or combination in Scotland, shall be in the course of receiving parochial relief in any parish or combination in Scotland, then and in such case it shall be lawful for the Sheriff or any two Justices of the Peace of the county in which such parish or any portion thereof is situate, and they are hereby authorized and required, upon complaint made by the Inspector of the Poor or other Officer appointed by the Parochial Board of such parish or combination, that such poor person has become chargeable to such parish or combination by himself or his family, to cause such person to be brought before them, and to examine such person or any witness, on oath, touching the place of the birth or last legal settlement of such person, and to take such other evidence or other measures as may by them be deemed necessary for ascertaining whether he has gained any settlement in Scotland; and if it shall be found by such Sheriff or Justices that the person so brought before them was born either in England or Ireland, or the Isle of Man, and has not gained any settlement in Scotland, and has actually become chargeable to the complaining parish or combination by himself or family, then such Sheriff or Justices shall, and they are hereby empowered, by an Order of Removal under their hands, which Order may be drawn up in the form of the Schedule (A) hereunto annexed, to cause such poor person, his wife and such of his children as may not have gained a settlement in Scotland, to be removed by sea or land, by and at the expense of the complaining parish, to England or Ireland, or the Isle of Man respectively, according as such poor person shall belong to England, Ireland, or the Isle of Man: Provided always, that no person shall be so removed until there has been obtained a certificate, on soul and conscience, by a regular Medical Practitioner, setting forth that the health of such person, his wife and children as aforesaid, is such as to admit of such removal: Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any Parochial Board or their Inspector from making arrangements for the due and proper removal of such poor persons either by land or water, provided the arrangements be made with the consent of such poor persons themselves."

And that, by statute Tenth and Eleventh Victoria, chapter thirty-third, intituled, "An Act to amend the laws relating to the removal of poor persons from England and Scotland," it is enacted, section second, "That it shall be lawful for any Inspector of the Poor, or other Officer appointed by the Parochial Board of any parish or combination in Scotland, to take and convey before the Sheriff or any two Justices of the Peace of the county in which the parish or combination for which such Inspector or Officer acts, or any portion thereof, is situated, without previous complaint or warrant in that behalf, every poor person who shall be in the course of receiving parochial relief in any parish or combination in Scotland, and who, he may have reason to believe, is liable to be removed from Scotland under the secondly recited Act (8 and 9 Vict., c. 83, s. 77); and the Sheriff or Justices before whom any such persons shall be so brought shall make such examination, and proceed in the same manner in all respects, as if such person had been brought before him or them under and in the same manner directed by that Act."

That by the Act 25 and 26 Vict., cap. 113, farther provision was made in reference to the removal of paupers from Scotland to England and Ireland. By said statute, it is provided in sections first, second, and fourth thereof, as follows, viz.:—

"I. No application for a Warrant ordering the removal from any place in England to Scotland, or in Scotland to England or Ireland, of any poor person who shall have become chargeable in such place shall be heard and determined in England, except by two or more Justices in petty sessions assembled, or by a Stipendiary Magistrate or Metropolitan Police Magistrate sitting in his court; and in Scotland, except by the Sheriff or any two Justices of the Peace of the county in which the parish is situated to which such poor person may have become chargeable, which Justices or Magistrate, and Sheriff or Justices (as the case may be) shall see such poor person, or the person who is the head of the family proposed to be removed, and shall be satisfied that every person who is proposed to be removed by the Warrant is in such a state of health as not to be liable to suffer bodily or mental injury by the removal.

"II. Such warrant of removal shall be granted in England only on the application of the Relieving Officer, or other officer of the Guardians of the union or parish, and in Scotland only on the application of the Inspector of the Poor of the parish or combination, or other officer appointed by the Parochial Board of such parish or combination, where such poor person shall have become chargeable, and shall contain the name and reputed age of every person ordered to be removed by virtue of the same, and the name of the place in Scotland or England or Ireland (as the case may be), where the Justices or Magistrate, or Sheriff or Justices, shall find such person to have been born, or to have last resided for the space of five years in the case of a poor person to be removed to Scotland, and three years in the case of a poor person to be removed to England or Ireland, and a statement of such examination having been made as to the state of health of every person ordered to be removed as aforesaid; and such warrant shall be addressed to the party applying for the same, and in the case of a removal to Scotland, to the Parochial Board or Inspector of the Poor of the parish or combination to which such poor person is to be removed, and in the case of a removal to England or Ireland (as the case may be), to the Guardians of the union or parish to which such person is to be removed, and a copy shall be given by and at the cost of the person applying for such warrant to the person or the head of the family about to be removed by virtue of it: Provided that in the case of any native of England, Ireland, or Scotland, where the Justices or Magistrate, or Sheriff or Justices (as the case may be), shall not be able to ascertain, upon the evidence before them, the place of birth or of such continued residence as aforesaid, they shall order the pauper to be removed to the port or union or parish in England or Ireland (as the case may be), or port or parish in Scotland, which shall, in the judgment of such Justices or Magistrate, or Sheriff or Justices (as the case may be), under the circumstances of the case be most expedient.

"IV. Such warrant shall order the removal of the poor person to be made to the place mentioned therein as aforesaid, and shall order the persons charged with the execution thereof to cause such poor person with his family (if any), to be safely conveyed to such place in England, Ireland, or Scotland (as the case may be), to be delivered, in the case of a removal to Scotland, to the Inspector of the Poor of the parish or combination, and in the case of a removal to England or Ireland at the workhouse of such place or of the union or parish containing the port or place nearest to the place mentioned in the warrant as the place of the pauper's ultimate destination."

That John Cassidy, formerly residing in Brickfield Open, Calton, Glasgow, a pauper, now or lately residing at Gartnavel Royal Lunatic Asylum, Glasgow, was born in Ireland, county Tyrone, or last resided for three years in Ireland, Dungannon. That the said John Cassidy, a pauper, has become chargeable to and is in course of receiving parochial relief from the parish of Barony, Glasgow. That the said John Cassidy, a pauper, and his family, has not acquired a settlement in any parish or combination in Scotland, or, if acquired, has not retained such settlement. That the said John Cassidy has a wife named Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy, and four children, whose names are as follow, viz.—Sarah Cassidy, aged nearly nine years, born in Neilson-street, City parish; Catherine Cassidy, aged nearly six years, born in Brickfield Open, Calton; Mary Cassidy, aged three years, born in Newcastle, England; and John Cassidy, aged ten months, or thereby, born in Brickfield Open; who have not gained a settlement in Scotland. That the said John Cassidy, a pauper and his family having actually become chargeable to the said parish of Barony, Glasgow, it has become necessary to remove the said John Cassidy and his wife and children to Ireland, where he was born, or to Ireland, where he last resided for the space of three years.

That the reputed age of the said John Cassidy is forty-one years; and the reputed age of the said Margaret M'Culloch, or Cassidy his wife, is thirty-five years; and the reputed ages of his children are as follow—Sarah, aged nine years; Catherine, aged six years; Mary, aged three years; and John, aged ten months.

May it therefore please your lordship to inquire into and consider what is before set forth, to see the said John Cassidy and Margaret M'Culloch or Cassidy, and Sarah Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy, all aforesaid; and it being proved in the manner prescribed by the said statutes, that John Cassidy, a pauper, aforesaid, was born in county Tyrone, Ireland (or) last resided for three years in Ireland, and has not acquired, or, if acquired, has not retained a settlement in any parish in Scotland, and that the said John Cassidy, Margaret M'Culloch or Cassidy, Sarah Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy aforesaid, has actually become chargeable to the said parish of Barony, Glasgow, and that the health of the said John Cassidy, Margaret M'Culloch or Cassidy, Sarah Cassidy, Catherine Cassidy, Mary Cassidy, and John Cassidy all aforesaid, is such that they would not suffer bodily or mental injury by their removal, to grant the necessary order for their removal to the workhouse at Dungannon, Ireland, accordingly; or to do otherwise in the premises as your lordship may see cause, all in terms of the aforesaid Acts of Parliament.

According to Justice, &c.

Deposition of the said Mrs. Margaret M'Culloch or Cassidy, wife, who, being solemnly sworn, Depones that I am wife of the said John Cassidy, who is forty-one years of age. I and said children receive relief from parish of Barony. Children are all lawful. Relief got in November, 1867. Husband got relief then also. He again got relief four weeks ago, when he was received into Gartnavel Asylum. We are all still in receipt of relief. My husband was born in Dungannon, county Tyrone, Ireland. I have been married nine years, February 1867. After marriage we went to reside in Main-street, Calton, four years; thence to England for fourteen months; thence to Main-street, Calton, where we have remained since. Before our marriage, my husband was in Nelson-street, City parish, for six months, and previously in Graham's-square, City parish, for a number of years. He got no relief till November, 1867. All which is truth.

Case of John Cassidy.

Parochial Board, Barony Parish,
Glasgow, 16th November, 1868.

Sir,

In reference to the above named, I take the liberty of stating to you a few facts, which in such a case I think it necessary and proper to do.

On the 1st day of September, 1868, I proceeded to Calton Police Office with a medical certificate of emergency to remove him to Gartnavel Asylum. When on my way he violently attacked me in a lonesome part of the road, and nearly strangled me. He would have succeeded in doing so but for the timely assistance of two strong men, masons, who secured him, and after he was secured he said all he wanted was just two minutes more to finish me. With their assistance I took him to Gartnavel Asylum.

On the 5th day of October, 1868, accompanied by the head keeper from Barnhill Poorhouse Asylum, I proceeded to Gartnavel with Sheriff's warrant to remove him to Dungannon, Ireland. I had him handcuffed before I removed him, knowing him to be dangerous. I did this in order that he would not injure himself or others. I was also cautioned by one of the Gartnavel medical officers before leaving to watch him very close, and also by the head keeper there. On our passage from Glasgow to Belfast, his wife several times requested me not to take the handcuffs off him. She said she was afraid if he got loose he would do harm to her or some of the children.

I am, &c.

IV.—Report of the Judgment in the Proceedings against the Board of Guardians of Macroom Union to compel them to appoint a second Relieving Officer.

Court of Queen's Bench, 13th November, 1868.

The Queen v. the Guardians of Macroom Union—Mandamus.

Judgment.

Whiteside (Chief Justice).—This is a motion to make absolute a conditional Order for a mandamus directed to the Guardians of the Macroom Poor Law Union, commanding them to carry out and obey a certain sealed Order of the Poor Law Commissioners, dated the 5th March, 1868.

[His lordship read the conditional Order.] The sealed Order, which is signed by Mr. Power, directs that the number of Relieving Officers for the Macroom Union shall be two, one for the northern and the other for the southern division of the union, and it then defines the limits of the two divisions, and lastly it directs that the salary of each of those officers shall be £25 a year. Now, when we look at the Act of Parliament which has been referred to during the argument, we find that it is enacted that the Poor Law Commissioners shall regulate and determine the manner of application for relief; and by the section relating to Relieving Officers it is provided "that the Poor Law Commissioners shall direct the Guardians of each union to appoint so many Relieving Officers as the Commissioners may deem requisite to assist in the administration of relief under this Act, and the Guardians on receiving such authority and direction from the Commissioners shall appoint such Relieving Officers accordingly, subject to the approval of the said Commissioners. Now, in the sensible argument which was addressed to us by Mr. Barry, he admits that there was a power in the Commissioners to make the Order, and that it was the duty of the Guardians to obey it. I think that is putting the question correctly and legally; and therefore the only matter remaining for investigation is, whether the Guardians have refused to obey the Order. A very discursive statement has been made to us as to the transactions which took place at this Board of Guardians—they are entirely irrelevant to the question which we have to consider, namely, was there a refusal on their part to comply with the Order, because we totally disclaim any jurisdiction of this Court to sit in judgment on the merits of an Order pronounced by the Commissioners within the limits of their jurisdiction. It is not for us to revise each particular exercise of the discretion which is given to the Commissioners by this Act of Parliament, but to see that those who are bound to obey the law—no matter who they are—obey it. But looking at the facts as stated in the affidavits, we find in the beginning of 1857 there were originally four Relieving Officers in this union, which we are told is a union of great size, and I am happy to hear it described as the Arabia Felix of Ireland. I do not know that part of the country, or how far it merits that poetic description. Now, it appears that early in '67 the Commissioners communicated with the Board of Guardians on the subject of the necessity of having two Relieving Officers for the union. I quite agree with the learned counsel who resisted this motion, that these Guardians are entitled by their position in the country to every mark of courtesy and respect, and I am sure that they being the gentlemen who have been described to us will pay respect in return to those who have authority vested in them by the law and constitution of the country. It appears the Commissioners made a communication to the Guardians that two Relieving Officers were necessary for the proper discharge of the duties, and that the Guardians appointed a Visiting Committee who reported it to be a monstrous job, and that report was adopted by the Guardians. Now, a great many remarks have been made to us on the nature of jobs, and it may be true that there have been a great many transactions of that character; but looking at the facts of this case, I do not think that in a district the size of this union two Relieving Officers is an extravagant thing, nor am I shocked at the salary of £25 a year to be given to each. If the effect of those officers being appointed was to save one life during the ensuing winter, I think the £25 a year would be well spent. Therefore, if we had a right to enter into a discussion as to the merits of the sealed Order, I do not at all say we would be inclined to differ from it. And when it is said by the Guardians that the poor have not complained of the way in which relief was administered while there was but one Relieving Officer, I should like to know in what way the poor man could complain? Looking at the long distances which applicants for relief had to walk in order to reach the Relieving Officer, I do not think the appointment of a second Relieving Officer partakes of the nature described by the Guardians—a monstrous job. An affidavit has been read, made by Dr. King, setting forth the necessity that exists for a second Relieving Officer in this union. I asked who Dr. King was, and I was told he came from Galway. I merely wanted to know what position he filled, not the locality from which he came. It turns out he is the Medical Inspector of the union, that he resides at Cork, and that his duty is to make inspections and reports on the condition of the Poor Law unions which are under his charge. Now, we give credit to this gentleman that he does his duty, in the absence of any evidence whatever to the contrary, and we cannot admit the doctrine that if a gentleman is appointed to perform a duty, that when he performs it he is to be disbelieved and discredited. On the contrary we give credence to Dr. King's statements, and we do so all the more readily because they appear to us to be reasonable and fair. Now, it appears that on the 24th December, 1867, Dr. King made a report to the Poor Law Commissioners on the state of Macroom Union. He reported that there had been originally four Relieving Officers in the union, but that they had been gradually reduced to one; that in his opinion one officer was insufficient; and he suggested that there should be a division of the union into two districts, and that there should be two Relieving Officers instead of one. It appears that this was brought under the notice of the Guardians, and the Guardians in February passed a resolution that they would not take the matter into consideration for the present. Now, that was a refusal on the part of the Guardians to consider a subject which had been brought under their notice; and when it is said that the Guardians are entitled to respect, I must say I find no want of respect paid to them at this stage of the transaction. Well, we have then a correspondence between the Commissioners and the Guardians, the former urging the Guardians to accede to their suggestion, which the Guardians did not do; and eventually on the 5th March, 1868, the Commissioners issue their sealed Order, directing the Guardians to make the appointment. Now, our duty here is very plain. This was an Order made under an Act of Parliament—made by those who are empowered by the Legislature to make it—and the same Act of Parliament renders it the duty of the Guardians to obey it. The question for us is simply have they obeyed or disobeyed that Order? Looking at the events which have occurred since that Order was made, we find it was never acted upon. From the date of that Order till the present moment they have never appointed the two Relieving Officers. They have not done the thing they were called upon to do, and it would be a mere trifling with the law, and a pitiful satire on our jurisdiction, if we allowed any person or body of persons in this country to evade the performance of a duty by such a plea as has been made here—namely, that they only postponed it. They might, if such a plea as that was to hold good, postpone it for ever. Our duty is plain—it is cast upon us by this Act of Parliament. We must see that these gentlemen perform their duty by obeying this Order; and I cannot help saying that if each person and body of persons in this country didn't talk so much as they do, but performed their respective duties, it would be better for the country and for themselves. Well, this Board of Guardians, instead of obeying the Order, request the Commissioners to reconsider it. I must say there appears to be some sarcasm in that, for the Commissioners had already considered the matter, and the Guardians had refused to give it any consideration; and we find no reason at this time assigned by the Guardians for not obeying it. On the 9th April,

1868, we find the Guardians paying Lynch, the Relieving Officer, £7 10*s.*, being his quarter's salary at £30 a year. I would not dwell upon that at all, for probably that was for the salary for the previous quarter; but the Commissioners very justly call attention to the fact that they had made an Order that the future salary should be £25 a year. Here we find the Commissioners doing the very thing the Guardians profess to be so anxious for—economizing the rates. If they could carry out that excellent principle to the larger salaries so much the better; but I am not so much struck with the policy of reducing the salaries of these Relieving Officers, who, I think, from the duties they have to perform, ought to be decent men. We next find the Guardians proposing a conference with Dr. King, and what is the result? Having had the advantage of this conference, and after hearing Dr. King's advice and suggestions, they accept the Order, and issue advertisements for two Relieving Officers, to be selected by themselves. Now, when these gentlemen talk of jobs, I cannot imagine how the term applies, when they themselves, and not the Commissioners, have the power to appoint the persons, and when they throw the appointment open to public competition. One would have thought the matter was concluded by that sensible resolution which was carried on the 25th of May; but what do we next find? The Attorney-General read us a report from the newspaper of the proceedings which took place on the day the appointment was to have been made; and though I quite agree that every expression used by speakers at a public meeting is not to be used against them, at the same time, when magistrates and gentlemen meet to transact business, it would be more satisfactory if they preserved in their language that decorous tone which does not lessen the force of any argument a speaker may have. At that meeting they virtually refused to obey the Order. They meet to elect two officers, but instead of doing so they propose to fight the Commissioners, and two gentlemen offer to give £50 apiece towards the expenses, and they propose to get other Boards of Guardians to join them in opposing the Commissioners. Finally, after these pugnacious propositions their resolution is to put off the appointment of Relieving Officers to a future day. I have only to announce, for the information of these gentlemen, and of all other persons concerned, that our duty is to see that the law is obeyed, and that the mode adopted by these gentlemen of evading compliance with the law will never impose on us. They speak of a memorial to Parliament against the Commissioners. They have a perfect right to do so if they choose, and as soon as Parliament has disposed of the pressing business now before it, it may probably take up this important question of the appointment of a Relieving Officer for Macroom Union at the enormous salary of £25 a year. In the meantime, however, our duty is to see that the law is obeyed. They say, as I read the affidavits, that they have not refused to obey; that they have only postponed the appointment of a second Relieving Officer in the hope that the Commissioners would abandon or modify their sealed Order. Now, I consider that disobeying the Order, for when people who have a plain duty to perform do not perform it, and only look about for excuses, that amounts to a refusal to perform it. They say they want to protect the ratepayers and the poor from an ill-advised measure. We have no discretion to consider that question, and even if we had a discretion, we are far from saying that, in our opinion, what the Commissioners did was unreasonable or unjust. In the affidavit of Dr. King, who has been very severely observed upon, he says that, after consulting with the other officers of the union, they came to the conclusion that two Relieving Officers were necessary. He also states that when there was but one Relieving Officer, the duties were inadequately performed, and that other officials were acting in lieu of the Relieving Officer, in order to get for the poor the relief to which they were entitled. That is an important fact in this affidavit if we were to discuss, which we have no power to do, the reasonableness of this sealed Order. The question is, was there a refusal by the Guardians to carry out the Order. We are of opinion that there was ; and I cannot help saying that where an authority in certain cases is lodged with a body so respectable as the Poor Law Commissioners, to talk of a despotic authority is out of place. It is an authority vested in them by the law, and ought to be complied with. Under these circumstances we feel ourselves compelled to make the conditional order for mandamus absolute.

Fitzgerald (Justice).—I entirely agree with the Lord Chief Justice in making this order absolute. The public time has been unnecessarily expended in discussing topics which have nothing to do with the case, and it was not till we came to the proper and lawyer-like reply of Mr. Barry that the real question was debated on behalf of the Guardians—he debated the question which had been referred to by the Attorney-General, whether there had been a refusal by the Guardians to obey the sealed Order. The question was asked of Mr. Macdonogh, by the Bench, were we to sit in judgment on the decision of the Poor Law Commissioners that a second Relieving Officer was necessary in the Macroom Union. That question was very much pressed upon us, and it was contended that we were to sit in judgment upon it. I protest against such a doctrine altogether. The Legislature in framing this Poor Law system—and give me leave to say it is upon its liberal and humane administration the real welfare of the country depends—thought it necessary to constitute a central authority for the administration of the law ; and without that central authority—you may call it despotic if you please—the law could not be administered. The Commissioners have in no despotic or capricious way, but upon due inquiry, and careful investigation, extending over several months, in which they availed themselves of the assistance of the Medical Officer, and other officials of the Union, come to the conclusion that a second Relieving Officer is necessary. That is a matter we have no means of rehearing. We are not sitting on appeal from that order, but I ought not to let this case pass without saying that even if we were sitting on appeal from that decision of the Commissioners, and even giving the fullest force to the arguments which have been pressed upon us on behalf of the Guardians, I would adopt the opinion of the Commissioners, and come to the conclusion that in this large district, which contains 31,000 people, and includes 179,108 acres, one person to administer relief is not adequate. Any one who knows the district cannot fail to see that people seeking relief, if there is but one Relieving Officer, might have to travel ten or twelve miles through a country some parts of which are very hilly. But as I said before, we cannot enter into the question. Here we have an order properly made by the Commissioners within the limits of their jurisdiction. The Act says that that order shall be obeyed. It is not a matter open to discussion, inquiry, or delay, the sealed Order being delivered to the Guardians, they are bound to obey it. It must be distinctly understood that these orders are mandatory, and though the Guardians may appeal to the Commissioners to reconsider it, or even carry the matter to the Executive Government, or to Parliament, if they please, as long as the order remains there is nothing to do but to obey it. In my opinion on the 23rd of May there was a direct refusal to obey the order, it is mere playing with words to say there was not ; and I will add that in my opinion not only was there a refusal, but a contumacious and insulting refusal. Nothing that has taken place since qualifies that aspect of the case. I would go farther and say that where a mandatory order is made by the Commissioners and delivered to a Board of Guardians, non-obedience to that order constitutes a refusal to obey it, and that it is not necessary to have in terms a direct refusal. I therefore entirely concur in the judgment, making the order absolute.

The Attorney.—I presume, my lords, you will make the order absolute with costs, not to issue for a day or two, so as to give the Guardians an opportunity of coming in.

Mr. Justice Fitzgerald.—That would be the best course. Let the order go now, and the Attorney-General may come in afterwards and apply for the costs of the proceedings.

Professor Barry.—I don't think this is a case in which the Attorney-General ought to ask for costs.

The Chief Justice.—The general rule is that a party who fails must take the usual consequences of his failure, and in this case we have the fact that some of these Guardians subscribed large sums towards the litigation, so that they are prepared to pay.

Professor Barry.—Oh, my lord, in justice to them, it is only right to say they did not do so. They only said they would, but they retracted it afterwards.

Rule absolute with costs.

V.—Letter to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury on the subject of Deficiencies in the Grant for Medical and Educational Purposes to Irish Unions.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
4th March, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to bring under the notice of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury a complaint which has been made to them by the Board of Guardians of Galway Union on the subject of the amount remitted to them out of the Parliamentary Grant for medical and educational purposes in unions in Ireland.

The Guardians complain that the amount which they have received for medical expenses is less than one-half the expenditure under that head, and they contend that they are entitled under the terms of the grant to receive the full amount of one-half of that expenditure.

It was foreseen that such a result as that complained of by the Galway Board of Guardians was likely to happen in some cases from the fact that the estimate must necessarily be made out before the expenditure was actually incurred, and this was pointed out in a letter to the Under Secretary of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, dated the 12th July, 1867, with which the Commissioners forwarded a statement, as desired by the Lords of the Treasury, showing as nearly as could be done at that time the share of the grant which had then been voted, to which each union would be entitled on the principle adopted in reference to a similar grant in England, the vote having been passed on an estimate based upon the expenditure in the year 1864–5.

In that letter the Commissioners stated as follows :—

"The proportions payable to the unions from the total sum voted must depend to some extent on the expenditure of the year for the service of which the grant is made available—namely, the year which will end 31st March, 1868, and these sums from the nature of the case, cannot be made precisely to correspond with the sums of which the estimate is compounded.

"In most unions the expenditure of the current year will be greater than that of the year 1864–5, and in all such cases the Commissioners presume it will be right not to exceed the amount assigned to such unions in the present statement. Should there be any case in which the current expenditure proves less than that on which the estimate has been framed, care will be taken not to remit to the union more than its share according to its current expenditure, the difference in each such case assisting to create a surplus from the grant."

The Commissioners not having received any instructions on these points have acted in accordance with the intention expressed in the letter above quoted, up to the present time, and hence the deficiency of which the Galway Board of Guardians complain. The Commissioners have been informed, however, by the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant that the practice in England is to make good the deficiencies arising in regard to particular unions, and they understand it is the desire of the Government that a similar course should be taken in this country, and they therefore request their lordships' instructions on this point.

It may be proper to state that the deficiency in the Galway Union in respect to the expenditure for the year 1867–8 is £31 15*s.* 2*d.*, one-half of the expenditure having been £562 13*s.* 5*d.*, while the amount included in the estimate to meet this expenditure was only £530 18*s.* 3*d.*, and that the deficiency on the first half year of 1868–9 is £47 11*s.* 8*d.* The payment for the second half of that year has not yet become due, and the total deficiency for the year cannot therefore be ascertained.

The aggregate of all the deficiencies, including both medical and educational purposes, for the year 1867–8 is £3,146 13*s.* 8*d.*, but on the other hand there were many cases in which the estimate exceeded the expenditure, and the aggregate surplus so arising amounts to £1,628 0*s.* 4*d.*

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Secretary, Treasury, London.

VI.—Letter to the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant on the subject of the Salaries of the Inspectors.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
25th January, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you herewith, to be laid before His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a letter which has been addressed to them by six of their Inspectors on the subject of the increased duties devolving upon them in consequence of the arrangements made under the Act of last session (31 & 32 Vic., c. 74), enabling Poor Law Inspectors to act as Inspectors under the Medical Charities and Sanitary Acts, and submitting their claim to a higher rate of salary than is at present allowed them.

The application contains a tabular statement showing the changes made, in the districts of the six Inspectors by whom the application is signed, by the arrangement above referred to; but as the figures in this statement only show the changes which affect those Inspectors, the Commissioners think it right to submit a more extended table showing the alterations made in the extent of all the Inspectors' districts, including those who were originally appointed as Medical Inspectors only.

It must be observed in regard to Mr. Bourke that his salary being on a different footing from the rest the present application in no way affects his case.

TABLE.

| Dr. Roughan, ,, . | 1 Nov., 1866, | 11 | 174 | 245 | 15 | 45 | 59 |

The Commissioners are satisfied that the description of the increased extent of service given in the letter of the six Inspectors is by no means overstated, and their own experience of the working of the recent Act, whereby they have been enabled to assign an equal share of labour to each of the eleven Inspectors, has fully justified the expectation which they formed of the value of the change of the law, whereby the dispensaries have been brought for the first time within the possibility of being subjected to an effective system of inspection.

The Commissioners had already in anticipation of these results recommended, while the Act was in progress through Parliament, a simultaneous improvement of the position of the Inspectors, and soon after the passing of the Act, submitted to the late Government a definite proposal to that effect, which however was not acted on.

The recommendation to which the Commissioners refer is set forth in a letter to Sir Thomas Larcom, dated the 3rd of September last, from which the following is an extract:—

"The proposal submitted is that the course adopted in England in regard to the salaries of the Poor Law Inspectors, should be so far adopted in Ireland that instead of a commuted allowance for personal expenses an addition should be made to the salary, so that the whole may be made the basis of computing the superannuation allowance on retirement from the service, as at present arranged in the case of the Poor Law Inspectors in England.

"Secondly, that retaining the present scale of salaries in Ireland for Inspectors on first appointment, those officers should, after twenty years' service, be placed on the same footing as Poor Law Inspectors in England, a gradual rise being effected through that period of service.

"The present maximum salary in Ireland, including the commuted allowance of £150, is £750—reaching that point after five years' service; the commencing salary, including the same commuted allowance, being £650, with an annual increment of £20.

"It is now proposed that after five years' further service the salary should become £800, after another five years, £850; and after a further five years, completing the twenty years' service, £900 as the maximum."

The sum last named is, the Commissioners believe, the amount of a Poor Law Inspector's salary in England on first appointment.

The Commissioners now, after nearly six months' experience of the benefits of the measure, which they are satisfied, as already observed, has been completely successful, submit the same proposal to consideration, and trust that His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant will be pleased to recommend it to the favourable consideration of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

The Right Hon. C. P. Fortescue, M.P., &c., &c., Dublin Castle.

Gentlemen, Dublin, January 14th, 1869.

We, being Inspectors appointed under the Irish Poor Relief Acts, would beg respectfully to address you in reference to the operation of an Act passed on the 31st of July last (Act 31 and 32 Vic., cap. 74) which extended our powers, and made us Inspectors under the Medical Charities and Sanitary Acts; and having now had some months' experience of the additional duties imposed upon us by that Act, we would beg to submit to you our claim to a higher rate of salary, the duties referred to involving more labour, more travelling, more lengthened absence from home, and consequently a considerable increase in our personal expenses.

Up to the month of August last we were Inspectors appointed only to assist in the execution of the laws for the relief of the poor, but we were at that time, as you are aware, assigned districts of unions in which we superintend not only the administration of the Poor Law but also the operation of the Medical Charities and Sanitary Acts; and although our respective districts were altered, and slightly reduced, the work of each Inspector has been increased.

The following table will show the change made in our districts:—

| Inspectors. | Unions in charge of each Inspector before August, 1868. | Unions and Dispensaries placed in charge of each Inspector in August, 1868. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Unions. | Dispensaries. | |
| | | | Number of Dispensary Districts. | Number of Dispensary Stations. |
| Mr. W. Hamilton, . . | 20 | 16 | 77 | 107 |
| Mr. Horsley, . . . | 18 | 14 | 51 | 78 |
| Mr. R. Hamilton, . . | 21 | 17 | 73 | 90 |
| Mr. Robinson, . . | 17 | 15 | 79 | 137 |
| Mr. O'Brien, . . . | 20 | 16 | 82 | 112 |
| Dr. Brodie, . . . | 21 | 16 | 64 | 86 |

We trust it will be borne in mind that the dispensary stations are scattered all over the country, many of them being in remote places, and that they will require periodical visits, while our duties under the Poor Law Acts seldom obliged us to travel further than to the workhouse of the union, and therefore that relieving us from the supervision of a few workhouses does not diminish our work to the extent it has been augmented by the inspection of the dispensaries. We have now, with one exception, been more than twenty years employed under your Commission, and we think that after such a period of service we have reasonable grounds to expect that additional labour and fatigue, additional responsibility, and additional expense, will be met by a corresponding increase in our emoluments.

We would submit that it is very unusual to require public officers to do more work than was contemplated at the time of their appointment without also making some provision for their remuneration; and we would respectfully urge that our claim especially deserves favourable consideration, as our new duties can only be discharged at an actual loss of income.

We would, therefore, express a hope that you will have the goodness to bring the particulars of our case under the notice of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and recommend such an increase in our salaries as may appear to you under the circumstances to be reasonable and sufficient.

We have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servants,

W. J. Hamilton,
Samuel Horsley,
R. Hamilton,
Henry Robinson,
W. P. O'Brien,
T. Brodie.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

* The month of January includes cases which occurred in the previous year, and were still under treatment in January.

† The registry of cases in a few of the Unions does not distinguish whether the disease first arose in or out of the Workhouse; the numbers in these columns do not therefore agree with the number in the previous column, showing the total number of cases.

Note on Columns headed "Result."—From the nature of the headings under the general term "Result," some cases are necessarily twice entered; and consequently the numbers in the several Columns exceed the total entered in the final Column.

Also as regards Columns headed "One eye lost," "Both eyes lost."—These columns include many cases in which the sight was lost before admission into the Workhouse.

No. 14.—Abstracts of Returns from Clerks of Unions showing the Number of Persons admitted to the Workhouse during the year ended 29th September, 1868; distinguishing the Number admitted in Sickness; also the Number of Births and Deaths in the Workhouse during the Year.

APPENDIX C.

CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTION AND CORRESPONDENCE UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

I.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—Annual Appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
31st March, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to call your attention to their Circular of the 21st of March, 1862, relating to the annual appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens, and to the extracts from previous circulars, appended thereto; and they request that you will take the necessary steps, as pointed out in the circular referred to, to place before the Board of Guardians, after the annual election, a correct list of the members of the Board entitled to be members of the respective Dispensary Committees in the Union.

This ought to be done by distinct resolution, and recorded on the minutes.

As soon as the Committee shall have been completed for any Dispensary District, the Guardians should fix a day for the first meeting of such Committee, for the special purpose of appointing their Honorary Officers for the current year, in accordance with Articles 5 and 6 of the Dispensary Regulations, and you should give notice thereof to each member of the Dispensary Committee, in accordance with Articles 10 and 12 of the Dispensary Regulations.

A form for the return of officers of the several Dispensary Committees in the Union will be forwarded to you in due course.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians of each Union.

No. 2.—Diminution of Smallpox.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
23rd April, 1868.

Sir,

Adverting to the Commissioners' circular letter to Boards of Guardians, dated the 7th ultimo, on the subject of the diminution of smallpox in Ireland, a copy of which was forwarded to you on the 9th ultimo,* the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland will feel greatly obliged by your informing them, by return of post, whether any cases of smallpox have come under your observation, either in your public or private practice, since the date of the information already furnished, and on which the circular of the 7th ultimo was founded.

You will also have the goodness to report at once to the Commissioners any case of smallpox which may come to your knowledge at any time hereafter.

By order of the Commissioners,
B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To each Workhouse and Dispensary Medical Officer.

* See Annual Report for 1868, pp. 151–2.

No. 3.—Diminution of Smallpox.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
30th January, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire again to address the Guardians of each Poor Law Union on the subject of the present state of smallpox in Ireland.

In their circular of the 7th March, 1868, printed in the last annual report,* the following table, compiled from the Registrar-General's Returns, was given.

Deaths from Smallpox registered in Ireland during dates undermentioned:—

| Year. | 1st Quarter. | 2nd Quarter. | 3rd Quarter. | 4th Quarter. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1864 | 274 | 244 | 171 | 165 | 854 |
| 1865 | 122 | 110 | 53 | 62 | 347 |
| 1866 | 106 | 47 | 25 | 9 | 187 |
| 1867 | 7 | 5 | 4 | 4 | 20 |

Thus the return of registered deaths by smallpox, for the year ended 31st December, 1867, was only 20 throughout Ireland, including, no doubt, 4 cases which occurred in the Workhouse Fever Hospitals, according to the Poor Law Returns.

The Commissioners have applied to the Registrar-General for similar information in regard to the year ended 31st December, 1868, but not having received it, they are led to apprehend that the returns of the causes of death have not yet been made up so as to enable this information to be afforded. At the same time they have no reason to suppose that these returns, when they appear, will be less favourable than those of the year 1867.

The Poor Law Returns present for the year 1868 only 4 deaths by smallpox in the Workhouse Fever Hospitals; precisely the same number as that returned for the year 1867.

At the date of the last Annual Report a very few smallpox cases were known to be existing here and there, but in only 5 unions, viz.:—Cork, Rathdown, Tuam, Claremorris, and Ballinrobe Unions; and since that date it appears by the special reports obtained from the Dispensary Medical Officers that such cases occurred during the year 1868 in 19 unions (out of the 163), including 3 of the 5 above mentioned, viz.:—Tuam, Ballinrobe, and Claremorris.

The 19 unions presented altogether, according to Dispensary Returns, 69 cases of attack in the course of the year. Of these 12 occurred in Ballinrobe, and 14 in Tuam Union, traceable, as shown in the last Annual Report, to the operations of one inoculator for smallpox.

In Waterford Union, one of the three cases which occurred came from Milford Haven, in the mail steamer; and from this case an unvaccinated child took the disease, which, however, spread no further.

Of the 2 cases in Wexford Union, the first, that of an adult, was imported from Sheffield, from which case an unvaccinated child took the disease and died.

This case, and the case of an unvaccinated child in Tuam Union were the only fatal ones out of the 69 cases of attack above mentioned.

* Report for 1868, p. 151.

In a great majority of cases the source of contagion could not be traced; the first patients in these cases being mostly tramps and mendicants travelling through the country.

During the two years therefore, 1867 and 1868, Ireland may be said to have enjoyed almost entire immunity from the ravages of smallpox.

With much regret the Commissioners have now to state that an epidemic of smallpox has recently broken out in the Balla Dispensary District of Castlebar Union, and that a focus of contagion is established there which, under the influence of the present unfavourable season, may involve very serious consequences to the county of Mayo, and possibly to adjoining counties.

The Inspector's inquiries into the causes of this outbreak have led, as might be expected, to the discovery that the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act have not been carried out in Castlebar Union as they ought to have been, either by the Board of Guardians or by the Magistracy.

In the first place, the Board of Guardians have insisted on retaining most inadequate arrangements for dispensary relief in the Union, whereby Balla District, containing 61,513 acres, and a population of 14,244 souls, is placed under one Medical Officer.

Of 1,364 children, born since 1st January, 1864, in this district, and now over 6 months of age, only 779 appear to have been vaccinated leaving a large number of those who are still living unprotected against smallpox.

The Medical Officer, who is represented by the Inspector as exerting himself in this branch of his duty, has reported defaulting parents from time to time to the Board of Guardians for prosecution; but very few have been prosecuted, and in the cases of conviction the nominal penalty of 1*s.* only in each case was imposed. Thus was exhibited to the population an indifference on the part of those in authority to the enforcement of the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act; and this proceeding has, without doubt, encouraged parents to persist in neglecting their duty towards their helpless children, and in breaking the law without apprehension of any consequences.

A district in which a large proportion of the younger population remains unvaccinated presents to the inoculator a favourable field for his criminal operations, and it is known that the disease has thus been introduced recently into the Balla District; and by the same person, a notorious inoculator, who introduced smallpox into Ballinrobe, Tuam, and Claremorris Unions in 1867; but it is said that the police are unable to bring home this offence to the guilty party, from the difficulty of obtaining evidence of the facts. The offence is now punishable, under a recent Act of Parliament, by imprisonment for six months.

The Commissioners have thought it right, in bringing before the Guardians the encouraging facts exhibited in the last two years' experience of the effect of the Compulsory Vaccination Act, to place before them, at the same time, the striking consequences of a neglect of the provisions of that Act, as shown in the case of Castlebar Union, in order that the Guardians and their Officers may be warned not to relax their efforts in consequence of present success, but may feel that the continuance thereof depends upon a strict and well-sustained enforcement of the law.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 4.—Diminution of Smallpox.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin.

Sir, 23rd February, 1869.

Adverting to their circular letter of the 30th January last, on the subject of smallpox in Ireland, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have further to state that they have now received from the Registrar-General the result of the examination of the Death Returns of the three first quarters of the year 1868, which has been obligingly furnished to them in detail, as follows:—

| Poor Law Unions. | Registrars' Districts. | Name of Deceased. | Age. | Date of Death. | Observations. |

| ,, . . | ,, . | Bridget Leary, . | 6 mths., | 25 May, | Uncertified. |
| Wexford, . | Wexford, . | Mary Murphy, . | 15 years, | 8 Aug., | Certified. |

Although this return for the three first quarters, exhibiting 19 deaths from smallpox throughout Ireland, exceeds by 3 the deaths for the same three quarters in 1867, which were only 16, it is probable, from the Poor Law Returns, that the fourth quarter will add very little to the comparison between the two years, only 1 death being as yet known to have taken place in that quarter.

It appears also on the face of the return as if care had been taken not to omit any case which might have partaken of the nature of smallpox, although smallpox was not actually registered as the cause of death; for example, there is one case included which was registered as "Varicella," or "Chicken-pock," and two of "Swine-pock." It is further found by inquiry that Sarah Ruth died of "Scrofulous Disease," and John Tait of "Erysipelas," and that the registration of "Smallpox" as the cause of death in each of these two cases was made erroneously through misinformation.

On the other hand, one undoubted case of death by smallpox has been discovered which is not in the above list.

Of the 19 deaths appearing in the Registrar-General's Return, no less than 10 deaths, really by smallpox, are reported to have taken place in the Ballinrobe, Claremorris, and Tuam Unions, where the disease was introduced by an inoculator in the early part of the year 1868. The same inoculator is referred to in the circular of 30th January last, as having introduced smallpox into Castlebar Union in the present year; the result has been 63 cases of attack in that district alone, and 2 deaths have already taken place.

From the latest accounts the outbreak in Castlebar Union is subsiding; but, so far as the Commissioners are informed, the perpetrator of the outrage is still at large, and may be expected to cause further mischief.

The only protection against danger arising from such a source, as well as against the danger of contagion from smallpox imported from Great Britain, and carried through the country by tramps and mendicants, consists in a well-sustained enforcement of the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act. It is found that whenever the parents have had their children vaccinated they will not allow them to be again operated upon for smallpox, so that there is a double protection in having vaccination thoroughly carried out.

The Commissioners will cause a copy of this and the previous circular to be sent to each Medical Officer of a Workhouse or Dispensary in Ireland; and they trust that the success already attained will serve to stimulate exertion for the future, in order to maintain the satisfactory conditions which at present prevail in reference to smallpox in this country.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 5.—Diminution of Smallpox.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
23rd February, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith for your information copies of two circular letters which they have addressed to Boards of Guardians on the subject of the present state of smallpox in Ireland, from which it will be seen that the almost entire immunity from the disease which the country enjoyed during the year 1867, appears to have continued through the year 1868.

The Commissioners regret to find from the Registrar-General's returns, that so many deaths are returned uncertified as to the cause of death which must diminish the value of the returns in an important degree, and they trust every exertion will be used by the officers of dispensaries and workhouses to remedy this defect, so far as it applies to them.

The Commissioners trust also that you will not fail to furnish them with a report of every case of smallpox occurring within your sphere of observation.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To each Workhouse and Dispensary
Medical Officer.

No. 6.—Penalty for Inoculating with Smallpox.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
15th August, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, desire to acquaint the Board of Guardians that an Act was passed in the last Session of Parliament (31 & 32 Vic., c. 87), for the amendment of the Vaccination Act of 1863, which contains a provision rendering any person who may be guilty of inoculating with smallpox liable to six months' imprisonment. The following is a copy of the section:—

"Any person who shall, after the passing of this Act, produce, or attempt to produce in any person, by inoculation with variolous matter, or by wilful exposure to variolous matter, or to any matter, article, or thing impregnated with variolous matter, or wilfully by any other means whatsoever, produce the disease of smallpox in any person, shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable to be proceeded against summarily before two or more justices of the peace in Petty Sessions assembled, and upon conviction to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding six months."

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 7.—Appointment of Committees under Sanitary Acts.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
30th April, 1868.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for relief of the Poor in Ireland having reason to believe that in some instances Boards of Guardians have not, since the recent annual election of Guardians, re-appointed Committees under the Sewage Utilization Act, and the Nuisances Removal Act, and as some of the members of the Committees which were formerly appointed may not continue to be qualified, not being any longer Guardians of the Union, the Commissioners desire to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to the subject, as it appears desirable that these Committees should be appointed in the same manner as the Dispensary Committees after each annual election of Guardians.

The Commissioners annex, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of their circular letter of the 30th March, 1867, in which they pointed out the constitution and the functions of each of the three different Committees that may be appointed under the Sanitary Acts, and of the two circulars, dated respectively the 17th October and the 5th December, 1866, which are therein referred to.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Committees under Sanitary Act.

No. 42—M./67.—Miscellaneous.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
30th March, 1867.

Sir,

The election of Guardians for the current year in the several unions being now completed, the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland think it right to draw the attention of the Board of Guardians to the propriety of re-appointing Committees, under the provisions of the Sanitary Act, 1866, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the Sewage Utilization Act, and the Nuisances Removal Acts.

On this subject the Commissioners desire to refer the Board of Guardians to their circular letter of the 17th October last, by which it will be seen that the Act contemplates three distinct Committees, viz.:—

1. The Sanitary Committee, which is in fact the Dispensary Committee of the district, and whose functions as Sanitary Committee under the Diseases Prevention Act are only called into action when an Order in Council under that Act is in force (29 & 30 Vic., c. 90, sec. 63).

2. The Committee of the Nuisance Authority, the action of which is continuous, and which must consist exclusively of members of the body by which it is appointed, that is, members of the Board of Guardians where the Board is the Nuisance Authority (18 & 19 Vic., c. 121, sec. 5; and 23 & 24 Vic., c. 77, sec. 5).
3. The Committee of the Sewer Authority, the action of which is also continuous, and which must be appointed at a meeting specially convened for the purpose, and may consist partly of ratepayers (28 & 29 Vic., c. 90, sec. 4).

The Guardians may appoint one or more Committees for each of the purposes above mentioned (Nos. 2 and 3), and the Commissioners recommend the Guardians to take the subject into consideration with a view to appointing Nuisance and Sewer Committees for such parts of the union as are not within the jurisdiction of another Sewer and Nuisance Authority; and the Commissioners think it might be advisable to consider the propriety of dividing the union into districts consisting of electoral divisions for these purposes and appointing Committees for each district.

The Commissioners enclose another copy of the circular of the 17th October last, above referred to, and also a copy of another circular, dated the 5th December, on the subject of appointing Sanitary Inspectors, to which the attention of the guardians is requested.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Mode of charging Expenses under Sanitary Act.

No. 125.—M./66.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
17th October, 1866.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland forward herewith a General Order issued by them under the provisions of the Sanitary Act, 1866, prescribing the mode in which certain items of expenditure, incurred under the authority of that Act, are to be charged in the accounts of the Board of Guardians. Such expenditure may be incurred either directly by the Board of Guardians, or through the agency of some Committee appointed either for the purposes of the Sewage Utilization Act, the Nuisances Removal Acts, or the Diseases Prevention Act.

It is of much importance that the functions of these several Committees should be exercised by the body to which they legally belong, and by no other; for not only might the legality of expenditure, conducted by a wrong agency, be brought in question, but the area of chargeability, as will be seen by the terms of the sealed order, will depend on the question, under what provision of the law, and through what particular agency, it has taken place.

In order to avoid confusion, as far as practicable, the Commissioners have defined the agency of the Dispensary Committee of Management to be that of "the Sanitary Committee," whose function is to assist the Guardians in carrying out the purposes of the "Diseases Prevention Act," when cholera is in the union. Any Committee appointed by the Guardians, acting as Sewer Authority, should, therefore, for distinction's sake, as well as in conformity with the language of the Act of Parliament, be called, not the "Sanitary Committee," but the "Sewer Committee" of the Union, or other district within the union for which it may be appointed. Similarly, and for the same reasons, any committee appointed by the guardians, acting as nuisance authority under the Nuisances Removal Acts, should be called the "Nuisance Committee" for the union, or other district within the union for which it may be appointed.

None of these committees are accounting bodies, but agents merely, acting for the Board of Guardians, who must account with the electoral divisions of the union for expenditure conducted through such agencies, in the same way as for expenditure directly incurred by the Board itself; such expenditure being subject to the inspection and authority of the Auditor of the Union, in the same manner as the Poor Law Relief Expenditure.

It is desirable, therefore, that as far as possible, the sums expended under the Sanitary Act should be paid by order of the Board of Guardians, by cheque on their Treasurer, to the parties entitled to receive them.

If under any sudden emergency or necessity of an urgent kind, cash should be placed at the disposal of a committee, or any member or members thereof, it will at once be apparent that proper vouchers for the disbursement of all sums should be obtained and preserved, and finally deposited with the Clerk of the Union, for the purpose of being submitted to the auditor when auditing the accounts.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Sanitary Inspectors.

No. 168.—M./66.—Miscellaneous.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
5th December, 1866.

Sir,—The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland have observed that the guardians of many unions which have not yet been attacked by cholera, or in which cholera, having broken out, appears no longer likely to prevail, have shown a disposition to lessen their expenditure under the Sanitary Act of 1866, by discontinuing the services of Inspectors of Nuisances, or Sanitary Inspectors, as they are sometimes called.

The fact that the present invasion of cholera commenced almost at the same time with the introduction of the new sanitary law, may, perhaps, have given rise to a supposition, that when the one is disappearing the other ceases to be necessary.

No doubt, on the disappearance of the epidemic from Ireland, and the withdrawal or termination of the Order in Council, and of the sealed order of the Commissioners relating to treatment and prevention of the spread of the disease, all expenses of an extraordinary nature incurred under the provisions of the latter order will also cease, inasmuch as, in fact, they could not continue to be legally incurred.

But the provisions of the Sanitary Act are not directed against cholera alone, but against every description of dangerous contagious disease, especially the more fatal kinds of fever, which, although not now epidemic, are always prevailing more or less in the country with fatal effects, and may at any time become epidemic.

These diseases are promoted in the same way as cholera, by the impurity of the air, more especially of that within the dwelling-house, and by the use of impure water, unwholesome food, and other like causes.

The removal of nuisances, the maintenance of proper drainage, the supply of pure water to the population of towns and villages, and the prevention of overcrowding in dwelling-houses, are objects which the Legislature has determined shall henceforward be continuously carried out for the security of the public health, and has, therefore, created permanent powers and imposed permanent responsibilities for that purpose; and there is no union in Ireland in which, henceforth, it will not be necessary for the guardians to employ at all times one or more Inspectors of Nuisance, in order to enable them to carry out continuously and permanently these objects of the Legislature.

The office of Inspector of Nuisances will necessarily vary much as to the extent of its duties, and the amount of remuneration for their performance according to the circumstances of the district. In some cases it may be proper to employ a person devoting himself wholly to the office; in other cases, especially in rural districts, relieving officers or other officers under the control of the guardians can be invested with the duties; but in the opinion of the Commissioners all territory which is within the district of the guardians, as a sewer or nuisance authority, should be under some person having authority to act as an Inspector of Nuisances, and responsible for reporting to the guardians every case requiring any exercise of their powers either as sewer or nuisance authority.

In the discharge of their sanitary duties, the guardians must be prepared to encounter some additional annual expenditure from the poor-rates; but whenever epidemic disease is not present, the ordinary sanitary expenses will be found to be only a light additional burthen; and it must be borne in mind that the continuous and permanent powers, if properly exercised, will obviate the more expensive arrangements which it would become necessary to adopt in the presence of epidemic disease.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 8.—Form of Medical Relief Register.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
Sir, 18th February, 1869.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland desire to acquaint you, for the information of the Committee of Management, and that of the medical officer of your Dispensary district, that they have for some time past had it in contemplation to make some changes in the dispensary regulations, with the view of simplifying the books required to be kept by the dispensary medical officers, and reducing their number.

The revision of the regulations may not be completed for some time, but one of the proposed changes may, the Commissioners think, take place at once. This change consists in the adoption of a new form of Medical Relief Register (Form F), which, though more simple than the form now in use, is so framed as to answer the purpose of an Attendance and Prescription Book as well as of a Register, and the use of the Attendance and Prescription Book (Form G) may therefore be discontinued when the new form of Register is brought into use.

The Registers at present in use should be continued until they are filled, but whenever a new register is required the new form (a specimen sheet of which is enclosed) should be obtained.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Honorary Secretary of each Dispensary Committee.

No. 9.—Form of Medical Relief Register.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
18th February, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit herewith, for the information of the Board of Guardians, a copy of a circular letter which they have addressed to the Committee of Management of each dispensary district, with a copy of the revised form of Medical Relief Register which accompanied it.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Directions for filling up the Medical Relief Register.

Column 1.—The series of numbers is to run from the beginning to the end of the year, and a fresh series is to be commenced on the 1st January in each year, beginning with the first new case on or after that day. The same patient is not to have a second number, except in the event of a second or subsequent illness within the year, in which event he should, on presentation of a fresh ticket, be registered again with a fresh number, as a new case, reference being also made, in the column for observations, to his previous number.

Column 2.—The date on which the ticket is presented to the medical officer is to be inserted in column 2.

Columns 3, 4, 5, and 6.—The Christian and surname of the patient are to be inserted in full in column 3; the residence of the patient in column 4; the age of the patient, as well as can be ascertained, in column 5; and the disease for which the patient is treated in column 6.

Columns 7 and 8.—The date of each attendance from the commencement to the termination of the case is to be entered in these columns; if the attendance is at the dispensary in column 7, if at the patient's home in column 8.

Column 9.—Should contain a record of the treatment of each case. The date of each attendance, as entered in column 7 or 8, should be entered in this column also; with a description of the prescription or treatment at each date. If in any case the attendances and prescriptions should be too numerous to admit of their all being entered in the space provided for the purpose, a new entry of the case may be made at a subsequent page of the book, but not with a new number, a reference being made in the first entry to the page of the book at which the case is continued.

Column 10.—Is to contain a statement of the result of the case, as "relieved," "cured," "died," "ticket cancelled by committee," and in the latter case the date of the meeting at which the ticket was cancelled should be entered, and the chairman of the day should place his signature or initials against the entry.

Column 11.—This column is intended for any other particulars, directions, or explanation as to any case which the medical officer or the chairman of the committee may think it desirable to insert.

A sufficient number of leaves (with the letters of the alphabet marked on spaces cut at the outer edge) is bound up with the register, to serve as an index.

II.—CORRESPONDENCE ON THE SUBJECT OF AN OUTBREAK OF SMALLPOX IN A DISTRICT OF CASTLEBAR UNION, SUPPOSED TO HAVE ORIGINATED IN THE ILLEGAL PRACTICE OF INOCULATION.

No. 1.—Extract from Report from Dr. Roughan, Poor Law and Medical Inspector, to the Commissioners, dated 10th January, 1869.

Castlebar Union, Balla Dispensary District.

Vaccination is not in a satisfactory state. The births of 1,364 children have been registered for six months and upwards, 779 of whom have been successfully vaccinated, thus leaving after due allowance for deaths, unfitness, and all other causes 380 children now more than six months old who have not been brought for vaccination, and are now consequently unprotected against smallpox, which (as has been reported by the Medical Officer to the Commissioners) has been introduced into a portion of the district. The Medical Officer informed me that proceedings were carried on against some wilful defaulters. In some instances the magistrates dismissed the cases because they held that no proof of residence could be given, and consequently sufficient evidence of identification was wanting.

This defect in the former notices (Form C) has been remedied, as the blocks of this form, lately furnished by the Registrar-General, contain a blank for residence.

In cases where convictions took place nominal fines were inflicted worse than useless, which caused the peasantry to attach little weight to the utility of vaccination, and made them believe that magistrates who would only inflict so small a penalty for non-compliance with an Act of Parliament must have regarded its enactments of very small importance.

There are three vaccination stations in this Union—one at Balla dispensary, open on two days in the week ; a second at Ballintubber, open one day in each week ; and a third at Ballyvary, open in the months of May and November for three days in the three first weeks of each month. I think it would be desirable that more vaccination stations should be held, so as to afford every facility to parents for having their children vaccinated, and that proceedings should be instituted against all defaulters now amenable to the law by either the Clerk of the Union or Relieving Officer.

The Medical Officer serves notice (Form C) in every instance immediately after registering the birth, and he, as far as I can judge, does all in his power to extend vaccination.

No. 2.—Extract from Letter from the Commissioners to the Board of Guardians, dated 15th January, 1869.

Castlebar Union, Balla Dispensary District,

Dr. Roughan reports that vaccination is not in a satisfactory state ; that the births of 1,364 children have been registered for six months and upwards, 779 of whom have been successfully vaccinated, leaving, after due allowance for deaths, unfitness, and all other causes, 380 children, now more than six months old, who have not been brought for vaccination, and are now, consequently, unprotected against smallpox, which (as has been reported to the Commissioners by the Medical Officer of the district) has made its appearance in a portion of the district. Dr. Roughan states that he was informed by the Medical Officer that proceedings under the Vaccination Act were instituted against some wilful defaulters, and that in some instances the magistrates dismissed the cases, because they held that no proof of residence could be given, and, consequently, sufficient evidence of identification was wanting. This defect in the former notices Dr. Roughan states has been remedied, as the blocks of the forms of notice lately furnished by the Registrar-General, contain a blank for residence. In other cases where convictions took place, nominal fines were inflicted (as Dr. Roughan observes) worse than useless, which caused the peasantry to attach little weight to the utility of vaccination, and made them believe that magistrates who would only inflict so small a penalty for non-compliance with an Act of Parliament must have regarded its enactments as of very small importance.

It appears from Dr. Roughan's Report that there are three vaccination stations in the union ; one at Balla, open on two days in each week ; a second at Ballintubber, open one day in each week ; and a third at Ballyvary, open in the months of May and November for three days in the three first weeks of each month. Dr. Roughan is of opinion that it would be desirable that more vaccination stations should be held, so as to afford every facility to parents for having their children vaccinated ; and that proceedings should be instituted against all defaulters under the "Compulsory Vaccination Act," who are now amenable to the law, either by the Clerk of the Union or the Relieving Officer. The Medical Officer, it is stated, serves the required notice, in every instance, immediately after registering the birth of a child, and, so far as Dr. Roughan can judge, does all in his power to extend vaccination.

From Dr. Roughan's report, and from other communications, the Commissioners have been made aware that after two years of almost entire immunity from smallpox, this country now possesses in the Castlebar Union a focus of contagion which threatens once more an epidemic invasion of this loathsome and fatal disease.

That a considerable number of children and young persons residing in this Union are at present unprotected against smallpox by vaccination is in itself a calamity of which all the consequences cannot be foreseen—the causes of which it is necessary to remove by immediate action. One of these has been the persistent unwillingness of the Board of Guardians, notwithstanding the assistance derived from the Parliamentary Grant, to make adequate arrangements for the Dispensary duty in the Union, whereby a district containing 14,244 persons, and an area of 61,513 acres, remains under the charge of one Dispensary Officer. In this district the epidemic has broken out.

Without adverting in detail to the correspondence on this subject which has taken place on various former occasions, the Commissioners must now peremptorily insist upon the division of the Union into, at least, three Dispensary districts, and on the appointment by the Guardians of so many medical officers; and they request the immediate attention of the Guardians to a proper division of the Union into districts for this purpose, in default whereof the Commissioners will make such a division as may appear to them most suitable and convenient.

With regard to the course pursued by the Magistrates in Petty Sessions on the prosecution of defaulting parents under the Vaccination Act, it is the intention of the Commissioners, when the facts have been made known to them in detail, to submit them to the consideration of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, and at the same time to submit the importance of every possible exertion being made by the police to discover and bring to punishment any person who has been guilty of the offence of inoculating for smallpox in the district.

No. 3.—Letter from the Commissioners to Dr. Roughan.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
15th January, 1869.

Sir,—The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your report of the 10th inst., relating to your recent inspection of the Balla Dispensary in Castlebar Union, and in reply to your observations respecting the proceedings instituted by the Board of Guardians against defaulters under the Compulsory Vaccination Act the Commissioners request that you will be good enough to inquire minutely into the cases dismissed by the Magistrates on technical grounds and those in which they convicted but decreed a nominal penalty, and report to the Commissioners fully thereon.

By order,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Dr. Roughan, Poor Law Inspector,
Galway.

No. 4.—Report from Dr. Roughan to the Commissioners.

Galway, January 22, 1869.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with instructions conveyed to me in your letter of the 15th instant, No. 881, I made minute inquiry on the 19th and 20th instant, at Balla, Castlebar, and Ballyglass, into the cases in which proceedings were instituted against wilful defaulters under the Compulsory Vaccination Act, in the Balla district. On my arrival at Balla, Tuesday, the 19th instant, I found a letter from Dr. Blackwell excusing himself for not meeting me, as he was obliged to attend at Claremorris quarter sessions and giving me the name of one defaulter, Martin Madden, who had been proceeded against at Balla petty sessions and whose case he stated was dismissed because the residence was not set forth in the block of the notice form C (the counterpart of which was given to the parent at the time of the registration of the birth) the magistrate being of opinion that sufficient evidence of identification was wanting. On examination of the book which contains a record of the proceedings of the magistrate at petty sessions in the Balla district I found the following entry :—

October 15, 1868. The Guardians of the Poor of the Castlebar Union—Complainants.
Martin Madden, of Lisnolan, Defendant.
Cause of Complaint:
Defendant has not complied with the terms of the Vaccination Act.
Witness examined, Dr. Blackwell.
Rule "No Appearance."
A. R. Stritch, R.M.

Mr. Nally, the Clerk of Petty Sessions, stated to me that he was unable to say why the rule was entered as "No Appearance," although the Clerk of the Union, Mr. Nixon, was present to represent the Guardians, and Dr. Blackwell was examined to sustain the case ; but he said his impression was that the ruling was made with the object of not debarring the Guardians from again bringing on the case should they deem fit to do so. This was the only case in which proceedings had been instituted in the Balla Petty Sessions district under the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

I next proceeded to Castlebar and was there informed by the Clerk of the Union (Mr. Nixon) that the Commissioners had addressed a letter to the Guardians, dated 24th August, 1867, intimating to them that they had been informed by their Inspector that there were 230 children more than six months old in the Balla dispensary district whose births had been registered and who had not been vaccinated, and that they had requested the medical officer to furnish a list of Defaulters, so as to enable the Guardians to discharge the functions devolved on them by the Compulsory Vaccination Act. It appears that a list containing the names of fourteen defaulters was laid before the Board at their meeting on the 21st September, 1867, and a minute made, ordering proceedings to be taken by Mr. Nixon against the defaulters named in the list. Mr. Nixon states that acting on a suggestion of Sir. R. Blosse, he only instituted proceedings against three persons, one named Martin Madden of Lisnolan, whose case was tried at Balla Petty Sessions, and which he states was dismissed on some technical ground ; a second named Thomas Toulster, of Lisrobert, and a third named Joseph M'Donnell, of Ardcloon, both of which the clerk stated were tried at Ballyglass Petty Sessions and nominal fines decreed. He further stated that he did not know the exact amount of the penalty decreed, assigning as a reason for his not knowing it, that the magistrates sat earlier than usual on that day and had decided the cases before he came into Court. He informed me that he did not remember the names of the magistrates present nor the date of the proceedings.

I subsequently examined the Petty Sessions record at Ballyglass and ascertained that no proceedings had been entered as having been taken under the Compulsory Vaccination Act from the 21st August, 1867 up to the present time ; so that it is clear that the Clerk of the Union not only disregarded the order of the Board, made on the 21st of September, which directed him to institute proceedings against fourteen defaulters, but also stated to me on the 19th instant that he had instituted proceedings against two parties at Ballyglass, and that convictions were obtained and nominal fines inflicted, which subsequently was ascertained not to be the fact.

On going over the Petty Sessions Book at Ballyglass I found that three cases had been proceeded against for non-compliance with the terms of the Compulsory Vaccination Acts. The first entry, No. 18, dated October 31st, 1866, was :—

T. W. Blackwell, esq., M.D., Complainant.
Michael Bourke of Cloonbooley, Defendant.
Cause of Complaint :
Having neglected to comply with the requirements of the Vaccination Acts by neglecting to have his child brought to Complainant for examination on the 17th of October, 1866, seven days after being vaccinated.
Rule: 1*s.* fine, 1*s.* 6*d.* costs.
No. 19. Same Complainant as in 18.
John Igoe, of Cloonbooley, Defendant.
Rule same as 18.
No. 20. Same Complainant as 19.
Thomas Kelly, of Cloonbooley, Defendant.
Rule same as 19.
Magistrates, Captain Plunkett, R.M., G. H. Moore, V. Blake.

I proceeded to Balla on the 20th instant, and on learning that Dr. Blackwell was still in Claremorris went there and had an interview with him, in which he informed me that the four cases above referred to were the only ones in his district in which proceedings had been taken under the Compulsory Vaccination Act, and that they were the cases to which he alluded on the day of my inspection. He states that the three persons fined at Ballyglass were in independent circumstances ; that they wilfully neglected to bring their children on the eighth day after vaccination for inspection ; that one of the parents, in reply to a message sent by him requesting that the child would be brought for inspection, replied that she had no notion of it, that she had something else to do, and that, finally, after the imposition of the fines, they snapped their fingers at him (Dr. Blackwell) and said they did not care three straws for himself or the fines. I may here observe that Dr. Blackwell on the day of my inspection, in endeavouring to account for the unsatisfactory state of vaccination in his district, led me to believe that numerous prosecutions had taken place against wilful defaulters and that the fine in every instance was nominal.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

GEORGE F. ROUGHAN.

No. 5.—LETTER from the COMMISSIONERS to the UNDER SECRETARY of the LORD LIEUTENANT.

Poor Law Commission Office,
SIR, Dublin, 30th January, 1869.

The Commissioners for administering the laws for relief of the poor in Ireland have the honour to state for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant that they have recently received a report from their Inspector, Dr. Roughan, relating to the Balla dispensary district in Castlebar Union, in which he states that vaccination is not in a satisfactory state in the district, as is evidenced from the fact that of 1,364 children whose births have been registered six months and upwards, only 779 have been successfully vaccinated, leaving, after due allowance for deaths, unfitness, and all other causes, about 380 children now more than six months old who have not been brought for vaccination, and who are consequently unprovided against smallpox, which has made its appearance in a portion of the district.

On this subject the Commissioners have addressed the Board of Guardians of Castlebar Union, pointing out certain defects in their arrangements under the Medical Charities Act, which require immediate remedy.

In a further report received from Dr. Roughan on the 23rd instant, he reports that on examining the Petty Sessions Book at Ballyglass he found that three cases were brought before the magistrates (Captain Plunkett, R.M., G. H. Moore, esq., and V. Blake, esq.) on the 31st October, 1866, in which Michael Bourke, John Igoe, and Thomas Kelly, all of Cloonbooley, were charged with having violated the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act by neglecting to have their children brought back to the medical officer for examination, and that in each case a fine of one shilling was inflicted with one shilling and sixpence costs.

The medical officer, Dr. Blackwell, informed Dr. Roughan that the three persons fined at Ballyglass were in independent circumstances, and that they wilfully neglected to bring their children for inspection ; that one of the parents in reply to a message sent by him (Dr. Blackwell) requesting that the child would be brought for inspection, replied that she had "no notion of it," that she had "something else to do," and that finally after the imposition of the fines, "they snapped their fingers at him, and said they did not care three straws for himself or the fines."

The Commissioners submit to the consideration of His Excellency that the extremely small penalties occasionally inflicted by the magistrates on defaulting parents prosecuted by the guardians, sometimes not exceeding one penny, have an unfortunate effect in making the people regard the authorities as indifferent to the enforcement of the law, and in leading them to neglect the means which the legislature has gratuitously provided for the protection of young children.

The epidemic of smallpox, now prevailing in Balla district, has, there is good reason to believe, been introduced into that district by a notorious inoculator named Matthew Lally, who has been well known to the police for a considerable time past, Mr. Abbott, the Sub-inspector of Constabulary, and the Head Constable residing at Hollymount, having informed Dr. Roughan in the early part of last year that they were well aware that Lally goes through the country for the purpose of performing inoculation, and that they have made every exertion in their power to detect him, but that from the secret manner in which he operates, and the unwillingness on the part of the peasantry to give any information against him, they have been unable to take any legal proceedings that would lead to even a chance of conviction.

This man, Lally, has, it appears, since changed his residence from Cappaghduff in Ballinrobe Union, to a village on the confines of the Westport and Castlebar Unions, and there is no doubt that he thence introduced the virus of smallpox into the adjoining district, and probably directly into the village of Ballycary, where it first broke out in force.

In the last minutes of the Board of Guardians of Castlebar Union, forty-seven persons are represented as suffering from the scourge, and several deaths have already taken place. It would appear from this description that a lamentable failure of justice has taken place in reference to the inoculator, Matthew Lally.

There is a police barrack, as the Commissioners are informed, in the village of Ballyheany, where Lally is believed to have operated on some of the inhabitants, and in the vicinity of which place he has followed his vocation, not only without interruption at the time, but with subsequent impunity, and has, in fact, been able to create a local epidemic of small-pox in the counties of Galway and Mayo, in each of two successive years, during which the rest of Ireland has enjoyed almost entire immunity from the disease.

An increase of the penalty attending the offence of inoculation in Ireland, from one month's to six months' imprisonment, took place in the course of last session.

The Commissioners feel assured that on a representation of these facts being made to the constabulary authorities, they will cause every means to be used by which Matthew Lally, the inoculator, may be brought to justice for his past conduct, or prevented from carrying on his criminal trade in future.

The Commissioners take the present opportunity of laying before His Excellency a copy of a circular-letter which they have just addressed to the Boards of Guardians of Unions on the subject of the present state of small-pox in Ireland, so far as it is known to them from documents in this department.*

No. 6.—Letter from the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant to the Commissioners.

Sir, Dublin Castle, 1st March, 1869.

Referring to your letter of the 30th January last, I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acquaint you, for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners, that every effort is being used by the police authorities to bring the man Lally, who is suspected of inoculating, to justice.

I am at the same time to transmit herewith copy of a circular to Magistrates at Petty Sessions on the subject of the very small penalties occasionally inflicted on defaulting parents, under the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

Circular to Magistrates at Petty Sessions (enclosed in foregoing Letter).

Dublin Castle, 1st March, 1869.

Gentlemen,—The Lord Lieutenant's attention having been called to the extremely small penalties, sometimes not exceeding one penny, occasionally inflicted by the Magistrates at Petty Sessions on defaulting parents prosecuted by the Boards of Guardians of the Poor Law Unions in Ireland under the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act (26 & 27 Vic., c. 52), whereby people are led to believe that the authorities are indifferent to the enforcement of the law, I am directed by His Excellency to draw your particular attention to this subject, as the Government attach great importance to the necessity of the statute being fully enforced, and that every means should be taken to oblige the people to take advantage of the legislative enactment as to vaccination gratuitously provided for the protection of young children.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

E. R. Wetherall.

No. 7.—Copy Constabulary Report referred to the Commissioners from the Chief Secretary's Office.

Death from Smallpox.—Copy Verdict.

We find that the deceased, Mary Tuohy, died at Skehanagh Upper, in the County of Mayo, on Tuesday, the 16th day of February, 1869, and from the evidence produced we are of opinion that smallpox was the cause of death. There is evidence before us to show she was vaccinated at the dispensary, but that she was not inoculated for smallpox by any person. From the fact that several of the parties who have been recently vaccinated at the dispensary have taken the smallpox, we are of opinion that dispensary vaccination is of no use.

Ballinrobe, February 25, 1869.

I have to report that on the 23rd instant an inquest was held at Ballintubber in reference to the death of Mary Tuohy, a child four years old, who had smallpox, which she took naturally, and without vaccination. It appears that about November last smallpox was found in the country around the village of Ballyhean, in the Castlebar District, that it spread so that about 100 persons, as near as could be guessed, took it. Of these four were in this district adjoining Castlebar, of whom Mary Tuohy died. Although it appeared to the police that in this case there was no inoculation, still it was thought better to have an inquest, so as to attract attention to the matter, and thereby prevent further mischief. Sixteen jurors were sworn, and the father and the mother of the child swore distinctly, and I believe them, as the jurors did, that the child never was inoculated. Several other witnesses were examined, who showed they had their children vaccinated at the dispensary, yet that the same children took the smallpox without inoculation, and one or two of them died—the latter not in this district. The coroner and myself took great pains to try if a quack doctor who lives in the neighbourhood was concerned in producing the disease, but the jurors and witnesses all stated he never cut any of their children, although he passed the way, as he must do, going to Castlebar and returning. I particularly pointed to the way in which I have heard the variolous matter was introduced, such as by a quack in an empty house, the children blindfolded, or by the mothers with a needle, or by putting the matter on food or drink, but all was met by a direct negative. We endeavoured to impress upon the people that it was a most dangerous thing to employ a quack.

We were astounded at hearing that the vaccination appointed by law proved so weak and ineffectual a barrier against smallpox, for instance, one woman, Mrs. Honor Horan, of Knockrath, in Castlebar District, stated she got the dispensary doctor to vaccinate her child in July last. She produced the certificate of successful vaccination, yet in five months the child took smallpox and died. It is possible that a quack may have inoculated the first of these children, but there was no evidence to show the fact. It is equally possible that without inoculation the disease may have been naturally taken by some one child, and then spread over the country. I am aware of instances when, without vaccination, on contact with other infected children, the disease has been produced.

(Signed), George Abbott, 2nd Sub-Inspector.

No. 8.—Letter from the Commissioners to Dr. Roughan.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

Sir, March 3, 1869.

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland transmit to you the accompanying papers, which they have received from the Chief Secretary's office, containing a copy of the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of a child named Mary Tuohy, who died at Skehanagh Upper, in the Castlebar Union, on the 15th ultimo, from smallpox, and a copy of the report of Sub-Inspector Abbott relating to the case.

The Commissioners request that you will have the goodness to inquire into the facts set forth in the document, and especially into the quality of the vaccine lymph used in vaccination in the Balla dispensary district, the source whence it is obtained, and the manner in which Dr. Blackwell discharges the duty of vaccinating.

The precise number who have taken smallpox after vaccination reported as successful should be ascertained, together with the result of each case.

The small proportion of deaths from smallpox to the number stated to have been attacked by that disease is confirmatory of the belief that inoculation has been the cause of the outbreak in a district where vaccination has been neglected, or when resorted to, proved to be unsuccessful.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Dr. Roughan, Poor Law Inspector, Galway.

---

No. 9.—Report from Dr. Roughan to the Commissioners.

Gentlemen, Galway, March 12th, 1869.

In accordance with instructions conveyed to me in your letter of the 3rd inst., No. 5,487, I made inquiry on the 9th and 10th instant into the facts set forth in a paper containing a copy of the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of a child named Mary Tuohy, who died at Skehanagh Upper, in the Castlebar Union, from smallpox, on the 16th ult., and also in a report from Sub-Inspector Abbott relating to the case. I extended my inquiry as directed, so as to ascertain the quality of the vaccine lymph used in the Balla district, the source whence it is obtained, the manner in which Dr. Blackwell discharges the duties of vaccinator, and the number who have taken smallpox after vaccination reported as successful, together with the result of each case.

I may here remark that, in order to put myself in possession as much as possible of all the facts connected with the outbreak of smallpox, I spent two days going through the different villages, visiting each house in which cases occurred.

It appears that Mary Tuohy, aged about four years, was attacked by smallpox in the beginning of February last, and died on the 15th of that month. She was buried on the 16th; but previous to her interment the Head-Constable at Ballyhean, with a view of an inquest being subsequently held, caused the body to be viewed by sixteen men, whom he proposed to have empanelled as jurors. In consequence of some misunderstanding about coroner's districts, the inquest was not held until the 23rd of February—six days after the interment. The body was not exhumed, and no medical practitioner attended. It is much to be regretted that the inquest did not take place at an earlier date, when the body could have been examined by a medical man, who could give reliable evidence as to cause of death; and if from smallpox, whether the disease had been produced by inoculation, and whether the arm bore the usual well known mark which remains after vaccination.

The name of the child is entered in the Vaccination Register as having received a certificate of successful vaccination from Dr. Blackwell on the 24th of May, 1865; and he states positively and emphatically that when he gave the certificate he was perfectly satisfied that the child had been successfully vaccinated.

Dr. Blackwell states that he vaccinates as much as possible from arm to arm; that when he finds the lymph getting weak from having passed through many children, he immediately procures a supply from either the London or Dublin Cowpox Institution, and that occasionally he obtains some from neighbouring practitioners; that in performing the operation he rarely draws blood, merely makes an abrasion in the cuticle, and inserts the lymph with a blunt lancet or ivory point. Ten children were attacked by smallpox, whose names were entered by Dr. Blackwell in his Vaccination Register as having been successfully vaccinated, and to the parents of whom he gave certificates. I shall enter them numerically, giving the age, date of certificate, result and observation.

I failed to discover the well known mark which always remains after successful vaccination on the arms of any of those children. Dr. Blackwell positively asserts that he never entered a case as having been successfully vaccinated without being fully convinced that it was so at the time, and states that he must have used, without knowing it, effete lymph, which produced a vesicle and areola so like that which is caused by vaccination with genuine cowpox as to have deceived him. There can be no doubt that in all the cases vaccination was attempted, as the mothers all state that the children's arms were festered when they brought them back for inspection on the eighth day. Six of the parents produced certificates of successful vaccination given to them on that day, and the remaining four stated they had received certificates, but had lost them. As far as I could observe, Dr. Blackwell endeavours to discharge his very onerous duties in a zealous and conscientious manner; but it is utterly impossible for one medical man to discharge the duties of such a large and populous district without being perplexed and confused.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

George F. Roughan.

No. 10.—Letter from the Commissioners to the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant.

Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
March 16th, 1869.

Sir,

The Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland acknowledge the receipt, on the 2nd inst., of a copy of the verdict of the coroner's jury on the body of Mary Tuohy, a child aged four years, who died at Skehanagh Upper, in the Castlebar Union, on the 15th ultimo, of smallpox, in which the jury state that there is evidence of the deceased having been vaccinated at the dispensary (at Balla), that she was not inoculated by any person, and that from the fact that several children who had been recently vaccinated at the dispensary had taken the smallpox, they are of opinion that dispensary vaccination is of no use; as also a copy of the report of Sub-Inspector Abbott, in which he states that the father and mother of the child swore at the inquest that the child had not been inoculated, and that several other witnesses deposed to their children having taken the smallpox, although they had been vaccinated at the dispensary, and had not been inoculated.

The Commissioners, on receipt of the document above referred to, instructed their inspector, Dr. Roughan, to inquire into the facts stated, and especially into the quality of the vaccine lymph used in vaccination in the Balla dispensary district, the source whence obtained, and the manner in which Dr. Blackwell, the medical officer of the district, discharges the duty of vaccinating; and at the same time to ascertain the precise number who have taken smallpox after vaccination was reported to be successful, and the result in each case.

Dr. Roughan accordingly made inquiry as directed, on the 9th and 10th instant., and has furnished the Commissioners with his report on the subject, a copy whereof the Commissioners have the honour to transmit herewith for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, and in doing so they desire to observe that the opinion expressed by the coroner's jury, viz., "that dispensary vaccination is of no use," although clearly unfounded as applied to the effects of vaccination generally in Ireland, appears from Dr. Roughan's report to be justified to some extent by what has occurred in the Balla dispensary district of Castlebar Union.

It seems probable that Dr. Blackwell's own view of the subject is correct, and that the exceptional cause of the failure of vaccination as a protection against smallpox in the Balla district has been the use of effete vaccine lymph in vaccinating. Moreover, his practice, as he describes it, of vaccinating from arm to arm, would, if the original matter was defective, be a means of continuing the failure. He will now, no doubt, obtain fresh supplies from the London or Dublin Cowpock Institutions, and the Commissioners have written to him to that effect.

Notwithstanding the continued failure to obtain evidence against the inoculator for smallpox in this district, the Commissioners retain a firm persuasion that the disease was originally introduced there by inoculation, the portion of the district in which the disease has prevailed being in the immediate vicinity of a notorious inoculator who has several times narrowly escaped justice, and their opinion on this point has been confirmed by the recent inquiries.

In the first place, the very few deaths which have occurred in comparison with the number of cases of attack known to have taken place, viz., three deaths in sixty-seven cases, is in itself an evidence that the disease has in many of the cases been produced in healthy subjects by inoculation, as a far greater mortality must have resulted from the spread of the disease by contagion alone. Secondly, this is the only locality in Ireland in which smallpox is at the present moment known to prevail.

The Commissioners trust that they will receive the co-operation of the magistracy and the police in their endeavours to prevent the existence of smallpox in any part of Ireland.

As regards the concluding paragraph of Dr. Roughan's report, in which he observes that it is utterly impossible for one medical man to discharge the duties of such a large and populous district as that of Balla without being perplexed and confused, the Commissioners desire to state that they have been so forcibly impressed with the fact that it is impossible for the medical officer of the Balla district to discharge his duties in an efficient and thoroughly satisfactory manner, owing to the causes adverted to by Dr. Roughan, as to have felt called upon in the interest of the sick poor to issue an order under their seal on the 26th ultimo, diminishing the area of that district by transferring three electoral divisions from it to the Castlebar district, and requiring the appointment of a second medical officer for the latter district. This order will come into operation on the 26th inst.

By order of the Commissioners,

B. Banks, Chief Clerk.

To Colonel Sir E. R. Wetherall, K.C.B., &c., Dublin Castle.

Ballinrobe, 22nd March, 1869.

In reference to annexed papers I beg to remark that the facts stated in my report are all well authenticated and true.

But as only a few cases occurred in this district I beg to suggest that the file may be sent to Mr. Hume, S.I., as most of the cases referred to occurred in his district.

The quack referred to, although resident in this district, rarely shows in this town, on account of being followed by the police. Men have been for many years sent in coloured clothes after him, so that he goes to other places.

I prosecuted him years ago for homicide. A child died after his inoculation, and last year prosecuted him for inoculating near Hollymount. He was at great expense and trouble by having to attend there at every Petty Sessions for six or seven weeks, but escaped conviction because the children and their parents swore they never saw him before, which, I believe, was not true.

George Abbott, Second Sub-Inspector, Extra.

James Davies, esq., Co. Inspector.

Castlebar, 23rd March, 1869.

Transmitted to Mr. Hume, S.I.

James Davies, First C.I.

J. S. Hume, esq., Sub-Inspector.

County of Mayo, Castlebar,
March 26th, 1869.

Having paid particular attention to the subject of this file (the unaccountable prevalence of smallpox in a portion of my district surrounding Ballyhean) since early in January, 1869, made minute inquiries, and taken every step that suggested itself to me, with the assistance of Constable Lahey, at Ballyhean, to trace the source of the contagion, I could find no evidence or tangible ground for suspicion that inoculation had been practiced, except the fact that Lally, the well-known inoculator, resides in the neighbourhood of the places where the disease prevails.

I had hopes that a coroner's inquest on the body of Mary Tuohy would throw some light on the subject, and I accordingly lost not a moment in informing Mr. Abbott, S.I., and strongly urged that an inquest should be held. The result is given on this file.

As it is all but beyond doubt that many cases have occurred without the intervention of inoculation with variolous matter of smallpox, it remains an open question whether the contagion was introduced into this part of the country by such means or not.

It has been suggested that inoculation may be produced by administering variolous matter with food or drink. I can scarcely believe this to be practicable; but doubtless the opinion of an experienced medical gentleman has been obtained on this point.

Had inoculation been practised in the way supposed to be usual—with lancet or needle point—I assume that Dr. Roughan, in his examination of the children, should have found some mark indicative of the fact.

There has been a plan suggested to me as one likely to be used by parents or quack inoculators, with a view to avoiding detection, viz., immediately after the vaccination by a dispensary doctor, on the part operated on by him, to rub in the variolous matter of smallpox, thus making the dispensary doctor the innocent agent of producing inoculation instead of vaccination, by using the lymph from arm to arm. It is self-evident that such was not the fact in those cases which came under Dr. Roughan's notice, as too long a period had elapsed between the supposed successful vaccination and the becoming ill with smallpox; but I deem it right to mention the matter as worthy of the consideration of the Poor Law Commissioners.

On the whole, I am of opinion that inoculation has not been practised in this district to any extent, if at all; but if I can by the utmost ingenuity work up a case against Lally or any other quack, I will do so.

J. S. Hume, Second Sub-Inspector.

The Co. Inspector.

P.S.—It seems to me that the fact of a mild form of smallpox being prevalent might be accounted for more reasonably on the supposition that imperfect vaccination may have had a partial preventive effect than on the supposition that the disease was produced by inoculation in each individual, or even in one or two cases originally, as I have myself known cases in which a severe form of the disease was taken by contact with persons labouring under a mild form, and vice versa.

J. S. Hume, S.I.

No 12.—Report from Dr. Roughan to the Commissioners.

Galway, April 17th, 1869.

Gentlemen,—I have the honour to return file of papers relating to the recent outbreak of smallpox in the Castlebar Union, and have read with attention the interesting report of Sub-Inspector Hume on the subject.

It would be unreasonable to expect that Mr. Hume, not being a medical man, could ascertain with any degree of certainty the mode in which smallpox was originally introduced, and subsequently propagated in this district.

I went through the infected villages on the 9th and 10th of March, and visited each house in which cases of smallpox occurred. The evident unwillingness of the people to afford any information, and their evasive replies, when questioned as to the probable cause of the disease, impressed me with the idea that inoculation had been extensively practiced, and I endeavoured (if possible) to discover some case in which a mark of inoculation could be distinguished ; but all the cases, except one, had passed the stage for making the observation. The exceptional case was a girl named Dea, aged eleven years, residing in the village of Carryclogher, electoral division of Ballyheane, who was in smallpox for six days. The primary fever had disappeared, and a few pimples were scattered over the face and body. When about examining the lower extremities the mother placed her hand below the girl's knee, and kept it there persistently for some time. After some persuasion she removed it, and I found a smallpox pustule fully matured and days in advance of the pimples on the face and body. Had this been a case of natural small-pox all the pimples would have been in the same degree of maturation. I felt at the time satisfied that the girl suffered from inoculated smallpox, and mentioned to the parents that such was my opinion; and subsequently made reference to the case on observation papers transmitted to the Poor Law Commissioners. The disease which prevailed in the district was, as far as I could learn it, a mild form, attended with a small mortality—only three deaths having occurred out of sixty-three cases. The majority attacked were over five years of age, and had not been vaccinated. The children under five years had been imperfectly vaccinated with lymph which had become deteriorated by transmission through too many persons.

Taking into consideration the manner of the people, the case of the girl Dea, the mildness of the disease, and the small mortality which resulted, no doubt can exist that the majority of the cases suffered from inoculated smallpox, from whom others may have contracted, by contagion or infection, natural smallpox.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

George F. Roughan, M.D.

TABULAR RETURNS IN CONNEXION WITH RELIEF UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

[Note.—In this series of Tables, the Unions are classed in the Counties and Provinces in which the chief or central place of the respective Unions is situate; but many of the Unions comprise parts of more than one County or Province. The total of Population and Area of the Unions in the respective Counties and Provinces, as arranged in these Tables, will not, therefore, agree with the summaries of those Counties and Provinces in the Census Returns. An Alphabetical Index List of the Dispensary Districts is annexed (No. 6), showing the name of the Union in which each District is situate, and referring to the table and page in which the particulars relating to each District are to be found.]

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT.

TO THE

RIGHT HON. GATHORNE HARDY,

HER MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

BOARD OF SUPERVISION FOR THE RELIEF OF THE POOR IN SCOTLAND, CHAMBERS, GEORGE STREET, EDINBURGH.

August 1868.

SIR,

WE have the honour to submit the General Report of our proceedings for the past year. Proceedings of the Board.

Sir John M'Neill having in March last resigned the office of Chairman, which he had held since the formation of the Board in 1845, we passed the following minute in recognition of his long and valuable services:—

"The Board having had communicated to them the resignation by the Right Honourable Sir John M'Neill of the office of Chairman of the Board, held by him since the formation of the Board in 1845, desire to record their sense of the great public services rendered by Sir John M'Neill as their Chairman during his tenure of office.

"The reform of the Scottish Poor Laws in 1845, however necessary, was then felt, on all hands, to be a work of great delicacy and difficulty; and the Board believe, and desire to record their opinion, that it is to the exercise by Sir John M'Neill, in the discharge of his duties as their Chairman, of great administrative ability,—to his constant and unwearied regard to principles, as well as to the most minute and troublesome details,—and to his remarkable power of appreciating and dealing with the opinions, interests, and prejudices of all ranks and classes of his countrymen, that the successful working of the Statute of 1845, and the late, but now general acquiescence of the country in its provisions, are mainly to be attributed.

"The present members of the Board, in taking leave of their respected Chairman, desire to record their sense of the uniform candour, courtesy, and kindness which characterized all his intercourse with them, and which secured not only their own affectionate regard, but the harmony and unity by which the proceedings of the Board, under his presidency, have always been distinguished.

"The Board would express their hope that Sir John M'Neill, in his retirement, may long enjoy the repose and comfort to which the varied services of his honourable and distinguished public life have so well entitled him.

"The Board request Mr Walker to communicate copies of this minute to Sir John M'Neill, and to the Secretary of State."

Since the date of our last Report, the General Superintendents of Poor have continued to discharge their duties within their respective districts to our entire satisfaction. Mr Peterkin has visited and inquired into the administration of the law in 99 Parishes in the Counties of Caithness, Inverness, Orkney and Shetland, Ross and Cromarty, and Sutherland. He has also visited 8 Poorhouses, and has conducted 5 special inquiries. Mr Campbell has visited 235 Parishes in the Counties of Aberdeen, Argyll, Banff, Bute, Dumbarton, Elgin, Forfar, Kincardine, Nairn, Perth, and Stirling, and he has also visited 8 Poorhouses. We have received from these gentlemen their General Half-yearly Reports upon the administration of the law within their respective districts, as well as special Parochial Reports from time to time, wherever circumstances appeared to require them, and we have continued to deal with these Reports in the same manner as with those of former years.

During the past year, Mr M'Neill, the Visiting Officer of the Board, has conducted 14 special investigations, and he has inspected and reported upon 51 Poorhouses. He has also visited and inquired into the administration of the law in 374 Parishes.

App. (A.) Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

The last received general reports by the General Superintendents of Poor and the Visiting Officer, so far as they relate to matters of public interest, will be found in the Appendix.

We have investigated allegations, involving charges more or less serious, against 20 Inspectors of Poor; and we have been under the necessity of dismissing four of these officers for neglect or failure to perform their duties. We suspended one Inspector, and we censured or admonished seven Inspectors whose errors were not of so grave a character as to call for more serious punishment. We have had the satisfaction of acquitting eight Inspectors of the charges which were brought against them. Proceedings of the Board.

We have been called upon to investigate complaints against six Governors of Poorhouses. With regard to five of these officers we found the complaints unfounded, and the sixth, after investigation, was dismissed from his office by the Poorhouse Committee.

We have also investigated charges against three Medical Officers, but the charges made against these gentlemen were not substantiated.

The island of Islay, in the county of Argyll, consisting of three Parishes, was formed into a Combination in terms of the 16th section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, in the year 1846. At that time the island belonged almost exclusively to one proprietor, and the Parochial Boards unanimously desired to be combined so as to form but one Parish as regards settlement, assessment, and management of the Poor. In 1860 the Parochial Board requested us to dissolve the Combination. It was stated that the circumstances of the island had undergone considerable change, and that experience had shown that the Poor Law would be more satisfactorily administered by the three Parishes separately than by the Combination; but we came to the conclusion that the Statute conferred upon us no power to dissolve a Combination when once formed. In 1861 an Act was passed (24 Vict. c. 18) "to make provision for the Dissolution of Combinations of Parishes in Scotland as to the management of the Poor," and during the past year the requisite steps were taken under that Statute by the Parochial Board of the Combination to effect the object they had in view. An application having accordingly been made to us in terms of section 3 of the Act, we dissolved the Combination, as we were empowered to do by section 4, from and after the 14th day of May 1868. The 5th section of the Statute having vested in us the power, in the event of our dissolving a Combination, to decide all questions that might arise between the several Parishes which had constituted the Combination, we framed Instructions and Directions embodying the principles upon which we thought that the chief questions likely to arise in Islay should be decided. We communicated these to the Parochial Board, and we are glad to say that the several Parishes interested appear to have been able, with the assistance of our Instructions and Directions, to settle amicably all the questions arising out of the dissolution. App. (A.) No. 4.

Proceedings of the Board.

The three Parishes of Islay were the only Parishes which ever took advantage of the 16th section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, and there is therefore now no Poor Law Combination existing in Scotland.

It having been represented to us that the existing Rules for conducting the Election of Managers of the Poor in Burghal Parishes admitted of a candidate being improperly withdrawn, after nomination, without his consent, and that they did not provide for defaults in the delivery and collection of the voting papers, we framed amended Rules, with a view to remedy these defects, and we obtained the approval of the Secretary of State thereto.

App. (A.) No. 5.

Having ascertained, by inquiries which we made in order to furnish a Return relating to Poor Rates called for by the House of Commons (Sess. Pap. 357, 1868), that in many Parishes the provisions of the 37th section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, as to deductions from gross rental, were either disregarded or not properly given effect to, we issued circular letters to those Parishes which appeared to have been hitherto acting irregularly, either by giving no deductions whatever, or by giving a uniform per-centage of deduction to all kinds of property, or by giving deductions in the case of some ratepayers, and none in the case of others. We subsequently addressed explanatory circulars to those Parishes respectively which assess without a classification of occupants, and to those which have adopted classification in terms of section 36 of the Statute. These circular letters will be found in the Appendix.

App. (A.) Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

The 80th section of the Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 71, empowers the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy for Scotland to authorize the admission into District Asylums of "Lunatics, not Paupers, but who may be deemed proper objects to be admitted into a Public Asylum." The authorities of the Parish of Little Dunkeld, in which the Perth District Asylum is situated, called our attention to the hardship likely to ensue to that Parish from the reception into the Asylum of non-pauper patients brought from a distance, and unconnected with the Parish, whose means were small or whose relatives were not wealthy. It is obvious that such persons, after residing in the Asylum for periods more or less considerable, might become proper objects of parochial relief, either from the failure of their funds, or from the inability of their relatives any longer to maintain them. In such a case the Parish in which the Asylum is situated would be called upon to maintain them as paupers, without having the means of obtaining any knowledge of their previous history, so as to enable the Parochial Board to ascertain their proper settlements. With a view to mitigate the hardship referred to, and to diminish the difficulty of tracing and establishing the settlements of such persons, we suggested to the General Board of Lunacy that they should require that, prior to the admission of any non-pauper patient into a District Asylum, in terms of the enactment quoted above, the Asylum authorities should obtain from the person or persons proposing to place the patient in the Asylum all available information bearing upon the question of settlement, and should transmit it, at the time of the patient's admission, to the Inspector of Poor of the Parish in which the Asylum is situated. The General Board of Lunacy adopted our suggestion, and a form of schedule to be used by Asylum authorities on all such occasions was adjusted between the two Boards. Proceedings of the Board. App. (A.) No. 11.

Since the date of our last Report, five Parishes which had previously raised the Funds for Relief of the Poor by Voluntary Contributions, have resolved to raise those Funds by Assessment. The number of Parishes now assessed (including the Parishes of Kilchoman, Kildalton, and Killarrow, which were comprised in the Islay Combination lately dissolved by us) is 790, and the number that still raise the Funds by Voluntary Contributions is 97. The Parochial Boards of eight Parishes have resolved on a change in the mode of assessment or of the classification of occupants formerly adopted. In six of these Parishes we have sanctioned the proposed change, and in two we have declined to do so. Of the Parishes in which we have sanctioned the change, two have abandoned classification of occupants, three have adopted an alteration in the classification previously adopted, and one has adopted the first mode instead of Established Usage. Assessments.

In a Parish consisting of two districts, where the Parochial Board resolved to raise the Funds for the Relief of the Poor by assessment in only one of the districts, we declined to approve of the resolution, such a procedure not being authorized by Statute.

The progress of the change from Voluntary Contributions to Assessment, during the twenty-three years that have elapsed since this Board was formed, has been as follows:—

In 592 of the Assessed Parishes, the Funds for the Relief of the Poor are raised by an equal rate upon owners and occupants respectively, and in 172 there is a classification of occupants in terms of the 36th section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83. In 26 Parishes the Assessment is levied according to Established Usage.

Elected Members.

We have increased the number of Members to be elected to the Parochial Boards of the following Parishes, namely:—In Deskford from 2 to 3, and in Troqueer from 5 to 6.

Poorhouses.

The number of Parishes that have Poorhouses, either singly or in combination, is 358, having an aggregate population of 1,999,099. In the 62 Poorhouses at present in operation, the accommodation is sufficient for 14,194 inmates. When the Poorhouses which are in progress, or the erection of which has been resolved on, are completed, the number of Parishes having Poorhouses, singly or in combination, will be 388, with an aggregate population of 2,095,969. We have, during the past year, approved of the rates for boarding Paupers belonging to 93 Parishes, in those Poorhouses of other Parishes or Combinations to which it appeared to us that they might most advantageously be sent. We continue the practice, however, of limiting our approval in all such cases to a period of 12 months, as we deem it desirable that we should have a periodical opportunity of considering whether any change of circumstances has arisen to render a further continuance of our approval inexpedient. The number of Parishes that possess a right, in terms of the 65th section of the Statute, to send Paupers to the Poorhouses belonging to other Parishes, is 135, with an aggregate population of 333,479; but some of these Parishes are embraced in Combinations for proposed Poorhouses, or propose to have Poorhouses of their own. The total population of the Parishes to which Poorhouse accommodation is thus at present available, amounts to 2,332,578. The Tables showing the number of Poorhouses in operation and in progress, and the Parishes forming the various Poorhouse Combinations in Scotland, are printed in the Appendix. These Tables indicate the number of Inmates of Poorhouses as at 1st January and 1st July last; the number who were receiving indoor relief during the half-years ended 31st December 1867, and 30th June 1868; the number of those on the Sick List, as well as those who were Lunatic, and the number of Children who were at School. These Tables also exhibit the average weekly cost per head of inmates during the half-years ended 31st December 1867, and 30th June 1868, for Maintenance, including food, fuel, clothing, light, and all other necessaries; and the average weekly expenditure per head of inmates for whom there is accommodation in the Poorhouse for the same periods under the following heads, viz.:—1st, Establishment Charges, including salaries of officials, feu-duties, insurance, repairs, etc. 2nd, Estimated Rent of Poorhouse and Land, being so much per cent. on the amount expended. 3rd, Medical Relief, including medicine, medical and surgical appliances, and medical attendance.

Poorhouses.

App. (B.) No. 9.

We have sanctioned the occupation of Kincardineshire Combination Poorhouse, which embraces fifteen of the Parishes in that County, and of the Hamilton Combination Poorhouse, which includes eight Parishes in the County of Lanark. We have also sanctioned the occupation by an increased number of inmates of the Poorhouses of Athole and Breadalbane Combination, and Morayshire (formerly Elgin) Combination, and of the Poorhouses of the Parishes of Liff and Benvie and Dundee. We further have seen reason to restrict the number of inmates in the Poorhouse of Cunninghame Combination, and to sanction a re-distribution of the inmates in the Poorhouse of Dysart Combination.

The Parochial Boards of Latheron and Wick having agreed to combine to use the Poorhouse erected for the former Parish as a common Poorhouse, we approved of the agreement between those Parishes. We also concurred in the resolution of the Parochial Board of Canonbie to join Hawick Poorhouse Combination; in the resolution of the Parochial Board of Crimond to join Buchan Poorhouse Combination; and in the resolution of the Parochial Board of Kilmarnock to join Cunninghame Poorhouse Combination.

The Parochial Board of Govan having passed a resolution to abandon the erection of a new Poorhouse for that Parish which had received our statutory approval, and having requested our sanction thereto, we declined to accede to the request, and called upon the Parochial Board to proceed with the erection of the new Poorhouse as previously resolved on and approved by us.

We have approved of plans for an hospital in connection with Kirkcaldy Combination Poorhouse. We have also approved of alterations of the Poorhouses of Aberdeen, Barony, Dundee, North Leith, and Old Machar, and of the Poorhouses of Buchan, Hamilton, Linlithgow, and Wigtonshire (formerly Rhins of Galloway) Combinations. We have further approved of additions to the Poorhouses of Aberdeen, Liff and Benvie, and Old Machar, and of Cunninghame Combination.

Having experienced some difficulty and inconvenience in corresponding with Poorhouse authorities, owing to the want of distinguishing marks by which easy and distinct reference could be made to the several apartments in each Poorhouse, and having also reason to think that in some Poorhouses the inmates were so distributed as to cause certain portions of these houses to be overcrowded, we issued a circular letter upon these subjects, which will be found in the Appendix. We are now in the course of adjusting the number of inmates who shall be accommodated in each dormitory, sick-ward, and schoolroom.

App. (A.) No. 12.

App. (B.) No. 10.

We again print in the Appendix a tabular statement of the present Poorhouse Buildings Debt, as returned to us by the parochial authorities, showing the sums borrowed for the erection or enlargement of Poorhouse buildings under the 62nd section of the 8 & 9 Vict. cap. 83, or the 19 & 20 Vict. cap. 117, sec. 3, the liquidation of the debt during the past year, and the amount of the debt as at 14th May 1868.

Medical Relief.

We have completed the arrangements for the distribution of the 20th Parliamentary Grant of L.10,000 in aid of Medical Relief to the Poor in Scotland. The number of Parishes which have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 717. Of these, only 15 have failed to establish their claims by producing vouchers for the required amount of expenditure from their own funds, and otherwise satisfying us that the conditions of the Grant had been fulfilled. Last year 697 Parishes established their claims; this year, 702. The increase in the number actually participating this year is therefore 5. The detailed account of the distribution, showing the amount expended on Medical Relief afforded to the Poor in each Parish, for which vouchers have been produced; the sum apportioned to it from the Grant; and the additional sum, proportionate to the excess of its vouched expenditure, beyond the minimum, assigned out of the unappropriated shares to each participating Parish, will be found in the Appendix.

App. (B.) No. 8.

Medical Relief.

The whole sum expended on Medical Relief to the Poor during the year ended 14th May 1868, according to the Annual Returns of the Inspectors, was L.32,858, 7s. 3d., which is equal to 2·57 pence per head of the population of Scotland in 1861. The population of the 717 Parishes that have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 2,866,858, and of the 168 Parishes that have not so resolved, 195,436. The sum expended by the former, according to the Returns, was L.31,772, 2s. 10d., equal to about 2·65 pence per head of the population; and that by the latter was L.1,086, 4s. 5d., equal to about 1·33 pence per head of the population of these Parishes.

Complaints of Inadequate Relief. App. (B.) Nos. 2 & 3.

The number of applications complaining of Inadequate Relief that have been before us during the year ended 30th June 1868, has been 462. In the immediately preceding year the number was 501.

The subjoined Table exhibits the number of such applications in each year since this Board was formed, and the manner in which they have been disposed of.

| YEAR. | No. of Applications. | Dismissed on information contained in Schedule. | Dismissed after being remitted. | Refused, not in receipt of Parochial Relief. | Refused as informal or incompetent. | Withdrawn, or stopped by death. | Ground of Complaint removed. | Minute issued declaring that applicant had just cause of action. |

Cost of Relief and Management.

App. (B.) Nos. 4 & 5.

The sum expended during the year ended 14th May 1868, for the Relief and Management of the Poor (including L.4,725, 9s. 0¾d. expended on buildings not being authorized Poorhouses, and L.62,993, 14s. 4½d. expended on authorized Poorhouse Buildings), has been L.863,202, 8s. 7¾d. In the preceding year, the expenditure for the same purposes was L.807,631, 5s. 6½d. There has therefore been an increase in the expenditure of L.55,571, 3s. 1¼d.

This increase arises chiefly under the head of Relief of Registered Poor, the increase under that head alone being L.34,440, 13s. 11½d., but it extends to every head of expenditure excepting Law Expenses, the cost of which, it is satisfactory to observe, has been L.2,615, 5s. 7½d. less than in the preceding year. Deducting the increase of L.17,299, 14s. 3¾d. in the erection of Buildings, the total increase in the ordinary current expenditure on the Relief and Management of the Poor during the year is L.38,271, 8s. 9½d., of which the sum of L.34,440, 13s. 11½d. arises under the head of Relief of Registered Poor. We are informed by the Inspectors of the Poor of the Parishes in which the increase of expenditure during the past year has been most marked, that it is to be attributed to unusual slackness of trade, increased price of provisions (affecting both the cost of maintenance in Poorhouses and the amount of out-door allowances), and increase in the number and cost of Pauper Lunatics.

The following Table presents a comparative statement of the sums expended for the Relief and Management of the Poor for the last ten years, arranged under the different heads of expenditure, together with the rate per head of the population, calculated for three years on the census of 1851, and for the last seven years on the census of 1861. The rate per cent. on the annual value of real property, as returned in 1843, is also stated.

| Period. | EXPENDITURE. | | | | | | | | |

Cost of Relief and Management.

Although it has been thought desirable, for the purpose of comparison with former years, to show in the preceding Table the rate per cent. on the annual value of real property as returned in 1843, it is right to state that, according to the annual value returned in 1856, the rate per cent. for the last twelve years would be as follows:—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Year ended 14th May | 1856, | L.5 7 | $6\frac{3}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1857, | 5 8 | 9 |
| ,, ,, | 1858, | 5 9 | $6\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1859, | 5 12 | $4\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1860, | 5 13 | $4\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1861, | 5 16 | $10\frac{3}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1862, | 6 3 | $0\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1863, | 6 5 | $9\frac{1}{2}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1864, | 6 11 | $7\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1865, | 6 13 | $0\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1866, | 6 13 | $10\frac{1}{4}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1867, | 6 18 | $0\frac{1}{2}$ |
| ,, ,, | 1868, | 7 7 | $6\frac{1}{2}$ |

The rate per cent. for 1868 on the annual value of real property, as estimated for 1859, would be L.6, 13s. $11\frac{1}{2}$d., or L.1, 6s. $4\frac{3}{4}$d. per cent. greater than in 1856, when similar returns were available.

The total sum expended under the heads of Relief to the Poor on the Roll, or Registered, and to the Casual Poor, for the last ten years, was—

There is thus an increase in the average allowance to each Pauper on the Roll, or Registered, and relieved in the course of the year, of 2s. $3\frac{1}{2}$d., as compared with last year.

The following is a Statement of the Number of Poor relieved in Scotland for the last ten years :—

Number of Poor.

The number of Lunatic Poor relieved in the course of the year was, as stated above, 6994. Of these, 1204 died, or were cured, or ceased to receive relief; thus the number at the 14th May was 5790, being an increase as compared with the number at the same date last year (5626) of 164. Of these, 4311 were in Asylums and Poorhouses, and 1479 were residing with relatives or other parties in private dwellings.

The subjoined Table shows the number of Dependants of the Poor as returned to us for the past ten years :—

Of the Casual Poor and Dependants for 1868, as stated above, 15,949, with 15,439 Dependants, are returned as being also enumerated as Registered Poor. The whole number of Unregistered or Casual Poor at the 14th May 1868 was 3592, with 3668 Dependants. The number of Adult Casual Poor relieved on the 1st January 1868 was 3207, and their children, together with orphans or deserted children, 3223. The number of the former relieved on 1st July 1868 was 2944, and of their children and orphans or deserted children, 3031, or stated thus :— Number of Poor.

The total number of Persons of all classes and ages receiving relief as Casual Poor on 1st January 1868, was 6430; on 14th May 1868, 7260; and on 1st July 1868, 5975; the average of the three periods being 6555.

| Years. | Poorhouse Accommodation at 1st July. | No. of Poor receiving In-door Relief at | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | 1st January. | 14th May. | 1st July |
| 1864 | 12,770 | 8,073 | 7,257 | 7,165 |
| 1865 | 13,398 | 8,270 | 7,348 | 7,344 |
| 1866 | 13,630 | 8,037 | 7,070 | 7,473 |
| 1867 | 13,864 | 8,890 | 7,929 | 8,291 |
| 1868 | 14,194 | 9,811 | 8,794 | 8,798 |

The whole sum derived from Church Collections in Assessed Parishes during the year ended 14th May 1868, was L.22,030, 9s. 2d., of which L.10,486, 4s. 4d. is stated to have been expended on Relief of the Poor. From this sum, however, must be deducted L.332, 3s. 9d., handed over to the Parochial Boards. It would appear, therefore, that the sum of L.10,154, 0s. 7d., derived from Church Collections, was actually applied by the Kirk Sessions to the relief of persons in their respective Parishes who required assistance. But these funds are generally employed to afford aid to persons who have fallen into temporary difficulties, with a view to prevent them from becoming chargeable to the Parish as Paupers; and it is probable that few of the persons so assisted have also been chargeable to the funds raised by assessment. Church Collections. App. (B.) No. 7.

Returns of legal proceedings under the Statute, in the Sheriff Courts, have again been furnished to us by the courtesy of the Sheriffs-Substitute, and an abstract of them is inserted in the Appendix. Applications to Sheriffs. App. (B.) No. 1.

The total number of applications to Sheriffs, on the ground that relief had been improperly refused, as returned by the Sheriffs-Substitute, was, during the past year, 688; while, in the returns for the preceding year, the number of such applications was 536. These numbers, however, fall short of the actual number of applications, as in several Sheriff Courts no complete record is kept of them. The number of such applications in which Sheriffs felt called upon to grant interim orders of relief during the past year was 467; in the preceding year it was 295. The number of applicants admitted to the Roll of Paupers by final order of the Sheriffs during the past year was 185; in the preceding year it was 75. The average annual number of such interim orders during the ten preceding years was 357; and of such final orders, 93.

The number of prosecutions under the 79th and 80th sections of the Statute during the past year has been 114, and of convictions 62. In the previous year the number of such prosecutions was 117, and of convictions 64. The average annual number of such prosecutions during the ten preceding years was 105, and of convictions 63.

Public Health (Scotland) Act.

App. (A.) No. 13.

The Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867 (30 & 31 Vict. c. 101), referred to in our last Annual Report, having received the royal assent on the 15th of August 1867, we issued, on the 5th of September following, a circular letter to all Local Authorities, calling their attention to the provisions of this important Statute, expressing our hope that they would execute, with intelligence and vigour, such portions of its enactments as were suited to the circumstances of each district, and intimating our readiness to afford them such information and assistance in the discharge of their duty as it might be in our power to give.

App. (A.) No. 14.

On the 1st of November we transmitted to Local Authorities a set of 21 Practical Forms, adapted to the several steps of procedure to be taken under the most important sections of the Act. It appeared to us that the possession of carefully prepared forms would materially lighten the labours of Local Authorities, and might probably diminish the risk of miscarriage. The forms were accordingly prepared in draft by experienced counsel, and afterwards revised by the legal members of the Board.

The 24th section of the Act having required Local Authorities, in certain specified circumstances, to lay down sewers in lieu of open ditches, &c., "subject to the approval of the Board," we considered it expedient to frame the terms in which all applications for such approval should be made. Our circular and relative forms upon this subject will be found in the Appendix.

App. (A.) No. 15.

Since the Public Health Act came into operation, we have considered applications from 23 Parishes or Districts, to determine, in terms of the 5th section of the Act, the Local Authority within these places respectively, and in each case we nominated the body which after inquiry appeared to us to be most suitable. Public Health (Scotland) Act.

Upon applications made to us under the 6th section of the Act, we have determined that, for the purposes of the Act, the whole of the Parish of Ardrossan shall be held to be situated in the County of Ayr, the whole of the Parish of Govan in the County of Lanark, and the whole of the Parish of Kilmaljie in the County of Inverness.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon us by the 8th section of the Act, we have approved of Bye-laws for regulating the duties of Sanitary Inspectors and Medical Officers in four Parishes. We have also, as empowered by the 62nd section, confirmed Rules and Regulations respecting Common Lodging-Houses in 25 Parishes or Districts. We, however, made such alterations as seemed to us to be necessary upon the Bye-laws and Rules and Regulations which were submitted to us, and we only sanctioned them ad interim, and under reservation of our power to require the adoption of such other alterations as further experience might from time to time render expedient.

Rules and Regulations respecting Common Lodging-Houses had been adopted in many places prior to the passing of the Public Health Act, and had been approved by the Secretary of State in terms of section 34 of the Nuisances Removal (Scotland) Act, 1856; and as it appeared to us to be at least doubtful whether these Rules and Regulations continued in force after the repeal of the Act of 1856, we called the attention of the Local Authorities to this question, and recommended them to make their Rules and Regulations anew, either in their present or in a revised form, and to submit them to us for confirmation under the existing Statute. App. (A.) No. 16.

As empowered by section 59, we have approved in two places of the sum payable per night, according to which it is ascertained whether a house or part thereof is a common Lodging-House, being raised from fourpence to sixpence, and in another place we declined to approve of the sum being diminished from fourpence to threepence.

We have approved, in terms of section 24, of sewers being laid down in one district by the Local Authority, under the powers of that section.

Having been asked by a Local Authority whether the offices of Sanitary Inspector and Medical Officer under the Act might be held by the same person, we intimated that in our opinion such an appointment was neither expedient nor competent.

The Parochial Board of Auchterderran having asked our advice as to the right of the mandatories of heritors to act and vote at meetings of the Parochial Board, when sitting in the capacity of Local Authority, we took the opinion of counsel (the Lord Advocate, the Dean of Faculty, and Mr George

Public Health (Scotland) Act.

Monro), and were advised "that the mandatories of heritors who are entitled to act and vote at the Parochial Board in the administration of the Poor Law, are also entitled, in absence of their principals, to act and vote at that Board when it sits as the Local Authority under the Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867. That Act adopts the constitution of the Parochial Board as it stands, and the power of heritors to act by mandatory is an important part of its constitution."

In consequence of the proceedings of some Local Authorities, we were called upon to consider whether the appointment of Sanitary Inspectors and Medical Officers without salaries, was in accordance with the provisions of the 8th section of the Act. We came to the conclusion that such appointments were incompetent, and we declined to recognise them.

We have further, during the past year, afforded, from time to time, such assistance as it was in our power to give to all Local Authorities who have applied to us for advice or information regarding the execution of the Public Health Act. These applications have been numerous, and they appear to evince a general desire to take advantage of the beneficial provisions of the Statute.

Considering the recent date at which the Public Health Act came fully into force, and the inadequacy of the staff of officers at the command of the Board to overtake all the additional labour imposed upon them by the Act, we have not deemed it expedient, during the past year, to exercise the powers of inspection and interference, by special inquiry or otherwise, which are vested in us, except in those cases in which our assistance was specially sought for. We have therefore hitherto almost exclusively relied upon the voluntary action of Local Authorities in the execution of the Act, aided only by such general directions and instructions as we felt it prudent to give.

We have thought it right to call for a return from all Local Authorities of their receipts and expenditure under the Act, from the date of its passing (15th August 1867) to the 15th May 1868, and we print an abstract of these returns in the Appendix.

App. (B.) No. 11.

It appears that the number of parishes in which money has been received or expended under the Act is 370, and that the total receipts in these parishes amount to L.12,710, 7s. 1d., of which the sum of L.10,844, 14s. 11d. was derived from assessment, L.4, 4s. 8d. from penalties, L.195, 3s. 9d. from authors of nuisances, and L.1,666, 3s. 9d. from other sources. The total expenditure amounts to L.11,791, 12s. 6d., of which the sum of L.2,186, 16s. 4d. has been expended on drainage, L.494, 12s. 10d. on water supply, L.4,272, 11s. 4d. on removal of nuisances, and L.4,837, 12s. on other purposes, including salaries. The only county in Scotland in which there appear to have been no receipts or expenditure under the Act is Nairn. The returns, however, are necessarily imperfect, owing partly to the fact that the period during which the Act has been in operation forms only a part of the ordinary financial year, and partly to the difficulty of separating the receipts and expenditure under the Act from the receipts and expenditure under the Nuisances Removal Act, of which the Public Health Act is in a great measure a continuation. But the returns may be held to be approximately true, and we hope that in future years we shall be able to obtain accurate statistics. Public Health (Scotland) Act.

We have continued to discharge the functions devolved upon us in relation to the duties of Parochial Boards and Vaccinators, under the Statute 26 & 27 Vict. c. 108, "to extend and make compulsory the practice of Vaccination in Scotland." Vaccination Act.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon us by the 12th section of the Act, and on application by the Parochial Board of Glenelg, we have framed a modification of the 8th section of the Act for that Parish, and have obtained the approval of the Lord Advocate thereto. In the case of every such application, we called upon the Parochial Board to state the precise nature of the modifications which they considered necessary or expedient, and their reasons for so considering them; and after receiving the information so called for, we framed such modifications as appeared to us to be suitable to the circumstances of the Parish. In order to ensure due publication of the nature of these modifications, we directed each to be inserted once in the Edinburgh Gazette, and once in each of three successive weeks in the local newspaper or newspapers circulating in the Parish, to be posted on the doors of the Parish Church and other places of public worship in the Parish, and to be further circulated in such manner as the Parochial Board shall consider most effectual for the information of the Population.

An Abstract of the Modification so framed and published during the past year is printed in the Appendix. App. (B.) No. 14.

Since the passing of the Act in 1863, we have framed modifications of the 8th and 9th sections of the Act, or of one or other of these sections, for 43 Parishes. Of these Parishes, 10 are in Shetland, 11 in Orkney, 3 in the county of Sutherland, 7 in the county of Ross, 7 in the county of Inverness, 4 in the county of Argyll, and one in the county of Bute.

We print in the Appendix Abstracts of Returns from all Parishes in Scotland, which have been made in compliance with our Regulations, by the Vaccinators appointed under the Vaccination Act, for the half-years ended 31st December 1867 and 30th June 1868. These returns show the number of persons vaccinated successfully and unsuccessfully during the half-year, the number of cases in which Certificates of Insusceptibility have been granted, and the number of persons vaccinated App. (B.) No. 12.

who were not in receipt of Parochial Relief. They relate exclusively to vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators in their official capacity, i.e. cases of paupers and the children of paupers, and of those persons not paupers whom the Parochial Board have authorized the Vaccinator to vaccinate; and they do not include vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators, or other Medical Practitioners, in the course of their private practice.

App. (B.) No. 13.

We also print in the Appendix an Abstract of Returns made by the Inspectors of the Poor from every parish in Scotland, of defaulters under the 18th section of the Vaccination Act, as required by our Regulations, for the year ended 30th June 1868. That Abstract shows the number of persons vaccinated in terms of the section referred to, the number of prosecutions for penalties under the 25th section of the Act, and the number of such prosecutions in which penalties have been adjudged.

Supply of Vaccine Lymph.

App. (A.) Nos. 17 and 18.

The operation of the Central Institution for the collection and redistribution of Vaccine Lymph in Scotland, during the past year, has been entirely satisfactory. We print in the Appendix two very interesting reports from Dr Husband, the Superintendent of the Institution, the one giving an account of his proceedings from the commencement (the 1st of April 1867) down to August 1867, and the other stating the results of the past year.

APPENDIX (A.)

DOCUMENTS ISSUED AND RECEIVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISION.

---

No. 1.—Report by the General Superintendent of the Poor (Northern Highland District) for the Half-year ended 31st March 1868.

Nairn, 9th April 1868.

Sir,—I have the honour to report that, during the half-year ended 31st March 1868, I have visited the Inspectors of, and inquired as to the administration of the poor law in, sixty parishes in the counties of Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, and Caithness. I have also visited six of the eight poorhouses in these counties, and have conducted four special inquiries.

In sixteen of the parishes visited, I attended meetings of the Parochial Boards. From time to time separate Reports have been transmitted as to the administration of the law in each parish, when such appeared to be necessary or desirable.

As I anticipated, the repetition in January last of the Return which I obtained in January 1867, has had the effect of inducing Inspectors to make more prompt payment of inter-parochial accounts. The instances in which reluctance is shown to adopt the system I am endeavouring to enforce, are too few to deserve notice.

I have continued to urge the advantage of printing and circulating among the ratepayers, parochial lists of the poor relieved during the year, showing the total cost to the parish of each case; and I have had the gratification of finding the proposal always cordially adopted by Parochial Boards.

In communicating personally with Sheriffs-Substitute as to the observance of the rule requiring Inspectors to furnish certificates of refusal in every case in which relief is refused, I found that the information I received was not such as enabled me to take measures directed against individual Inspectors. I therefore communicated by letter with the eleven Sheriffs-Substitute in the district on the subject, and I append hereto a copy of my letter, along with copies of the replies which I have received.

In reporting as to the general condition of the district, I have to state that in the 119 parishes in the district there was in 1861 a population of 302,023—that the number of registered poor residing in their own parishes on the 1st January 1868 was 8290; residing in other parishes, 1207; receiving relief in poorhouses, 213; and placed in lunatic asylums, 297—and that the total number of registered poor at that date was 10,007. The number of poor resident in parishes within the district, but chargeable to other parishes, was 716.

On the 1st of January 1867 the number of poor on the roll in the counties of Inverness, Ross, Sutherland, and Caithness, was 8358; and on the 1st January 1868 the number was, in these four counties, 8212. There has, therefore, been a decrease in these counties of 146.—I have the honour to be, sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) W. A. PETERKIN.

Copy Letter from Mr W. A. Peterkin to the Sheriffs-Substitute of Caithness, Inverness, Fort-William, Portree, Lochmaddy, Kirkwall, Lerwick, Dingwall, Stornoway, Tain, and Dornoch, dated 'Nairn, 16th January 1868.'

Sir,—By the Rules of the Board of Supervision, Inspectors of Poor are required in all cases in which relief is refused, to furnish the applicant with a certificate of refusal of relief, stating the fact, the date, and the grounds of refusal. With a view to ascertain any failure on the part of Inspectors within my district to comply with the rule, I have to request that you will do me the favour to communicate to me the name of any Inspector within your jurisdiction who may disregard the rule in question, and coming under your official observation.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) W. A. PETERKIN,
General Superintendent of Poor, Northern District.

1. Letter from the Sheriff-Substitute of the County of Sutherland.

Dornoch, 17th January 1868.

Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, and to say that I shall be glad to do what I can towards ensuring the observance, on the part of Inspectors, of the rule to which you refer. I may mention that during some previous years many verbal applications for parochial relief used to be made to me by the applicants personally, but as I generally sent them back to the Inspectors for a written refusal, the latter (the Inspectors) are now for the most part more attentive on this point.—I am, etc., (Signed) THOMAS MACKENZIE.

2. Copy Letter from Sheriff-Substitute of the Long Island District, dated 22d January 1868.

Sir,—I am favoured with your letter of the 16th instant. I have frequently noticed what seemed to be a failure on the part of Inspectors to comply with the rule to which you refer. When it took place in this parish (North Uist), I sent the applicant back to the Inspector for the necessary certificate; but if it took place in regard to applications in the other parishes, I dealt with the case as if no such rule existed, because I thought it would be a hardship upon persons residing at such a distance, to ask them to be at the trouble and expense of the journey back to their parishes and again returning to me. I have frequently written the Inspectors in cases of such failure, reminding them of the rule and their breach of it. I rather think they generally wrote me back denying that the applicants had gone to them for relief at all. I am not prepared to say they were wrong in this denial, as the paupers, I observe, are very ready to make complaints of Inspectors as to all departments of their duty.

If I recollect the matter, I will let you know whenever a case of failure to comply with the rule comes under my notice.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) C. SHAW.

3. From the Sheriff-Substitute of the County of Caithness.

Sheriff Chambers, Wick, 20th January 1868.

Sir,—In reply to your inquiry of the 16th, I may state that, from the issue of the Board's order that Inspectors should furnish applicants with a written explanation of reasons for refusing relief, I have rigidly attended to its observance.

In such instances as applicants came to me without production of the note for refusal, I made inquiry as to the cause, and found that the applicants had come to me first; and I can therefore safely assert that the Board's injunction has not, to my knowledge, been neglected.

I am so persuaded of the propriety of the rule, that in any instance in which I may have occasion to inquire into its apparent disobservance, I will, if you wish it, apprise you as to what I may have occasion to address the Inspector, and his reply.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) HAMILTON RUSSEL.

Nairn, 22d January 1868.

Sir,—I have to thank you for your letter of the 20th instant, and I shall be much obliged to you for any information which you may be pleased to give me of instances of neglect of the rule referred to, in order that I may take measures to have it systematically complied with.—I am, etc.,

No. 2.—Report by the General Superintendent of the Poor (Southern Highland District), for the Year ended 31st July 1868.

August 1868.

Sir,—I have the honour to report, that during the year ended 31st July 1868 I have visited 235 parishes and eight poorhouses in my district. I have usually reported on the manner in which I found the business conducted in these parishes. I have conducted special inquiries in the parishes of Kilbrandon, Little Dunkeld, and Forteviot.

In the counties of Aberdeen, Kincardine, and Forfar, the line of demarcation between the districts of the Visiting Officer and General Superintendent is not clearly defined, in consequence of which some parishes have never been visited. As it is clearly desirable that every parish within these counties should fall under the supervision of one or other of the officers of the Board, I have in the meantime arranged with Mr M'Neill to make the line of railway running from Coupar-Angus to Aberdeen and thence to Fraserburgh our boundary; all entire parishes lying to the east of this line to be in the district of the Visiting Officer, and all the parishes through which the line passes and westward of the line to belong to that of the General Superintendent. We shall act upon this arrangement until otherwise instructed by the Board.

The county of Banff, and the part of Aberdeen included within my district, as above defined, are much in need of poorhouses. The want is much felt. The parish of Banff has for years been endeavouring to form a Combination to build a poorhouse, but hitherto in vain.

It appears to me to deserve the serious consideration of the Board, whether the time has not arrived to apply to the Legislature for power to enforce Combinations where necessary. It is not unfrequently found that the more favourably situated a parish is with regard to its own pauperism, the less willing it is to take its fair share of the expense of building a poorhouse, however much required to keep in check a rapid increase of pauperism in the adjoining parishes. If the Board had a controlling power, it might insist, in all cases where the circumstances admitted of it, on the Combinations being such as required the larger-sized poorhouse. This would be productive, not only of economy, but of efficiency—the smaller poorhouses being rarely satisfactory, on account of the impossibility of complete classification.—I am, sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) ALEXANDER CAMPBELL,

The Secretary, Board of Supervision.

No. 3.—Report by Visiting Officer for the Half-year ended 1st July 1868.

Edinburgh, July 1868.

Sir,—I have now the honour to lay before you my report for the half-year ended July 1st.

Since the 31st December 1867, I have conducted, by direction of the Board, 14 special inquiries. These have occupied so large a portion of my time, that I have been unable to visit more than 142 parishes and 28 poorhouses.

The Inspectors of the various parishes seem to bestow much intelligent attention upon their duties, and the settlement of accounts for the past six months has been unusually complete and satisfactory. The condition of the poorhouses, with one or two exceptions, is very satisfactory. I have, however, observed that in the majority of the houses one or more of the wards have been applied, without authority, to uses other than those for which they were designed on the plans approved by your Board. Several houses also are overcrowded with beds, while in others the distribution of the inmates is such that some wards are overcrowded, leaving others only partially occupied. Before the defects which I have mentioned can be dealt with, it appears to me that your Board should obtain the power of identifying particular wards on their plans; and that with this object the Committees of all poorhouses should be directed to number legibly the door of each ward and day-room (the numbers should run throughout the house, and should include every office and outhouse, instead of, as at present in some houses, through each wing, and confined to the main building), and to number their plans in conformity with this arrangement, sending these to your Board, in order that those in your possession may be similarly marked. If, in addition to the running number, each door bore the cubic space of the room, and in the case of a dormitory the number of billets, it would be comparatively easy to detect overcrowding.

In inspecting new poorhouses for the first time, I have been impressed with the advantages which would result from a regulation to provide for an inspection of each building before its occupation; improvement in many small details could then be insisted on, which, after the occupation of the house, can only be pressed upon the Committee as suggestions.

Whatever may be your opinion of the proposals which I have submitted to you, you will no doubt consider it necessary to make all House Committees aware that no alterations can properly be made in the uses of the various parts of their houses, as laid down in the approved plans, without the consent of your Board.—I have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed) MALCOLM M'NEILL,
Visiting Officer.

The Secretary, Board of Supervision.

No. 4.—Instructions and Directions respecting the Dissolution of Islay Combination, framed by the Board of Supervision, 20th February 1868.

The General Register of the Poor required by the Rules of the Board to be kept by the Inspector of the Combination, shall be made up to the close of the year ending 14th May 1868, and shall at that date be finally closed, but that Register shall be carefully preserved.

A New Register of Poor, in the form prescribed by the Rules of the Board of Supervision, shall be provided for each of the three parishes which form the Combination, and the names of all poor persons and their dependants, and all particulars relating to them contained in the General Register of Poor of the Combination, who shall be in receipt of relief at 14th May 1868, shall be entered in full, and as soon as may be, in the General Register of Poor of that parish to which they are thenceforward to be chargeable, and they shall be held to have their settlement in that parish; and in any case in which the Parochial Boards, or the persons nominated to act on behalf of the different parishes, shall be unable to agree as to the parish to which any such poor person is so to be chargeable, then such poor person shall be registered in the General Register of Poor of that parish in which, according to the General Register of the Poor of the Combination, he or she was residing at 14th May 1868, and shall be chargeable to and shall be held to have a settlement in such parish.

Persons not born in the island of Islay who have a settlement in the Combination at the date of its dissolution, but who may not be in receipt of relief at that date, are entitled to have a settlement in some one of the parishes which formed the Combination; and in any case in which the parishes shall be unable to agree as to the parish in Islay in which any such person is to have a settlement, then such person shall be held to have a settlement in the parish in Islay in which he or she shall last have resided for twelve months prior to the 15th of May 1868.

Persons who at 14th May 1868 shall be in the course of acquiring a settlement by residence in the Combination, shall be entitled to reckon residence in the Combination previous to its dissolution in addition to immediately subsequent residence in any one of the parishes, towards the completion of the time required for the acquisition of a settlement by residence in that parish.

Subject to the foregoing conditions, any person not chargeable to the Combination at the date of its dissolution, who may subsequently become chargeable as a pauper, shall be held to have a settlement in the parish, whether in Islay or elsewhere, in which the settlement of such person shall be found to be according to the provisions of the Statute 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83.

On the dissolution of the Combination, the Islay poorhouse shall be the common poorhouse of the three parishes which formed the Combination, and an agreement to that effect shall be prepared in due form and shall be concluded by those parishes, and such agreement shall specify the proportions in which the charges connected with the poorhouse are to be borne and paid by the said parishes respectively; and a House Committee shall be named by the said parishes, which shall perform the duties required of such Committee by the Rules and Regulations relating to Poorhouses.

The Board are of opinion that, in order to facilitate the arrangements consequent on the dissolution of the Combination, it is expedient that the three parishes in Islay should agree to continue the Inspector of the Combination in the office of Inspector for the three parishes, with an Assistant Inspector in each parish—an arrangement which would be conducive to the proper administration of the poor laws in the Island of Islay, and which would relieve the Board of Supervision from the necessity of considering, with reference to the obligations of the Combination, what amount of compensation would be due to Mr Chisholm in the event of his losing, without dereliction or failure on his part, the office to which he was appointed, without contemplation of such an event, by the Combination.

No. 5.—Amended Rules for conducting the Election of Managers of the Poor in Burghal Parishes or Combinations.

1. When the number and qualification of the persons to be elected Managers of the Poor, and the day on which they are to be elected, shall have been made known to the Inspector by the Board of Supervision, it will be his duty forthwith to communicate the same to the Parochial Board.

2. The Parochial Board should then, without loss of time, proceed to fix the hour and the place at which the electors are to meet for the purpose of choosing the Managers: they should also name the places, besides the door of the Parish Church, at which the notices of such meeting shall be affixed, and direct that notice shall also be given by advertisement in one or more newspapers; and if the Board of Supervision has divided the Parish into wards or divisions for the purposes of the election, the Parochial Board should also name the hour and the place of meeting for each ward, and should immediately communicate the same to the Inspector.

3. The Parochial Board may, if they deem it advisable, name, at the same time, by a Minute, a day, not less than three nor more than seven days preceding the day fixed by the Board of Supervision for the election of Managers, on which the electors shall meet for the purpose only of the nomination of candidates for the office of Manager of the Poor, and the hour and place at which such meeting shall be held; and, in the event of their so doing, no person who shall not have been duly nominated at such meeting shall be eligible to the office of Manager of the Poor for the year then next ensuing; but no Parochial Board is required to name a time or place for a meeting of the electors for the purpose only of nominating candidates as aforesaid.

4. It will thereupon be the duty of the Inspector to give notice of the meeting or meetings, in such form and manner as the Parochial Board shall have directed.

5. The Parochial Board should also name a person, who shall discharge the duties required of the Inspector at the election, in case the Inspector should be absent or unable to act; and they should also name persons to discharge these duties in each ward or division, if the Board of Supervision has divided the parish into wards or divisions for the purposes of the election.

6. The Collector, and the Assistant Inspector or Assistant Inspectors, if any, may be employed to assist the Inspector at the election, if necessary.

7. The Parochial Board shall instruct the Collector to furnish the Inspector, on the day preceding the day fixed for the election, with a certified roll of the persons assessed for the relief of the poor who are entitled to vote at such meeting, in which the names shall be arranged alphabetically according to the annexed Form (A), or in such other manner as shall admit of easy and immediate reference to each name, and in which the number of votes that each person is entitled to give, in terms of sect. 24 of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, shall be written opposite to his name. And if the parish has been divided into wards for the purposes of the election, then the Collector shall furnish the Inspector with a roll so prepared, of the persons entitled to vote, and the number of votes each person is entitled to give in each ward.

8. Any person is qualified to vote who is assessed for relief of the poor, and who shall have paid all sums assessed upon and due by him at the time of the election, and who shall not have been exempted from payment on the ground of his inability to pay.

9. When the electors have met, and constituted their meeting, the first step should be to put in nomination fit and qualified persons to be Managers.

10. Any person entitled to vote at the meeting may nominate any qualified person as a candidate for the office of Manager; but no one ought to be nominated as a candidate whose willingness to serve in the office has not been ascertained.

11. To constitute a sufficient nomination, it is necessary that the candidate should be proposed by one elector and seconded by another.

12. If the number of qualified persons nominated shall not exceed the number of Managers to be elected, such persons shall be held to be duly elected.

13. The person who proposes a candidate may, with his consent, withdraw that candidate's nomination; and if so many nominations shall be withdrawn as to reduce the number of qualified candidates to the number of Managers to be elected, such qualified candidates whose nominations shall not have been withdrawn shall be held to be duly elected.

14. If the number of qualified persons nominated, and not withdrawn, shall exceed the number of Managers to be elected, the Inspector, or, in case of his absence or inability to act, the person named by the Parochial Board in that event to act for him at the election, shall proceed to take in writing and collect the votes of the persons who, according to the certified roll furnished by the Collector, are entitled to vote at that meeting; and if any person, who according to such roll is not entitled to vote, shall claim a right to vote, in respect of his having paid the rates due by him in the interval, after the roll was delivered to the Inspector, but previous to the hour fixed for the meeting, the vote of such person, if otherwise entitled to vote, shall be received, and his name entered on the said roll as entitled to vote, on his then producing the Collector's receipt for such payment, but not otherwise; and in whatever manner the votes may be taken in writing or collected in terms of these rules, no vote of any person who was not entitled to vote at such meeting shall be counted in the election for which such meeting was held.

15. When it may be necessary to take in writing and collect the votes as above stated, if the number of persons present and entitled to vote at such meeting shall not exceed one hundred, the Inspector, or the person named by the Parochial Board to act for him, shall then and there take in writing the votes of the persons present and entitled to vote, according to the annexed Form (A); and the candidates, according to the number of Managers to be elected, who shall have a majority of the votes so taken in writing, shall be the Managers.

16. Each elector shall be held to have given the whole number of votes to which he is entitled by the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, for each candidate for whom he votes.

17. The Inspector shall not in any case receive the votes of any one elector for a greater number of candidates than there are Managers to be elected.

18. If the number of persons present and entitled to vote at such meeting shall exceed one hundred, then, if it shall be necessary to take in writing and collect the votes, the Inspector, within six lawful days after such meeting, shall leave or cause to be left at the known house or other premises of each elector occupying a house or other premises within the parish, who was entitled to vote at such meeting, a voting paper according to the annexed Form (B); and shall transmit by post or otherwise to the known residence of each elector not occupying a house or premises within the parish, who was entitled to vote at such meeting, a voting paper according to the annexed Form (C).

19. The voting paper shall contain, in the proper columns, the name, designation, and residence of each person nominated at the meeting, whose nomination shall not have been withdrawn.

20. The elector shall write his initials in the proper column, against the name of each candidate for whom he votes, and shall sign the paper with his name, or, if he cannot write, with his mark at the place for his signature.

21. The mark of a voter who cannot write his name must be attested by a witness, and in that case the initials of the voter must be written opposite to the names of the candidates for whom he votes, by the witness who attests the mark.

22. Any person entitled to vote at the election, for whom a voting paper shall not have been duly delivered as required by Rule 18, shall, on application to the Inspector, at his office, between the hours of nine a.m. and six p.m., on the seventh lawful day after the meeting referred to in Rule 18, be entitled to receive a voting paper, and then and there to fill up the same, and to deliver it to the Inspector.

23. The Inspector, on the third lawful day after that on which the voting paper has been left at the house or premises of each elector occupying a house or premises within the parish, and entitled to vote at the meeting, shall send a person or persons specially named for that duty to the said houses or premises of all such electors to collect the voting papers in a locked bag, with an opening or slip into which the voting papers are to be dropped, and every such elector shall place, or cause to be placed, the voting paper left at his house or premises, whether signed, initialed, or not, in the bag carried by the person who is sent to receive it. Electors not occupying premises within the parish, may transmit their voting papers, duly filled up, to the Inspector, by post or otherwise, on or before the third lawful day after the same shall have been posted or otherwise delivered.

24. No such votes so given by voting paper shall be valid, if they are given for a greater number of candidates than there are Managers to be elected, or if the voter shall have given, in the whole of the wards or divisions into which a parish may be divided, a greater number of votes than he would be entitled to have given if the parish had not been so divided.

25. In case any voting paper, duly delivered, shall not have been collected through the default of the person named for that duty in terms of Rule 23, the voter in person may deliver the same to the Inspector at his office, before two o'clock p.m. on the next lawful day immediately following the day specified in the voting paper as that on which it should have been called for.

26. The Inspector shall declare within three lawful days after the day named for collecting the voting papers, those persons to be elected Managers of the Poor (according to the number fixed by the Board of Supervision), who shall have a majority of votes.

27. In the event of an equal number of votes being given in favour of candidates, the person paying the largest amount of assessment shall be preferred and held to be elected.

28. The Inspector shall forthwith intimate to the persons who shall have been so chosen, that they have been elected Managers of the Poor for the parish.

29. The Inspector shall also affix at each place at which the notice of meeting shall have been affixed, a return, in the annexed Form (D), of the persons who have been elected Managers of the Poor, and shall transmit a copy of the same to the Board of Supervision.

30. If the Board of Supervision has divided the parish into wards or divisions for the purposes of the election, then the proceedings for that purpose in each ward at the meeting, and subsequent to the meeting, shall be the same as if the ward were a separate parish.

No. 6.—Assessment—Deductions.—(1.) Addressed to Parishes which allow no Deductions from Gross Rental.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 30th April 1868.

Sir,—As it appears from the Special Return of Poor Rates recently made by you, that in imposing and levying the Assessment for the Relief of the Poor in your Parish, it is the practice to allow no deductions from gross rental, I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of the Parochial Board to the irregularity of this course of procedure.

I am to point out that the mode of assessment authorized by the Statute 8 & 9 Vict. cap 83, and resolved on by the Parochial Board, and approved by the Board of Supervision in terms of sect. 34 of the Act, is an assessment not according to gross rent, but according to 'Annual Value,' as the same is defined by the 37th section of the Act.

The amount of gross rent is furnished by the Valuation Roll, and the Parochial Board is required, in order to ascertain the 'Annual Value,' or assessable rent, to deduct from the gross rent of each property 'the probable 'average cost of repairs, insurance, and other expenses, if any, necessary to 'maintain' the property 'in its actual state, and all rates, taxes, and public 'charges, payable in respect of the same.'

It is only according to 'Annual Value' so ascertained that the Parochial Board is legally entitled to impose a rate, and to levy it from owners and occupants. A rate imposed according to gross rental is consequently unauthorized by law, and it exposes the Parochial Board to the risk of the assessment being objected to in a court of law by any dissatisfied ratepayer.

I am to call upon you to lay this communication before the Parochial Board at its next meeting, and thereafter to transmit to me, for the information of the Board, an extract of the minute of the Parochial Board relating thereto.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 7.—Assessment—Deductions.—(2.) Addressed to Parishes which do not allow Deductions to all Ratepayers.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 30th April 1868.

Sir,—As it appears from the Special Return of Poor Rates recently made by you, that in imposing and levying the Assessment for the Relief of the Poor in your parish, it is the practice to allow no deductions from gross rental in the case of certain descriptions of property, I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of the Parochial Board to the irregularity of this course of procedure.

I am to point out that the mode of assessment authorized by the Statute 8 & 9 Vict. cap. 83, and resolved on by the Parochial Board, and approved of by the Board of Supervision in terms of sect. 34 of the Act, is an assessment not in any case according to gross rent, but as regards every description of property in the parish according to 'Annual Value,' as the same is defined by the 37th section of the Act.

The amount of the gross rent is in all cases furnished by the Valuation Roll, and the Parochial Board is required, in order to ascertain the 'Annual 'Value,' or assessable rent, to deduct from the gross rent of each property 'the probable average cost of repairs, insurance, and other expenses, if any, 'necessary to maintain' the property 'in its actual state, and all rates, taxes, 'and public charges payable in respect of the same.'

It is only according to 'Annual Value' so ascertained that the Parochial Board is legally entitled to impose a rate, and to levy it from owners and occupants. A rate which is imposed partly according to gross rent is consequently unauthorized by law, and it exposes the Parochial Board to the risk of the assessment being objected to in a court of law by any dissatisfied ratepayer.

I am to call upon you to lay this communication before the Parochial Board at its next meeting, and thereafter to transmit to me, for the information of the Board, an extract of the minute of the Parochial Board relating thereto.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 8. — Assessment — Deductions. — (3.) Addressed to Parishes which allow a uniform per-centage of Deductions to all kinds of Property.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 30th April 1868.

Sir,—As it appears from the Special Return of Poor Rates recently made by you, that in imposing and levying the Assessment for the Relief of the Poor in your parish, it is the practice to allow a uniform per-centage of deductions from gross rental in the case of all property, I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of the Parochial Board to the irregularity of this course of procedure, if there be in the parish properties differing from each other in the cost of maintenance and amount of public burdens.

I am to point out that the mode of assessment authorized by the Statute 8 & 9 Vict. cap. 83, and resolved on by the Parochial Board, and approved by the Board of Supervision in terms of sect. 34 of the Act, is an assessment (as regards all properties) according to 'Annual Value,' as the same is defined by the 37th section of the Act.

The amount of gross rent is furnished by the Valuation Roll, and the Parochial Board is required, in order to ascertain the 'Annual Value,' or assessable rent, to deduct from the gross rent of each property 'the probable 'average cost of repairs, insurance, and other expenses, if any, necessary to 'maintain' the property 'in its actual state, and all rates, taxes, and public 'charges payable in respect of the same.'

It is only according to 'Annual Value' so ascertained that the Parochial Board is legally entitled to impose a rate, and to levy it from owners and occupants. A rate not equitably imposed according to 'Annual Value,' as regards any property or class of property, is consequently unauthorized by law, and it exposes the Parochial Board to the risk of the assessment being objected to in a court of law by any dissatisfied ratepayer.

I am to call upon you to lay this communication before the parochial Board at its next meeting, and thereafter to transmit to me, for the information of the Board, an extract of the minute of the Parochial Board relating thereto.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 9.—Assessment — Deductions. — (1.) Explanatory Letter addressed to Parishes which have no Classification of Occupants, under Section 36.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 18th June 1868.

Sir,—In explanation of the Board's circular letter dated 30th April last, I am directed to state, for the information of the Parochial Board, that the following is the process by which, in accordance with law, the assessment should be allocated:—

1. Assuming, for the sake of illustration, that the gross rental of the parish as given in the Valuation Roll is £10,000, the Parochial Board have, in the first place, to ascertain the 'Annual Value' or assessable rent of each subject, by making the deductions from gross rental specified in the 37th section of the Poor Law Act of 1845.* This may be done by fixing on a scale of per-centages to be deducted from the gross rents of the several descriptions of property in the parish respectively, such as agricultural lands, houses, mills, minerals, railways, &c., care being taken that the per-centage of deduction allowed in each description of property is a fair and equitable equivalent for the grounds of deduction specified in the 37th section; and that special cases, if any exist in the parish, are dealt with separately.

2. Assuming that the 'Annual Value,' or assessable rental of the parish so ascertained, is £9000, and that the sum to be raised by assessment is £500—one half of the sum required (i.e. £250) will be raised from the owners by the rate of 6d. $\frac{8}{12}$ths per pound upon their 'Annual Value;' and the other half (£250) will be raised from the occupants by a similar rate per pound upon the same 'Annual Value,' or by such higher rate per pound as may be found necessary to produce from occupants the sum of £250, after taking into account subjects which either are unoccupied, or are occupied by persons unable to pay poor-rates, and from which no part of the occupants' rate can be collected.

3. The Board have already intimated to the Parochial Board in their circular letter of 30th April, that the imposition of an assessment for the relief of the poor according to gross rental is illegal.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 10.—Assessment — Deductions.—(2.) Explanatory Letter addressed to Parishes which have a Classification of Occupants, under Section 36.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 18th June 1868.

Sir,—In explanation of the Board's circular letter dated 30th April last, I am directed to state, for the information of the Parochial Board, that the following is the process by which, in accordance with law, the assessment should be allocated:—

1. Assuming, for the sake of illustration, that the gross rental of the parish as given in the Valuation Roll is £10,000, the Parochial Board have, in the first place, to ascertain the 'Annual Value' or assessable rent of each subject, by making the deductions from gross rental specified in the 37th section of the Poor Law Act of 1845.* This may be done by fixing on a scale of per-centages to be deducted from the gross rents of the several descriptions of property in the parish respectively, such as agricultural lands, houses, mills, minerals, railways, &c., care being taken that the per-centage of deduction allowed in each description of property is a fair and equitable equivalent for the grounds of deduction specified in the 37th section; and that special cases, if any exist in the parish, are dealt with separately.

3. In a parish where there is a classification in terms of section 36 of the Poor Law Act, it must be kept in view that the same process should be followed, and all occupants should be rated upon the same annual value as that on which the owners are rated.

Effect should be given to the scheme of classification by assessing the different classes of occupants, at rates corresponding to the position of each class in the scheme of classification.

Thus, assuming, for the sake of illustration, that there are three classes of occupants, and that they are to contribute respectively in the proportion of 1, 2, and 4, the rates upon their annual value would be 3d., 6d., and 1s. per pound respectively, or such other proportionate rates as may be necessary to produce from the whole body of occupants one half of the assessment imposed.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 23d July 1868.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to request the Poorhouse Committee to cause the several apartments in the poorhouse to be distinguished by numerals—the numbers to run consecutively throughout the house, and to include all apartments whatsoever, and every office and outbuilding.

I have further to request that the plans of the poorhouse may be numbered in conformity with this arrangement, and transmitted to me, in order that the plans in the possession of the Board may be similarly marked.

I have also to request that, along with the plans, you will transmit a return in the annexed form, for the information of the Board.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 13.—The Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867.—Circular Letter to Local Authorities.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 5th September 1867.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to transmit, for the information of the Local Authority, a copy of the 'Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867,' which received the Royal Assent on the 15th of August last.

The Public Health Act comes into operation on the 1st day of November next; and the Board desire to draw the earnest attention of all Local Authorities to the important provisions which it contains with regard to many matters intimately connected with the sanitary condition of the population.

It consolidates into one Act the whole Statute Law relating to the public health.

It confers upon Local Authorities enlarged powers, and it affords them increased facilities for the removal of nuisances, for the regulation of lodging-houses, for the construction of sewers, for the supply of wholesome water, for the providing of local hospitals, and for the adoption of other measures calculated to prevent or mitigate disease.

The Board do not think it necessary at present to do more than to commend the Act to the careful consideration of the several bodies who are entrusted with its administration. The responsibility for the due execution of the statute mainly rests with the Local Authorities themselves, subject to the supervision of this Board; and the Board trust that each Local Authority, within its own district, will execute with intelligence and vigour such portions of the statutory provisions as the circumstances of the district may require.

The Board will at all times be ready to afford to Local Authorities such information and assistance in the execution of the statute as it may be in their power to give.

It will be observed, that by virtue of the proviso in the 2d section of the Act, the directions and regulations issued by the Board on the 25th of July last are continued in force.

The reported appearance of cholera in Berlin and Rotterdam renders it highly expedient that Local Authorities should exercise all the powers conferred on them by law to improve the sanitary condition of the towns and villages within their several jurisdictions.

Additional copies of the Public Health Act may be obtained from Messrs. Wm. Blackwood & Sons, Publishers, 45 George Street, Edinburgh.—I am, sir, your obedient servant, (Signed) W. S. WALKER, Secretary.

No. 16.—PUBLIC HEALTH (SCOTLAND) ACT, 1867.—RULES AND REGULATIONS RESPECTING COMMON LODGING-HOUSES.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 3d March 1868.

SIR,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of the Local Authority to the question, whether the rules and regulations respecting common lodging-houses, which were approved by Her Majesty's Secretary of State, in terms of section 34 of the Nuisances Removal (Scotland) Act, 1856, are still in force.

The Nuisances Removal Act was repealed by the Public Health Act, 1867, and it appears to the Board that the rules and regulations made under the former Act have fallen by the repeal of that Act.

If, therefore, the Local Authority desire to continue in force the rules and regulations respecting common lodging-houses, formerly approved by the Secretary of State, it will be necessary for them to make these rules and regulations anew, either in their present or in a revised form, in conformity with the 62d section of the Public Health Act; and, after the procedure as to notices, &c., required by that section of the statute has been complied with, to submit them to the Board of Supervision for confirmation. —I am, sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed) W. S. WALKER, Secretary.

No. 17.—Copy Report by Superintendent of Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, 1867-8.

Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland,
28 Clarence Street, Edinburgh, 1st November 1867.

Sir,—I beg leave to submit to the Board of Supervision the following report of my proceedings, as Superintendent of the Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, from the 1st April, when I entered on my duties, to the 7th August last.

The Board having resolved to appoint collectors of vaccine lymph in seven of the principal towns of Scotland, who should each select those practitioners in his own locality whom he considered most likely to furnish the Central Institution with an ample supply of good lymph, my first duty was, agreeably to instructions received from the Board, to make such inquiries as were necessary, in order that suitable persons might be nominated to this office in Aberdeen, Dumfries, Dundee, Glasgow, Greenock, Inverness, and Perth. The result was, that the following gentlemen were appointed and consented to act:—Dr William Fraser, 31 Union Terrace, Aberdeen; Dr John Dickson, Castle Street, Dumfries; Dr David Greig, Nethergate, Dundee; Dr James Dunlop, 17 Carlton Place, Glasgow; Dr James Wallace, Union Street, Greenock; Dr F. M'Bean Stewart, Church Street, Inverness; Dr Andrew Buist, 10 Marshall Place, Perth. Before the end of April these gentlemen were furnished with supplies of empty tubes, and of packages properly contrived for the safe and easy transmission of lymph by post. They were also supplied with printed copies of 'Directions for obtaining Lymph,' and of 'Extract Minute of the Board of Supervision,'* explanatory of the object of the Institution, and of the manner in which its business was to be conducted.

From the second week of April onwards, I began to receive small supplies of charged tubes from time to time from the collectors, and also from a few medical practitioners in Edinburgh and its vicinity with whom I entered into communication, and by the 6th June there were already accumulated fully 1000 charges of reliable lymph.

My chief source of supply was Glasgow, and next in order of the other towns, Dundee, Aberdeen, Dumfries, Inverness, Greenock, and Perth. A circular was then issued by the Board of Supervision,† intimating to vaccinators of parishes that the number of charges of lymph already received by me was such as admitted of my furnishing gratuitously a limited number to such of them as, being in want of vaccine lymph, might apply to me for it.

I received the first letter of application on the 22d of June, and from that date to the 7th of August inclusive, a period of rather more than six weeks, I distributed 418 charges in reply to eighty-eight applications from vaccinators of parishes. I also issued, during the same period, sixty charges gratuitously, in reply to fourteen applications from parochial medical officers and others, not vaccinators, making the total number of applications up to August 7th, 102 ; and the total number of charged tubes distributed, 478.

* See Twenty-second Annual Report of the Board. App. (A.) p. 35.
† See Twenty-second Annual Report of the Board. App. (A) p. 36.

From the first, excepting in one or two cases, I accompanied each remittance of tubes with a request to be informed whether the lymph proved successful; and, up to August 7th, I received four replies in the affirmative, and no complaints of want of success.

As it had become evident that a larger quantity of reliable lymph could easily be obtained than was required for the use of the parochial vaccinators of Scotland, I wrote on the 5th of July to Mr Simon, the medical officer of the Privy Council, requesting to know whether an arrangement might not be made for handing over, at cost price, our surplus supply to the National Vaccine Establishment in England ; but I was informed in reply by Mr Simon, 'that the resources of that establishment were, and were likely to continue, sufficient to meet all the requirements of the public service.' It was necessary, therefore, to restrict the operations of the Institution, and I temporarily discontinued receiving supplies of lymph.

On the 7th of August I had remaining on hand upwards of 1500 charged tubes of reliable lymph,—a larger number than was necessary; but my proceedings in obtaining supplies were at first, and must continue to be for some time, in a great measure tentative, and it was not easy to estimate beforehand what the demand from the vaccinators was likely to be. I had no fear, however, but that the lymph thus accumulated would be available for future use; for, in properly sealed capillary tubes, it is well ascertained to retain its virtue for many months, and hitherto (November 1st) the result has confirmed my expectations.—I remain, sir, your obedient servant, (Signed) W. HUSBAND.

W. S. Walker, Esq., Secretary, Board of Supervision.

No. 18.—Copy Report by Superintendent of Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, 1867-8.

Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland,
28 Clarence Street, Edinburgh, August 1868.

Sir,—An Interim Report, which was laid before the Board of Supervision last autumn, contained an account of the operations of the Institution from 1st April to 7th August 1867.

No difficulty had been experienced in obtaining vaccine lymph for distribution according to the plan prescribed by the Board ; and intimation having been made by circular, that lymph would be sent free of charge to such vaccinators of parishes as might require it, the issue of charged tubes was commenced on the 22d of June 1867.

During the year ended 5th August 1868, I received 1304 charged tubes, and distributed 1794 charged tubes, in reply to 375 applications from vaccinators of parishes.

The greater proportion of these applications came from the remoter and more thinly peopled counties of Argyll, Sutherland, and Ross and Cromarty, but there has been a considerable demand from all parts of Scotland.

I have received numerous letters from vaccinators, informing me of the successful results which they had obtained with the lymph supplied to them. Comparatively few cases of failure have been reported ; and, on the whole, the plan adopted of preserving the lymph fluid in hermetically sealed tubes, appears to have given general satisfaction. One instance which came under my own observation may be given as showing the efficiency of the method, and the amount of success which may reasonably be expected. On the 2d of October last year, some tubes which I had received from one of the collectors four months before, were employed, on one and the same day, to vaccinate at a station twenty-two infants. The result was that, in twenty-one out of the twenty-two cases, the operation proved successful.

In addition to the lymph furnished to vaccinators of parishes, 179 tubes were supplied to medical practitioners in Scotland not vaccinators, 21 to practitioners in England, and as many as 609 were sent abroad to British medical men in India, the West Indies, and New Zealand.

All remittances of lymph to correspondents out of Scotland, were furnished at the rate of 6d. per charged tube,— that is, at cost price. The total number of charged tubes issued during the year amounts to 2603. The number at present on hand is 301.—I am, sir, your obedient servant, (Signed) WILLIAM HUSBAND, M.D., Superintendent.

John Skelton, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Supervision.

D. Caithness.

Col. XIII. These were settled by the parties.

E. Clackmannan.

Col. IV. The Inspectors having acquiesced in the Sheriff's orders.
Col. XIII. Decree granted.

F. Dumfries.

Col. I. In addition to the above, many applications were made, but as it appeared from the statements of the applicants that they had no claim, or that they had been offered relief in the poorhouse, no deliverance was pronounced on these, and no record of their number was kept.

G. Edinburgh.

Col. I. Independent of the number of applications in which orders have been pronounced, a great many applications have been made which, upon investigation, were found to be so utterly incompetent, that they were merely disposed of verbally, and no order pronounced.

H. Elgin or Moray.

No record is kept of applications refused unless an interlocutor refusing relief be asked for. The number refused may be about 15.

I. Fife (Cupar Dist.)

Col. XIII. Dismissed, and pursuer found liable in modified expenses.

K. Fife (Dunfermline Dist.)

Col. III. In both cases poorhouse offered after case in Court, and therefore unnecessary to dispose of the merits.
Col. XIII. Stands dismissed by no procedure for three months.

L. Forfar (Forfar Dist.)

Col. VII. One appeal taken previous to last return, but undisposed of.
Col. IX. Altered.

M. Haddington.

Col. XIII. Decree in two cases; one under appeal.

N. Inverness (Skye Dist.)

Though there was no case in which the Sheriff made an order to admit applicant to the roll, there were three cases in which that or any further procedure was rendered unnecessary by the applicant, after complaint, being offered relief in the poorhouse.

O. Inverness (Uist Dist.)

Col. IV. One of these cases was under consideration of the Sheriff-Substitute, and not disposed of, when last year's return was made.

P. Kincardine.

Col. I. Besides the above, there were a number of applications, of which no note was kept, to the Sheriff-Substitute personally, on the occasion of the opening of the new poorhouse, inquiring whether parties were bound to accept relief there instead of pecuniary relief.
Col. IV. Of consent.

Q. Lanark (Glasgow.)

Col. I. There are numerous applications in which the Inspectors act on the recommendations of the Sheriffs, but formal orders for interim relief were pronounced in 117 cases, which, however, were not followed by answers on the part of the Inspectors, they admitting the applicant to the roll of paupers.

R. Lanark (Hamilton Dist.)

Col. I. Exclusive of numerous verbal applications not dealt with judicially, but referred back by note to Inspectors for reconsideration.
Col. V. In none of the cases (whether answers lodged or not) were any further inquiries made by the applicants, and it is believed that their claims for relief were admitted by the parishes.
Col. XIII. Actions in Small Debt Court. Decree followed in both.

S. Lanark (Lanark Dist.)

Col. IV. One of last year's cases.
Col. V. Inspector heard orally; case of this year.
Col. VII. Of last year's cases.
Col. IX. One of last year's cases.
Col. XIII. Two decrees; one dismissed.

T. Lanark (Airdrie Dist.)

Col. I. There is no record kept, but the average is seven or eight in the week.

U. Nairn.

Col. I. In one of these cases the applicant was admitted by the Board to the roll of paupers without answers lodged, and the Board was found liable in expenses. The other case is not finally disposed of.

V. Orkney and Shetland (Lerwick Dist.)

Col. XIII. In both, decree against defenders.

Note.—The Sheriff Substitute has to state that the above return represents the number of applications which became litigations. He gives many interviews every week to persons who would willingly take relief, but who, finding that their applications are not likely to be sustained by the Sheriff, withdraw them before an order is pronounced.

W. Perth (Perth Dist.)

Col. I. Written application; one refused de plano.
Col. II. But hitherto no further procedure in any.
Col. VI. Not yet known if in the three cases where orders were out, there is to be appearance.
Col. XIII. No case settled.

Note.—Numerous verbal applications have been made during the year, especially from Perth, which, on conference with Inspectors, have been accommodated so as to render further procedure unnecessary—at least fifty such. In many, the offer of the poorhouse has excluded the Sheriff's jurisdiction, though sometimes he has been led to doubt the propriety of the procedure.

Y. Renfrew (Paisley Dist.)

Col. I. No record kept.
Cols. XIII. and XIV. These actions are generally raised in the Small Debt Court, the record book of which does not contain any answers regarding these queries. There have been no actions of the kind raised in the ordinary Court.
